This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and Now Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, of insuring life yet presented to the public.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, FEB. 25, 1869.

The News.

Hon. Columbus Delano is to be Commissioner of Internal Revenue under the new administration. Commissioner Rollins holds on until the fourth of March by request of Gen. Grant.

Mr. Tyner, Republican, elected to Congress in the district from Indiana for which D. D. Pratt (elected U. S. Senator) was chosen, has 3000 majority—a large gain.

The insurrection in Central Cuba, is almost wholly unchecked, plantations are deserted, business is abandoned and general disorder prevails.

The bullion product of the Nevada mines for 1868 amounts to $16,000,000. The overland mails continue to be very irregular.

Leonard Choate, the supposed Newburyport incendiary, or "fire bug," is a ship joiner, 35 years of age, in good circumstances and belongs to a respectable family. He has been absent from Newburyport five weeks, during which time no fire has occurred. He seems to be a monomaniac, and has suffered seriously from the fires. His father and brother have died of exposure at one of the fires.

Gen. Grant in conversation with several Congressmen, on Tuesday, said that he should send in to the Senate the name of Gen. Schofield as Secretary of War, that Schofield would decline and a civilian would then be nominated. He then remarked:—"I am opposed to appointing officers of the army and navy to civil office, and shall, therefore, have a civilian at the head of each Department." Good for Grant.

General Sherman has returned to St. Louis from New Orleans much improved in health.

Bliss and Masterman were terribly tortured by Lopez of Paraguay, before they were released.

Congress.

The Senate on Tuesday voted to non-concur with the House amendment to the joint resolution proposing the suffrage amendment to the Constitution, and a conference committee was appointed. The bill to amend the judicial system of the United States was passed. It provides for one additional associate justice and nine new circuit judges. These last appointees are to relieve the Supreme judges from holding yearly courts in the circuits. The new judges are to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

In the House, the copper tariff bill was passed over the President's veto by a vote of 115 to 56—only 3 votes more than the necessary two-thirds. Majority and minority reports of the committee on the New York election frauds were presented, and a bill introduced in connection therewith, withdrawing jurisdiction of naturalization from certain New York courts, was passed. Conference committees on the constitutional amendment and the naval appropriation bill were appointed.

VETERANS' LEVEE.—The party at the Ball was large and brilliant, the Hall very tastefully decorated, the music good, (the prompting not so plain, we thought,) and all passed pleasantly.—The ladies were beautiful, averaging unusually so, it seemed to us—in fact, it was often remarked, that rarely are so many really handsome forms and faces seen together. The toilets were many of them rich and elegant, but the folly of long trains predominated. Muslin was the prettiest material used, as it ever is on such occasions.

An extensive expensive supper was served at City Hotel, opposite, at midnight; after which of course, dancing was resumed till the morning. No pains or expense were spared to provide a sumptuous entertainment; and the viands were numerous and rich—the only complaint that we heard being that, owing to the large number of guests and the great variety of dishes, too much of the "waiting at table" was done by the guests, particularly those farthest removed from Headquarters. We think at such times, the meats cold and placed out on the tables, gives better satisfaction.

Take it all in all, it was indeed a splendid Levee; and shows anew the strength, stability and popularity of this famous Corps. One pleasant feature we must mention, was the beautiful symbolic Printing for use in the Hall and at Table, from the Mirror office.—

We were indebted to Gen. Natt Head, Col. John B. Clarke, ex-Gov. Smyth, Capt. G. W. Tucker, N. F. Mathes and others, for courtesies on the occasion. Also to Mr. Kibby, of the Manchester House, which we found, as heretofore, a good hotel. F.

Chronicle Correspondence.

EXETER, Feb. 22.

The natal day of WASHINGTON! the day that awakens in the breast of every true American, the tenderest emotions of gratitude towards him who served his country with such unselfishness and fidelity. Well may the day so highly honored be made a legal holiday, and observed whenever an American heart beats.

I agree with you, Messrs. Editors, that the Birthday of the martyred LINCOLN is also justly entitled to similar respect and observance; for a truer lover of his country never breathed or ceased to breathe.

Our leading citizens, to the number of about 100 or more couples held a social gathering at the Town Hall last evening, at which there was music and dancing, and the affair was one of the most select and enjoyable of the season.

A Grand Ball, under the auspices of the Exeter Fire Department, will be given on Friday, 26th inst. Hall's Band, (6 pieces,) of Boston, will furnish the music, which is sufficient guarantee of its excellence. The first annual ball by the E. F. D. was given a year ago, and was a complete success, as the one now announced cannot fail to prove.

The velocipede mania is still raging, and Exeter now affords a score or more of quite expert riders. On Saturday the excitement was greatly enhanced by the announcement that a silver cup would be presented to the person displaying the most velocity on the velocipede for a quarter of a mile, or nine times round the Town Hall, which is rather more than that distance. There were sixteen entries, all but two of whom were Academy students. Much amusement was created by the persistent efforts of all to bear off the coveted prize,—efforts that frequently operated to the disadvantage of the more earnest riders;—an occasional mishap putting them back more than they gained by their extra exertions. At the conclusion of the sport, the prize was awarded to H. B. Stone, a student, who made the distance in 1:26. The next best time was 1:27, by J. B. Stewart, also a student. Dr. Gerrish (dentist) made 1:29, the others ranging from 1:33 to 1:49. The Exeter Cornet band was present, and played inspiring strains between the "heats."

The cantata of "the Haymakers" will be produced here on the evening of March 2, by local talent embracing the leading vocalists of Exeter and vicinity.

Our popular Republican nominee for Senator, Nath. Gordon, Esq., has recently presented to the town an excellent lot for a school-house, in district No. 6. Mr. Gordon is one of our most public spirited citizens, possessed of ample means, and his acts of public and private benevolence are the subjects of universal encomium.

At the coming town meeting, the sense of the town will be taken as to the property of selling the Town Farm. I learn that the new County Farm Building will be ready for occupancy about the middle of April.

A vote will also be taken to see if the B. & M. Railroad shall be directed to establish gates at the crossing on Front street, and at the one near the jail, for the better protection against the public accidents. This matter has been placed before the public several times with no result, but the article in the town warrant will doubtless result in the establishment of the desired protection.

There is a rumor—and I think not without foundation—that the carriage establishments formerly occupied by Orin Head, and more recently by O. E. Gravelle, will soon be reopened, and the sound of the saw and hammer once more ring cheerily out, giving token of the industry that should characterize every community. H.

☞ The Funeral of Mr. C. Henry Hurlburt, of Manchester, was held on Tuesday; and the very large attendance on the impressive services was the strongest evidence of the public and general esteem for the deceased. The body was taken in charge from the Manchester House, his only home, by the Free Masons, of which Order he was a prominent member; and with a long procession was conveyed to church, where the exercises were held, under direction of the Masons to the end. The service—exhortation and music, were very fine and exceedingly impressive throughout; but the chiefest lesson to be learned anew from the sad and sudden cutting off of this young and valuable man before his time, is—"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging—he that is deceived thereby is not wise."

—A New York paper greets its readers with the pleasant information that by the law of statistics fifty persons in that city will be murdered, or at least killed by the hand of a fellow creature during the present year.

— Col. Higginson tells this story: "Two little nephews of mine being at Brooklyn, were met after dark by a fellow who demanded their money. Said one of them, "I have no money." This might have been a sufficient answer. But the other made assurance doubly sure by adding, "And I haven't any pocket to put money in."

It is purely vegetable, and in its composition all the requisites of science have been complied with. It is suitable for all ages and sexes. It is gentle, stimulating and soothing. All dyspeptic disorders are cured by it, and it repairs the waste of nervous vital powers. PLANTATION BITTERS are increasing daily in favor with all classes. It relieves suffering, renders life a luxury, brightens the present and throws a hopeful light on the future. 17

One of the few things that the North and South will probably ever fully agree upon is that "Barnes' Vegetable Hair Restorative" is not only the best preventive to the hair falling out, but also the finest dressing ever before the public. It richly deserves the "Silver Medal" awarded by the New Hampshire State Fair.—Dubuque Times.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College, Rutgers Scientific School, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops the last year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Dan'l. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into the account. It produces more by ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. "Corn and Buckwheat far surpassed any other manure."

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been used side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good results as any of them. I planted two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Seeds of Sickness.

Baron Munchausen tells a story of a post-boy's horn, which had a number of wicked tunes blown into it one frosty night, but made no response.—Nevertheless, when it was hung before a hot fire, the tunes, which had been frozen in, thawed out, to the amazement of all present. Just so the human system, subjected to injurious influences during the Winter, sometimes gives no token of the effect they have produced upon it, until the moist atmosphere of Spring develops their fruits. Many Spring diseases are the result of Winter imprudences, and great and especial care should be taken of the system in the cold season, so that it may be in a sound and vigorous condition when the malarious fogs of March and April make their appearance.

To this end, strengthen the stomach and the general organization at this season with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Take this pleasant vegetable antidote in advance of the uprising of the mephitic mists and vapors, which produce chills and fever, and other miasmatic diseases. Remember that it is a preventive medicine—the powerful to protect as to restore. The stomach is apt to be overtaxed at this time of the year. It is a period devoted to dinner and supper parties, and luxurious living generally. Feasting and late hours weaken the digestive organs and disorder the liver. The effect of the Bitters is to invigorate the one and regulate the other. There is no medicine in the twelve when a tonic and alterative is more generally needed than in this, and there is no preparation of that nature so thoroughly salubrious, so bracing, and so entirely free from undue exciting properties, as this celebrated vegetable cordial.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and no clime to which it has long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has not given one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents who are the main agents for sale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

The Plaster of the "Time,"

ALLCOCK'S POROUS.

In lumbago they act like a charm. In a few hours a violent cough is relieved by a Plaster applied to the chest. Many persons believe a cold cannot be taken while a Plaster is worn there;—if we do know, they greatly assist in the cure of a neglected cold, so often the introducer of Consumption.

CURE OF LESION OF THE LIVER.

A gentleman, after a severe sickness, had lesion of the liver. Every quick movement or sudden jar gave him severe pain, often laying him up for days. Hence he was unable to follow any occupation with regularity.

In this condition, he applied over the part affected an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. At first it seemed to irritate, so it was taken off. But the marked improvement he experienced afterwards gave him confidence in the plaster, he therefore applied another plaster. In a few days something gave way—"slipped," to use the gentleman's own words. There was some soreness for a few days after, then his health was perfectly restored. Upon being sounded by his physician, the adhesion or lesion was found to be gone.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for sprains, colds, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, swellings, bruises, old sores, headache, mosquito bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded. All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

CONCORD, N. H.—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever seen. In a sudden attack of croup it is invaluable. I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he will in the manner through largest and best trade.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade may think there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are tempted to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that tired of language which leads the inquiring traveller to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask the owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Such a question, if put to the owner of a watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST and will last the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the cost of producing the first article manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our Company has always sought to place its products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we can produce twice as many watches and for the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL WATCHES FOR WHAT THEY DO, AND WILL THEY DO. SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our production we have constantly improved in QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted for sale those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have started, and those services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be surpassed in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to rue.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLING.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Waters or Cancerous Humors are carried off and Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Enlargement of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Urine, Weakness, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Head, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to gain in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, so that bile flows freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing stop the lungs from throwing off the matter, to stop up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Catarrh, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases the whole trouble is, It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make good blood out of the food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to digest food, Pulmonic Syrup and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow it begins commence to be healthy.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

ENTERPRISE.—One of the most wide awake and active of our citizens, who fully approves the Park project and appreciates Mr. Elwyn's valuable gift therefor,—says that if the City corporate cannot or will not build a good substantial Bridge to the grounds immediately, then the sooner we all vacate and leave the town to be possessed by live men, the better.

His argument is, that a City has no more right or reason to expect business, growth, increase, prosperity,—without effort and expenditure to that end, than private individuals or business firms have. He says,—and no man's observation and experience better qualifies him for judging,—he says that every ten thousand dollars which should have been (but was not) prospectively laid out in streets, Railroads, parks and other improvements by the City, years ago, would now be returned to us with compound interest. And so for the future—if we are to have any future.

All those who agree with his ideas, will of course go in now to aid all such enterprises: while those opposed will say No. All right—and let us see who will carry the day hereafter. We hope, —we can almost say we believe, the day of the Slows is about at an end in our good old city. At any rate, Why should a City, more than an individual, expect prosperity, if they don't try for it?

APPLEDORE.—This is the name of the staunch little steamboat building for Messrs. O. & C. Laighton of the Shoals, by Messrs. Plummer & Pryor, at Noble's Island in this city—to run between Portsmouth and the Islands. We have noted her construction with much interest, and know that she is almost as heavily timbered and strong as a gunboat; and she cannot fail of being a great comfort and assurance to the travelling public, and so a good investment for her enterprising owners. She will be a propeller, and from her model bids fair to be a tolerably speedy boat, tho' strength and safety are the main objects.

Her frame is entirely of the best New Hampshire white oak, and her planking, which is fast going on, is of prime Southern hard pine. The hull, when launched, will be taken round to Charlestown to receive her machinery, which is being constructed in the most thorough manner by Messrs. Rymes & Co. The public will also be pleased to learn that Capt. Baker, so favorably known on this route, is to have command of the Appledore.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Our readers are well aware that we have always urged the original and significant name of Sir John Smith's Isles, rather than the seemingly meaningless title of the Shoals. The most probable reason we have ever seen or heard assigned for the change, is that there were so many schools or shoals of fish there; and not that there is shallow water, for it is well known it is generally bold. But we go in for restoring the original title of Sir John Smith's Isles.

THE ANNUAL EXAMINATION at the Cabot Street School came off on Monday and resulted very satisfactorily to teachers, pupils, parents and the Committee. Mr. B. F. Dame of Newmarket has had charge of the school during the past year, and has succeeded in achieving a success for which he may well feel gratified. The class which is graduating is the largest ever sent from the school. We congratulate our good friend Dame on his first year's record, and the committee who have been so fortunate in the selection of a Principal in that school.

☞ The committee appointed by the members of Rockingham County in the legislature, in county convention, to erect buildings on the recently purchased county farm, being about to furnish the buildings, the county commissioners applied for an injunction to restrain them from such a proceeding. The application was heard before Judge Doe in this city, on Monday, and decision reserved until after a meeting of the full bench of the State.

☞ The subscriber would very greatfully acknowledge the receipt of sixty three dollars, thirty three cents (by the hand of J. H. Foster, Esq.,) as the avails of the Charity Ball recently given in this city for the benefit of the poor.

This sum includes five dollars which was received (through the Post Office) by Clement March Esq., a gift from some unknown friend for this object.

N. MEDBERY, City Missionary.

BRIDGES.—A correspondent hopes that while new bridges are so much talked of, the freeing of the old ones from toll charges will not be forgotten.

☞ Philharmonic Rehearsal this (Thursday) evening, at half-past 7.

THE WENTWORTH FAMILY.—The history of the Wentworth family of England, and its American branch in New Hampshire, is about to appear in two large, elegant volumes, containing many finely engraved portraits. It is printed for the family only. Although a private memoir, it contains much of public interest. This family, on both sides of the Atlantic, is an historical one. None can claim greater veritable antiquity, or can reckon a greater number of distinguished members and connections.

Its history begins with Reginald Wentworth, the possessor of the lordship of Wentworth in Yorkshire, England, A. D. 1066; and ends with Reginald Wentworth, now living in New Hampshire, who is a lineal descendant of the thirty-first generation. The English record is illustrated with the names of Lord High Chancellor Wentworth, King Edward VI., Sir Thomas Wentworth, Earl of Strafford, and a great many other notables, while a long line of royal Governors of New Hampshire, besides many names well known in our civil and military history, illuminates the American record.

As stated, the family patronymic begins and ends with the Christian-name Reginald. There is a story in connection with this fact that will bear relating. It is well known that the compilation of the book is principally a labor of love of Hon. John Wentworth of Chicago, who is an enthusiast in genealogical research, especially in that concerning his own family. Just as the last pages of the book which has been noticed, were going through the press, a boy was born in Portsmouth, N. H., bearing the name of Wentworth. The father, being anxious to have the infant's name printed with those of the family, telegraphed the fact to Hon. John Wentworth, who immediately replied that he had included the little stranger in his book, and as no name was sent he had taken the liberty to call the child Reginald, that the record might end in the publication, as it had begun, with that name. The parents thought the name a good one and the infant now bears it. —Boston Transcript.

This youngster, if not born to greatness, bids fair to have something of a great name thrust upon him, at any rate. The Transcript's story is not exactly correct, however, and so our friend the Colonel must excuse our talking a little more of it—the joke is so good. It was the Hon. (Long) John himself, and not the happy father, who was desirous to have the little fellow booked—thus;

The author, in gathering materials for his book, wrote to Col. F. G. Wentworth of this city, for his family genealogy so far as he knew it; this was sent, and included a wife but no children. Not long afterwards, a brother of Col. W. at Dover, in similar correspondence, reported for the Colonel here, a son—which brought another letter from Hon. John, asking a correction or explanation.

The natural and true conclusion which would readily be come at, was that the little stranger who now bears the heraldic name, made his appearance between the two dates. This fact was stated by the father, in his letter of reply and explanation; and the great bookmaker responded by telegraphing that he had registered the baby as Reginald, and closed his second volume therewith.

Communication.

THE POSTMASTERSHIP OF PORTSMOUTH. We favor the new system of electing a candidate for this important office by a vote of the city, including the votes of the Ladies. Let us for once eschew all political hucksters, and go for one who is unexceptionable in all particulars.—We know of one who would fill the office to a charm—a thorough gentleman as well as a scholar—one who we think would get the biggest vote in this city. Let us show our hands, one and all.—What say you, Gentlemen and Ladies.

Written for the Chronicle and Gazette.

To the Bereaved.

Call it not Death, this messenger of Peace,
That brought transition from a life of pain;
Say, rather, that a soul has found release,
And, freed forever more from suffering, lives again.

Oh! what a rapturous flight, from woe to bliss;
From human anguish to divine content;
You can but triumph in a change like this,
And, smiling, kiss the pitying Hand that sent.

And yet the parting pang is hard to bear,
And you may falter while you try to say
"God's will be done," yet would you hardly dare
To kiss God's silence from those lips away.

'Tis but a little time, and you shall know
The myst'ries of life's dark and toilsome way,
Since from the depths of suffering here below
She has been lifted into peaceful day.

So, tho' your scalding tears in grief may fall,
And hearts may quiver, aching with their loss;
A touch of her new peace must bring you all
Patience, for her dear sake to bear the cross.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stage of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Knitting and Sewing Machines.

Letter from Rev. I. P. Holton, So. Malden, Mass.

Friend Miller:—The good house-keeper is a wonderful woman. She has a dozen callings as diverse as shoe-making and sermon-writing. If she does not know where Tadmor and Palmyra stood, she can lay her hand on either one of one hundred dishes, one hundred garments, or one hundred patterns or rolls of patches. She can get breakfast without locking herself into a room alone or waiting until everything else is done before beginning her coffee.—While these cooking operations are going on she is Justice of the Peace of her children, sees that her husband changes his stockings, that Nellie holds baby properly, that Lina sets the table aright, that Willie washes behind his ears, that Charlie takes a dose of castor-oil, and that James combs his hair. She stops to sew a shoulder-strap for Susie, to get a new shoe-string for Hattie, to find Emma's stocking, (baby has dropped it into the slop-pail,) to get a dish to strain milk into, to lend Mrs. Jones a cup of molasses, to tie Edgar's neck-ribbon and to "fix" seven other things. Exactly at an hour before school-time the breakfast is set and all the "olive-plants around the table." And she has not spoken a cross word. She is milliner, mantua-maker, teacher, tailor, physician, financier. She watches at night, and works on an average sixteen hours a day, Sabbaths a little less.—She is expected to be a lady, always ready to entertain company, to keep her mind informed and her dress neat. For all this she is to expect her food and clothes, her doctor's bill, and, I hope, love.

But to her tasks some would add that of elbowing her way among bad women to the polls, to vote with her husband, if he be a brute and so compel her; to vote against him, perhaps, if he be a decent man. For the right to vote implies the duty to vote. Some, perhaps, would have her also attend caucus and learn to smoke bad cigars.—Why not? Does tobacco injure a lady's breath?

I say, not so. Lighten the task of the wife and mother in every possible way. Bring all the water into the house, either in pipe or pail. Build her fires. Keep the wood-box full. If you can get her a better cook-stove, do so. Get her the Eureka wringer unless you happen to find a better.

I have to tell you again and again about sewing machines. My last experiment was with Willcox & Gibbs in 1865. But, though I have heard its hum for between three and four years, I know less about it now than I did of our two-thread machine when we had had it but a week. The reason is this: there was scarce a week in which I was not called to help that out of some difficulty. I became as familiar with every piece of its mechanism as with my own fingers. But the Willcox & Gibbs has run on without requiring one minute of my attention. I have still my old prejudices in favor of the lock stitch, but I do not recollect of ever knowing a case where the Willcox & Gibbs stitch ripped too easily. Of course I put it down as a good story, about the minister pulling at a thread while the second hymn was being sung, till he had ventilated his right side from waistband to ankle.

Now as to knitting-machines. I have been on the lookout for a good one for more than ten years. The first I found would knit tubing only, and that plain. I have lately heard of one that will knit ribbed tubing. The diameter is varied by knitting closer or looser. The Bridgeport machine can knit a plain flat web and is a very ingenious machine. It will knit a plain stocking from top to toe. The great mass of stockings are made in England, on machines that knit them flat, of the exact width required, and they are closed by hand.

The Lamb machine is the only universal knitter I ever heard of—the only one that can knit a finger to a glove, for instance. I have seen it knit a ribbed stocking with double heel, in twelve minutes, and am sure it can be done in ten. It has to be closed at the sides by sewing-machine or needle. In the former case it takes as long as to knit it; in the latter case, much longer. Having found that it would set up its own work, widen to ninety-six stitches or narrow to three, I resolved upon a closer acquaintance. I knit a pair of stockings on it, a pair of gloves, and an under shirt. My little girl (not ten) next learned to knit on it. At last I took one home and established it on a shelf before the window, at my right hand as I sit here. Here it has beguiled me of time that might be better spent in study, but it has a fascination hard to resist. Its stitches are so various, ruche, fringe, cord, fillet, web and tube, and all from turning the same crank, that it is not easy to keep one's hands off. If you would only furnish yarn I would love to knit you a pair of stockings; as it is I will send you a stocking that will not cost much for yarn or postage. You cannot print it, nor can you wear it, but you can hang it up for Santa Claus.

It is wonderful what this cunning thing can do. It has two rows of hooks, 48 in each. The crank carries a pair of "locks" past them, which slide them up and draw them down—as many as you choose, and one row or both, alternately or together. You knit up one row and down the other, round and round, or back and forth, bring more needles into play or take some out of action. Twenty rounds of a stocking are ground out as easy as twenty turns of a grindstone, while there is quite a job after finishing one finger of a glove before you knit the first round on the next. In a large lady's stocking of full size, you have to stop the machine about 85 times. So it will be driven by hand only, and is a fireside implement, a home joy. All its results are comforts. Stockings can be made cheaper at wholesale, and sometimes there is no cheat in them, and the purchaser is a fortunate man. But here you buy your own yarn (home-spinning is obsolete) dye it perhaps, and have it knit stitched like another, or two stitches more in the foot or less in the ankle; and so of every other article. A child can be dressed out-and-out in its knitting from hood to snow-shoe, and could never look better in a wintry day. But I really must stop.

P. S. My little daughter wants me to tell the Gazette about the lunch-box which Mr. Williams, 71 Union street, gave her when she was in Boston last. It goes to school a plump duodecimo volume, and comes home, thanks to her appetite, shrunk to the dimensions of a pamphlet. In its collapsed state she exhibits it to her school-mates as a mechanical puzzle, and when strapped in with her books, as a marvellous convenience.

Defalcation in Newburyport.—At a meeting of the directors of the James Steam Mills, the resignation of the treasurer and manufacturing agent was recived and accepted. The retiring officer admitted that his accounts exhibited a deficiency of about $25,000, which he has lost in unfortunate investments and speculations. As soon as the cotton now on hand is manufactured, operations in the mills will be suspended and the affairs of the company investigated.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre (and a grateful perfume.

and invites the attention of his friends and the public generally to his fine assortment of Goods.

GARMENTS of every description MADE up in the LATEST STYLE, or according to the fancy of the purchaser, and perfect satisfaction given.

FOR COATS, PANTS and VESTS, his stock of Goods embraces all varieties of Fine, Plain and Fancy Patterns—something to suit every taste.

Particular attention is paid to the making of Regulation Uniforms, for Navy or Army.

He has a remarkably complete stock in the department of

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,

Comprising Drawers, Shirts, Bosoms and Collars; Buck, Kid, Silk, Lisle Thread and Woolen GLOVES; Pocket and Neck Handkerchiefs, Neck Stocks and Scarfs, Suspenders, &c.

Every article is made faithfully, of the best materials.

SWETT'S PATENT

STOVE SHELF REST!

TO HOUSEKEEPERS!

Something New!

FOR YOUR

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

A BABY'S VALENTINE TO HER GRANDMOTHER.

The dearest Grandma in the land,
Is really and truly my Grand-mama ——,
And so, to this dear, precious Grandma of mine,
I'll just try to write my first Valentine.

My Papa is a poet; don't all of us know it?
And now just you see if his Baby don't show it;
But, I you should think this a poor silly letter,
When Bessie is bigger, she'll try to do better.

I'm a secret, dear Grandma—you sure you won't tell?
Saturday night there came a loud ring at our bell,
And Jennie found there, on the door-step, all white,
A letter marked "Bessie," ur plain as day-light.

And inside, O dear! so gorgeous and fine!
As sure as you live, 'twas a true valentine!
There were roses and babies, and a little gold dove,
And lots of nice verses, all brim-full of love.

I'd show it to you, but it's all, all gone,
Down where the supper and dinner have flown;
For roses and dovies, they all looked so sweet,
That Bessie she thought they were all good to eat.

Do come home with Papa, dear Grandma, and then
Why, you never will want to go back again;
For you and I will have so much fun,
Playing from morning till bed-time has come.

You may have all my playthings, and if you'll be good,
I'll pick you some black-berries out the coal hod,
And we'll sift all the ashes when Mama don't see,
And creep down the stairs, and pull over the tea,
And tear Papa's sermons, and spill all his ink,
And do everything in the world we can think.

Uncle A—— will show you his lovely goatee,
Uncle W—— will show you his lovely Fannie,
And Papa 'll play hide, and give you a ride
On his shoulder, with Bessie right close to your side.

You ought to come, sure, and get 'quainted with me,
I can do lots of things that you never did see.
Once I walked like a kitty—now I go like a hen,
Hopping round on two footies—'cross the floor—back again.

But when the folks laugh so, all round the room,
It tips me right over, and down Bessie'll come;
It hurts the poor floor, so it makes Baby cry,
I'm so sorry, and hopes they won't do so by-'nd-bye.

My Mama, she says I must put up my pen,
And Bessie must go to her cradle again; [neck,
But first let me throw both my arms round your
And kiss you good-bye, from one

"Who You 'spec?"

St. Valentine's, 1869.

SAVING LIQUID MANURE.—We hear a great deal about dressing land with nitrate of soda, and various other compounds, but does it ever occur to our agricultural friends that they possess in the liquid manure of their barnyards and pig pens, these as well as that other fashionable ingredient ammonia in abundance? All of which, however, we see passing off down the ditches and high roads with every rain that falls, without any attempt to put a stop to the ruinous waste, while the owner is perhaps toiling for several miles to the city to bring back an expensive article of nitrate or sulphate of soda, or some other fashionable stimulant. The thing is preposterous, and if a tradesman was guilty of anything so perfectly thoughtless and wasteful, his friends would prognosticate his ruin at hand; but agriculture may bear it, and even thrive under it, when other trades would be destroyed by it.

In order to bring out the subject still more plainly, I will give a short account of experiments which have been made, and which prove the superior value of liquid manure. The first experiment was on a pasture, the soil sandy, subsoil sandy gravel, and perfectly dry; four acres of the field were well manured with first quality of barnyard manure, at the rate of twelve two-horse loads per acre. This manure was applied in February. The remainder of the field (about an acre) was manured with liquid from the barnyard.

In the spring the appearance of the grass, both in color, height and thickness of the sward, was in favor of the liquid manure; during the summer the field was pastured with cows, and that portion manured with the liquid was eaten close, while the other portion was neglected until that manured from the liquid of the barnyard was close cropped.

In a second experiment, one portion of the field (a small one) was manured with a compost of night soil and wood mould, and the remainder with liquid manure; when the lot was mowed the line between them could be easily traced and the difference was strongly in favor of the liquid manure. I do not wish to be understood to object to the use of sulphate of soda or any other chemical compound, but I do think that when we make use of all the means which are at our command at or near home, we may then think of buying these compounds, but not till then. My argument is, that it is not economical to buy stimulants, (not manures) when in nine cases out of ten we can manufacture at home a manure which in effect will equal those purchased at a greater effort.—Cor. Germantown Telegraph.

—One of the western papers reports a certain clergyman as having "taken a contract for revival preaching" in Davenport, Iowa. It states that the gentleman has just "concluded a successful engagement" at Rock Island. From what we can learn by the journals of the section, we judge that the descriptive terms are appropriately used.

CALCINED BONES.—A correspondent of the Canada Farmer asks concerning the manurial value of calcined bones. The editor replies that bones, in any form, impart increased productiveness to land, but are especially effective on the sandy or lighter soils. Calcined bones absorb with avidity air and water, by which the phosphate of lime, amounting to some 75 per cent. of the bones, is rendered soluble and easily appropriated as food by the plants. Burnt bones are deemed especially valuable to turnips, and scarcely less so to the cereals.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and ripe years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children die, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolcally unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of making advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving way. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with so effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were relieved by the night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs stand open for the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most men are fettered, most see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill twelve, yes, twenty millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head.
Matter collects in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has fastened on them.
Catarrh, the nurse, will feed it, too,
Till you return to earth.
It holds affect your head and throat,
Annihilation may
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will one and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents 'till with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
Anti-inflammation;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAIN PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out:
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress.
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made favorable to the insured as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, FEB. 26, 1869.

The News.

Gen. Grant says that Pennsylvania shall have a Cabinet officer if he does not change his mind before next Thursday.

The remains of Wirz the Andersonville jailer, have been given up to his friends.

Gen. Grant thinks of appointing Quakers as Indian Agents. Sensible.

There is a suspension of hostilities between Turkey and Persia.

Senator Dixon, one of the recreant Republicans who supported Andrew Johnson's policy, has been nominated as the democratic candidate for Congress in the first district of Connecticut.

3500 Osage Indians are in a starving condition on their Kansas reservation. White men cheated them and bought their eight millions of acres of lands at 19 cents per acre. Government will feed them till April.

Congress.

The Senate, on Wednesday, passed the copper tariff bill over the President's veto by a vote of 38 to 12.

In the House, Mr. Schenck's bill to strengthen the public credit was passed without amendment. The section declaring that 5—20s are payable in coin as soon as greenbacks are equal to gold was carried, 129 to 54. Mr. Ela voted no.

The conference committee on the Constitutional Amendment have decided to report the bill as it passed the House originally.

The conference committee on the diplomatic appropriation bill have killed Gen. Butler's scheme for killing off Gen. Kilpatrick, Minister to Chili.

New Publications.

The Atlantic Monthly for March contains a great variety of reading. A New Chapter of Christian Existences will well repay a careful perusal. The Small Arabs of New York, and Co-operative Housekeeping, are lively articles.

Our Young Folks for March, contains good stories, illustrated.

Arthur's Home Magazine,—Once a Month,—and The Children's Hour,—all for March, and all published by T. S. Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia, are before us. All Arthur's works are of good intent and good tendency. These periodicals are neat, attractive, and well illustrated. The Child's Hour is 15 cts. a number, the others 20 cts. each.

The Phrenological Journal for March has portraits of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Miss Susan B. Anthony, with curious biographical sketches.

The Advance, (new school orthodox paper at Chicago,) has been enlarged and otherwise improved, recently. It is a valuable paper, of liberal tendency.

New Music.—The Wreath of Gems is a Collection of Songs, Ballads and Duets, with an Accompaniment for the Piano Forte. It is a quarto of 200 pages, containing 94 pieces, printed in good plain style.—Published by Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston; sold in this city by E. A. Joy. Price in board, $2.50; cloth, $3; gilt $4.—It will be a popular book.

Demorest's Young America for March, has a fine frontispiece. The Silent Rebuke.

Packard's Monthly for March has a leader on Printers—their Characters and Characteristics.

Kansas Pacific Railway.—We have received from Philadelphia a thick pamphlet of 250 pages, with Maps, entitled, Report of Surveys across the continent, in 1867-68, on the 35th and 32d parallels, for a route extending the Kansas Pacific Railway to the Pacific ocean at San Francisco and San Diego. By Gen. Wm. J. Palmer. We have placed the Report in the Mechanics Reading Room.

☞ The Walter Grape, the specialty of Messrs. Ferrvis & Caywood of Poughkeepsie, New York, is exciting as much discussion in that direction, as the Main Grape has caused in this. Mr. Caywood holds the pen of a ready writer and the wit of a sharp debater, and appears to have a multitude of reasons for the faith that is in him concerning his favorite Walter fruit.

☞ The Boston Advertiser says it is a pity that Weston's western progress should be stopped for want of funds, and that if proper assurances were given that he would continue going west, sufficient funds would be raised to take him to Alaska.

—The tower of the Methodist church in Morrisania, N. Y., 125 feet high, and built of patent brick, fell on the morning of the 21st with a tremendous crash. The total loss is nearly $40,000.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BOSTON, Feb. 22.

A person still firm in the belief that tradesmen are guilty of telling the truth, after inspecting many of our shop windows, can not but arrive at the conclusion that a majority of our retail merchants are doomed to inevitable bankruptcy unless they cease "sacrificing" their goods to the dear public "at less than cost," or for "half price." Imitating the "dollar stores," many dealers in varieties now offer your choice of a hodge-podge of dry and fancy goods, cutlery, glass ware, &c., at a uniform price for any article that may be selected, the sum named being as low a 25 cents in many cases. By means of judiciously interspersing a few articles of real value, the dealers are enabled to sell many trashy articles that would be dear at any price or even to accept as gifts. Think of oil paintings (?) 16x24 for $1! God forbid that my worst enemy should have so hideous a nightmare as the presence of one of the horrible travesties on art must necessarily cause to a person having a particle of appreciation of the beautiful.

Too late for the edification of your masqueraders will come my mention of a unique costume I have seen in embryo within a few days. The material was heavy white domestic, upon each yard of which was printed an entire pack of playing cards, each of full size and with all their proper colors. Made up the suit will be brilliant as well as odd; but what if some old player of "railroad euchre" should come in with the blank and take the bowers therefrom?

The programme for the inauguration ceremonies at Washington, on the 4th prox., show that Hon. Thos. L. Tullock is as well appreciated a worker there as he was when living in your city, he being Secretary of the executive committee, an arduous post which no one has better capacity than he to fill. It is said he is to be First Assistant Postmaster General under President Grant.

The new Chestnut Hill Reservoir in Brookline, which was slightly damaged by the recent heavy rains, covers a surface of 212 acres and has a capacity of 730,000,000 gallons. It is divided into two basins, one of which is now completed, and the water has been therein for many weeks. Besides thus providing an immense reserve of water for city use, this reservoir has a magnificent drive-way around it, a hundred feet in width, destined to become the most fashionable resort for that purpose in this vicinity. Even in its unfinished state last fall, on pleasant afternoons, the carriages there were numbered by hundreds.

Boston is gratified by prospect of a $200,000 appropriation by Congress to begin the erection of our new Post Office Building.

With all our tearing down and building, we are sure that transactions in real estate were never more brisk than at present, the deeds handed in for record since the first of the month showing an average of nearly fifty a day, while plans for building this season are said to be more numerous that ever before. One of these days we may expect the city to remove the Old State House and give State street a little more room, but, as it pays a rental equal to the interest on half a million dollars, that will be a costly improvement. In marked contrast with the Sears, Building, and other fine blocks on that part of Court street which will soon have its name changed to State street (from Washington St. to Scollay's Building,) stands an old wooden house, house, end to the street, and flanked on either side by mean wooden buildings that have grown up on what was formerly the yard or garden of the house, in answer to the demands of trade. There the old house will stand until its present owner shall rest from all earthly cares; there long years ago his wife was born, and the old man has resisted the most tempting offers of capitalists for improving his property. Viewed through the halo of this little romance of affliction and constancy, the old buildings don't appear to such great disadvantage, after all, despite the propinquity of their more pretentious neighbors devoted to the worship of Mammon.

The day is being very generally observed as a holiday, and I believe I'll leave this labored (?) epistle as it is.

New Hampshire Items.

In Concord, last week, a Mrs. Eagan, formerly of Salem, Mass., died of lung fever, and within a day or two, her two children, one five and the other eight years of age, died of scarlet fever.

The residence of D. W. Buckminster, Esq., in Keene was badly damaged by fire on Sunday morning. It originated in a defective chimney. Loss $3000; insured.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ The American Unitarian Association have just published the Memoir of James P. Walker, with Selections from his Writings; by Rev. Thomas B. Fox. It is a neat volume of 250 pages, which has for a frontispiece, a good likeness of the departed. With Mr. Fox for author or editor, we need not say the work is well done; but we may say it is an admirable book; a worthy tribute to the memory of an admirable man, a noble son of Portsmouth, whose short life of earnest labor, patient endeavor, and Christian trust, reflects honor upon his birth-place, and adds one more name to the roll of those useful Sons who have been reared here to bless the world.

☞ There are two Velocipede Schools or Rinks in this city, one quite circumscribed in Washington Hall, Market Square, and one of more spacious a-rear in Deering's Loft on Pier Wharf. We also hear of one or two other proposed places for such amusement—but Messrs. Tilton & Somerby of Newburyport, being unable to obtain the loft at the Raynes Yard, or other suitable place, will not open any School here.

☞ It will be seen that the old tavern stand formerly so popularly known as Ma'am Hobbs's, on Lafayette Road, at North Hampton, is advertised once more to accommodate Parties, after having been closed to the public for several years.

NAVAL.—Rear Admiral Lanman is to be detached from this Station and assigned to the command of the South Atlantic Squadron.

Snow fell in this city, Wednesday evening, to the depth of half an inch in half an hour.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

PLANTATION BITTERS combine rare medicinal virtues with a delicious aroma, and a flavor grateful to the palate. It is purely vegetable, and in its composition all the requisites of science have been complied with. It is suited to all ages and sexes, it is gentle, stimulating and soothing. All dyspeptic disorders are cured by it, and it repairs and restores nature's wasted powers. PLANTATION BITTERS are increasing daily in favor with all classes. It relieves suffering, renders life a luxury, brightens the present and throws a hopeful light on the future. 17

One of the few things that the North and South will probably ever fally agree upon is that "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" is not only the best preventive to the hair falling out, but also the finest dressing ever before the public. It richly deserves the "Silver Medal" awarded by the New Hampshire State Fair.—Dubuque Times.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co invite Farmers and others to send for a supply for a special descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of lime paid us full per cent. above their market value, in the 2 areas of crops this y ar."

D. A. Houghton, North Hadley, Mass, says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were p nounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Danl. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used for my farm, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn 10 ears to the hill, taking the ears and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Benj. Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and on every other kind of manure, it gave as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

☞ On a recent visit to Newmarket, we found an excellent dinner at the Washington House, kept by Mr. Henry H. Smith. The supply was ample and with food of the best quality. The delicious bread and golden butter, especially, we never saw excelled—and an old hotel-keeper who sat next us, remarked in its praise several times. Mr. Smith is well known as a genial man and agreeable host, and he deserves a new and better structure.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Seeds of Sickness.

Baron Munchausen tells a story of a post-boy's horn, which had a number of wicked tunes blown into it one frosty night, but made no response.—Nevertheless, when it was hung before a hot fire, the tunes, which had been frozen in, thawed out, to the amazement of all present. Just so the human system, subjected to injurious influences during the Winter, sometimes gives no token of the effect they have produced upon it, until the mild atmosphere of Spring develops the fruits. Many Spring diseases are the result of Winter impudences, and great and especial care should be taken of the system in the cold season, so that it may be in a sound and vigorous condition when the malarious fogs of March and April make their appearance.

To this end, strengthen the stomach and the general organization at this season with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Take this pleasant vegetable antidote in advance of the upriseing of the impalpable miasma and vapors, which produce chills and fever, and other miasmatic diseases. Remember that it is a preventive medicine,—as powerful to protect as to restore. The stomach is apt to be overtaxed at this time of the year. It is a period devoted to dinner and supper parties, and luxurious living generally. Feasting and late hours weaken the digestive organs and disorder the liver. The effect of the Bitters is to invigorate the one and regulate the other. There is no month in the twelve when a tonic and alterative is more generally needed than in this, and there is no preparation of that nature so thoroughly salubrious, so bracing, and so entirely free from undue exciting properties, as this celebrated vegetable cordial.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no disease or ailment it has not proved to be well adapted to the cure of, a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we believe it is, the great medicine or the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and all diseases of the THROAT and LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d23

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you this in good courage and in likeness. Mr. Bell, Publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of a dreadful cough when every other remedy failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PERRYSVILLE, Pa., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your pills for the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have been to me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored. LUCIEN B. JONES.

The Plaster of the "Time,"

ALLCOCK'S POROUS.

In lumbago they act like a charm. In a few hours a violent cough is relieved by a Plaster applied to the chest. Many persons believe a cold cannot be taken while a Plaster is worn there—rule we do know, they greatly assist in the cure of a neglected cold, so often the introducer of Consumption.

CURE OF LESION OF THE LIVER.

A gentleman, after a severe sickness, had lesion of the liver. Every quick movement or sudden lar gave him severe pain, often laying him up for days. Hence he was unable to follow any occupation with regularity.

In this condition, he applied over the part affected an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. At first it seemed to irritate, so it was taken off. But the marked improvement he experienced afterwards gave him courage to try again, and he therefore applied another plaster. In a few days something gave way—"it peed" to use the patient's own words. There was some soreness for a few days after, then his health was perfectly restored. Upon being sounded by his physician, the adhesion or lesion was found to be gone.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch, he may sell a much larger number, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. The portion of this fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, by their praise of other American Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and city of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask his owner for an honest opinion of his watch. HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have succeeded in carrying out. Instead of making one day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY, CONSIDERED.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the results of nearly all inventions relating to watches time-pieces, and have adopted all those and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work: then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient feels no longer paid on flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the easy way to cure the consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to digest and the food to make and receive the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to stop the pain in the side, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. He does not cure Dyspepsia, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are in a state of inflammation and have decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power or make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will cure the liver and stomach, so the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to get fleshy, the cough ceases, the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for the past twenty years, and now has 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians had given him up to die, his hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery he has cured thousands in the same apparent hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery he has cured thousands in the same apparent hopeless case, by the use of Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary for you to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ylsd

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Pakeha vs. Burr.

Messrs. Editors:—Mr. Burr's third lecture was devoted mainly to a description of the savage practices of the negroes of Africa,—the utter failure of the missionary efforts for their improvement, and to an argument from these premises that it is not possible for the negro to be elevated, nor the duty of Christians to try to do it any longer.—He said that the Ancients tried it for 2,000 years, and the Portuguese, Dutch, English and Americans in more recent times. But is this fact? Individuals and Societies did attempt to elevate the negro, but not one of the Nations named ever attempted any other missionary enterprise than the slave-trade, or the coast barter of rum, beads, knives, &c., for gold and palm oil. One slave-ship or "gold-duster" or "palm-oiler" would do more, by precept and example, to brutalize a savage people, than twenty missionaries could counteract. The greatest missionary enterprise, tending toward the elevation of the negro, that the world ever saw, was the execution of Gordon for slaving.

One argument in support of the non-improvability of the black was, that certain tribes would not accept Christianity unless allowed to engraft upon it their pagan custom of polygamy; but I can adduce a much stronger argument to show that the whites are non-improvable—I can point to thousands of white men and women, who have been brought up in the most enlightened parts of the earth, who make polygamy the ground-work and corner-stone of Church and State,—have actually gone back to it, though their ancestors have been Christianized for centuries. The grafting of pagan practices upon Christianity was a very common practice in the early days of the Church—which could not abolish them all. More than one Christian holiday is merely an old pagan festival, adopted by the Church because it could not be suppressed.

A grim comment on Mr. Burr's assertion of missionary failure, was conveyed in his own statements of the thousands of blacks, in India and Africa, who have been "blown from the mouths of cannon;" and of the destruction of the Tasmanian natives, who (I say.) were destroyed by the bullet, and poison. (My information on this point is from one of the actors, still living. "Billy," the last native, died at Launceston two or three years ago.) An original method of civilizing and Christianizing, surely.

He also cited the Chinese mission, which has been in existence 70 years, yet still numbers only 20,000 Christian converts in the whole empire. I consider this wonderful, if correct; for I have been in China,—have seen the example set the Chinese by their civilizers—the cruelty, dishonesty and lust of nine-tenths of the Europeans there—and have seen a British gun-boat squadron blow to pieces a town, full of men, women and children, because—why? John Chinaman, the pagan, who didn't want opium, said he wouldn't have it, and Christian England said he should; and so went to war, and forced him (in the interests of Christianity and civilization, no doubt.) to admit a drug compared to which rum is quite harmless.

Mr. Burr argued that while there was not church-room for all the whites no money should be spent on the blacks; but there is more church-room than is filled by the whites, now. He considered it wrong for any one to impoverish himself or family to aid missionary enterprise; but who ever heard of such a case? More money is spent for rum in one year than the missionaries get in twenty. The lecturer alluded to the "parable of the talents," saying that the black will not be called upon to return ten talents when he has had but one given him. But the man who received the "one talent" was punished because he did not improve it—and the great preacher, Christ, has himself said, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature"—not to every white creature.

The lecture was closely followed by about as many as attended the previous ones. Fourth lecture this (Friday) evening. PAKEHA.

City Council, Thursday Eve. Feb. 25.

In Board of Aldermen, (the Mayor absent—Ald. Slater elected to the Chair.)

Com. on Streets presented a communication from Nath'l Hanscom, relative to taking land from his field and yard to straighten and widen Myrtle Street, leading to the City Farm. His terms are to pay $200 per acre, and move and replace all fences. Half an acre or so will be required from Mr. Hanscom, who is the only abuttor, except a small strip which may be required from the front yard of a house belonging to Mr. T. L. Martin. Voted that the Com. on Streets procure survey and plan of same, with specifications, an report at next meeting.

Com. to whom was referred the subject of the sale of the North Ferryways to the Concord Railroad, reported in favor of the transfer, with the reservation of a public landing place forever, for boats, at or near the same.

Com. on Fire Dept. reported that one of the Steam Fire Engines pumped the salt water reservoir near the Universalist Church, dry in about half an hour, one afternoon this week—owing probably to the mouth of the inlet drain from the Pond not being carried ont far enough on the flats for very low tides. Referred to Com. on Fire Dept. for report next week.

Petition from G. W. Marston and others, that the old brick School-house on State St. be fitted up for a Ward Room for Ward Two. Referred to Com. on City Lands and Buildings.

The Matter of charging a License for Velocipede Rinks, was referred to Ald. Nowell and Cotton.

Com. on City Lands and Buildings asked a week further to consider the sale of the City's lot on Middle St., Wibird's Hill. Granted.

Com. on Bridges also asked and were granted a week more in which to report.

SUFFICIENT CAUSE.—It is stated that at the time of the draft during the late rebellion, one of the numerous substitute brokers (not a thousand miles from this city) proceeded from his office to the Provost Marshal's with a finely proportioned "Sub" for enlistment. "Sub" was ushered into the surgeon's apartments for examination with instructions to return to the broker's office as soon as passed. In due time he came back to the office, (where were collected, recruiting Agents, town Agents, brokers, runners et id owne genius) bringing his own rejection. Great indignation at once ensued among those interested, and anathemas were freely heaped upon the head of the examining surgeon for thus summarily depriving a town of one towards its quota, the brokers of their plunder, and the country of a soldier.

The promising specimen of a man was immediately "looked over," his muscles felt, teeth examined &c., &c., by the "recruiters," and louder were their complaints and more bitter their denunciations of Dr. H——, and what other act they had committed it would be impossible to tell, had not one of them asked the man what cause the Doctor gave for rejecting him. "Well, I believe," calmly replied the man "that he said I had the itch." The office was clear in a moment—muscle feelers and all; never did legs get over an equal space in an equal time before.

The large and increasing sales of these

SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the quality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

SINGING.

SPEAKING AND READING.

Mr. W. J. PARKERSON would ask the attention of all persons interested in these arts, to his SYSTEMATIC DRILL for securing the most pure, easy, energetic and prolonged use of the Vocal Organs.

This Drill, the result of patient study and varied experience, both in Europe and America, is based on an improved combination of the best methods for beautifying and perfecting the voice as exemplified by the great masters.

Mr. Parkerson claims that more solid and brilliant results can be reached in a shorter time by his peculiar mode of practice than in any other way.

Especially will Teachers of Vocal Music find the information he offers inestimably valuable to them.

He invites an examination of his system and of his testimonials.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various affections of the Lungs.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been specdily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

THE FRANKLIN SCHOOL HOUSE.—Messrs. Editors:—We were surprised at that part of the action of the Committee on School Houses last Thursday evening which referred to the Franklin School House Addition; one would naturally suppose that the wishes of a large number of the citizens of Ward One would be respected, and suitable accommodations be provided for the pupils of all the various grades which are at present maintained, instead of abolishing the higher for the accommodation of the lower grades. Is this progression? Is this the proper policy for an enlightened and educated community? Is it "economy?" Can the value of education be estimated in dollars and cents? Is it justice to the parents who reside in the northern part of the city? Is it justice to the Principal of the Hanover St. School, whom it proposes to reduce to an Assistant Teacher? Shall it be said of Portsmouth that she has degenerated in Ward One to a school system which is fast disappearing in other localities, while in the more favored Ward Two, the latest system is successfully inaugurated.

We understand that the committee who compiled the table showing the number of spare seats in the various schools reported the maximum number of pupils in all except the Franklin Grammar School—and the average attendance in that school; Whereas, the whole number in the latter school is shown by the record to be nearer 50 than 40. But aside from all other considerations, we would like to enquire if the people of Ward One who pay their proportion of the School Tax as regularly as any other portion of our citizens are not entitled to suitable and convenient accomodation for their children in their own vicinity, without being obliged to send them a long and unreasonable distance to the different schools, between the Depot and New Castle Bridge, wherever spare seats may be found! Is there any reason that they should be obliged to send their children from the North to the extreme South End of the city, simply because the people of the lower Ward built a house altogether too large for their wants? Is there any reason why $10,000 should be appropriated for a School House in Ward Two, and nothing in Ward One? The citizens of Ward One have rights, and they should be respected.

If the policy recommended by the committee should be adopted, we would suggest that a delegation be sent to visit the School at the Shoals, possibly there may be two or three spare seats in that institution which might be hired for less money than we can furnish them in the city,—(it would not be much further off from Ward One, than what is proposed) and thus carry out the popular idea of practical "Economy and Retrenchment." But the theory is erroneous; it is not economy, it will not satisfy the citizens of Ward One, it will only remove the evil for a little time—the subject will again present itself for final settlement. This arrangement may suffice for a time, but when the schools become crowded as they undoubtedly will, if the Irish children who are now taught by the efforts of private parties return things will be again as at the present time, and the Primary school will once more be consigned to the pit in the cellar which is equally dangerous with, and differs from the somewhat noted bottomless pit of old, in one particular—this being flowed with water, while that is said to abound in fire. When Ward Two required $10,000, to build a new School House—Ward One, most cheerfully worked, and voted, for the enterprise; now we trust that Ward Two will acknowledge, and reciprocate the act, so far as to voting a sufficient sum (which need not exceed $3000,) and give us not an elaborate and costly, but convenient and comfortable addition as proposed last year, which would relieve the appearance of the present ill-proportioned apology for a School House.

We hope that our Honorable City Council will grant the petition of the large number of citizens, and make the desired and necessary addition at once, before it again becomes necessary to employ the Undertaker to convey to their last resting place some other martyr of this underground nuisance.

HUMANITY.

—At a late concert in Paris, an encore having been demanded, the leader of the orchestra announced that it would be given "at the close of the performance." This points to an improvement in the arrangement of such matters, which might well be imitated in our own country.

LITTLE ROSIE.

Rosie, my posy,
You're weary, you're dozy,
Sit upon grandmamma's knee.
Songs will I sing you,
Sweet sleep to bring you;
Cuddle up cosy with me.

I will sing ditties
Of birds and of kitties—
The "Song of the Well" to begin;
How young Johnnie Stout
Pulled pussy-cat out,
When Johnnie Green let her fall in.

Of timid Miss Muffit,
Who fled from the tuffit;
Of Bobbie who sailed on the sea;
Of Jack and Jill;
Of the mouse at the mill;
And baby that rocked on the tree.

Rosie, my Rosie,
As sweet as a posy—
Ah! now she is coming, I see,
Sleepy and dozy,
To cuddle up cosy,
And hush-a-by-baby with me.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.—The Prairie Farmer gets off the following:

Buckle, in his "History of Civilization," says that marriage does not depend upon love, but upon the price of corn. It is evident that children have long known this, and have even measured love as men measure corn, as appears from their common expression: "I love you two bushels and a peck."

The statistical lover does not now say, as he used to, "Amanda, I love thee — but, Amanda, provisions are cheap." There is no telling what fine novels and plays a man thoroughly imbued with this idea might produce, and particularly would he give us good songs. How imaginative would be one like this:

The heart bowed down with price of beef,
To weakest hopes will cling.
With the melancholy refrain:
For beef-steak is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

A REASON FOR PROTECTION, which I have never seen connected with the subject, is one which appears to me conclusive. It has been estimated that the steam power and machinery of England is equivalent to 600,000,000 of laborers, while the United States has but 300,000,000. Without protection, England is likely to maintain her great superiority in this respect for a long time. If her steam power could and would consume our agricultural products, there would be some excuse for free trade. We have not only her overwhelming number of laborers to compete with, but the overwhelming wealth they have accumulated. The cheap human labor, which has always entered into political economy, is of small account in comparison with the unconsuming slaves of England. It is this superiority which makes protection useless and inoperative there—it is abundant protection in itself.—E. M. Chaffee, Cor. Scientific American.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SWETT'S PATENT

STOVE SHELF REST!

TO HOUSEKEEPERS!

Something New!

FOR YOUR

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

THIS INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is a source of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have is will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

VELOCIPEDES.—Many have expressed doubts as to the real utility of velocipedes and the permanency of their use. Most of these croakers have based their opinions upon the disuse into which the rude machines of former times have fallen, and the want of adaptability to the roughly paved roadways of our cities. The first of these objections is answered by the fact that the seemingly slight differences in the construction of modern velocipedes from the primitive ones, have entirely changed the character of the vehicle. They are no longer draft vehicles, they are locomotives, and are as much superior to the original straddle-bar on wheels, as the improved steam locomotive is to the old time stage coach. As to the second point, what will objectors say when it is announced on good authority that the spirited Common Council of Brooklyn propose to bridge the gutters for the accommodation of velocipedestrians.

We believe in the utility of the velocipede, as well as in its capacity for affording amusement, and shall not be disappointed to see Henry Ward Beecher's prediction fulfilled, and devout worshippers propelling themselves with all due gravity and decorum to church on Sunday. Velocipede livery stables are the offspring of scant supply and large demand. "Velocipedes To Let" greets your eyes every day in the large cities.

Velocipedes rent at sixty cents an hour in Boston. The same city has adopted the soubriquet of "velocipedagogue" for those who teach the art of riding them. A New Orleans paper says that the Crescent City proposes to purchase twenty-five velocipedes for each fire company in the city.

As yet the velocipede in this country has been used almost entirely in cities, and but very few have given them a trial on our country roads, though there is no longer any doubt of their utility in rure. As yet no machine is provided with protectors to keep the mud and dust from off the back; and this is one of the most important improvements that can be made. For from actual experience it has been found that one's back very soon gets a coating of dust over it, which is thrown up by the hind wheel; while for the front wheel there should also be a protector (fastened to the support of the wheel, to turn with it), to prevent that wheel from rubbing upon the pantaloons, a serious annoyance.

The saddle should be as far down between the wheels as possible without coming in contact with them, and the support for the front wheel, to which the handles are attached, should incline backwards, so that the center of the cross bar at the top shall be at least nine inches from a perpendicular drawn through the center of the front wheel. For it is obvious, and experience has proved it to be so, that more force can be exerted and a greater speed more easily attained if the body is thrown well back and the whole frame kept nearly straight, than if the legs are forced up and down in the position that one assumes while sitting in a chair.

THE BEST EMPLOYMENT. — There are men and women who follow a particular occupation because they love it, and not alone for the profits derived therefrom; but such instances, it must be acknowledged, are exceptional and far from being general. There is one phase of business-life in this country that calls for a passing notice, and it is this; few men are satisfied with their occupation. Merchants long for the time when they can retire from business and settle upon their country-seat, the farmer looks forward to the day when he can sell his land, and have money enough to enable him to live in the city or some country village; while the lawyer and doctor seek to be relieved from the irksomeness of their profession, and they, like many others, believe that true contentment is only to be found in the garden.

There is scarcely a day passes in which some one or more of my friends in the city do not inform me that they are looking forward to the time when they shall move into the country and cultivate fruits and flowers, either for pleasure or profit.—Whitlock's Horticultural Recorder.

MANURE FOR POTATOES.—An exchange says the following receipt for raising potatoes is worth the price of any paper for one year, to any farmer that is short of manure. It is as good as the best super-phosphate of lime, and it will not cost half so much. It has been tried two years, and is good on dry land.

Take one cask of lime and slack it with water, and then stir in one bushel of fine salt, and then mix in loam or ashes enough, so that it will not become mortar; it will make about five barrels. Put in half a pint in a hill at planting. All manures containing potash are particularly suitable for potatoes. Ashes contain more than any other natural fertilizer, and should be freely used and carefully saved.—N. Y. Independent.

—It is now thought by many republicans that General Grant will turn out the worst President we have ever had—meaning Andrew Johnson.

—Within the last three months, over $40,000 worth of velocipedes have been manufactured in New Bedford, and the demand is greater than the supply still.

For the Chronicle.

UNION PRAYER MEETINGS.

Written on Tuesday, Feb. 23d, a day set apart by Christians of various denominations, in Portsmouth as a special season of Fasting and Prayer.

Alone with God, on bended knees,
Communing with His Spirit there,
In meekness, humbleness I bow,
My body fasting—Soul at prayer.

Thus help me, Lord, my heart to search,
To meditate and look within;
And in thy strength, with faithfulness
To purge it clean from every sin.

Thus set aright, help me to rise
And leave my study for the world;
With purer heart and nobler thoughts,
Christ's glorious banner bear unfurled.

Where duty calls, may I be found,
True to my sacred vows in Heaven,
To battle for the right and truth,
As God to me his wisdom given.

What wouldst thou have me do, oh Lord?
Whate'er it is, my heart prepare,
Fill now my soul with heavenly light,
And help me to be faithful there;

Not in my strength alone to go,
For I should falter by the way,
Be Thou my strength, my help, support,
Be thou my guide, my all, I pray.

THE MEDICINE FOR

THE WHOOPING COUGH! DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives aggreable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, arrange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become socially unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unreflecting word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by friends and neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made a impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who wears upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.

I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly range along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!

Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the chain?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.

Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Commences your career—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.

That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh is fastening, fast;
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.

Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has begun;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
Till you return to earth.

If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.

WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.

I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.

I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try painkagain."

PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.

The pores will open and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic pleas.

Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAIN PAINT rise.

'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.

WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced are made as favorable to the insurer as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, FEB. 27, 1869.

The News.

Woman suffrage has been defeated in the Nevada and Minnesota legislatures.

Gov. Brownlow is feeble.

Hon. H. L. Dawes of Massachusetts has withdrawn from the contest for the Speakership of the new House of Representatives, leaving the course clear for Hon. Jas. G. Blaine of Maine.

Milwaukee has a woman suffrage convention.

Gen. Grant has informed a Pennsylvanier politician that Ex-Gov. Curtin of that State is not to go into the Cabinet.

Congress.

The Senate on Thursday passed a bill exempting manufacturers of naval machinery or the government from the payment of internal revenue tax.

The House agreed to the report from the conference committee on the constitutional amendment, recommending the adoption of the Senate proposition, by a vote of 143 to 48.

It provides that the right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

New Hampshire Items.

George W. Merrill, an artist from Buffalo, N. Y., who was camping at the base of Mount Washington, near the Crystal Cascade, painting winter scenery, discovered last Saturday night, near dark, indications of a snow slide. Thinking it unsafe to remain in camp, he went some distance to an unoccupied house to spend the night. Returning in the morning, he found his camp covered by an avalanche of snow from Mount Washington, from thirty to fifty feet deep.

Ex-Governor Samuel Dinsmoor died at his residence in Keene, on Wednesday morning, the 24th, after a short illness, at the age of 69 years.

New Publications.

The Church Union, (religious newspaper, New York city,) of Feb. 20 gives notice of a change "in appearance and conduct" immediately hereafter. Crammond Kennedy is to be editor; C. L. Van Allen, publisher; and A. A. Byron, printer; all three being joint proprietors.

The Lady's Friend for March, opens with a fine steel engraving called "In the Firelight"—where fireside dreams are taking visible but ethereal shapes. This is followed by the handsome colored fashion plate, and an amusing engraving of "Half an Hour too Early" (at the party.) Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.—Col. Forney, in a letter to the Philadelphia Press, says it is authoritatively announced that the first railway to the Pacific Ocean will be finished in June, and the grand opening may be expected on the coming Fourth of July.

POSTPONED. — Owing to the heavy storm, the fourth lecture by C. Chauncey Burr on the different races of mankind was not delivered last evening, but postponed until this evening. In consequence of this postponement the fifth and last lecture, on the Ethnology of the Bible, will be delivered to-morrow (Sunday) evening. This last lecture of the course is one which is properly a Sunday evening lecture, as the object of it is to show that the Bible is in entire harmony with the Science of Anthropology.

THE JAMES MILLS DEFALCATION.—The rumors at Newburyport, of a "financial irregularity" in the James Mills, prove to be true, and the result of investigation shows William C. Balch, the treasurer and manufacturing agent of the mills, is a defaulter to the corporation. The treasurer admits there is a deficiency of some $28,500 in his accounts, but the amount is supposed to be a larger figure.

This amount, it is alleged, has been lost by him in speculations. At a meeting of the directors, Edward Burrill was appointed in his place and N. Stacy, clerk. The cotton now in process of manufacture will be worked up, when the machinery will be stopped and the affairs of the company thoroughly overhauled, when some startling developments may be expected. Some of Balch's transactions are alleged to be of a swindling character. His bondsmen consist of his father William, and Col. Eben F. Stone of Newburyport, and the amount is $10,000.—Traveller.

Manchester Statistics—A Dialogue.

Manchester News.—The Portsmouth Chronicle insists upon it, that we shall state the number of rum-sellers in Manchester, and for what parties they voted.

Uncle Toby.—Our request was reasonable; as we had just given similar information about Portsmouth, at the request of the News.

M. N.—We learn the number of licenses given out here during the year is only about two hundred and twenty five, and that the average number of places kept open during the year is only about one hundred and eighty.—As near as we can learn the facts, about one fourth of the rum-sellers here, as in Portsmouth, vote with the Republican party.

U. T.—That is to say, one quarter republicans, and three quarters democrats; about the same proportion as in Portsmouth, Portland, Boston, and some other places, showing that these proportions are not exceptional or accidental in M., but are governed by some law of kindred or affinity between the traffic and the democratic party. What that law is, we do not say;—but here are the facts, which came out, not by our seeking, originally, but by a call for the News.

M. N.—There are many things connected with the traffic in liquor and votes here that would perhaps be interesting to our temperance friend in Portsmouth, and now that we have given him "the Census," we trust the Chronicle will proceed to tree its mind upon the subject.

U. T.—Thank you for the Census:—and our mind has been very freely expressed on the subject of Temperance, from pulpit, platform and press, these forty years and more. If you have any more interesting facts about liquor and votes in Manchester which you choose to give, we shall not object.

M. N.—When we uttered a few words about loud-talking and do-nothing temperance people, we had no idea of creating a muss in any particular camp—but it seems that we hit party expediency, and that has produced a muddle among the office-seekers.

Uncle Toby does not train in that company at all; he seeks no office, he is not hit, and he sees no muddle among office-seekers here; tho' he knows that beer and money have been used very freely in several late elections, sometimes with success, and sometimes with failure. Moreover, he does not belong to the do-nothings, as the record shows, but did all he could, morally and legally, for years; and since his way was obstructed as to legal measures, he has never ceased to use all the powers of moral suasion he possesses, on the side of temperance, and of total abstinence from strong drinks. He has never deemed the law perfect, nor its administration strict and successful. But he sees friends and foes killing themselves by inches with a bad habit; and earnestly desires their reformation. Therefore he talks on.

M. N.—Now, just as long as voters are thus wanted to secure office for the seekers after office, just so long will temperance preachers spend their breath for no good.

U. T.—That is what logicians call a non sequitur. Hundreds of men and women here, and thousands elsewhere have been made total abstinents by temperance preaching. This is one well known fact. Another fact is, that some men buy votes for money, beer, or whisky; and that other men sell their votes and themselves, dog cheap. We say, keep on preaching—no doubt you will save some, though you may not save all.

M. N.—As present a temperance man could no more get an office, or even a nomination from any successful party, than could a town pauper get an invitation to a fashionable assembly.

U. T.—That is not true here; we are slow to believe it of Manchester or any other place. Temperance is an important quality in a public office, but it is not alone sufficient; but known and active temperance men who are qualified otherwise, do get nominated here to important offices, and sometimes get elected.

M. N.—If we wanted office bad, we would purchase a cargo of whiskey, and good whiskey too, which should remain on tap free—and then we would be willing to bet on our own election, every time, and we would win every time in the bargain.

U. T.—Not a very elevated platform,—nor a very new one. Sometimes such a shaky one has tumbled down, candidates and all.

Manchester Friend.— Our Revenue Commissioner has licensed 171 liquor dealers since May, 6 of them wholesale. Of these 25 are republicans, 20 of unknown politics, 126 democrats. Ten of the 25 republicans are apothecaries; one of this number is the city liquor agent. Firms are counted as one. Fourteen licenses are taken by females; those who are widows are counted unknown; those who are wives of democratic husbands are so counted. More than half the dealers are foreigners, mostly Irish, German, and French. Several of the dealers sell no distilled, but only fermented liquors.

U. T.—No further comment is called for;—but the facts are suggestive.

— An English girl has obtained £5 damages from a sweetheart, who, while courting her, squeezed her hand so hard as to break a finger. After marriage, he might have broken her head with impunity.

—Miss Katie Putnam is astonishing the citizens of Davenport, Iowa, by her skillful management of the bicycular velocipede.

—Mr. Henry M. Corliss of Boston, while riding a velocipede, was knocked over by a fellow-velocipedist, and severely injured.

— What is the difference between a farmer and a seamstress? One gathers what he sows, the other sews what she gathers.

CATTLE MARKET AT BRIGHTON,

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, FEB. 25.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1513;—Sheep and Lambs 6383; Swine 300; number of Western Cattle 1316; Eastern Cattle 59; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 200.

Prices of Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $14 00; first quality $13 00 @ $12 25; second quality $12 00 @ $12 75; third quality $8 50 @ $11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $6 50@$8 (7 100 lbs—(the total weight of hides, tallowand dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 10 @ 10½c ⅌ lb; Country Hides 9 @ 10c ⅌ lb.

Brighton Tallow 8½ @ 9c per lb; Country Tallow 7½ @ 8c ⅌ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 50 @ $2 25 each; Sheep Skins $1 50 @ $2 25 each; Calf Skins 20 @ 22c ⅌ lb.

The supply from the West was larger and the quality better than has been brought from that section in some time, and the best grades of Beeves prices are full as high, but upon those of an inferior quality prices are not quite so firm. There were some Cattle from Maine, most of which were sold for workers. The Western trains did not all get in until afternoon yesterday, and trade was very quiet and dragging on that account. There were a few premium Cattle in market that were sold at 13c ⅌ lb., dressed weight.

Sheep—With the exception of Working Oxen and Milch Cows, there are but few Store Cattle brought to market at this season of the year. Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are sold for Beef.

Working Oxen—The supply from Maine for several weeks past has been light, and the trade for working oxen has been very active. We quote sales at $125, 165, 170, 190, 190, 212, 222, 235 @ 250 ⅌ pair.

Milch Cows—We quote extra at $85 @ 115 each; ordinary at $60 @ 80.

Store—Yearlings, $30 @ 40; two year olds $40 @ 50 ⅌ head. Prices depend in a great measure upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply from the West were mostly taken at a commission. Western Sheep cost from 7 @ 9½ ⅌ lb at Albany; there were some fine lots among them. We quote sales of Northern lots at $2 75, $2, $5 75, $6 65 @ $8 ⅌ head; and at 7½, 8 @ 8½c ⅌ lb.

Swine—Wholesale 12 @ 12½c ⅌ lb; retail 12½ to 14c ⅌ lb. There was a large supply of Store Pigs in market. Most of the Fat Hogs are bro't to market dressed during the winter months.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

PLANTATION BITTERS combine rare medicinal virtues with a delicious aroma, and a flavor grateful to the palate. It is purely vegetable, and in its composition all the requisites of science have been complied with. It is suitable for all ages and sexes. It is gentle, stimulating and soothing. All dyspeptic disorders are cured by it, and it repairs and restores nature's wasted powers. PLANTATION BITTERS are increasing daily in favor and popularity. It relieves suffering, renders life a luxury, brightens the present and throws a hopeful light on the future. 17

One of the few things that the North and South will probably ever fully agree upon is that "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" is one of the best preparations to the hair falling out, but also the finest dressing ever before the public. It richly deserves the "Silver Medal" awarded by the New Hampshire State Fair.—Dubuque Times.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of the Fertilizers manufactured by them

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $25 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in large crops of corn this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years) they came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Prof. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is far ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Prof. D. Peck, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate on his scrap. On Potatoes and Buckwheat it has answered any expectation."

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given us as much, if not more, profit. We used two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Seeds of Sickness.

Baron Munchausen tells a story of a post-boy's horn, which had a number of wicked tunes blown into it one frosty night, but made no response.—Nevertheless, when it was hung before a hot fire, the tunes, which had been frozen in, thawed out, to the amazement of all present. Just so the human system, subjected to injurious influences during the Winter, sometimes gives no token of the effect they have produced upon it, until the mild Atmosphere of Spring develops their fruits. Many Spring diseases are the result of Winter imprudences, and great and especial care should be taken of the system in the cold season, so that it may be in a sound and vigorous condition when the malarious fogs of March and April make their appearance.

To this end, strengthen the stomach and the general organization at this season with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Take this pleasant vegetable antidote in advance of the uprising of the mephitic mists and vapors, which produce chills and fever, and other malarious diseases. Remember that it is a preventive medicine,—as powerful to protect as to restore. The stomach is apt to be overtaxed at this time of the year. It is a period devoted to dinner and supper parties, and luxurious living generally. Feasting and late hours weaken the digestive organs and disorder the liver. The effect of the Bitters is to invigorate the one and regulate the other. There is no month in the twelve when a tonic and alterative is more generally needed than in this, and there is no preparation of that nature so thoroughly salubrious, so bracing, and so entirely free from undue stimulating properties, as this celebrated vegetable cordial.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the earth to which it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every part of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means, feels bound to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Benedict's, says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

CURE OF LESION OF THE LIVER.

A gentleman, after a severe sickness, had lesion of the liver. Every quick movement or sudden jar gave him severe pain, often laying him up for days. Hence he was unable to follow any occupation with regularity.

In this condition, he applied over the part affected an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. At the end of twenty-four hours, he have taken off. But the marked improvement he experienced afterwards gave him courage to try again, and he therefore applied another. In a few days, he said, "anything gave way—"stopped," to use the gentleman's own words. There was some soreness for a few days after, but he has been well ever since. Upon being sounded by his physician, the adhesion or lesion was found to be gone.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watches makes a ready sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This trade is, from fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and for which there is no competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who when asked for a watch, say that they use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of this country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let this portion of the trade ask the owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to trust the result. Having to buy a watch, we guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of the individual articles. Keeping this fact in view our policy has always been to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully pursued for years, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. Let this fact speak for itself. AFFORD WELL, CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the benefit of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the disease begins to leave the lungs and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, starves the tubercles off by the roots, and cures them, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will be light clay color. You can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this tonic contains, is taken into the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Stop the cough and night sweats, and they will cure themselves. Let the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesions, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not enough to stop the cough, night sweats, and the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to give the Pulmonic Syrup three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary for personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

OUR SCHOOLS.—The communication of "Humanity" in Friday's paper needs an answer; for the children of all parts of the city should be provided with schools, and if a new school house is needed in Ward One, nobody will be ahead of us in advocating its immediate erection. However we do not believe that children will be hurt by walking a short distance to school, nor do we believe that Ward One has been defrauded of any of its rights.

Of Grammar schools, there are in Ward One three, with accommodations for about two hundred pupils, the attendance being about one hundred and thirty. In Ward Two, there are two grammar schools, with three rooms and three teachers, having seats for One hundred and fifty scholars, and the attendance is about one hundred. In Ward Three there is one grammar school; about two hundred seats with about half that number of scholars.—Certainly no wrong has been done to the citizens of Ward One in providing these schools, except that wrong suffered by all our citizens of building and supporting more schools than are needed.

It should be remembered too that the schools are furnished for all—that there are no ward divisions in them, but that the children of each ward have equal right in all. The Academy, where all the grammar schools of the second ward are located, is on the very borders of the first ward and handier certainly for the children of Ward One than for those of the Ward in which it is situated. To put it in another form, we say that were the schools in the Academy to be filled with pupils living in Ward One, they would have less distance to travel than the children do who now attend it.

Another view—the school house on Lafayette road is three miles from the Haven School House, and there is no school of any grade between them; the Plains school is nearly two miles from the Academy, and there is no grammar school between them; the Gravelly Ridge school is less than two miles from the Hanover Street School; and were all the grammar school children in Ward One to go to the Hanover Street School, they would walk no farther than the pupils in the Academy do and not so far as the pupils in the Haven school.

Now there is an Infant school in the cellar of the Franklin School; the Aldermen say let your children, now in the Franklin Grammar School, go to the Hanover street; if there shall be too many there let some from Hanover street go to the Academy; it will be no farther than other children walk; indeed about one third of the Franklin Grammar School live this side of the Bridge; then put the infant school up stairs in a room, healthy, commodious and comfortable. Can anything be more reasonable?

☞ The gray or white trotting mare Little Mischief, which has been advertised for sale by auction to-day, has been disposed of at private sale to her former owner, Mr. Stoddard, and so will not be brought under the hammer. The price is not stated, but it was always understood that he gave about $800 for her in a trade, at the first purchase.

The young man who drew her, informs us that the largest offer he had for Lady Palmer was $800, but he preferred Mischief and $600. Palmer is now said to have been purchased of Mr. Stoddard by Mr. M. Eldredge, for from $1,000 to $1,300. She is a beauty, and worth about as much as anybody's horse.

☞ It is reported that Mr. J. W. Hildreth, Station Agent of the Concord Railroad in this city, has been appointed Master of Transportation of this Road, and will reside in Concord. Mr. Hildreth is a very capable and efficient business man, and a thorough gentleman; and while we rejoice in his promotion to so responsible a trust, we regret the removal of so good a citizen.

We learn that Mr. Elisha Tripp is to remove to Manchester, to engage in the painting business. We wish Portsmouth would develope employment sufficient to keep all such men at home.

☞ The Cantata or Opera of Esther was given in good style at Lawrence on Friday evening. A good delegation from the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society were present.

The Haymakers will be brought out at Exeter on Tuesday evening, with the original scenery belonging here. Doubtless some of the P. P. S. will be there to see.

A HEAVY FALL OF SNOW commenced on Friday afternoon, and the sleighing bids fair to be the best of the season.

It's FUN, if you don't believe it just visit Deering and Gammon's Velocipede Rink at the foot of State Street, and learn to ride one of the nice new machines which are ready for use. The Rink is spacious, and every accommodation is offered by the gentlemanly proprietors. We saw a gentleman, on Friday, learn to ride one of the machines in ten minutes, and he had never seen a velocipede before. It all comes of having plenty of room to practice in, and a little fearlessness and confidence.

The ladies have at last found a convenient and cosy place to view the sport, and appear at the Rink in force every afternoon. The proprietors have a nice little ante-room fitted for their accommodation and are reaping the benefit of their thoughtfulness. And merry sport the spectators and riders have of it, too, when the velocipedes are being propelled up and down and around the space allotted for the practice, while the ladies, who wish they could, but can't, cheer on their friends, and shouts of laughter greet the downfall of their more fortunate attendants.

It is a busy and merry scene, and there's enough amusement in it to pass away a whole afternoon. We recommend the Rink to our gentlemen friends as a good place to take their families, for there is nothing to prevent the attendance of the most fastidious.

The enthusiasts are rapidly preparing themselves for operations in the streets the coming spring, and may feel much encouraged by the following rhymes which a "poet" of much calibre has produced.

She saw him en velocipede
A-kiting up the road,
And pitty-pat and pitty-pit
Her little heartlet goed.
And soft she sobbered to herself,
"Though fast his paces be,
He cannot dust so quick but what
My heart keeps up with he.
O, vive la belle velocipede
Which digs along the street;
But that which I do chiefly vive
Is he who does the feat.
I cannot help a-loving him,
Nor he help loving me,
Velocipedestrination is
A thing that has to be."

☞ While spending a day in Manchester recently, we visited the new and extensive Brewery establishment of Messrs. Tucker & Co., (George W. Tucker and N. F. Mathes, recently of this city.) The buildings are of wood, very large, erected in the most judicious and substantial manner, and fitted with all the best modern machinery and appliances for the business. They are located about a mile from the city, very near the Railroad, and having a short side-track connecting; with an abundance of the purest spring water on the premises.

The establishment is one of the largest and most complete in New England, and is evidently kept in the neatest and best condition—and a competent business man who accompanied us, estimated the cost of the establishment and contents at not less than $50,000 or $60,000. Tucker & Co.'s Ales have now been in the market only about three months, but are already gaining quite a sale, and a reputation for superior quality. Mr. William Ward is their Agent in Portsmouth. While we regret the loss of such capable business men from our city, we wish them the fullest success wherever their lines may fall.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.
The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.
Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.
We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

SINGING,

SPEAKING AND READING.
Mr. W. J. PARKERSON would ask the attention of all persons interested in these arts, to his SYSTEMATIC DRILL for securing the most pure, easy, energetic and prolonged use of the Vocal Organs.
This Drill, the result of patient study and varied experience, both in Europe and America, is based on an improved combination of the best methods for beautifying and perfecting the voice as exemplified by the great masters.
Mr. Parkerson claims that more solid and brilliant results can be reached in a shorter time by his peculiar mode of practice than in any other way.
Especially will Teachers of Vocal Music find the information he offers inestimably valuable to them.
He invites an examination of his system and of his testimonials.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for the Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Morning Chronicle.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

A man will go blind, and mad too, from fear; I have seen it happen, and if you mind listening, will tell you the story. I was apprenticed to a builder when I left school, and soon got to like the trade very much, especially when the work was perilous, and gave me a chance to outdo the other lads in daring. "Spider" was my nick-name in those days, for I had out-grown my proportions, and partly because they said I could crawl along a rope like my namesake.

When I was about three-and-twenty I was working with the famous Mr. ——, and went down with his picked hands, to carry out a contract he had taken in Canada. While there, I fell in love with the prettiest girl I had seen in Canada, and that is saying a good deal. For a time I fancied she liked me, and that I was getting on very well with my love making, but I soon found my mistake, for an old lover of hers joined our men, and Mary gave me the cold shoulder directly.

You may believe this sweetheart of hers(who was called Ben Lloyd) and I were not the best of friends in the world; but I am not the sort of fellow to harbor malice, and when the biddings to the wedding went around, and I knew that my chance was gone, I made the best of it; I kept my sore heart to myself, and determined to beat down jealousy, by being great chums with Ben.

I went to the wedding; and there were not many days when I did not steal half an hour to sit by his fire-side, which was as bright and cozy and homelike as you'd wish to see—Mary being the soul of order and industry. It is not perhaps, the usual way of driving out envy, to go and look at the happiness another man has done you out of, but you know the proverb says, "What is one man's meat is another man's poison;" and so it was. I got to look upon Mary as a sort of sister, and Ben had no cause for jealousy, although there were plenty of evil tongues to put him up to it.

The contract was nearly up, when a lightning conductor upon one of the highest chimneys sprang, and the owner of the works offered our master the job.

"It's just the sort of thing for you, Harry," said Mr. ——, when he told us of it.

I accepted it off hand, and then Ben stepped up and said he'd volunteer to be the second man, two being required.

"All right," said the master, "you are the steadiest-headed fellows I have. The price is a good one, and every penny of it shall be divided between you. We'll not fix a day for the work, but take the first calm morning, and get it done quietly."

So it was that, some four or five mornings after we found ourselves all ready for the start. The kite by which the line attached to the block was to be sent over the chimney, was flown, and did its work well; the rope which was to haul up the cradle was ready, and stepping in, Ben and I began the ascent.

There had been very few people about when we went into the yard, but as we got higher, I saw that the news had spread, and that the streets were filling with sight seers.

"There's plenty of star-gazers, Ben," I said, waving my cap to them; "I dare say they'd like to see us come down with a run."

"Cannot you keep quiet?" answered Ben, speaking in a strange tone; and turning to look, I saw he was deadly pale, and sat in the bottom of the cradle, huddled up together, with his eyes fast shut.

"You're not frightened, old chap?" I asked.

"What's that to you?"

"Oh, nothing; only we are getting up pretty quickly, and you'd have a better head for work if you'd get gradually used to the height."

He said nothing, and never moved. Then looking up I saw we were close to the top—a few yards more, and we would be there; yet those who were turning the windlass were winding with unabated speed. A sudden thrill ran through my blood, and set my flesh creeping. They had mis-calculated the distance, and with the force they were winding at, the rope must inevitably break when the cradle came in contact with the block. There was no time to attempt a signal, only an instant to point out the danger to Ben, and then to get hold of the rope, and by going hand over hand, reach the coping before the cradle came up. This was done quicker than I can tell you, Ben following.

The cradle came on; then, as I anticipated, the rope gave a shrill, pinging sound, like a rifle ball passing through the air, and snapped. Down went the cradle, and there were we left, nearly three hundred feet in the air, with nothing to rest upon but a coping, barely eighteen inches wide.

Ben shrieked out that he was a dead man, and cried, "Tell me where I can kneel, Harry; Show me where I can pray to Almighty God, for I cannot die this way!"

"Hush! lad," I said, "don't lose heart; God can hear you just as well sitting as kneeling; and if you try to get up you'll tumble, to a moral certainty. Think of Mary, man, and keep up."

But he only shook and swayed more and more, groaning and crying out that he was lost; and I could see that if he did not mind, he would lose his balance.

"Get hold of the rod," I said, thinking that, even sprung as it was, the touch would give him courage.

"Where is it, boy?" he said hoarsely; and then looking into his face, which was turned to me, I saw that his eyes were drawn together, squinting and bloodshot, and knew that the fright had driven him blind. So pushing myself nearer to him, I placed my arm around his waist, and worked round to the rod, which I put in his hand; and then I looked below to see whether they were trying to help us; but there were no signs.

The yard was full of people, all running hither and thither; and, as I afterwards knew, all in the greatest consternation, the cradle having fallen on one of the overseers of the work, killing him on the spot, and so occupying the attention of those near, that we unfortunates were for the time forgotten. I was straining my eyes, in hope of seeing some effort made to help us, when I was startled by a horrible yell, and brought to a sense of new danger, for looking round I saw Ben champing his teeth and foaming at the mouth, and gesticulating in an unearthly way.—Fear had not only blinded him, but crazed his brain.

Scarcely had I time to comprehend this, when he began edging his way towards me; and every hair on my head seemed to stand on end, as I moved away, keeping as far off as I could, and scarcely daring to breathe, lest he should hear me, for see me he could not—that was my only consolation. Once—twice—thrice—he followed me round the mouth of that horrible chimney; then, no doubt thinking I had fallen over, he began trying to get on his feet. What could I now do to save his life? To touch him was certain death to myself as well as him, for he would inevitably seize me, and we should go over together. To let him stand was to witness his equally certain destruction.

I thought of poor Mary, and I remembered that if he died, she might get to care for me. The devil put the thought into my mind, I suppose; but, thank God there was a stronger than Satan near, and at the risk of my life, I roared out, "Sit still, or you will fall, Ben Lloyd!"

He crouched down and held on with clenched teeth, shivering and shaking. In afterdays, he told me that he thought that it was my spirit sent to warn and save him.

"Sit still," I repeated from time to time, watching with aching eyes and brain for some sign of aid. Each minute seemed to be an hour. My lips grew dry, my tongue literally clave to my mouth, and the perspiration running down blinded me.

At last—at last—hope came. The crowd began to gather in the yard, people were running in from distant lanes, and a sea of faces were turned upwards; then some one who had got a speaking trumpet shouted, "Keep heart, boys, we'll save you!" A few minutes more and the kite began to rise; higher it comes, on and on. How I watched the white winged messenger, comparing it in my heart to an angel; and surely, as an angel was it permitted to come nearer and nearer, guided by the skillful flier. The slack rope crossed the chimney, and we were saved.

I could not shout hurrah, even had I dared, but in every beat of my heart was a thanksgiving to the God I had never truly known till that hour, and whose merciful providence I can never doubt again.

The block was fixed, the cradle came up again, and Ben obeying my order, got in. I followed; but no sooner did I touch him than he began trying to get out. I got hold of him, and taking it into his head that I was attempting to throw him over, he struggled and fought like the madman he was—grappling, tearing with his teeth, shouting, shrieking, and praying all the way down, while the cradle strained and cracked, swinging to and fro like the pendulum of a clock.

As we came near the ground I could hear the roar of voices, and an occasional cheer; then suddenly all was silent, for they had heard Ben's cries, and when the cradle touched the ground scarcely a man dare look in. The first saw a horrible sight, for, exhausted by the struggle and excitement, so soon as the cradle stopped I had fainted, and Benfeeling my hands relax, had fastened his teeth into my neck!

No wonder the men fell back with blanched faces; they saw that Ben was crazed; but they thought he had killed me, for as they said he was actually worrying me like a dog. At last the master got to us, and pulled Ben off me. I soon came round, but it was a long time before he got well, poor fellow; and when he did come out of the asylum, he was never fit for his old trade again. I gave up the trade, too, soon after, finding that I got queer in the head when I tried to face height. So, you see, that morning's work changed two men's lives.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty ointment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre (and a grateful perfume.

SWETT'S PATENT

STOVE SHELF REST!

TO HOUSEKEEPERS!

Something New!
FOR YOUR
COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE!

This Rest, which is received with great favor, fastens on the stove for the purpose of sustaining SHELVES, which can be Raised or Lowered at pleasure, either SEPARATELY or TOGETHER, and which are made to swing directly over the stove or behind it, entirely out of the way.

This INDISPENSABLE ARTICLE supplies a want felt in every family, being useful in raising Bread or yeast, for holding Dishes when cooking; for drying Tin, Wooden Ware and articles of every description; for keeping Drinks and Food Warm without injury to the dish or food. It is also convenient to place a Lamp upon while cooking, in fact various and numerous are the uses to which it is put, proving itself a blessing which every housekeeper appreciates.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. One of the greatest sources of Consumption and Colds is wet or damp feet. Upon these Shelves Boots, Shoes, Stockings, Rubbers, Gloves, &c., are thoroughly Dried and Warmed, without danger of burning or scorching, as is often done for want of a suitable place to put either.

It is also of great advantage in Offices and Stores for warming and drying various articles without danger of burning.

Many are the TESTIMONIALS in its favor. It will speak for itself, and those who once have it will never be willing to part with it, and wonder how they ever did without it.

CANADIAN CHARACTERISTICS.—"Slocus," has been in Canada, and writes thus to the Syracuse Journal:

There's too much land here to the acre. No one owns to owning any of it. The snow doesn't melt till August, and August comes but once in two years. This has a tendency to retard vegetation.

Everybody is always finding oil in Canada, yet nobody ever loses any. It is in very general use, but I can't say I like it in the soup. At the hotel I even ventured to object to its flavor in the butter, but was told that such remonstrances were considered disrespectful to the Queen.

Canadians do not like silver, particularly American silver. The instant one of 'em sees a quarter he's down on it heavy.

They sell good liquor here, and seldom water it. Whiskey is cheaper and easier to unfreeze than water, except in summer.

The average length of winter is thirteen months.

People slide out of the habit of weak drinks during the frozen term, and don't go back to 'em kindly.

Among the liquor dealers but very few sell fusel oil; their refusal to poison their neighbors is affecting.

There are two railroads in Canada; one is "Great," t'other is "Grand;" which one is the cussedest can only be told by trying both—generally speaking, it's the one you're on. There is a gentleman connected with the first mentioned, but he lives in Buffalo.

Canada is said to be improving rapidly, and I must admit that they swear in better English than formerly.

The improvements are probably "internal," for externally all is much the same as in old, if not mucher; they will cease to blow by and by, and burst out in full blossom of improvement, that the world may know what Canada-bring forth.

There are more h's and snow and soldiers and Queen in Canada than one would suppose absolutely necessary for health and comfort, but as all seem to enjoy these lively blessings, they may know best about it.

This is a terribly healthy country; folks could live forever just as well as not, and I believe they would if there were anything to live for.

Rather than live here I would prefer to go elsewhere and die.—sinc dic.

LAUGHABLE ADVENTURE.—During the past winter a reverend clergyman in Vermont, being apprehensive that the accumulated weight of the snow upon the roof of the barn might do some damage, resolved to prevent it by seasonably shovelling it off. He therefore ascended it, having first, for fear the snow might all slide off at once, and himself with it, fastened his waist to one end of a rope, and giving the other to his wife, he went to work; but fearing still for his safety, he said; "My dear wife, tie the rope round your waist." No sooner had she done this, than off went the snow, poor minister and all, and up went his wife. Thus on one side of the barn the astounded and astonished clergyman hung, but on the other side hung his wife, high and dry, in majesty sublime, dangling at the other end of the rope. At that moment, however, a gentleman luckily passed by, and delivered them from their perilous situation.

TEMPERATURE OF CREAM.—The Iowa Homestead, in answer to the inquiry as to the proper temperature of cream for churning, says: "Careful experiments have demonstrated that while cream should never be lower than fifty degrees, it should never be higher than fifty-five degrees, for the operation of churning will raise it from five to ten degrees. In a long series of experiments conducted in an English diary, the best temperature was found to be fifty-three degrees when the cream goes into the churn. By fat too many keep the milk and cream at the same temperature, or at least in the same cellar or vault. Either the cream or the milk will suffer, one being too warm or the other too cold."

ABUSE OF ANIMALS.—Why is it that so many farmers are so cruel toward their animals? Some who are kind to their families seem to think it would be undignified in them to treat their stock with any degree of kindness. They scold and whip their horses for the most trivial faults, and kick and beat their cows, calves, hogs and sheep, apparently for the mere gratification of a tyrannical disposition. The practice cannot be too strongly condemned. It is not only wicked, but it is unprofitable. Animals kept in constant fear of their owner, so much that they always run at his approach, cannot grow or thrive as well as those that are more humanely treated.

— Fred. Douglas, speaking of Mrs. Lincoln, says that when the newspapers of this country were denouncing her as a clog on the wheels of the government, and holding her husband back, that good woman was urging her husband forward to strike down slavery.

—A cotemporary thinks the rain a strange power. It keeps thousands away from church on Sunday, but won't deter a single man from attending to his business on week days.

FAITH

In the gloaming, whch my darlings.
In their dainty robes of white,
By the mother's knee have murmured,
"Jesus, keep us through the night."

To their little crib, white curtained,
Where the upper shadows fall,
Nestled in my arms, I take them
Through the long, unlighted hall.

Swift, in rayless silence, round us
Close the deepening shades of night;
"Dark!" my blue-eyed Bertie whispers,
Half in awe, and half in fright.

"Dark!" the baby brother echoes,
With a hush upon his glee;
Then my Bertie, nestling nearer,
Whispers softly, "Papa see!"

Blessed, blessed faith of childhood!
Father grant this faith to me;
Dark the shadows round me gather,
But I know that Thou dost see.

—Californians have an economical way of getting to the White Pine mining regions in Nevada. They enter the service of the Central Pacific road, get a free ride to the end of the line, and then strike for the mines.

— Not having heard from the debating societies in relation to the conundrum, "Why do hens always lay eggs in the day time?" a cotemporary says, "Because at night they are roosters."

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, every one knows they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is neglected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, try it, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or pulliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but I had tried them until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once—with as entire immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but commend Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator as an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, all like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come in to universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

For sale by Druggists. Price $1. f8 8w

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.

I want to warn the careless ones
Who blindly rope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!

Look out, my rear, lest you from free,
Or do what you can't be mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.

Catarrh, a loathsome disease, and Consumption is its sire—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.

That horrible disease, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat inside.

Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
Till you return to earth.

If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or this subject dry.

WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon dire;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.

I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.

I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."

PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.

The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.

Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.

'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Reduces the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.

WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head. Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Plans, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complication and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented; which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

MONDAY, MARCH 1, 1869.

CIVILIANS VS. NAVAL AND ARMY OFFICERS.—It has been expected by many that Gen. Grant would select an army officer as Secretary of War, and that the Navy Department would be tendered to some naval officer. The reasons for such a course do not appear, and we are glad that Gen. Grant has, in his emphatic way, settled the matter by declaring that he is "opposed to appointing officers of the army and navy to civil office, and will, therefore, have a civilian at the head of every department."

It is an indication that the President elect is not to be hampered with men who are better fitted to remain in the service than to take part in pursuits of which they have little or no practical knowledge. His reply to the Pennsylvanians shows also that he is not willing that fossil politicians shall be foisted upon him, and the country will be gratified should the members of the new Cabinet be chosen because of their loyalty, capability and success in the past.

It seems that Gen. Schofield is to have the honor of being nominated to the Senate as Secretary of War, (probably because he is the only member of the present Cabinet deserving such distinction,) but Gen. Grant has provided that he shall decline the honor, that a civilian may be offered the place.

Gen. Grant in carrying out this plan is paying due heed to the wishes of the people. The Army and Navy as a whole is an aristocracy, composed of individuals who have little or no sympathy with the masses, and when clothed in a little brief authority, being over-wise in their own conceit, are too liable to forget their accountability to any but superiors in office. There are some noble exceptions, however, found generally among those who have been educated in manual labor, and seldom among those who, failing to exhibit any particular talent which might have rendered them useful as inventors, financiers, &c., have entered the service through the mediation of friends, that they might live a life of ease, and be sure of a competency for life—contented to rust rather than wear out. It is certainly an encouraging indication that Gen. Grant prefers to select men of known ability and business experience to fill important offices, rather than to choose from a class who already assume too much, and are ever trying to crush out what little democratic element there is in the service.

The News.

Gen. Sherman arrived in Washington on Friday.

A dispatch from Havanas says that the volunteers for the past few days have shown a mutinous and dangerous spirit. Orders have been given to the troops in the field to take no prisoners in arms, but to shoot them all. The government at Spain is much incensed at the conduct of the Cubans in refusing to accept its conciliatory proposals, and it has now determined to crush the rebellion if it takes 50,000 troops to do it.

A London despatch says that official despatches from New Zealand announce further successes over the rebels. The troops have carried by assault the Maori stronghold, Navatapah. The natives made a desperate defence and lost two hundred in killed and wounded; the British loss was twenty-two.

Howard A. Cleaveland has been found guilty of the murder of Warren George of East Orrington, Me., after an eight days' trial at Bangor.

The New York State Assembly has rejected a resolution thanking Andrew Johnson for his public services, by a vote of 21 to 63.

The bill creating a metropolitan police for Philadelphia has been defeated in the Pennsylvania Senate.

Congress.

In the Senate, report on Friday, the report of the conference committee on the constitutional amendment was agreed to by a vote of 39 to 13. In the House, the deficiency bill was passed.

A SELL.—The Boston Recorder has a short article on the Cowardice of Maine on the question of hanging murderers, in which it says:

Meanwhile light has been shed upon the subject from a truly extraordinary quarter. The convicts of the State Prison at Thomaston last week held a meeting at which they voted that the extreme penalty of the law ought not to be enforced, and desired permission to send a committee to argue the matter before the Legislature.

The Recorder has been sold; no such meeting has been held; but some newspapers have published a funny sketch of proceedings without explanations.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. Mr. Knowles, (a Freewill Baptist pastor in Manchester,) and wife, celebrated their silver wedding on Wednesday evening. Among the presents were a full service of silver ware, another of China ware, and an extension table.

A boy in Exeter, 8 years old, accidentally shot himself with a pistol, on Wednesday, and died in a few hours. His name was Fred. Tilton, son of a widow.

Mr. Zebulon Sanborn of Epping, has a yoke of steers, two years old, which girt 6 1-2 feet, and weigh 2700 lbs. He has a pair of Calves which weigh 1200 lbs.

The Steam Sawmill belonging to Messrs. Smith and Folsom, of Exeter, on the 18th inst., sawed 6,046 feet of decking in two hours and thirty minutes, and during the day of eight hours 13,750 ft., of lumber.

A few days since a deputy sheriff went to Swanton, Vt., where he found and arrested George M. Greene, one of the Suncook clopers. The prisoner was left in the hands of the Vermont authorities while the sheriff came to New Hampshire to procure a requisition upon the Governor of Vermont. When the sheriff returned to that State he found, to his surprise, that Greene had been arraigned before a Vermont justice, waived examination, procured bail and fled to parts unknown. As Greene was arrested on a charge of stealing money from Mr Elliott's house the legality of the proceeding will be tested. Larkin, another of the clopers, has positively been seen in Chicago, and every possible effort is being made to secure his arrest.—Patriot.

Mrs. Hannah P. Badger, aged 78, died at Gilmanton, Feb. 23. She was the widow of Gov. Wm. Badger; and was a model of good housekeeping, and with her husband, of christian hospitality and charity.

Mr. John L. Davis, agent of the Excelsior Mills, Manchester, died on Tuesday, of pneumonia, aged 42.

A letter from Newmarket says that a miscreant near the C. & P. Junction, recently sold to one of the paupers on the town farm a quantity of rum, and while under its influence he overthrew the stove of the poor-house and threatened to kill the lady in charge. The selectmen put him in irons and then in prison. There are three liquor sellers at the Junction, and only fifteen families within a circle of a mile and a half.

We learn that the lead mine in Madison, is being worked with highly profitable results.

Robert Latham of Lyme, has been a Mason fifty-seven years. On his eighty-sixth birthday he received a visit from all the members of Mount Cuba Lodge, accompanied by their wives.

Gen. Grant hesitated about having his son, who is at Exeter, leave his studies to attend the inauguration, but the "power behind the throne" quietly remarked that if all the children could not witness the ceremony, she should not care to see it. This decided the question, and the lad was sent for.

At Concord, Feb. 25, Hon. John D. Lyman, Sec. of State, slipped and fell on the steps in the rear of the State House, severely injuring his left knee.

The railroad station, at Exeter, was entered on Monday last, while the ticket master was at dinner, and fifty dollars taken. An arrest has been made.

Messrs. Abbott, Downing & Co., and Harvey Morgan & Co., carriage manufacturers at Concord, have resumed working full time.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.—James Russell Lowell's new book, "Under the Willows," is very warmly praised in the London Spectator. In the extended notice occurs the tribute to the poet and to the "Martyr Chief:"

But we cannot leave Mr. Lowell's beautiful volume without quoting what is certainly the most original and in some respects the finest thing it contains—the passage in a noble commemoration ode recited at Harvard in the July after the close of the Civil War and the assassination of Mr. Lincoln, in which that most childlike and most sagacious of modern rulers is painted in colors that will, we may safely assert, last as long as the history of that great struggle, and be resorted to till the American people ceases to brood over its own greatest deeds—as the one locus classicus to generation after generation, for a portrait of the greatest, simplest, and most characteristic figure of the conflict.

—The Rev. George Trask writes that "there are some dozen tobacco antidotes going the rounds, and for sale in my name. My antidote consists of three things, resolution, gentian-root and the grace of God, in due proportions. I ask nothing for it."

We suppose, however, that more Yankees will buy and use the antidotes sold than will take that which comes without money and without price.

—The Ohio is to be bridged at Covington, Kentucky, for a railroad.

GREAT SNOW STORMS.—The greatest snow storm recorded in Russia occurred on the steppes of Kirgheez, in Siberia, in 1627, destroying 285,000 horses, 30,400 cattle, 1,000,000 sheep, and 10,000 camels. The greatest recorded in England is that of 1814, in which, for forty-eight hours, the snow fell so furiously, that drifts of sixteen, twenty, and twenty-four feet were recorded in various places. In the south of Scotland, in 1820, there were thirteen drifty days, which killed nine-tenths of all the sheep. On Eskdale Moor, out of twenty thousand only forty-five were left alive, and the sheperds everywhere built up huge semi-circular walls of the dead creatures, to afford shelter to the living till the gale should end. An inch an hour is thought to be the average rate of deposit, though four inches are said to have fallen during the severe storm in New York, Jan. 3, 1859, and Professor Thatcher asserts positively that seven and a half inches fell during the storm on the 29th of January, 1868.

BASE BALL.—The National Chronicle says the Harvard nine will be the same as last season, Bush, Soule, Peabody, Austin, Smith, Willard, Rawle, Wells, Eustis.

The Tri-Mountains although they lose Tom Pratt will put into the field a good nine, comprising nearly all of the old favorites; Barrows, O'Brien, Lyons, Crosby, Sullivan, Freeman, Kelly, with one or two new ones.

The Lowells will also put into the field a strong team. Lovett, Bradbury, Sumner, Jewell, Conant, Alline and Rogers, of last year's nine, will be retained, while Boyd and Carleton, the new-comers, are players of good repute. Boyd is to catch, Carleton plays short and Bradbury goes to first base.

—The tide of Cuban immigration is flowing towards Mexico, as that country is cheaper to live in than the United States, and more congenial to the Spanish tastes.

THE VELOCIPEDE FURORE. — Some Interesting Facts About Velocipedes and the Rights of Manufacture.—There we are to have a velocipede furore the ensuing summer is a fact no one will question. Three months ago the demand became so great as to lead the principal carriage-makers into making it an important branch of their business. It was generally understood that any manufacture, was at liberty to make the two-wheeled velocipede in any way he deemed most profitable, no one being aware that the present form of the machine has been duly patented. When the furore for velocipedes began to manifest itself in this country, Mr. Calvin Witty, of Broadway, New York, very quietly went to work to find out in what way the business of making the machines could be controlled, and ascertaining that a patent had been recorded, he sought out the owners of the patents, and purchased their rights; and he now holds the right to the exclusive use of two-wheeled velocipedes with treadles and guiding arms. The following is the copy of the record of the patent registered at the Patent Office, at Washington:—

"VELOCIPEDE.—PIERRE LALLEMENT, Paris, France, Assignor to himself and James Carroll, New Haven, Conn. Dated Nov. 20, 1866. The fore wheel is axled in the jaws of a depending bar, which is pivoted in the frame, and turned by a horizontal level-bar. This is revolved by a treadle-crank. Claim—The combination and arrangement of the two wheels provided with treadles, and the guilding arms, so as to co-operate substantially as and for the purpose herein set forth."

As soon as Mr. Witty had completed his arrangements, he at once ascertained the names of parties engaged in manufacturing velocipedes, and sent them the following notification:—

No. 638 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, Feb. 3.

You are hereby notified that Letter Patent No. 59,915, granted November 20, 1866, secures a velocipede with the two wheels, treadles and guiding arms, and that the velocipede you manufacture is an infringement upon the said patent.

The present is to require you to cease the further manufacture of said velocipedes, and to settle with me for all past infringement of the rights under said patent.

Yours, Respectfully, CALVIN WITTY.

Many of the manufacturers "pooh-poohed" the claim of Mr. Witty, and took no notice of the above warning, but others took pains to have legal advice on the subject. Among these may be enumerated the noted firms of the WOOD BROS, of New York; J. M. QUIMBY & Co., of Newark; W. P. SARGENT & Co., of Boston; and, in fact, nearly all who had gone into the manufacture of velocipedes. A meeting was recently held by the principal men in the business, and the result was a final acknowledgement of the validity of Mr. Witty's claim, and their purchase of State and City rights from him to use his patent.

We understand that W. P. Sargent & Co., and John P. Whittier, of Boston, have bought the exclusive right to manufacture two-wheel velocipedes in the States of New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, except in the city of New Bedford, and are prepared to take orders for any number wanted, from one to one hundred, or more.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Seeds of Sickness.

Baron Munchausen tells a story of a post-boy's horn, which had a number of wicked tunes blown into it one frosty night, but made no response.—Nevertheless, when it was hung before a hot fire, the tunes, which had been frozen in, thawed out, to the amazement of all present. Just so the human system, subjected to injurious influences during the Winter, sometimes gives no token of the effect they have produced upon it, until the moist atmosphere of Spring develops their fruits. Many Spring diseases are the result of Winter imprudences, and great and especial care should be taken of the system in the cold season, so that it may be in a sound and vigorous condition when the malarious fogs of March and April make their appearance.

To this end, strengthen the stomach and the general organization at this season with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Take this pleasant vegetable antidote in advance of the uprising of the mephitic mists and vapors, which produce chills and fever, and other miasmatic diseases. Remember that it is a preventive medicine,—as powerful to protect as to restore. The stomach is apt to be disordered at this time of the year. It is a period devoted to dinner and supper parties, and luxurious living generally. Feasting and late hours unshake the digestive organs and disorder the liver. The effect of the Bitters is to invigorate the one and regulate the other. There is no month in the year when a tonic and alterative is more generally needed than in this, and there is no preparation of that nature so thoroughly salubrious, so harmless and so evidently free from those exciting properties, as this celebrated vegetable cordial.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and none where it has not been used largely and with highly relief. Throughout, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is to restore and regain your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when everything else had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

CURE OF LESION OF THE LIVER.

A Frenchman, after a severe sickness, had lesion of the liver. Every quick movement or sudden jar gave him severe pain, often laying him up for days. Hence he was unable to follow any occupation with regularity.

In this condition, he applied over the part affected an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. At first it seemed to irritate, so it was taken off. But it was so much improved in his experienced adhere wards gave him courage to try again, and he therefore applied another plaster. In a few days some-thing came away—"slipped," to use the gentleman's own words. There was some soreness for a few days after, then his health was perfectly restored. Upon being sounded by his physician, the adhesion or lesion was found to be gone.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Watches which render it so easy to sell them, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he does on the sale of other watches, the aggregate is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch the attention which their value deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the buyers have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise the party inquiring to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the Waltham Watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say.

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to retail our products at the lowest possible profit, to make up for large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other societies in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL FIVE TIMES AS MANY WATCHES THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its quality. IT ANSWERS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those and those only, which have proved to be valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services have given satisfactory evidence to the company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in the secretion.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains, Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Secretions into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Sight, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, Impurities of the Blood, &c., superceding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient begins to cough it all up and be well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his success in the cure of the worst forms of Pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrakb Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show how well this liver pill does; nothing has ever been invented equal to calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this organization is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into healthy blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to dry the liver, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever, but he throws the liver open, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Dyspeptic Tonic, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and if ulceration, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what remedy can do? It is not only the tissue that is wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. There is no chance to heal. Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly safe.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, says of his cure of Pulmonary Consumption, the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to die, he then commenced to take the above medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish to, when they can, if so inclined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SNOW BOUND.—A double quartet of the gentlemen members of the Philharmonic Society, of this city, accepted the invitation of musical friends in Lawrence, to attend their presentation of the Cantata of Esther, on Friday evening, at the City Hall. Per C. & P. Railroad to Newmarket Junction in the P. M. train—where we stopped an hour or more—for be it known that on this route, and especially on this particularly trip, there was a good deal more stopping than going, so that we were all glad enough when the trip itself stopped.

Newmarket Junction is not the pleasantest place in the world to wait, but then they have the most crooked apple-tree and the dearest drink in the land; and so, refreshing ourselves, most of us, each with a glass of milk a little turned, (this is a turn-out station, you know,) at 10 cents the half-pint, we proceeded on to Lawrence. The storm proceeded with us, in fact went ahead, and taking the track, kept us back, for snow.

But nevertheless we arrived at the old box called depot, on the wrong side of the river, of the great B. & M. R. R., and took a hack or a hack took us eight, three-quarters of a mile to the Essex House, and the City Hall. The hotel we were favorably impressed with, from its name being like the excellent House at Salem—and we fared very comfortably there. The City Hall is a fine brick building, erected at a cost of $40,000 or so, and is a credit to the city and a luxury to the citizens. As first constructed, there was so great an echo that the walls were afterward covered with crimson brocade in plaits, extending from dado to ceiling, and drapery curtain heads furnished to windows; this dimmed the lights too much, and there were then placed two large circular chandeliers of gas-burners in conical reflectors in the centre of the ceiling, overhead, toward the two ends of the building, which work very well and are the only lights used—being clear up out of the way.

We found the Concert a good one—"Esther" was at home, and received and entertained her friends in a fitting manner. Mr. S. A. Ellis was conductor, Mr. E. Churchill stage manager; Miss R. Hastings the Queen, (and she looked, sang and acted the part nicely;) Mr. A. Washburn did well as King; and the other parts were generally very creditably sustained. The chorus consisted of thirty or forty voices, and a small Orchestra with the piano added much to the effect. It was really a fine entertainment, and convinced us anew that Esther is indeed the grandest and best of all the modern operettas, and will give much satisfaction to our citizens when brought out here.

After the Concert, supper at the Essex was in order, at which the officers of the Lawrence Society sat down with us; and after, the singular discovery transpired, that not one of the eight Philharmonics is a smoker! All, including the hotel clerk, declared they had never met the like before.

The morning found more snow than anybody expected, but after a cruise about the city, admiring the good taste which laid out the numerous Parks, &c., a double-quick to the depot across the river was next. But here, where we fancied our labors of the trip were to end, alas! they had but just begun. At any rate, we had to learn to wait a good spell, and that is the hardest labor most active people find.

At Newmarket Junction, the Concord down train was reported nowhere, and likely to remain there, blocked in the snow,—so we kept on with Conductor Aborn of the B. & M. to So. Berwick Junction—and liked never to have got away from there again, though it was most decidedly not on account of our liking to remain.

But this snow-storm was the heaviest and most blocking of the winter, and a locomotive is a poor horse to drive or pull when there is sleet and ice on the rails—for his feet slip from under him, and he is as helpless as a smooth-shod horse. The railroad men have the impudence to call the idle spinning round of the great driving wheels in such cases, quill-driving, we believe.

At Newmarket Junction, after we had all dismounted, it was decided to all aboard again for South Berwick—but all didn't get aboard, one professional gent being left behind; and one who did succeed in mounting, lost his hat over the other side of the platform as the train moved on. Bets were made that the Dr. would get home sooner from Newmarket by the C. & P., than our party would via So. Berwick—which he did by half an hour, bringing with him the lost hat, unharmed, and with no sign of a brick in it. It was insinuated that the party brought away from the hotel one more umbrella than they took up, and that a gent who for a joke hid it under his coat, came near losing his passage thereby.

Conductor Aborn furnished our hatless joker with a cap, and he was instantly impressed with an idea to collect tickets. Finally, half-past two found us all safe at home, by P. S. & P. R., and a messenger from the Dr. with the lost hat, unruffled and unhurt, met us at Vaughan St.,—he hearing the whistle of our train; a loud shout went up from our party, who were well satisfied to arrive here so comfortably, after being so long snow-bound. F.

THE TRAINS.—The storm of Friday afternoon and evening caused a general mixing up of the different R. R. trains. The Portland train from Boston, which left at three o'clock, arrived here on time, but was detained at West Scarboro all night, and reached Portland at half-past 7, Saturday A. M. The "Express," which left Boston for Portland over the Boston & Maine Friday evening at 6 o'clock, was at Kennebunk at 11 o'clock Saturday, and probably reached Portland about one P. M. The 9, o'clock train from Portland for Boston Saturday morning, arrived here at, 2.30, P. M.

The Concord train from here Friday afternoon, only got as far as Raymond, where they laid all night. The morning trains from Concord Saturday arrived here about 2 o'clock, P. M. The trains on the Eastern Road run with their usual regularity. About twenty inches of snow fell at Portland. Conductor Philbrook's train on Saturday came from Newburyport with three engines.

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATIONS.—Our Boston railroad corporations are fairly alive to the necessities for more room, in order to do the increasing business on their various lines, and it is time they were so. Of course the obstructionists and reactionists and opponents of all progress in general, will be on hand to oppose these movements and, of course, we are almost inclined to add, they will be successful.

It is one of the peculiarities of this community that, while there is constant complaint of the want of public enterprise, especially on the part of railroad corporations, when any of them undertake to go ahead with vigor, they immediately meet with opposition and sometimes personal abuse, and the croakers immediately hunt for interested motives and "cats in the meal," and that sort of thing, to any extent.

There are plenty of men who never lift a finger themselves to further any public improvements, but are always on hand to vilify and abuse those who show any enterprise, and to throw obstructions in the way of progressive measures. They profess to be in favor of improvements in general, but whenever any practical measure is proposed, begin to carp and criticise, and do all they can to prevent that particular thing. But the public attention is now fairly awakened, and business men are beginning to find out who is in the way, and they will not be slow to invite them to get out of the way while the bell rings.—Transcript.

We wonder as we read the above, whether these remarks have any application in this vicinity.

APPOINTMENT.—We learn that John J. Leavitt, Esq., of Hampton, Republican, has been appointed Postal Clerk on the Eastern Railroad, from Boston to Portland, vice— Hoyt of North Berwick, Democrat, removed. An excellent appointment.

GO DOWN and see the fun at the Velocipede Rink of Messrs. Deering and Gammon at the foot of State Street.—Those who go once will need little or no urging to try it again. The ladies enjoy the sport and the gentlemen make enough of it by their ludicrous attempts to make the machines go the right way when they persist in going wrong. The Rink is open day and evening.

☞ All the workmen in the Ordnance Department at the Navy Yard, except two, were discharged on Saturday.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Yesterday morning a woman named Eliza Newton was found dead in her bed at the Poor House. She was taken there about ten days ago, and had been in very feeble health, requiring the services of a nurse. Coroner Gould was called but deemed an inquest unnecessary. The woman claimed the Isles of Shoals, N. H., as her native place.—Portland Argus, 27th.

From the Journal.

JESUITICAL MOVEMENT.—We learn that a petition is in circulation among our citizens, asking that the city shall provide a building for the accommodation of a Catholic school. It is to be hoped that every citizen will calmly reflect before affixing his name to such a document. The Roman Catholics of this city, under priestly influence, have already withdrawn their children from our public schools where no sectarianism is taught, and placed them in a school of their own where they can have religious as well as mental instruction. They now ask that a separate school-house shall be provided for them, and that point attained, we should soon have a demand for their proportion of the school money. We say let their demands be resisted at the start. Our schools are free to all, and to no sect or party should be granted exclusive privileges.

DESICCATED COD FISH.—Among the other luxuries at the counter of Messrs. Lamprey & Wentworth is an article which will please every good housewife who knows what labor and patience are required to boil, pick and chop fish for fish balls, hash, &c. All this labor may be saved and a really nice article with various directions for cooking, can be had for a trifle.

There is a movement started to close the drinking shops in Kittery. They will all be notified to stop sale, and if they don't conclude to do so they will be prosecuted.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Morning Chronicle.

An Artist in Europe.

By the "Fat Contributor."

John R. Johnson, the artist, who has recently returned from a trip across the water, was not remarkably impressed by the antiquities of the old world. In fact he is inclined to believe that there is a good deal of humbug about them. We will let him sum up Europe, Asia, Africa, &c., in his own words:

"Went to Alexandria—crossed a portion of the great desert, on a camel's back—easier for a rich man to go thro' the eye of a needle than for a camel to paint portraits—desert no great shakes—get a better dessert at an American hotel dinner—throw sand in your eyes in the desert—make you think it is a big thing. Went to Damascus—bought a Damascus blade—humbug—blade made in Ackron, Ohio. Went to Jerusalem—hired a guide for his board—a regular guide-board — never was so much bored in my life—Jerusalem full of second hand clothing stores — bought a fragment of Solomon's Temple—enough fragments of Solomon's Temple every year to build Cincinnati. Visited the Nile—humbug — no water privileges worth a dam — don't wonder no one knows the sources of the Nile—greatest wonder that anybody cares where they are—Licking river beats the Nile. Saw the mummies—made in London, every one of them, by a Massachusetts man, and sent to Egypt.

Looked at the pyramids. Recollected that Napoleon said to his soldiers —"From the tops of these pyramids forty centuries are looking down upon you." No such thing; went up there and inquired; forty centuries hadn't been up there at all. Saw the sphynx —capital likeness of Ben Butler. Went to Italy—bought a monkey and hand-organ, and learned to speak Italian in two hours; monkey died and hand-organ exploded — haven't been able to speak Italian since.

Saw Garibaldi at Naples. He wept bitterly on my shoulder — borrowed a half dollar and said he wanted to come to America and be a second old George Washington.

He is coming to Cincinnati next summer to set up a lager-beer saloon, as a headquarters for distinguished organ-grinders. I bought a palace in Vienna, and am to pay for it in Confederate scrip. Crossed the Bridge of Sighs —no size at all—saw where the Doge of Venice married the Adriatic. There was a Mormon there a while ago. He not only married the Adriatic, but all the streams in the neighborhood.

Saw where Canova's heart is buried. When Canova died his body was cut up and buried all over Europe. All the big cities wanted a piece of him. They do it different now. If an artist gets a great reputation—like myself, for instance—they cut him up in the newspapers. Saw the ruins of Greece—(depreciated oil-stock mostly.) Saw the old masters—villainous daubs. One of those old masters couldn't get a situation at house-painting if he were alive to-day.

Went to Rome; dined by Buchanan Reed and Randolph Rogers. Inquired for Julius Cæsar, but he wasn't in that day—gone to a turkey shoot on the Isle of Crete—don't go much on the ile.—Saw Herculaneum—all a humbug—ashes that buried it didn't come from Vesuvius—drawn on in carts. All a speculation to sell relics.

Saw the Hellespont—waded across it. Leander drowned himself a purpose, just to make a Hero of himself.—Went and looked at the Rhine—muddy little dike—castles all look like stone smoke-houses—went across it—rather go 'across the canal.' Saw eruption of Mount Vesuvius, country exhibition of fire-works on Fourth of July beat it any time. Tell you Europe is a humbug. Nothing in it."—Cincinnati Times.

TEMPERANCE REVIVAL IN ENFIELD.—Very recently a good movement has been made in Enfield Village, of more than usual significance, from the fact that it begun among those who have heretofore freely indulged in the use of spirituous liquors, and have been led to go into this movement by seeing and reflecting upon the ruin, they were slowly but surely bringing upon themselves and their families. Through the exertions of a few of this class a temperance meeting was held at the Congregational Hall, Friday evening, which was fully attended and where a great amount of interest was manifested. A pledge against the use of alcoholic drinks was drawn up and received the signatures of over 100 of those present, a large number of whom have been in the habitual use of ardent spirit as a beverage. The first citizens have joined in the movement and will give it their aid and encouragement in every way. Monday evening another meeting was held at the Universalist Church, which was fully attended, and an organization was formed. 168 names were affixed to the pledge at these two meetings.—Free Press.

WOOD.—How few farmers keep a year's supply on hand, well seasoned, dry and properly housed? How few have calculated the loss they sustain in burning green or unseasoned wood. Even the most thoroughly seasoned wood contains about ten per cent of water, but green wood contains at least thirty-five per cent. In drawing or hauling twenty cords of green wood the farmer hauls at least twenty tons of water, or one hundred and twenty-five barrels, and in burning it green he loses heat enough in evaporating the sap to boil about twelve thousand gallons of water. It is poor economy, therefore, to trouble the folks in the kitchen so much with the use of green wood. Let it be seasoned and dried under cover, and kept in good supply.

— A Kentucky boy had a tooth pulled and bled to death from the wound.

BABY POWER.

Six little feet to cover,
Six little hands to fill,
Tumbling out in the clover,
Tumbling over the sill;
Six little stockings ripping,
Six little shoes half worn,
Spite of that promised whipping,
Skirts, shirts, and aprons torn.

Bags and bumble-bees catching,
Heedless of bites and slings,
Walls and furniture scratching,
Twisting off buttons and strings;
Into sugar and flour,
Into salt and meal,
Their royal baby power
All through the house we feel.

Behind the big stove creeping,
To steal the kindling-wood;
Into the cupboard peeping,
To hunt for "somesin good,"
The dogs they tease to snarling,
The chickens know no rest,
Yet—the old man calls them "darling,"
And loves each one "the best."

Smearing each other's faces,
With smut or blacking-brush,
To forbidden things and places,
Always make a rush;
Over a chair or table,
They'll fight and kiss again,
When told of slaughtering Abel,
Or cruel, wicked Cain.

All sorts of mischief trying,
On sunny days—in doors—
And then perversely crying
To rush out when it pours;
A raid on grandma making—
(In spite of her nice new cap,)
Its strings for bridles taking,
While riding on her lap.

Three rose-bud mouths beguiling,
Prattling the live-long day,
Six sweet eyes on me smiling,
Hazle, and blue, and gray;
Hazle—with heart-light sparkling,
Too happy, we trust to fade—
Blue—'neath long lashes darkling,
Like violets in the shade.

Gray—full of earnest meaning,
A dawning light so fair,
Of woman's life beginning,
We dread the noon-tide glare
Of earthly strife and passion,
May spoil its tender glow,
Change its celestial fashion,
As earth-chains change the snow.

Three little heads, all sunny,
To pillow and bless at night,
Riotous Alick and Dounie,
Jennie so bonnie and bright.
Three souls immortal slumber,
Crowned by that golden hair,
When Christ his flock shall number,
Will all my lambs be there?

Now with the stillness round me,
I bow my head and pray,
"Since this faint heart has found thee,
Suffer them not to stray;
Up to the shining portals,
Over life's stormy tide,
Treasures I bring—immortal,
Savior be thou my guide.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.
The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assortment, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.
Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.
We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.
Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEVER WAS WITH HIM.—About ten years since a young man of good character hired a horse from a livery stable to ride out to a little town about twenty miles distant. Unfortunately, about half way out the horse was taken sick and died. The livery man sued him for the value of the horse, representing that the horse had been killed by fast driving. One of the young man's witnesses (rather green, or supposed to be, and who had a peculiar way of talking very slowly,) was called to the stand and questioned thus by the proprietor:

"You are acquainted with the prisoner at the bar?"

"Y-a-a-s," (very slowly drawled out).

"How long have you been acquainted with him?"

"About three years."

"Well, sir, please state to the court what kind of reputation he bears as regards fast or slow riding on horseback?"

"W-a-a-l. I suppose if he was riding with a company of persons who rode very fast and he did not want to be left behind, he would ride fast too. And if he was riding with a company that rode very slow and he did not want to go ahead alone, I suppose he would ride slow too."

Judge (very much enraged)—"You seem very much inclined to evade answering questions properly. Now, sir, you have stated how the gentleman rides when he rides in fast and slow company. Now, sir, I wish you to state to the court how the gentleman rides when he rides alone?"

"W-a-a-l, having never had the pleasure of riding with him when he was alone, I don't think I can tell."

Make Your Stables Warm.

Perhaps there is no advice that ought to be heeded more generally by the farming community of the Northern States at this season of the year than that above given. The profits of the dairy for the present year being now nearly ended, and foddering and winter management generally the order of the day, the dairyman has quite a different round of duties to perform during the next five or six months from those which have taxed his energies during a similar period of time last past, and though these duties are apparently less profitable than those of the summer months, yet they are equally important, because the profits of the coming year depend mainly upon their being rightly performed.

This every farmer knows who looks to the future more than the present for success; and certainly no such man will fail to provide an abundance of nutricious food to sustain his stock through the severe winter before us, in such condition as will enable them to yield the best results next season. This done, many farmers seem to consider the wintering of their stock a certainty, and so it may be, even with very little protection from the inclemency of winter; but the farmer, like everybody else, is supposed to be laboring for profit, and if so, then winter protection for stock becomes a matter secondary to food only in point of importance.

Every dairyman knows how materially his quantity of milk per day is diminished by the first cold storm of autumn if his cows are exposed to it, and knowing this, he can judge something of the effects of constant exposure during the much more inclement season of winter.

The natural warmth of the bodies of animals must be maintained at all times to nearly the same degree, and if this is not done by protection, it must be by an increase of the quantity of food, or the animal will lose flesh rapidly. Therefore the farmer, by constructing stables that will seldom freeze in winter, is enabled to winter in good style a much larger stock with a given quantity of fodder than his neighbor whose barns are out of repair to such an extent that freezing is the general rule in them.—Spectator.

WHAT KILLED HIM.—A few years ago, when Judge Gould of Troy, lately deceased, was holding court in this city, a prisoner was being tried before him for willful murder, in causing the death of a man by a pistol shot. An eminent physician and surgeon was on the stand as a witness for the defense.

The prisoner's counsel, an adroit lawyer, attempted to show that the man, who lived some little time after being shot, might have died from some other cause, and examined his witness after this style:

"Doctor, would not such a thing cause death?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"Well, doctor, might not this man have died from such and such causes?"

"Oh, yes, he might."

"This is quite sufficient for us," exclaimed the defendant's counsel, with an air of triumph, twirling his eye-glass.

Judge Gould turned on his seat, bent his large, keen, penetrating black eye full on the witness, and said a little sharply:

"Doctor, you have told us what might have caused this man's death; what did cause his death?"

"The bullet, sir," answered the witness. This ended the case!

—Sitka is said to be nearly depopulated. Every one who went there wanted to keep a saloon. There being no one to pay for drinks, where all were bar-keepers, business became dull, and now the emigrants are going back to San Francisco.

THE ANSWER.

BY WALTER CONWAY.

I mused upon the source of bliss,
And tried to analyze a kiss.

I wondered such delight could spring
From such a simple, trifling thing.

Two pairs of lips a moment meet,
A touch, no more—but, oh, how sweet!

And long as life thrills through the veins,
The pressure of that kiss remains.

Lo, long I mused, and much I thought,
But all my reasoning came to naught.

And something whispered, "Foolish man!
Thou canst not solve it, no man can."

Just then the pretty Maud came in,
With cherry lips and dimpled chin.

"O rarest girl, come tell me this;
Whence springs the rapture of a kiss?"

And fit for dull philosopher,
The answer that I got from her.

"O stupid man who vainly looks
For buds and flowers in dusty books;

And seeks the joy that love inspires,
In brooding over dying fires,

If you would know wherefore the rose
Is sweet, go pluck it where it grows."

I took her counsel, and—ah well,
I'm wiser—but I never tell.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as best they can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and middle years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, from the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affliction. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter has been sufferer from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended to me by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This was procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and astonishing. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.
For sale by Druggists. Price $1. f6 8w

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Whose mind is upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living one
Who blindly plays and sing,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you feel a fetter?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh in its worst form;
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon dies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly flies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
A II pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAIN PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head,—sent by express on receipt of the money, at 451 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are to apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

Disturbances in Cuba continue. Every steamer that leaves Havana is crowded. Speculators in sugar fear a reaction.

San Domingo dispatches represent that the question of annexation to the United States is exciting considerable interest.

Ex-Gov. and Senator elect Brownlow of Tennessee arrived in Washington on Saturday.

Kansas has ratified the new constitutional amendment, being the first State to do so. It passed the State Senate unanimously and received 65 out of 71 votes in the House.

The Texas constitutional convention has finished its labors, and the new constitution will be submitted to the people in July next.

The San Domingo sugar and coffee crops are short, but the tobacco crop shows an increase.

The Union Pacific Railroad is blockaded with snow.

The Newburyport incendiary is on trial.

Washington is crowded.

Don Vicete Orne has been elected President of Guatemala for two years. The election seems to have been a burlesque.

San Salvador had an earthquake shock, Jan. 2nd.

Vanderbilt has won another railroad victory.

James Fisk, jr., has purchased the Boston & Newport steamers, for one million dollars.

Severe earthquakes have occurred in San ander, an interior State in South America, which lasted two days, knock ng over churches and even breaking up a rocky hill overlooking the town of La Robada.

Congress.

The Senate, on Saturday, passed the House bill to strengthen the public credit, as amended by the finance committee. Senators Cragin and Patterson of N. H. voted for the bill.

In the House the Louisiana contested election cases were disposed of, all the claimants being denied admission to seats. Mr. Menard, the colored contestant, made a speech in support of his claim.

New Hampshire Items.

Pembroke Academy was founded in 1818, by Dr. Abel Blanchard "for the purpose of improving the rising generation in science, morality and religion." He gave it $600. He had previously offered it to Pittsfield, where he lived but the fathers of the town took the matter ity cauth gender with a diverse kind, &c." But the 24th verse of the same chapter says, "But the stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself." Another passage, Deut XXII: 9&10,—"Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seeds; * * Thou shalt not plough with an ox and an ass together,"—Mr. Burr regarded (with the previous quotation) as furnishing conclusive evidence that the admixture of races was expressly forbidden by the Mosaic Law. If this idea is correct, what is meant by the following passage from Deut. XXI: 10 & 13?

"When thou goest forth against thine enemies, and the Lord thy God hath delivered them into thine hand, and thou hast taken them captive, and seest among the captives a beautiful woman, and hast a desire unto her that thou wouldst have her to thy wife: then thou shalt bring her home to thine house, and she shall shave her head, and pare her nails: and she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, and bewail her father and her mother a full month: and after that, thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife."

I do not profess to be an authority, to explain knotty points of Scripture; but I feel safe in saying that this passage cannot be construed into a condemnation of the mixture of races.

Another point laid down by the lecturer was that the Christian religion was intended only for the true "Caucasian white." no inferior order of man being fitted to receive or able to retain it; that the savage, converted to Christianity, falls back to his pagan practices as soon as the white man's influence is withdrawn,—and that his thus backsliding from his new faith proves his utter incapacity to be a Christian, and the uniteness of Christianity for any but the white man. Mr. Burr's main argument in support of this theory was drawn from the Abyssinian kingdom of Prester John, which, (he said,) though of immense extent in the 15 h century and noted in religious matters the "Christians were established by law" and "no negro was allowed to ride on a horse (of worship?) on the back of an animal under pain of death," has now, after the lapse of only 350 years, wholly returned to paganism.

But who was "Prester John?" During a period of 400 years, comprising about A. D. 1050, he and his kingdom were ruled nearly all over Asia, and near Persia to eastern Tartary, and thence (by the Portuguese) to India,—but never discovered or located until near the close of the 15th century, when a Portuguese monk went to Abyssinia to look after him, and having found a negro monarch who was a nominal Christian, called him by the name of the long-looked-for king. This is about all that is known of Prester John, the monarch who was so long supposed to be a mighty ruler, "engaged in extending Christianity by the sword."

But, even granting that all Mr. Burr's premises about the ancient faith of the Abyssinians are correct, and that now, "after only 350 years, scarcely a single trace of it remains," that does not prove the negro unfitted for Christianity. If it does, the same argument will show that the whites are far less eligible; for that nation which above all others was favored by God, had seen his works, had eaten manna from heaven, and been chosen for a peculiar people,—that race of whites did not take 350 years to return to idolatry, but went back so rapidly that when Moses returned from his absence of only forty days and nights he found them worshipping a golden calf, and crying "These be thy gods, O Israel" Does this prove the white man "unfitted for Christianity?"

But a Christianity "extended by the sword," "established by law," and so superstitious and bloody that "no negro was allowed to ride by a house on the back of an animal under pain of death," was never the Christianity of Christ,—and if the Abyssinians ever had it, I do not blame them for getting rid of it as soon as possible.

Mr. Burr closed his lecture by defending the white race from the charge of having "degraded the negro" by enslaving him. He said that nine-tenths of the inhabitants of Africa, south of a given line, are slaves—that slavery is, and has been for thousands of years, and always will be, the condition of the bulk of the negro race, and that consequently no negro could be degraded by being enslaved by a white man. I shall attempt no comment upon this "platform," merely remarking that negro slavery was successful in degrading the white man, whether it degraded the black one, or not. PAKEHA.

Communication.

Mr. Burr's Lectures.

Messrs. Editors:—The fourth of Mr. Burr's course of lectures was given on Saturday evening. In it he endeavored to prove from history and science that any race of men combining the blood of two "original races" is as truly hybrid and opposed to nature, as is the offspring of the horse and ass, or the dog and wolf; that, being opposed to nature, such a people must die out through non-reproductiveness; that they invariably have so died out; and that no instance is on record of any thing to the contrary—the third generation from the first mixture of blood rarely, if ever, reaching maturity, or being reproductive of their kind.

Accident once threw me for four days among a "hybrid race" of men, and what I saw there argues strongly, in my mind, against the conclusions of Mr. Burr and the authorities quoted by him in support of his theory. These hybrids combine the blood of no less than three "distinct races" — the Caucasian, the South Sea island Malay, and the Australasian or Papuan Negro. They are the descendants of the famous mutineers of the Bounty and native women whom they took for wives, (nine men and nine wo nen,) and are pretty well known as the Pitcairn Islanders. Three of the white mutineers died without issue. No admixture of "fresh blood" (without which Mr. Burr says such a people must disappear,) of either race has taken place, yet the descendants of the few mixed couples who settled Pitcairn Island in 1789 now (Sept. 4, 1867—when I visited them in their present abode,) number upwards of 250 souls on Norfolk Island, and five families (47 persons) on Pitcairn. They are not only strong and healthy (a sickly weakness is one characteristic of the hybrid, according to Mr. Burr,) but are very intelligent; their morality would put to shame that of an equal number of people taken from any New England village,—or any where else, that I ever saw or heard of,—and the children were numerous, healthy and playful.

This I believe to be the only case on record in which a "mixture of races" has been fairly put on trial. Mr. Burr says that the only way in which a mixed race can be preserved from destruction is to have one of the "original types" obliterate the other. Of course, if black or white blood is constantly added to a mulatto race, the people will become black or white, as the case may be.—But the Pitcairners have drawn no "fresh blood" from either of the parent stocks—have not become either Europeans, Malays or Papuans, and have not died (nor do they show any signs of dying) out.

The lecturer maintained that the theory of the mixture of races being unnatural is supported by the Bible, which expressly commands it to be abstained from. In support of this view he quoted Levitiens XIX: 19, "Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind, &c." But the 24th verse of the

He had previously offered it to Pittsfield, where he lived but the fathers of the town took the matter into consideration and talked it over, many being of the opinion that it only made boys lazy to have too much learning.

A religious society was formed at Conway last week to be known as the Orthodox Congregational Society of Conway. Isaac E. Merrill was chosen President, and Geo. M. Chase, Clerk.

A well known little black horse named Prince, of Mr. J. M. Thompson, which will be remembered by the visitors to the White Mountains, died a few days since, aged thirty-nine years. He was one of the best of horses, and retained all his good qualities up to the time of his death. He was drawn to his grave by six white horses and followed by forty of his stable companions led by the grooms. He was buried at the foot of Mount Washington, and next spring a marble monument will mark his final resting place.

At Lake Village recently, as a frightened horse came to the railroad crossing by the freight depot, a train of platform cars were just passing. He made a flying leap, and landed on one of the cars, the motion of which tripped him up, but quickly recovering himself he completed his leap and continued on his way—rejoicing, no doubt, and with only a few slight bruises as the result.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Seeds of Sickness.

Baron Munchausen tells a story of a post-boy's horn, which had a number of wicked tunes blown into it one frosty night, but made no response.—Nevertheless, when it was hung before a hot fire, the tunes, which had been frozen in, thawed out, to the amazement of all present. Just so the human system, subjected to injurious influences during the Winter, sometimes gives no token of the effect they have produced upon it, until the moist atmosphere of Spring develops the fruits. Many Spring diseases are the result of Winter imprudences, and great and especial care should be taken when allowed to relax the cold season, so that it may be in a sound and vigorous condition when the malarious fogs of March and April make their appearance.

To this end, strengthen the stomach and the general organization at this season with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Take this pleasant vegetable antidote in advance of the uprising of the mephitic mists and vapors, which produce chills and fever, and other miasmatic diseases. Remember that it is a preventive medicine,—as powerful to protect as to restore. The stomach is apt to be overtaxed at this time of the year. It is a period devoted to dinner and supper parties, and luxurious living generally. Feasting and late hours weaken the digestive organs and disorder the liver. The effect of the Bitters is to invigorate the one and regulate the other. There is no month in the twelve when a tonic and alterative is more generally needed than in this, and there is no preparation of that nature so thoroughly salubrious, so bracing, and so entirely free from undue exciting properties, as this celebrated vegetable cordial.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted or the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for bruises, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding this long period of time the name of "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and so great has been the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops the sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"How Shall I Recover My Health ?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, Pa., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your pills for the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have been to me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored. LUCIEN B. JONES.

The Plaster of the "Time,"

ALLCOCK'S POROUS.

In lumbago they act like a charm. In a few hours a violent cough is relieved by a Plaster applied to the chest. Many persons believe a cold cannot be taken while a Plaster is worn there;—this we do know, they greatly assist in the cure of a neglected cold, so often the introducer of Consumption.

CURE OF LESION OF THE LIVER.

A gentleman, after a severe sickness, had lesion of the liver. Every quick movement or sudden jar gave him severe pain, often laying him up for days. Hence he was unable to follow any occupation with regularity.

In this condition, he applied over the part affected an A LLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. At first it seemed to irritate, so it was taken off. But the marked improvement he experienced afterwards gave him courage to try again, and he therefore supplied another plaster. In a few days something gave way—"it spoil," to use the gentleman's own words. There was some soreness for a few days after, then his health was perfectly restored. Upon being consulted by his physician, the adhesion or lesion was found to be gone.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, sweelings, bruises, old sores, headache, mosquito bites, pain in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded.—All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to directions.

DR. TOBIAS—DEAR SIR:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article in use, and it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attack of croup it is invaluable. I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Watches themselves sells them, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch, he does make more money on the watch, and he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This partiality for fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, than in those the best competitors, is not content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about "Waltham Watches," use that kind of language which leads the cus omer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those indifferently to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have sold over one about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Wal ham Watch may be found, who is willing to bear testimony to the owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those willing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the purchaser has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to add.

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured of any one kind, the cheaper can be made each of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to retail our products at the lowest possible profit, to sell in the large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that today we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other manufacturers in the United States together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY, and have been the first to adopt every new invention intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those and these which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services have contributed to the success of our business, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we have gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As those Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, natures throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the ripening is perfect a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstruction, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which makes up 30 per cent. of it, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good healthy blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to dry up, to stop night sweats, heats, fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. These disappear of themselves when the lungs throw off the morbid matter, which, when the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fat and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will do the work without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Consumption, and his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the advanced medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and then they can call on him professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives no medicine, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1a4

A NUISANCE.—We copy from an exchange the following well-timed remarks, which are as applicable to Portsmouth people at most any time.

People who attend concerts, lectures, &c., do not perhaps know it—but the clapping and stamping manifested on every occasion, indiscriminately, often causes the persons they annoy to wish they would be more moderate in their expressions of satisfaction, for such cannot often be made from genuine desire to hear a bad performance repeated—but seems more from a desire to make a tremendous noise, and to stir up a choking dust to fill the throats and nostrils of both performers and hearers. If there was the slightest reason for clapping and stamping so vigorously—if the performer had done something to please, or if he or she happened to perform in a manner so pleasing as to deserve to be applauded, or if the real judges of such performance were inclined to call out the individual for a second hearing or trial of skill—it might be done without breaking down benches, destroying boot heels or doing any other damage by simply patting the hands; a kind of applause which every good performer would understand and appreciate, and to which no sensible person would object.

☞ A New York paper says that Portsmouth is flooded with counterfeit money, which will be news to our citizens. Thanks to the officers who are always on the alert to prevent the circulation of the trash, it has been pretty effectually weeded out of this market. We think it may be safely said that New Hampshire is freer from counterfeit money than any other State in the Union.

TO POLITICIANS OF BOTH PARTIES.—A gentleman of our acquaintance who takes some interest in political matters proposes the following conundrum; "Is it honorable, politic or reasonable to bring home an absent voter at a cost of $20, next week, when a voter of the opposite party can be bought over for $3?" Perhaps the Manchester News might answer it.

☞ We are pleased to announce that Gov. Harriman will address the Republicans of Portsmouth and vicinity, at the Temple, on Monday evening next. The Republicans of Portsmouth are wide awake and propose to give their State ticket double the majority of last year, and ensure the election of Hon. John H. Bailey, as Senator, by a handsome majority.

☞ In accordance with custom it will be seen that the quadrennial Inauguration Ball is advertised at Congress Hall on Thursday evening, March 4th, affording an excellent opportunity for those who enjoy a social dance to celebrate the incoming of the new administration—and the outgoing of the old.

SUNDAY NIGHT was the coldest of the season, and at daylight, Monday morning, thermometer indicated a temperature of from 2 to 5 below zero in this city. From reliable sources we learn that our Greenland neighbors had it down to 16 below.

☞ Besides the 1000-ton Ship in frame at the Raynes Yard, which is for sale; Mr. W. F. Fernald will soon commence, on contract for Boston and Cape Cod parties, a three-masted Schooner of about 400 tons.

☞ The morning train from Portland on Monday, was delayed at Kennebunk on account of an accident to the engine, and arrived in this city two hours behind time.

☞ Meetings to revise the check lists will be held in all the Wards, to-day, commencing at 10 o'clock.

☞ The passengers' terminus of the Eastern Railroad in Portland, is almost due north of Boston.

For the Chronicle.

The M. L. A.

To the President, Officers and Members of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, Greeting.

GENTLEMEN:—Some weeks since I was induced by representations authorized by you, to withdraw from my funds the sum of $1.62, and invest the same in the above mentioned organization.

I was led to believe that the frequent literary meetings proposed by your prospectus, would so far conduce to my welfare as to graduate me, a full-fledged literateur.

I attended several preliminary meetings, was proposed and accepted in due and ancient form—allowed, nay, rather compelled, for lack of other disputants, to take part in the matrimonial argument, then involving such an amount of brain labor—afterwards ordered to compose and present an Essay for the edification of the Society, and also, I suppose, as a sort of matriculation fee.

My Essay was delivered before a corporal's guard of half-a-dozen, affording one the poor compliment of having written because somebody must write.

All this occurred a month ago. Since that time I have been so fortunate as to witness one meeting of the Association, the only one holden during that period.

Now gentlemen, I protest against such a course. Wonderful and glowing accounts were given, of what the M. L. A. intended to do. Much "bunkum" was evaporated in the way of promising speeches; but, as is frequently the case, the most promising speakers have proved to be the poorest performers—leaving the "literary exercises" to the tender care of two or three members who were willing to take the plough and not look back. Those of us who are doing the work, have not even the paltry pleasure of handling the funds of the Society,—indeed the finding anybody at the Hall would be some reward for our labor and interest.

My friends Morphine, F. O. De Graaf and myself have at last become discouraged, and finding no target at which to discharge our eloquent shafts, cry for rescue. Having sustained the "literary exercises" thus far at expense of great brain labor, we now consider ourselves entitled to some consideration from the Society.

In a word—is the M. L. A. alive, or is it a myth? Do you, the so-called Officers of the Institution, exist, or are you also—shadows? If alive, have you served so long and valiantly that you are already ripe with honors? If dead, why have you made no sign?

Do you know that $1.62 comprised my entire available capital, and that my creditors complain that my chronic impecuniosity is surpassing the bounds of their patience? That I gave my $1.62 to the cause of "literary" efforts rather than to my creditors, is earning me a notoriety I cannot appreciate.

Plainly speaking, why do you not attend to the duties of your offices, and not let the impression prevail abroad that Sleepy Hollow and Portsmouth are synonymous terms?

The question for debate is, (as you are probably not aware,) "Is New England (not N. E. rum,) losing her influence in the nation?"

Permit me to decide the question affirmatively, and assign as a reason therefor that her representative men—or at least many of them—are possessed of the idea that action is progress.—They are content if the paddle-wheels of the ship of State make a big stir in the water, forgetting to ascertain whether or no the tow-line is cast off. Take the illustration home, gentlemen. I write in no spirit of levity, but in behalf of an institution that can be made powerful for the good of our city, yet is likely to become a fossil, only through the lack of a few energetic men. Bynder says the reason of this condition of things is, because all the smart young men have left Portsmouth,—or at least, that is the cause he has heard assigned. Gentlemen, do you accept the imputation?

If you do not, I beg of you stir yourselves,—and Morphine and F. O. De Graffe join me in saying,—saying, indeed howling, stir yourselves?

Reproachfully, R. E. PORTER.

☞ It is reported that the Gerrish libel suit has been abandoned.

☞ Our thanks to Senator Cragin for three volumes of Patent Office Reports.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Tall Oaks from Little Acorns Grow —Sometimes.

BY X. MERRIPIN, ESQ.

In common with what I am led to believe may be the case with the majority of men, I have never been able to secure a desirable start in life. A good send off is of more consequence to a man in the scramble for position than to a horse in a scrub race. Let the accelerating material in the human soul be ignited at the proper time and place, and away its bodily envelope goes, rocket-like skyward while the legions of unlucky dogs gape with staring eyes, and open mouth, holding their breaths until a simultaneous a—a—a—h proclaims that he has passed the limit of their vision. But if time and place do not agree, then like a piece of fireworks lighted at the wrong end there is a flash—a start—a disposition to do a large thing the wrong way, considerable splutter, some spasmodic sparkles, and the spectator is relieved of a nauseating b—a—a—a as the piece finally ends in smoke.

I have been trying for a long time to discover a rule which would determine about what time that title "which taken at its flood leads on to fortune" might be expected, and of what it would consist, so that every body could be either President of the United States, or a director of the Erie Railway, according to his taste, but have not yet been able to announce the discovery, and I think now I would have been more successful had I confined myself to searching for Asteroids by looking through an oil well.

It does not require a social earthquake to produce the occasion which may stamp the seal of popular favor on what would otherwise be the uncurrent coin of common humanity.

Alexander the Great seems to have got his name up by toming Bucephalus After that he had everything handy, and went on like an Internal Revenue Collector, as it were, until he got hold of everything worth saving that he knew of. Then he suspected that there might be some other place that he did not know anything about, and couldn't get to, and the suspicion worried him to death.

Robert Bonner, Commodore Vanderbilt and Mr. Rarey are other notable examples of what an attachment to horseflesh, and a knack of making capital out of it, may do for a man under favorable circumstances, and not be very bad for the horse, but as a rule it is proved by about 34,792 exceptions to one case which is in accordance with it. I cannot therefore maintain that it is either an infallible way of getting a good start in the right direction, or of bolstering up a falling fortune. Besides the somewhat slim chance of success in overtaking the fickle goddess on a fast horse, there are other reasons which experience might enable me to urge against the experiment, but which I will pass over for the present.

Again, there was David the son of Jesse, first in the sheep raising line, but afterwards in the king business,—he got his start with a sling, and here I would remark for the benefit of those unacquainted with his biography that his sling was not the sort gotten up with fusel oil, lemon peel, nutmeg and sugar, by expert barkeepers, but a primitive kind of contrivance that boys in David's day used, to sling rocks at bullfrogs, schoolmasters and Philistines. David made a good shot with his and it was properly appreciated, and the consequence was that he had an easy grade for the balance of his natural life.

When I was a juvenile I concluded it would be decidedly to my advantage to be able to heave a stone after the style of David, and to that end I got up a sling, and after having considerable practice, one day when my paternal ancestor's favorite tom-turkey had alighted on the top of the chimney, so as to be able to gobble more aggravatingly than usual, I concluded to try him. I fired a stone from my sling, and it took the old fellow right on the ear and carried off half his head. Consequently a mixture of turkey, flutter and feathers came down all in a heap. It was a splendid shot! The old gentleman had seen it. He failed to appreciate it, however, in a becoming manner, and made for me. I suspect he caught me, for I have never been able to read the story of David and Goliah since without wondering why they did not leave the sling out of it. Boys, beware of slings!

George Washington got started by a cherry-tree, but it is hardly necessary to warn ambitious young Americans of the present to beware of attempting to reproduce the incident which is always found recorded in the first pages of his biography. They may hack into the fruit trees, but the chances are that no one will play father then, at least not after the style of Washington senior. I am convinced that nine out of ten of the imitators of George have succeeded cherry with birch forever after the first experiment in that line. If a boy is anxious to be made smart, the chances are he will be gratified, but in the majority of cases it's of no account in enabling him to make a successful corner in Wall street, or come out of a warm skirmish with the Sioux with his hair unmussed.

There again, was Sir Isaac Newton. What would have given most youths the stomach ache, and been productive of a doctor's bill for their anxious parents so far from disagreeing with him, furnished capital which philosophers have been doing business on ever since, and which has been the ground work of at least fifty per cent, of all scientific reputations from that time to the present. The first apple of which we read is said to have grown on the tree of knowledge. Sir Isaac's apple must have fallen from one of the same variety.

Early poverty has been regarded by many learned writers of the present as an exceedingly desirable qualification for succ s of all sorts, from a martyr's to a millionaire's and one would suppose that about the highest benefit an indulgent parent could bestow on its offspring was to become a tax on the county during their minority. This would be called eminently indigent, and a young man of ordinary ability having this as a starting-point, ought without unusual drawbacks to become at least a Congressman, if not an influential leader of the whisky ring.

Different degrees of penury would produce corresponding prosperity, and the rule I have so diligently sought to discover would be found and established. Wealthy and self-sacrificing parents would drive a steeple-chase down the road to ruin that their children might have a fair show of immortality and old maids and bachelors would enjoy a monopoly of filthy lucre. But alas! here is another of those unfortunate disagreements between theory and practice. My advice to you all is, "Don't be born poor." It don't pay. I have tried it, and though it did magnify an old siver dollar to the size of a cart-wheel, yet distance lends enchantment to the view without increasing the quantity of the coin.

The man who is born poor is born down in a well, away below the grade of the thoroughfare along which others are driving at a neck or nothing pace towards their respective goals. It takes valuable time and the steadiest kind of work to get out, and stand on the plane with the crowd, and then he has got to take his observations, and determine the course to be pursued in a comparatively new state of existence. Let those who are continually prating of the blessings of poverty, continue. They may thereby once in a while cast a ray of sunshine on those who sadly need it, but it will be like extracting heat from moonbeams reflected by an iceburg. Again I say, don't be born poor. If you do, you will regret it.—New York Atlas.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED PERFECTED SPECTACLES and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller, Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR! FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS, LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.

HURSELL'S PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours, S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer for Massachusetts.

STATISTICS RUN MAD. — Under this head, the Suncook Valley Times notices the fact that a tabular statement has been going the rounds, purporting to be a portion of the Report of Commissioner Wells to Congress, giving the amount of sales of retail dealers in liquors.

The statement was briefly this:—that the retailers of liquors in the U. S. reported sales in one year (1867) to the amount of almost $1,500,000,000—and that in one year the sum paid out for liquor is more than equal to one half the public debt.

The Suncook Times, in the article above noted, purposed to examine the figures, as to their truth or falsity, with the following result:

For this purpose we will take the State of New Hampshire, which is stated to have paid $12,629,175 toward this tax. Divide this by 77,000 and it will give $164.00 as the sum which each legal voter in the State of New Hampshire must pay to make up this sum.

Now there is a large majority of the legal voters, who either use no liquor at all, or in very small quantities, so that we may suppose that one-fifth of the voters pay the liquor tax.

This would require that each rummy must pay $820,00 a year for liquor alone. If each of these worked every week day at $1.50, they would earn but $469.50, which would leave a deficit of $350.50.

Every one must see that there are errors here. For though one-fifth of the voters is too small an estimate of drinkers, yet if we take the whole population of New Hampshire by the census of 1850, viz: 326,072, and divide the twelve and a half millions by it, we shall allow thirty-eight dollars and two-thirds for the spirits or beer purchased for every man, woman and child in the State.

Undoubtedly this is an extravagant over-estimate, and the real amount, although fearfully large, is far below.—The Suncook Times suggests that

The whole table is a hoax got up by a New York paper in want of news, and the fact that no such table appears in the published report of Commissioner Wells rather favors this theory.

We have looked through the Report, and, sure enough, there is no such table there.

FEMALE PRINTERS. — Nearly five years ago the printers employed in the Enterprise office enlisted, went to the war, leaving the office destitute of help. The editor was not a practical printer, and printers could not be obtained for love or money. In this emergency, Misses Amelia and Fanny Decker, relatives of the editor, volunteered to go into the office and do what they could to save the paper from the inevitable alternative of suspending publication—the former giving up the school she was teaching, for that purpose. At this time they did not even "know the boxes," and there was no one from whom they could obtain instruction.

Incredible as it may seem to those acquainted with the intricacies of the "art preservative," they succeeded in getting out the paper the week following, and not an issue has been missed since. During all these years they have remained in the office, unaided and alone; have set all the type, corrected proof, made up the forms, put the paper to press and worked it off, mailed it, cast rollers, and turned out job work that we will be content to keep as specimens of what we can do.—Lawrence Wisconsin Enterprise.

A REDUCTION OF THE ARMY as to numbers in the rank and file and among the rather ornamental than useful staffs, is what nobody will object to. Just as soon as peace will permit it, let us have our regular force on a peace footing, for other good reasons in addition to the economical reasons. But it is ungenerous, if not mean, in Congress, that has been lavish of millions on questionable expenditures, and extra liberal in providing for itself, to propose cutting down the pay of officers and men in the service.

Perhaps if some of our politicians tried fighting the Indians or living on the frontiers at fifteen hundred dollars a year, they might conclude that such compensation did not contrast well with their own more ample emoluments. Retrenchment is the good watchword of the hour: but it had better begin with putting an end to corruption and stopping the great leaks, and not confine itself to starving brave man risking their lives as soldiers.—Trans.

— A little four year old girl, who lately visited Boston with her mother, was greatly disturbed by the difficulty she experienced in perambulating Washington street. Finally in despair she exclaimed, "I do hope before I come to Boston again that a good many of these folks will be dead, for they do knock my new hat round so."

ADVERSITY exasperates fools, dejects cowards, draws out the faculties of the wise and ingenuous, puts the modest to the necessity of trying their skill, awes the opulent and makes the idle industrious. Much may be said in favor of adversity, but the worst of it is, it has no friends.

Written for the Chronicle and Gazette.

On Death.

I do not ask to be remembered, dear,
In words of praise that kindly hands may write,
But only that the few who love me here
May not forget me quite.

If when there come the thoughts of future bliss,
Uplifting them above the woes they see,
They can recall with love my parting kiss,
'Twill be enough for me.

If only, when their hearts are wrung with pain,
They can bring back some healing words I sent,
I shall not surely then have lived in vain,
And I shall be content.

Or if one soul aspiring with delight
To grander life than it has known before,
Should half regret I could not see its flight,
Then I could ask no more.

O friends I love! so tender and so true,
I cling to life, yet death may still be sweet,
And what my lips have often said to you,
In death I shall repeat.

I only ask when you are looking on
And waiting for the Golden Sun to rise,
That you may say, "Where my beloved is gone
There are no blinded eyes."

And as you near th' Eternal Spring, and wait
For your celestial wings with which to soar,
If in your hearts I still am consecrate,
O, I could ask no more.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
Was agreeable and almost instant relief in the season of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, arrange to pay, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or to help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the fear and brain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and benificent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR. The medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health were being undermined. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not new in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with such effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever! What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I can not but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator as an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils rout'd you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most alarming gulfs disclose the dead,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill these, you conquer ten millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and mucus down the throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, let alone, will end it, too,
Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
AMMIDON buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will soon cease;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Reduces the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurer as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the sum of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1869.

IN A QUANDARY.—The Manchester Union, our most respectable coppery exchange, is carrying on the election campaign under difficulties. We copy a few scraps, with notes. First, it fishes for the soldiers votes.

If the soldiers want to be recognized as a power, let them elect General Bedel. There is no other way.

The Union did not happen to favor the Union soldiers during the war, but rather favored the rebels. It did not favor the soldiers' voting in the field!

Then it fishes for Bondholder's votes, saying,

The Constitutional Amendment has passed both houses, and will become a part of the organic law of the country when ratified by three-fourths of the States. Several of the States are in chains and can only act as directed from Washington. * * If we are not greatly mistaken, the first function of this hybridized suffrage will be to wipe out the national debt. * * We do not believe that "rebels," or negroes, or Chinese, will be very tenacious for the payment of the national debt. * * Let the bondholders think of this, before they vote for any man who will give his assent to this wicked scheme.

Lastly, leaving the Bondholder, it fishes for the Repudiators, thus:—

We direct the attention of our readers to the Senate record of Saturday.—The passage of the bill declaring that the 5-20s shall be paid in gold is by far the most important act of the last four years, for it adds at once several hundred millions to the national debt! * * We shall advise acquiescence in no such policy, and if this wrong is forced upon us we hope it will be met with the alternative of repudiation.

These latter extracts furnish a rare specimen of blowing hot and cold in one breath. The people of New Hampshire are called upon to vote the democratic ticket, for two opposite reasons,—first because the Bonds will not be paid if the Radicals prevail, and secondly because they will be, if the same Radicals prevail, unless the Manchester Union repudiates. It happens, just at the present time, that U. S. Bonds have advanced in price, and that gold has declined a peg or two; showing that financiers are not much frightened.

Congress.

In the House on Monday a bill providing for a bridge across the Ohio River, and a resolution relating to the proper completion of the Pacific railroads and their branches, were passed.

The News.

Lamartine, the French poet and statesman, died on Monday, aged 77 years.

The fifteenth constitutional amendment was ratified by the legislature of Louisiana on Monday.

The recent snow storm in Canada has quite suspended railway travel in that country.

No mail matter will be sent overland to California until the 21st of March in consequence of the blockade by snow of the Pacific Railway.

Gen. Wyman B. S. Moore, formerly U. S. Senator from Maine, died at Augusta on Monday.

The Hudson river is full of ice.

The Republicans of Lewiston, Me., elected their Mayor on Monday by a vote of 650 to 175, In Saco there was no choice, the Republican candidate lacked 83 votes of a majority. Wm. L. Putnam, citizen's candidate, was elected Mayor of Portland on Monday by 170 majority. He is a democrat.

The U. S. Supreme Court has decided that the traitor Floyd's acceptances, to the amount of $167,000, are illegal and valueless. Justices Nelson and Clifford dissented.

New Hampshire Items.

The following is affirmed of Mr. Garland, of Durham, who is eighty-four years old. Last year he held the plow to plow two acres of land, which was planted with corn and potatoes. He did all the planting and hoeing, and gathered the crops. During the hay season he cut four tons of hay, doing all the mowing, raking and pitching on. He also "worked out" enough to pay for all the labor not performed by himself, and for the use of oxen. Mrs. Garland is eighty-five years old, and performs her full share of the labor incident to a small farm.

John Smith, a convict, committed to jail in Manchester for a year, died in his cell on the 22d. He was from Sharon; his offence was stealing.

Jaffrey has five "hefty" men, viz: O. S. Leighton, 242 lbs., Robert Ritchie, 240 lbs., N. F. Stevens, 237 lbs., F. S. Pierce, 326 lbs., M. Cudworth, 217 lbs., combined weight, 1162 pounds.

The new tower of the Unitarian church in Keene, was turned several inches on its base by a high wind, on the 53d.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

PORTLAND, March 1st.

Eds. Chronicle:—To-day is city election. The Republicans have on national and State affairs 1000 majority, but on city affairs but 350 to 400. Last year the Temperance faction were troublesome and twice prevented an election by the people, and the City Council elected the Republican candidate. This year the party as a general thing is united, the Republicans having a practical Temperance man as a candidate for Mayor, several of the Aldermen, Common Council and others being also of that stripe. This is owing to the adoption of the direct ballot in the ward caucuses, the usual form of committees on nomination being dispensed with.—The result is the most satisfactory of anything tried for years. This delegate-close-committee business in primary meetings ought never to be attempted in "this land of liberty."

The local editors of the daily papers are very short on items, the market being dull and nothing doing.

The papers here are severely criticising letters that occasionally appear in the Boston Traveller, from here, purporting to give Portland news. The correspondent is often wide of the facts, and his epistles provoke mirth, to say the least.

Velocipedians is all the rage. Portland has eight or ten velocipede halls, and the fever is still on the increase.—Already accidents have occurred from their use, for instance—a broken ankle, and a fall in the slosh of Commercial street. The great question now is, "Will the coming man ride the Velocipede?"

The militia bill which has recently passed the Legislature has given "the soger boys" great encouragement.—Portland has two companies—the Portland Mechanic Blues and the Portland Light Infantry—two ancient and honorable corps, and they have been reorganized and put in a fine drill in anticipation of such legislative action, so that they now are the only two organized companies in the State ready for regimental formation. The Infantry have been preparing themselves in the new army tactics (Upton's), and on the 22d ult. gave a splendid exhibition of drill and marching at the City Hall, closing with a promenade concert. The Blues have been prominent in the same line the past year, but drilled in Hardee's tactics. They are now perfecting themselves in Upton's, and will on the 4th of March give a grand exhibition and ball at City Hall.

The School Committee here had on hand some $3000 unexpended appropriation, and instead of returning it to the City Treasurer, or asking for further instructions, they have increased (without solicitation) the salaries of some of the teachers and omitted others, causing a muss which the papers are getting spicy over.

The Grand Trunk Railroad, in their new arrangement of trains, have changed the arrival of their through train from the West, Montreal and Quebec, from 2.15 to 5 P. M., to connect with the 6 o'clock Express train for Boston, instead of the 2.55 train as heretofore.

An assessment of 2 1-2 per cent per share is made on the subscribers to the stock of the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad, payable March 1st.

Gen. H. Duane and Supt. Edwards of the Light House dept., recently examined a lantern for Cape Blanco lighthouse, Oregon, manufactured by Ira Winn at Falmouth—costing $6000. It is one of the finest specimens of "light work" on the coast. A steam fog-signal has been made here at Staple's Machine Foundry, for Quoddy Head. It is an invention of the maker's, and was tested and highly approved by Messrs. Duane and Edwards. It is arranged to blow a large whistle ten seconds out of every sixty, with a steam pressure of 200 pounds.

The contractor, Mr. Wright of New York, is at work dredging out the mud on the spit opposite the Grand Trunk wharves.

An English company proposes establishing a steamer between Annapolis, Md., and here, connecting with the railroad to Halifax, and also with the steamer between St. John, N. B., and Annapolis. A packet runs from here to Yarmouth. SANCHO.

Rev. George Smith, formerly of Epsom, has accepted a call from the Congregational church at East Concord, —Victoria thinks of building an asylum for poor widows near Coburg.

—The exportation of silver goes on favorably in Canada, and the rate of discount has fallen 3-4 per cent.

—Lexington, Kentucky, has had an extensive earthquake.

—The name "alped" is proposed in stead of velocipedes.

—The velocipede has reached Idaho.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

Ten years ago I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, and have had it in constant use in my family since. We used it during the war to make clothing for our volunteers in the service, and for the hospitals, and this work was very heavy, being coarse woolen, and cotton fabrics. It is still in good working order, nothing having been broken but a few needles. You are welcome to use my name in your recommendations,

MRS. HIRAM MCCOLLOCH,
Wife of Secretary U. S. Treasury.

A YOUNG LADY writing to her mother from Europe says: Send me a dozen bottles of 'Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorer.' What I took with me is all gone, and I cannot think of spoiling my hair by using any other." The judgment of all who have used Barrett's will confirm this lady's experience. —Boston Transcript.

NO ULCER, Cancer, or fever sore but can be radically cured by the use of Wolcott's PAIN PAINT. Dr. Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, which is unlike PAIN PAINT, cures that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Price each $1. Recollect, 'tis put up in white wrappers.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

I have in my family Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine, that has been in almost daily use for the past ten (10) years, and not a thing has ever been done to it in the way of repairing; not a screw loose, or any part of it out of order in all that time. It has been used in making coats, vests and pants, of the thickest woolen goods, beside doing all kinds of family sewing, and is now, this day, the best machine for work I ever saw. m6

DISGUSTING.—If the parties engaged in the "Concord fight"—we mean the pitiful personal conflict between Fogg, Chandler, Ordway and others—don't know that they are making themselves ridiculous and obnoxious to the Republican party, it is time some measures were taken to inform them of the fact. If they prove all they charge each other with, (and who shall doubt them?) we protest against the Republican party being held responsible; and that it may not be, we propose to ignore the combatants entirely until their private broils are over. The party can do without the belligerents, but it will not take up their quarrel.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of probability, the attacks of fever are prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the probable will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union has on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, nor where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost its power of popularity, nor shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that celebrated old veteran, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

Holloway's Ointment.—Unlike the dangerous nuguents that temporarily arrest pain by a deadening paralyzing process, this pure and wholesome vegetable salve promotes vital action in the sore, ulcerated or bruised flesh to which it is applied, and by this means enables nature to counteract diseased action in the part affected, and to restore its soundness. This is the philosophy of its operation. It is simple, rational, and experience, which is better than theory, proves it is true. Sold by all Druggists.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you on his own responsible word, that Mr. Ward, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when all else had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

The Plaster of the "Time,"

ALLCOCK'S POROUS.

In lumbago they act like a charm. In a few hours a violent cough is relieved by a Plaster applied to the chest. Many persons believe a cold cannot be taken while a Plaster is worn thereon; this we do know, they greatly assist in the cure of a neglected cold, so often the introducer of Consumption.

CURE OF LESION OF THE LIVER.

A gentleman, after a severe sickness, had lesion of the liver. Every quick movement or sudden jar gave him severe pain, often laying him up for days. He was unable to follow any occupation with regularity.

In this condition, he applied over the part affected an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. At first it seemed to irritate, so it was taken off. But the marked improvement he experienced afterwards gave him courage to try again, and he therefore applied another plaster. In a few days something gave way—"it popped," to use the gentleman's own words. There was some soreness for a few days after, then his health was perfectly restored. Upon being sounded by his physician, the adhesion or lesion was found to be gone.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he would on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked for a Watch, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our interests, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch can be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We confidently believe that, in answering to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the Company have no hesitation in claiming that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured of one pattern, the cheaper can be made the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to all our products at the lowest possible profit, to make large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that today we manufacture twice as many watches as all other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve ims-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any benefit to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

All these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work, the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the disease (whether Liver Complaint—or the Pulmonic Consumption) is now cured, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK of Philadelphia, has for years been eminent in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has gone into the lungs and begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food, which the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to stop the cough, they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats or hectic fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, glandular ulcerations, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make good blood out of the food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to relish food, the food will digest and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely with bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was asked what he did to cure himself, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and advised his friends to call. He said he had tried the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK unless the patient wishes to be examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1ad

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Good Exercise.

Messrs. Editors:—Every person who is engaged in a profession or business which taxes the mental powers without bringing the muscles into play, should take more or less exercise every day, to keep the physical man in good condition, improve the digestion, (my landlady totally dissents from this, so far as I am concerned,) and prevent the temper from being ruined. To all such I would say, "Try the Velocipede,"—that'll give you exercise and appetite—and if you feel no inclination to make use of improper language when you find yourself under the machine with your leg sticking through the wheel, you can consider your temper to be as near the angelic as any mere human can hope to possess.

Having been much overtasked lately with mental exertion, and feeling exhausted, I concluded that physical exercise was what I needed to restore me to a normal condition, and making my way to the Rink of Messrs. Renton & Whitton on Vaughan Street, mounted a machine. My first essay was like unto that of all the rest, I suppose,—I found myself very composedly sitting on the floor with the machine on top, very soon after starting. 'A bit later, the reportorial heels flew up, just in time to deposit me under the wheel of another man's iron horse,—it's a great comfort to me to remember that the other man was tumbled off at once, and run into by a third rider. I had a good time for an hour, and should have mastered the machine easily enough but for a habit which the driving (and steering) wheel has got of going in the wrong direction, joined to the unaccountable tendency of the whole concern to tumble over sidewise, with the rider underneath. I should not have left when I did, had not another rider mounted and cantered round at a great rate, sitting in a half-dozen different ways, steering in all directions pretty much as he pleased, and not tumbling off once. The contrast was too great—I left. I'm intending to go in at the velocipede again, however, for 'tis not only good exercise but glorious fun—the lady spectators thought so, too, to judge from their unrestrained mirth. I expect to travel all round the country and out to the Shoals as soon as the snow leaves—on a velocipede.

If any gentleman wishes to charm his lady friends, let him take them to the Rink (where every civility will be shown them by Messrs. Renton and Whitton,) and exhibit to them the graceful ease with which he can crawl from underneath a velocipede—that'll subdue their hard hearts if anything will, I know—I'm going to try it myself, anyway. PAKEHA.

NEWCASTLE REDEEMED!—The Annual Town Election came off on Tuesday, and the principal fight was for Moderator,—the Republican candidate was chosen by a large majority. The copperheads then became demoralized and left the polls, leaving the Republicans to elect their entire town ticket with little opposition.

This is the first gun of the campaign of 1869, and the Republicans of the little rock bound island by sea have fought a good fight and gloriously won. At the town election one year ago the Democrats chose the Moderator by 9 majority, and at the State election a week after Sinclair, Democrat, had 4 majority. Now the Republicans have about 30 majority. The result is peculiarly gratifying to the Republicans of this Senatorial district and is indicative of the election of Hon. John H. Bailey over Mayor Jones on Tuesday next, by a rousing majority. Nine cheers and a tiger for the Republicans of Newcastle.

THE THESPIAN DRAMATIC SOCIETY propose to make their second public appearance at the Temple during the present month, and are in active rehearsal of a drama, a vaudeville, and a laughable farce, to present to the public by way of amusement. The delay in their second entertainment has been occasioned by unavoidable occurrences by which they have been deprived of the valuable services of several active members for the past month. The time which has elapsed since their first appearance, however, has given better opportunities for selecting plays calculated to amuse Portsmouth audiences, and has afforded ample time for a proper casting of the characters, which is found to be one of the most difficult tasks among amateurs.

INJURED BY A FALL. — The Boston Herald, of the 2d inst., says that Capt. Hutchinson of the schooner Plowboy, of Portsmouth, was proceeding down the wharf to Dillon's Dock when he slipped and fell heavily to the ground, thereby cutting his head badly and sustaining a fracture of the skull.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

EXETER, March 2.

The recent robbery at the B. and M. passenger station in this town was one of the most daring affairs of the kind that ever occurred here. The office was entered by means of one of the ticket windows, which I am informed Mr. Smith, the station agent noticed was not quite closed, on his return from dinner. Three boys were arrested on suspicion, but at their examination before Justice J. J. Bell, on Saturday, no evidence was presented tending to criminate them, and they were accordingly discharged. I do not learn that suspicion rests on any one as being concerned in the robbery.

The annual ball of the Exeter Fire Department has been postponed to Thursday of this week, the severe snow storm on the 26th making it next to impossible for people from abroad to attend.

As the 4th of March comes on Thursday, the inauguration of Gen. Grant will also be commemorated in what promises to be a most enjoyable manner. The music will be by Hall's Band (6 pieces) of Boston. A very excellent performance was given here Saturday evening by Washburn's troupe of acrobats and Seneca Indians.

An interesting temperance address was made on Sunday evening by Rev. Geo. N. Bryant, agent of the State Temperance Alliance for the Newmarket district. Mr. B. considered the subject in three aspects: financial, philanthropic and religious; showing that the sum annually expended for liquor in this State alone, is more than the annual amount invested in the operations of all the benevolent institutions in the United States. He pictured in a truthful manner the untold miseries inflicted on the family of the drunkard, and dwelt strongly on the duties of all—individuals, churches and communities—in the cause of temperance. He demonstrated that temperance is a very essential element of the christian religion, quoting largely from the Sacred Word in substantiation. Mr. Bryant deprecated the use of domestic wine and cider, as too often leading to fatal results, and advocated the pledge as a safeguard against temptation. He urged the necessity of presenting the evils of intemperance to the young; in our Sabbath and common schools, and in our families.

The meeting was adjourned to tomorrow evening, when a temperance organization will be effectual, and measures considered for the suppression of rumselling in our midst.

Velocipeding is still the rage. Mr. Smith informs me that he has one patron who frequently "astonishes the natives" by turning a somersault from the saddle to the floor, over the forward wheel! H.

NEW SABBATH SCHOOL BOOK.
"THE MORNING STARS."
JUST PUBLISHED.
A Collection of Religious Songs, for SUNDAY SCHOOLS and the HOME CIRCLE.
This book of religious songs for children was undertaken because the authors could find no Book which appeared to them to be well adapted for the use of Sunday Schools, and the choir of children whose musical instruction they have in charge.—Great care has been taken in this selection that the words might faithfully reflect the sentiment of the music as well as equal it in elevation of tone.
Price in Boards, 35 cts.; Paper, 30 cts.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

PLEASANTER THAN ALL.

Robins in the tree tops,
Blossoms in the grass;
Green things a growing
Everywhere you pass;
Sudden little breezes,
Showers of silver dew;
Black bow and bent twig
Budding out anew;
Pine tree and willow tree,
Fringed elm and larch—
Don't you think that May-time's
Pleasanter than March?

Apples in the orchard,
Mellowing one by one;
Strawberries maturing
Soft cheeks to the sun;
Roses, faint with sweetness;
Lilies, fair of face;
Drowsy sense of murmurs
Haunting every place;
Lengths of golden sunshine;
Moonlight bright as day—
Don't you think that summer's
Pleasanter than May?

Roger in the corn-patch,
Whistling negro songs;
Pussy by the hearth side,
Romping with the tongs;
Chestnuts in the ashes
Burning through the rind;
Red leaf and gold leaf
Rustling down the wind,
Mother "doin' peaches"
All the afternoon—
Don't you think that Autumn's
Pleasanter than June?

Little fairy snow-flakes
Dancing in the flue;
Old Mr. Santa Claus,
What is keeping you?
Twilight and firelight;
Shadows come and go,
Merry chime of sleigh-bells
Tinkling through the snow;
Mother's knitting stockings,
(Pussy got the ball;)
Don't you think that Winter's
Pleasanter than all?

BOSTON CHURCHES.—The population of Boston is estimated at 210,000. Of this number at least one-third are Catholics. This would leave 160,000 Protestants. The Catholics have ample church accommodations. They have three, and oftentimes four, religious services each Sunday, so that a church that will hold a thousand worshippers meets the spiritual needs of three times that number.

There are 120 places of religious worship for the non-Catholics, who number 160,000. Of these, thirty-two are free churches scattered throughout the city and divided among the leading denominations. Of the eighty-eight other Boston churches, not more than one in ten is ever crowded at the regular services.

The Unitarians have ample accommodations for the rich, poor and middling-interest classes of their communion. The Trinitarian Congregationalists have large churches in all parts of the city, and not one-third of the number can be said to be crowded at the regular services. The Episcopalians have seven free churches, and no difficulty is experienced in obtaining pews in their other churches. The Baptists now have ample church accommodation in the new and old portions of the city. The same can be said of the Methodists, the Universalists and the Presbyterians. The Swedenborgians have but a single church, which, though large, is really very crowded, as there are nearly six hundred communicants among the worshippers. The societies of the other small sects find it difficult to collect members enough to keep up a successful church organization. The colored people have a genius for multiplying chapels, and have ample room in their places of worship here.—Transcript.

New Publications.

The Herald of Health for March, has No. 10, of the Rearing of our Children, the Early Care of the Lungs,—and as usual, many suggestive articles.

Merry's Museum for March is a bright number.

Experimental Farm Journal for February.

The People's Edition of the Life and Epistles of St. Paul, just published by S. S. Scranton & Co., Hartford, Conn., fulfils all the promise of the publisher's circular. It is a noble edition of a standard work.

The Radical for March has for a leader, "Plato, a conversation by A. Bronson Alcott," reported by Yerrington.

Mayne Reid's Magazine, Onward, for March — a prime number; Carleton, publisher, New York.

Westminster Review, for January.—American reprint. Leonard Scott Publishing Co., New York.

The New York Mercantile Journal is a large weekly paper, whose object is indicated by the name; it includes a very extensive price list of almost all kinds of goods. $5 per year.

DEATHS IN DEERFIELD IN 1867—22, of a population of 2100; nearly 1 per cent. The ages averaged (excepting 2 infants) 53 years.

In 1868, deaths 32; about 3 to 200.—Ages averaged (excepting 2 infants) 60 years.

Marriage Licenses issued—in 1867, 17; in 1868, 19. Marriage Certificates returned—in 1867, 9; in 1868, 19.

DEATHS in the town of Rye—in 1868, 15 of a population of 1200, or 5 to 400. Average age (excepting one infant) 66 years.

☞ A prize was offered by the Connecticut Teachers' Institute to any one who could spell the following lines without a mistake. Thirty-eight teachers competed but not one gained the prize: "It is an agreeable sight to witness the unparalleled embarrassment of a harnessed peddlar attempting to guage the symmetry of a peeled onion, which a sibyl has stabbed with a poniard, regardless of the innuendos of the lilies of cornelian hue."

— It is perhaps a little too much to say that ladies ought not to talk at concerts, for that is partly what many go to concerts for. But that they ought not to raise their voices too high, is made plain by a little story which we find in the Philharmonic Journal.—During a concert in the Boston Music Hall, recently, when the organist was "exhibiting the full power of the instrument," a lady was enthusiastically conversing with her neighbor about her household arrangements. "She suited the tones of her voice to those of the organ, but the organist making a sudden transition from 'ff' to 'pianissimo,' without giving the lady warning, the audience were somewhat amused at being informed by her, in a shout, that 'we fried ours in butter!'"

A NATIONAL PENTECOST.—Throughout the United States, it is hoped that special prayer will be offered, on the fourth of March, for the new President, for the new Congress, and for a general revival of religion in all parts of our beloved country. Let us implore the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all—Anglo-Saxons, Africans, Indians and Chinamen—that we may witness a National Pentecost. In pressing around the throne of grace, and approaching nearer to Jesus, we shall all get nearer to each other, and thus form, united by love divine, one vast national evangelical alliance! God, in infinite love and mercy, can supply all our national need, "according to His riches in glory, by Christ Jesus."—N. Y. Observer.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!
LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.
The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.
With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.
Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by the application.
Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE LIGHT OF HOME.

The light of home, how bright it beams
When evening shades around us fall;
And from the lattice far it's gleams
To love and rest and comfort call.
When wearied with the toils of day
And strife for glory, gold or fame,
How sweet to seek the quiet way,
Where loving lips will lisp our name
Around the light of home!

When through the dark and stormy night
The wayward wanderer homeward flies,
How cheering is that twinkling light
Which through the forest gloom he spies.
It is the light of home. He feels
That loving hearts will greet him there,
And safely through his bosom steals
The joy and love that banish care
Around the light of home.

The light of home—how still and sweet
It peeps from yonder cottage door,
The weary laborer to greet,
When the rough toils of day are o'er!
Sad is the soul that does not know
The blessings that its beams impart,
The cheerful hopes and joys that flow
And lighten up the heaviest heart
Around the light of home.

CALIFORNIA RIVALLING THE WORLD IN A WEDDING.—San Francisco has had a wedding, that, for extravagance in dress, wealth of outfit, and value of presents, sustains her ambition to rank second only to New York among the cities of America. The bride, a tall, fine-looking, accomplished young lady, was the daughter of Friedlander, a merchant prince, well known as the "Grain King," from his possessing great control over that market, and the bridegroom a son of Dr. Bowle, a leading physician. The trousseau cost $10,000, and was full and magnificent beyond that of any former California bride.

The presents, besides $150,000 from the father, amounted to some $30,000 in jewelry and gold and silver things. The clothes of participants and guests were surpassingly gorgeous; Paris and New York with a California luxuriance and abandon added. One young married lady, recently from Paris, and famous among the bon-ton for her fine looks and exquisite taste in dress, wore a golden-green satin, trimmed with bias folds around the bottom, each of which was edged with rows of golden-eyed daisies, above which was a rich, deep point lace flounce looped up at the side, which, with diamonds and a charming coiffure, completed one of the most superb and recherche costumes in the scene.

Agricultural Items.

Coal ashes are of little value on heavy soils, but on light, sandy soil may be used to advantage, because they make it more tenacious. There are some fertilizing ingredients in them, but not enough to pay for hauling any considerable distance.

Help for the coming season should be engaged before the work of spring comes on. It not only saves annoyance and delay, but you can now take your choice of hands; if you wait you must make your choice from the persons that are left.

If old hay is well stacked, or in the barn, it is worth about as much the second year as the first. It is a good plan to keep over a quantity to meet emergency of a short hay crop. It is a poor plan to buy hay when it bears the highest price. The most thrifty farmer shave hay to sell in years of short grass crops, and the extra price pays very well for keeping.

The corn crop of 1868, according to the last report of the Agricultural Bureau will yield 905,170,000 bushels against 767,820,000 bushels in 1867, an aggregate increase of 137,358,000 bushels.

Some farmers are so stupid as to laugh at their neighbors who practice carding their cows. Yet the good results of this practice are seen, not only in the better appearance of the animals that are carded daily, but in fuller milk pails.

It was recently stated in a discussion by the Waltham Agricultural Club, that a farmer in Holliston has raised cabbages on the same land for fifteen successive years. He manured his land with common salt, and watered the plants with lime.

An English farmer broke up thirty acres of water meadow which produced nothing but coarse sedge grasses and rushes. After it was thoroughly drained and laid down to grass, he was able to cut four crops of green fodder annually of the best quality. The same thing could be done in thousands of cases in this country.

The Gardener, London, says: "Earthing up potatoes diminishes the product and retards the ripening of the tubers. Long experiments in England have proved this fact—that hilling up the potato will reduce the crop one-fourth.

Many methods of preserving eggs have been recorded, but that used on a large scale in the provisioning of Paris is described as the most sure. The eggs are plunged, in wire baskets, each holding a dozen, in cauldrons of boiling water, during about a minute. A thin layer of the egg coagulates on the inner surface of the shells, and prevents the infiltration of air, which is speedily fatal to the freshness of the egg.

THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,
The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.
All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.
Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.
Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.
Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.
(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)
Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.
(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)
The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.
All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.
No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.
Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH! DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are liable to have, and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break the intensity or help the sufferer along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the fear and anxiety of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become habitually unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much worse at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—the child got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needed only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning graves disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, as you flee,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and can not see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps your turn is one!
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, if let alone, will feed it too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now does my subject end, and I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About Pain Paint, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the heart or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, this will the same:
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restore the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the extremities
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head. Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and Table, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, on annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the payment of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1869.

INAUGURAL DAY.—Every loyal man, and every other man should rejoice on this fourth day of March, 1869, that Andrew Johnson, who has not been friendly to any party or individual, takes his official leave of the people of the United States. As a stumbling block and a mule of perverse qualifications, he has been an eminent success. Peculiarly fortunate is it that he is succeeded by General Grant, the tried and trusted leader in war and peace, and the nation looks forward to a continual peace, a time of prosperity and success during the coming four years, when a firm and straight-forward course shall have taught wisdom to those who have not profited by it in the past, and would show no indications of repentance in the future were they encouraged by false promises.

The News.

Exit Andrew Johnson.

Gen. Grant will be inaugurated President at 12 o'clock, noon, this day. His inaugural address, it is said, will be short.

Hon. J. G. Blaine of Maine was unanimously nominated as the Republican candidate for Speaker of the new House of Representatives, on Tuesday. Mr. McPherson of Pennsylvania was renominated for Clerk, and N. G. Ordway of N. H., was re-nominated for Sergeant-at-Arms.

Charter elections were held in various cities in New York State on Tuesday, in which the Republicans were generally successful.

A cable dispatch says that a rebellion has broken out in Cabool, in Afghanistan, and a British garrison of three hundred soldiers has been massacred by the natives.

Cuban battles, in which the insurgents were defeated, are reported.

More Indian raids are reported in Texas.

The small-pox has been gradually spreading in New York city.

Nevada has ratified the new constitutional amendment.

There is danger of war between France and Prussia.

Congress.

The Senate, on Tuesday, passed the post office, legislative, executive and judicial bills. In the legislative bill, the office of Assistant Secretary of the Navy was by an amendment abolished, and the salary struck out and the number of clerks in that department also reduced.

The House passed 25 bills of minor importance.

The Senate joint resolution tendering sympathy to the people of Spain coming up, Mr. Banks of Mass., from the committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a substitute, sympathizing with the people of Spain in their efforts to establish the liberties of the nation; with the people of Cuba in their efforts to secure political independence; and authorizing the President to recognize the independence of Cuba whenever in his opinion a republican form of government shall have been established.

The substitute was agreed to, and the joint resolution passed unanimously.

At 2 o'clock, Wednesday morning, the Senate passed the deficiency bill.

In the House Speaker Colfax resigned the position he had held for 6 years past, and Hon. Theodore M. Pomeroy of New York was unanimously elected to serve till the present Congress expires at noon of Thursday.

Both Houses remained in session all night, Wednesday.

New Hampshire Items.

Lisbon manufactures annually over 50,000 mackerel kits, 500,000 bobbins, 75 carriages, 25,000 bushels of pegs, and from 300 to 350 tons of starch.

A gentleman owning real estate in Nashua, but not a resident, offers the land for the location of any mechanical or manufacturing establishment in that town.

The new amalgamator which is now in use in the Lisbon gold mines, saves the company sixty dollars in the product of a ton of ore.

Rev. Orlando Hinds, an aged and faithful pastor of the Methodist denomination, died in Chichester on Monday last, aged 87 years. He was born in Sandwich, Mass., and for more than half a century was widely known throughout the State, as well as in Maine and Massachusetts.

The City Marshal of Concord has arrested at Enfield Henry A. Kelley, charged with breaking and entering a house in Canterbury. He is about twenty years of age, and confesses his guilt.

For the Chronicle.

Woman Suffrage.

Messrs. Editors:—As nearly every one has something to say on this subject now-a-days, and Conventions are held and speeches made to forward that object, and more speeches made, and much ink used in writing newspaper articles to impede it, I see no just cause or impediment in the way of my using my pen (I always write with a lead pencil, but that makes no difference,) in favor of the side which I hope to see triumphant. If I knew nothing at all about the subject it would be no reason why I should not write about it, judging from the ability displayed in many of the articles I have read; but I do know something about it,—more than some do who give oracular opinions and expect them to be received without question,—for I have seen women vote, publicly, in town-meeting, on more than one occasion.

I noticed an article lately, in which it was stated that probably woman suffrage would become a fact in the Western States before it did in New England, as Idaho had adopted it, (though this report proved to be incorrect,) but that Idaho was behind some provincial city in England, which had been obliged, through the unintentional omission of the word "male" from some document, to enroll its tax-paying females and let them vote,—thus acting as the pioneer in a cause in which America should have stood foremost.—Whether this English item was true or not I am unable to tell, but I know that the writer of it must go more miles and more months away for his "pioneer," for, upwards of five years ago, in a large and important inland town (now a city) in Her Brittanic Majesty's colony of Victoria, in the great island of Australia, I saw more than twenty women exercise their rights as tax-payers and vote for town officers, — and have seen similar occurrences since in several other towns in the same colony.

True, these women did not vote at the Victorian general elections, and all males of the full age of twenty-one years, who were British subjects, did; but at least four large towns made no distinction between the sexes in municipal affairs,—if a lady was twenty-one years of age, and paid taxes in the town, she had her vote on all town matters the same as any man; and this, I think, puts Victoria ahead of the world on the woman suffrage question.

Some of the arguments against giving woman her political rights are too deep for my comprehension, so I shall merely glance at without attempting to answer them. "Letting women vote is unscriptural." That's one of 'em.—Where this idea is expressed or implied in the sacred writings I do not know—nor do I say it is not to be found there. But as far as I have studied those writings I have got only the idea that women were not considered to be of much account in ancient times—not that there is anything wrong in letting them vote in modern days. If woman suffrage is unscriptural the controversy should end at once; but if it can be proved so only by distorting separate portions of holy writ, in the way that isms and cloges, however outrageous and contradictory, have been supported for ages, down to the present day, (it is said that Brigham Young quotes the Bible to support polygamy,) I shall decline to be convinced of my error.

"Woman will lose more than she will gain by being elevated to a political equality with man,—particularly in those attributes of dependence and weakness which are her most potent attractions." There! if you understand that you beat me, that's all,—for I don't. If it means that women will be better able to support themselves, and that their physical strength will be increased, it is a good reason in favor of political equality. I think I won't say any more about that argument until I find out what it means.

It is even urged as a reason why women should not vote, that our election scenes are unfit for them to mingle in. Very well—then purify those scenes; and what more effectual method of doing that can be found, than to give women the suffrage? An old politician once told me that when he was a boy an election speech would very often be so obscene that no modest woman would have listened to it, — and the worse it was the better it pleased,—and I have seen a similar statement in print, lately. But now a good political speaker will have a generous sprinkling of ladies in his audience, and not feel called upon to insult them with either profanity or vulgarity. That decency is outraged and rascality has full swing at the elections in some places is no reason why women should be kept from voting—'tis only an argument in favor of disfranchising the men, that's all.

I was intending to finish this paper by quoting the Golden Rule, in woman's favor; but as the original reading long ago became virtually obsolete, yielding to the more human rule "Do as you are done by," which in turn has been superseded by "Do unto others as you think they'd like to do to you,"—I suppose I may as well say nothing about it. On the 22d, eighteen aged men of Unity, none under sixty five years, met and formed a permanent organization in commemoration of the services and virtues of the Father of his Country, and to perpetuate the remembrance of our Fathers and Mothers who settled in the wilderness a hundred years ago. The meeting was organized by the choice of Col. Nathan Huntoon, aged eighty-seven, as Chairman; Col. E. J. Glidden, Assistant Chairman, and Hon. Amos Perkins, in his 80th year, Secretary.— The average age of the eighteen persons present was 73; twelve aged men of the town did not attend. The average age of the thirty old men in town is 74 1-2 years. Prayer was offered at the opening by Dea. J. G. Smith. A fine dinner had been prepared which was partaken of after a blessing by the venerable Col. Huntoon.

An accidental fire in Concord, Sunday morning at 1 o'clock, broke out in the one story Shoe-store of E. B. Rhodes The firemen pulled the building down. Stock mostly saved. Loss and damage $800. Insured.

The Railroad Commissioners met the Suncook Valley Railroad Directors at Pittsfield on the 26th, and finished awarding land damages on said road.

The Newport Argus says: Benjamin F. Carr Esq., of this town, was severely hooked by one of his cows, in one of his eyes, so badly as to destroy its sight.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $20 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College, New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid as full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure has been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Alfred D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used, in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined has been used in this town side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My lot produced two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L."

TO PRESIDENT GRANT.

BY PHILIP O'KEILL.

Hail, Freedom's Chief, and Victory's chosen son,
Thy march was like a Roman triumph, and as great,
And thou hast reached the goal, by virtue won;
Receive the guerdon destined thee by fate—
It is thy country's voice, and nations bear it on.

The proudest monarch earth has known,
Arrayed in all the pomp of royal power,
Seated upon an empire's dazzling throne,
Has never felt the glory of this hour
That waits on thee, Freedom's unstain-ed son.

Not all the splendors of thy past career,
When thou didst bear thy country's sword
Until thy name became the traitor's fear,
When millions rushed victorious at thy word,
Can equal this grand climax now and here.

Standing beneath the Capitol's high dome,
A Nation's homage offered at thy feet,
What thoughts tumultuous must unbidden come!
Illustrious man, thy merit gains a seat
Prouder than Cæsars filled, aye! in Imperial Rome.

O, may the nation with thy grandeur rise;
Thy lustre won thro' battles' reddening flame
Will shine more brightly under peaceful skies,
Until thy country's glory and thy name
Shall blend in one grand symphony of fame.

—"I suppose you have a great many paper callers at this season," said a bland old gentleman, unrolling a subscription paper before Spriggins the other day, after calling that irritable individual from his dinner to the door.—"Paper collars; no sir! never had one of the blasted things in my life," said Spriggins, and, slamming the door, he left the missionary, a petrification of astonishment, in the vestibule.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Mouth.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would return in his tracks rather than take a safer course to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. May, the treable will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recommend its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and malarial fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c.

This institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the EVILS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, —young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excesses of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $3.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

"THE PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," is first-class paper in every respect,—3 large 32 col. columns,—published on the 1st of February, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is invariably followed by health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means has told you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner of Light, says, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch, he makes up the deficiency in the total, and is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support they should, because they believe that a fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked for Waltham Watches, resort to that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, more than a million have been sold, about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to abide by the result.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the first-class paper in every respect,—3 large 32 col. umns,—published on the 1st of February, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Liver complaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and when mixed with the kelp which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to stop the cough, they stop cooling, they try to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they stop the active powers of nature, leaving no other chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to cough, the liver will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow fat, the consumptive begins to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a skeleton, and was the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and advised him to take care of himself, as the only chance is to take the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless perfectly well disposed to have examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all professional advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives no advice nor fee for the thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE HAYMAKERS.—This splendid Cantata or Opera, was presented at Exeter Town Hall on Tuesday evening, in very good style, considering all the circumstances. And the more we see of it, the higher is our estimation of its beauties and attractions. Mr. J. W. Gale, an amateur in music, was conductor, and the chorus of fifty or so, made up of citizens of Exeter and neighboring towns—who entered heartily into the spirit of the thing for the cause, the aid of Rev. Mr. Barrows' Society.

Mr. T. W. Moses was pianist, with an orchestra of five pieces; Mrs. Packard, formerly Miss Durgin, sustained well the chief soprano part; and the leading alto, whose name we have lost, was also good. As usual the tenor was rather light, but as is not common in this vicinity, the bass also was lacking. However, the chorus was quite heavy, especially in the choral. Rev. J. W. Chickering, bass, rendered valuable assistance in solos and part songs; and the stage fittings and action generally were creditable. We have no design to criticize, but will say that in all such cases it is much easier to point out defects than to correct them, especially with rehearsal so limited as here.

A younger Mr. Gale took the part of Snipkins, and with a little stronger delivery, (in which point of course such a Miss Nancy character should lack, if at all,) would be pronounced good, though it is not fair to compare him with Barnabee. The only importation was of the Farmer, a Mr. Tucker, of Exeter, who was at least earnest and hearty in his work.

The attendance was large, the Hall being full, with an audience of 700 or so, and the net result for the object must be quite satisfactory. The scenery used was that painted for the original presentation of this work in Boston, for Mr. Root, the composer; it was sold in Providence, purchased by the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society, and now leased to the Exeter troupe.

Upwards of thirty of our citizens, mostly members of the Philharmonic Society, attended the Concert—including Stoddard & Beacham's big four-horse sleigh full, and several private teams. The sleighing was not good, the snow laying too light, but the fun of the thing paid all whom we saw for their thirty mile ride or so. Mr. Gale shew "Mr. Day and his (numerous) friends" every courtesy, including complimentary admittance, and a hot-coffee lunch behind the scenes at the close. The free admission was accepted only on condition that the Exeter folks shall all appear here at Esther's reception on the 15th., if favorable weather and roads.

We noticed among the audience Mr. Churchill of Lawrence and a druggist of this city, and also another of the P. P. S. who must be nearly three score and ten—enjoying the occasion as highly as anybody. Good, so.

We spent a very pleasant hour, previously, with the very communicative and agreeable Registers of Deeds and of Probate, in their quaint old building, among the musty documents.

THE SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOUSES. There are two causes for the spare seats in our Public Schools, viz: the removal of a number of families whose heads had work here during the rebellion, and the school of the Catholic Church. In the Catholic school there are now about 250 pupils and four teachers. Last summer there were about four hundred pupils, many of them being small children. This school probably withdrew about 300 children from the public schools.

In the public schools, in the spring of 1868, the whole number of scholars was set down at 2330; but as every child who had been in two schools was counted twice, it is probable the true number was about 1800,—and the average attendance was 1461.

Now, calling the real number 1800, the 300 taken away by the Catholic school would empty about one-sixth of all the seats.

THE MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO., OF NEW YORK.

Whoever has the impression that Life Insurance is not popular with the people, generally, is mistaken. Every sound life Insurance Company is now regarded by the best and wisest people in the world as truly a benevolent institution, and worthy of universal patronage. Such being the fact, these institutions will grow in popularity yearly.

At the head of all the corporations of this character in the country, stands The Mutual Life of New York. The success of this corporation has been wonderful in all its history; but never has it prospered as during the past year. Its total receipts in twelve months were over thirteen millions of dollars. It issued over seventeen thousand new policies, insuring over fifty-three millions of dollars. Its net assets are now nearly thirty millions of dollars; and it has at risk, in its regular legitimate business, on lives insured, an amount of money nearly equal to one-twelfth of the whole national debt of the United States—viz., $205,000,000. If the financial affairs of our Government were managed with one-half the wisdom, tact, and shrewdness with which this giant corporation is conducted, we should hear less talk about breakers ahead. Here is a model, easy-working, safely-constructed financial machine; and we advise congressmen to study its history, and learn how big figures can be handled and controlled without a single jar, how vast money interests can be forced to work—and honestly, too—with a simplicity, regularity, and with a degree of perfection which is unknown among the results of Washington legislation or in its model institutions.

We profess to know something about the benefits of Life Insurance, as they have affected numerous friends and acquaintances, here and elsewhere; and we believe it to be the solemn duty of every man who has others dependent upon him, to make no delay in securing personally all those benefits. It is a Christian duty, and therefore should be promptly performed.—The Independent.

Mr. J. P. Bartlett is the Agent of the above Company, and has insured during the past twenty years half a million dollars on the lives of some of our most discreet and discriminating citizens.

Communication.

UNDER WHICH KING?—Messrs. Eds: Mr. Haines was elected Street Commissioner by the votes of men claiming to be Republicans,—he also claiming the same for himself, I understand, with the exception of bolting their Mayor nominee only. But is the rumor correct, that he used the prospective patronage in his control, if elected, to defeat also a portion of the Aldermen nominated, and which were successful in spite of this movement? Is it true, as hinted, that he is doing what he can now to defeat the Republican Senatorial candidate in this district?

There has been considerable talk over this matter, and is likely to be more;—and when we see what we shall see, it may be well enough to remember that while the Republican party never need fear the hunkers, still a house divided against itself cannot stand, and we hope hereafter, if not now, that a man will be judged by the company he keeps, and that Republicans, whether in responsible office or not, will vote only for

STRAIGHT OUT REPUBLICANS.

DEERING & GAMMON advertise a velocipede race for a prize of an elegant Silk Hat, at their Rink foot of State St., on Friday evening. They have now five machines in running order, including a three-wheeled velocipede which is just the thing for learners to take lessons on. There are a score or more of rapid riders who display their skill at the Rink every day, and they show astonishing improvement in the new art which seems so difficult to spectators.

THEATRE GOERS will be glad to learn that Bidwell & Locke's Dramatic Company are to appear here on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, when they will produce for the first time in this city the sterling drama, "Esmeralda."

☞ Philharmonic Rehearsal at Temple on Friday Evening, March 5, at half-past 7.

☞ We learn that the efforts to close the rum shops at Kittery have been crowned with success, the three dealers in the ardent aggreeing not to sell any more if prosecutions are not made for past offending.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Morning Chronicle.

THE OLD MAN'S STORY.

I shall never forget the commencement of temperance reformation. I was a child at the time, some ten years of age. Our home had every comfort, and my kind parents idolized me, their only child. Wine was often on the table, and both my father and my mother gave it to me in the bottom of their morning glass.

On Sunday at church a startling announcement was made to our people. I knew nothing of its purport, but there was much whispering by the men. The pastor said that on the next evening there would be a meeting, and an address upon the evils of intemperance in the use of all alcoholic liquors. He expressed himself ignorant of the meeting, and could not say what course it would be best to pursue in the matter.

The subject of the meeting came up at our table after the service, and I questioned my father about it with all the curious earnestness of a child. The whispers and words which had been dropped in my hearing, clothed the whole affair with great mystery to me, and I was all earnestness to learn the strange thing. My father merely said it was a scheme to unite the church and State.

The night came and groups of people gathered on the tavern steps, and I heard the jest and laugh, and saw the drunken men come reeling out of the bar-room.

I urged my father to let me go, but he at first refused. Finally, thinking it would be a harmless gratification of my curiosity, he put on his hat, and we passed across the green to the church. I well remember how the people appeared as they came in, seeming to wonder what kind of an exhibition was to come off.

In the corner was the tavern keeper and around him a number of friends.—For an hour the people of the place continued to come in until there was a full household. All were curiously watching the door, and apparently wondering what would appear next. The parson stole in and took his seat behind a pillar in the gallery, as if doubtful of the propriety of being in the church at all.

Finally two men came in and went forward to the altar and took their seats. All eyes were fixed upon them, and a general stillness prevailed throughout the church. Two men were unlike in appearance, one being short, thick-set in his build, and the other tall and well formed. The younger had the manner and dress of a clergyman, a full round face, and a quiet, good-natured look, as he leisurely looked around his audience.

But my childish interest was all in the old man. His broad, deep chest, and unusual height, looked giant-like, as he strode up the aisle. His hair was white as snow, his brow deeply scarred with furrows, and around his handsome mouth were lines of calm and touching sadness. His eyes were black and restless, and kindled as the tavern-keeper uttered a low jest. His lips were compressed and a crimson flush went and came over his pale cheek. One arm was off near the elbow, and there was a wide scar just above his right eye.

The younger finally arose and stated the object of the meeting, and asked if there was a clergyman present to say a prayer. Our pastor kept his seat, and the speaker himself made a short address at the conclusion calling upon any one to make remarks. The pastor arose under the gallery, and attacked the position of the speaker, urging the arguments I often have heard since, and concluded by denouncing those engaged in the movement as meddlesome fanatics who wished to break the time-honored usages of good society, and injure the business of respectable men. At the conclusion of his remarks the tavern keeper and his friends got up a cheer, and the popular current of feeling was evidently against the strangers and their plan.

While the pastor was speaking, the old man leaned forward and fixed his dark eyes upon him, as if to catch every word. As the pastor took his seat, the old man arose, his tall form in its symmetry, and his chest heaving as he inhaled the breath through his thin dilated nostrils. To me, at that time, there was something awe-inspiring in the appearance of the old man as he stood, his full, dark eye upon the audience, his teeth shut hard, and a silence like that of death throughout the church.

He bent his gaze upon the tavern keeper, and that peculiar eye lingered and kindled for a moment. The scar grew red upon his forehead, and beneath the heavy brows his eyes glittered and glowed like a serpent's. The tavern-keeper quailed before that searching glance, and I felt a relief when the old man withdrew his gaze. For a moment more he seemed lost in thought, and then in a low tremulous tone he commenced. There was a depth in that voice, a thrilling sweetness and pathos, which riveted every heart in the church, before the first period had been rounded. My father's attention had become fixed upon the eye of the speaker with an interest I had never before seen him exhibit. I can but briefly remember the substance of what the old man said, though the scene is as vivid before me as any I ever witnessed.

"My friends, (said he) I am a stranger in your village, and I trust may call you my friends. A new star has arisen and there is hope in the dark night that hangs like a pall of gloom over our country."

With a thrilling depth of voice, the speaker continued: "Oh, God, Thou who lookest with compassion upon the erring of earth's frail children, I thank Thee that a brazen life serpent has been lifted, upon which a drunkard may look and be healed. That a beacon has burst out upon the darkness that surrounded him, which shall guide him back to honor and heaven—the bruised and weary wanderer."

It is strange what power there is in some voices. The speaker's voice was low and measured, but a tear trembled in every tone; and before I knew why, a tear dropped on my hand, followed by others like rain drops. The old man brushed one from his eye and continued:

"Men and christians! you have just heard that I am a fanatic. I am not. As God knows my own heart, I came here just to do good. Hear me and be just. I am an old man, standing alone at the end of life's journey. There is a deep sorrow in my heart and tears in my eyes. I have journeyed over a dark, beaconless ocean; all of life's brightest hopes have been wrecked; I am without friends, kindred or home! It was not so once."

No eye could withstand the touching pathos of the old man. I noticed tears on my father's eye-lids, and no longer felt ashamed of my own.

"No, my friends, it was not once so. Away over the dark waves which have wrecked my hopes there is a blessed light of happiness and home. I reach again convulsively for the shrines of household idols that once were mine, but mine no more."

The old man seemed to be looking away through vacancy upon some bright vision, his lips apart, and his finger extended. I involuntarily turned in the direction where it pointed, dreading to see some shadow invoked by its magic moving. He continued—

"I once had a mother. With her old heart crushed with sorrow she went down to the grave. I once had a wife—a fair, angel-hearted creature as ever smiled in an earthly home. Her eyes were as a mild as a summer's sky, and her heart as faithful and true as ever guarded and cherished a husband's love. Her blue eye grew dim as dim as the floods of sorrow washed away its brightness, and the living heart wrung till every fibre was broken. I once had a noble, a bright and beautiful boy, but he was driven out from the ruins of his home, and my old heart yearns to know if he is yet living. I once had a babe, a sweet, tender blossom; but these hands destroyed it; and it lives with One who loveth children.

Do not be startled, friends—I am not a murderer in the common acceptance of the term.—Yet there is a light in my evening sky.—A spirit mother rejoices over the return of her prodigal son. The wife smiles on him who came back to virtue and honor. The angel child visits me nightfall, and I feel the hallowed touch of a tiny palm upon my cheek. My brave boy, if he yet lives, would forgive the sorrowing old man for the treatment which sent him out into the world, and the blow which maimed him for life. God forgive me the ruin which I have brought upon me and mine."

To be concluded to-morrow.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz: the ease and comfort, the assured and really ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

THE LEGAL POTATO HOLE.—Near the beginning of the present century, a farmer, of broken fortune, came into Westerley, Rhode Island, and hired certain lands for cultivation, giving a portion of the products for the use of the land. He planted potatoes and secured an unusual crop. Not having storeroom of his own, he obtained consent of a landholder, and deposited his share of the potatoes in what the farmers call a "potato hole,"—that is, an excavation in the earth into which the potatoes were placed and covered with straw and earth in the form of a pyramid. On going out of the town into Connecticut, one of his creditors seized the opportunity, procured a writ and attached the "potato hole," whereupon another creditor, who was studying how to secure his dues, consulted with John Cross, Esq., and inquired what could be done.

The shrewdness of the legal professor at once suggested an open door. Mr. Cross made the proposition and proceeded to carry it into effect. A writ was issued by which an attachment was made not upon the "potato hole," but upon the "potatoes" in the "potato hole," specifying that the "potato hole" should be left upon the land where it was found. The plan was a success, and the first creditor came upon the stage only to find few potatoes in his hill.

PEARS.—A few years since many fruit-growers predicted that within five years the best of pears would be a drug in our markets. Everybody seemed to be planting pear-trees, and the prospect was good for a bountiful supply. But time showed that at least ninety out of every hundred made a total failure; consequently, pears are still scarce and command an exorbitant price. Is pear-culture a profitable business? Certainly it is, with those who are successful.

The causes of failure are really too numerous to name at this time; but among the best known are the following: The selection of new and untried varieties, which proved to be not adapted to the soil or location; unfavorable climate, causing the fruit to rust and crack, although the trees were apparently healthy; planting dwarfs upon light soils, where the borers destroyed the stocks, even if the tree would have succeeded if left unmolested; pear-blight, which has destroyed thousands of trees in locations which otherwise appeared to be the most favorable for their full development.

No culture and injudicious pruning, however, has probably killed more pear-trees than all other causes put together.—Hort. Recorder.

A QUESTION OF ETIQUETTE.—Mr. Editor:—There is one point of social etiquette which seems a constant source of embarrassment in society. When a gentleman is introduced to a lady, in nine cases out of ten he does not know whether to offer to shake hands or not. Some ladies cordially shake hands with a stranger, others with a profound bow step back a pace and in many cases the lady seems equally uncertain if she ought to shake hands with the party introduced. No one seems to be certain of what is the correct thing. Perhaps some correspondent in the polite circles will do us the favor to explain the law in the case. A general understanding on this point would be a great advantage to the community of social men and women. WINCHESTER.

[We imagine there is no universal rule on the point "Winchester" inquires about. At any rate, whether hands shall be shaken or not depends, we imagine, upon the lady. "Barkis" may be willing; but must wait to see how cordial the other party chooses to be in the greeting. The important query of our correspondent is like the question, whether you should or should not pass the knife and fork when you pass your plate at table, which, so far as we know, has never been definitely answered.]—Transcript.

ABOUT ROSSINI.—"Next to idleness," Rossini remarked one day, "I know no more delicious occupation than eating. What love is to the heart, a good appetite is to the stomach. The stomach is the chapel-master, who directs the great orchestra of our passions and sets them into motion. An empty stomach is as the bassoon or the piccolo-flute,—the one grumbling from sheer displeasure, the other yelling from desire for food; while the full stomach is the triangle of pleasure or the kettle-drum of joy.

As for love, I consider it the prima donna par excellence—the goddess which sings to us cavatinas,—gets the ear drunk and makes the heart leap for joy. Eating, loving, singing and digesting, are in truth the four acts of a comic opera, called Life, which vanishes as the foam of champagne. Who lets them pass without having enjoyed them, is a complete fool."

— Complaint having been made of disreputable proceedings at the masked balls in this city, the mayor has ordered the chief of police to enforce the statute prohibiting the assembling of masked parties.—Boston Advertiser.

—A Southern paper is opposed to the education of women as surgeons. It says that, suppose one were put under the influence of chloroform by such a doctor, "what is to prevent the woman from kissing you?"

—A great aid to the Temperance cause—Lemonade.

THE EQUITABLE

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES,

Office No. 92 Broadway, New York,

The most successful Life Insurance Company in the World.

All surplus premiums of profits returned to the Policy-holders, instead of being partially or wholly appropriated to the use of the Stockholders, as is the usage with all "Mixed" and "Proprietary" Companies.

Dividends made annually, from the start, and not postponed until the third, fourth or fifth year, as in most other companies.

Profits apportioned to the assured on the "Contribution plan," which is conceded to be the only equitable mode of division; and not by the mode adopted by many companies, which is grossly UNJUST to a large proportion of the Policy-holders.

Assets in Cash, - - - - $8,000,000.

(None of this is in the Note-of-hand of Policy-holders, as in many other Companies.)

Its Annual Income, - - $5,000,000.

(No portion of this is composed of Promissory-Notes, as in all Note-Companies.)

The Cash Income is constantly increasing with tremendous rapidity, and, as a necessary consequence, swelling the enormous cash accumulation which forms the security to Policy-holders.

All Premiums and All Losses Paid in Cash.

No Promissory-Notes to be deducted from the face of the Policy when it matures, as in all Note-Companies.

Next Dividend, February 1, 1869.
All participate who are insured prior to that date.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children so exposed to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or to shorten its sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the fear and suffering of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken or rent at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health were to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sound sleep; by revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It should only be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs inclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, husbands, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blighted—some not see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yea, counting millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head;
Matter and blood, mixed in the nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pump inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic pleas.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation ceases;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base]
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our case.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. G. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables of Mortality, facilities for insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1869.

THE INAUGURATION.— Shortly before noon of Thursday a grand procession of military and civic organizations, including Boys in Blue, and many dignitaries, escorted Gen. Grant to the Capitol where he took the oath of office as President of the United States, at 12 o'clock. Andrew Johnson was not in the procession.

Vice President Colfax was sworn in previously, and Mr. Wade declared the XLth Congress adjourned sine die. Mr. Colfax then called the new Senate to order and the Senators were sworn.

After the President had delivered the message (in front of the Eastern side of the Capitol) he withdrew into the Capitol, and then went out of the private entrance with Senator Cragin, and took a carriage and drove immediately home.

The Senate at once re-assembled, and then adjourned until Friday, without doing any business.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON on his last day, issued a farewell address to the People of the United States, in which he "swings round the circle," defends his Policy, growls over the Constitution, and barks at Congress and the Radicals. As acting president, he lost the confidence of the party that elected him, and did not gain the confidence of their opponents. His bitter words, therefore, with which he retires, are a mere brutum fulmen. A cotemporary addresses the following lines to his memory.

Farewell, oh, farewell Ex-President Johnson,
The nation rejoices at riddance of thee.
No chief e'er vacated the seat he was once on,
Whose exit the people were more pleased to see.
You've swung round the circle, your vetoes are over,
Your pardon there's none who will stoop to implore.—
But pray don't forget to leave that Constitution
And also on the flag you've so oft left before.

For the Chronicle.

WE FIGHT IT OUT ON THIS LINE.—The fourth of March brings us to the point where at least the Republican leaders can have an opportunity to turn the tables completely on their opponents. The bitterest proscription, has been waged against Republicans by those who have had charge of work at the Navy Yard. Clerks, mechanics and other laboring men have been selected for discharge for no reason but their loyalty, while copperheads and rebels of the deepest dye have easily obtained employment. Of the latter class there are now hundreds who will soon, very soon, give way to the men who have been so shamelessly proscribed.

The "whirligig of time" brings swift retribution, and the rebel sympathizers must go to the wall speedily, and give way to men who dared be true to their country in the dark days of rebellion, when cowards banded with traitors to decry Union victories and magnify defeats, and afterwards united in one grand bread-and-butter brigade, rallying to the support of Andrew Johnson that thrift might follow fawning. Yeoman of the grand old Union party, it is your turn now!

REPUBLICAN.

GRANDMOTHER WELLES retired from the office of Secretary of the Navy, (her term of office expiring by limitation,) on Thursday. Previous to the sad event the clerks of the Department called on her and expressed their regrets at the coming collapse. The old lady seemed much affected and could scarcely respond to the kind wishes of those who for eight years have been associated with her.

A crying time ensued in which the agitated and superannuated head of the Department feebly joined. The briny tears which had collected during her trip along the coast last summer, slowly trickled down her wrinkled cheeks, and the mourners departed. No more shall our sight be blessed with the vision of the old lady as she last appeared at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. No more will her smile of content be seen among us. Alars! and Alars!

G.

CHARACTERISTIC.— A violent rebel organ of doubtful veracity, which is a disgrace to the New Hampshire Press, attacks Messrs. Ela, Stevens and Benton for voting for N. G. Ordway for renomination as Sergeant-at-Arms of the National House of Representatives. A dispatch from Washington says that the above mentioned Congressmen did not vote in the caucus referred to, being debarred from so doing, as they have not yet been re-elected.

☞ The Good Templars had a social levee at their Hall on Wednesday evening and a good time generally. The Chroniclers express thanks for a sample of good things from the overflowing baetssk of refreshments. Success to the Good Templars and their cause!

The News.

Four years more of President Grant.

The Carlist movement in Spain has received a check by the arrest of some of its leaders, and the capture of arms and correspondence.

Advices from India say that the rebellion at Cabool was much exaggerated in the first despatches; one British soldier, instead of three hundred, was killed.

Andrew Johnson rid himself of a profusity of wind by a farewell address in vindication of his administration, containing a good deal of abusa of the majority in Congress, several vindictive allusions to the impeachment trial, and homilies on the Constitution.

A committee of gentlemen, headed by A. T. Stewart, waited on General Grant on Wednesday, paid him $65,000 for his house, and then presented a deed of the house to Gen. Sherman, stating that the balance of $100,000 would be forthcoming.

Five States have ratified the proposed suffrage amendment to the Constitution; —Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Nevada and West Virginia.

1000 fresh Spanish troops have arrived in Cuba.

Andrew Johnson signalized his departure from office by pardoning scoundrels generally, including the assassination conspirators Spangler and Arnold.

Mr. Levi Luckey of Illinois, formerly Hon. E. B. Washburne's private secretary, has been appointed confidential clerk to the President. This was President Grant's first appointment.

Congress.

Both houses passed the army appropriation bill, as reported from the conference Committee, on Wednesday; also the public credit bill. The army appropriation bill provides that no new enlistments or promotions shall be made, and that no new commissions shall be given, until the total number of infantry regiments is reduced to 25, and that the Secretary of War shall consolidate the infantry regiments to 25; that no appointments of brigadier-generals shall be made till the number is reduced to less than eight, and that the brevet rank shall not entitle any officer to precedence or command, except by special assignment by the President, which is not to entitle the officer to additional pay or allowance.

The Senate refused to concur in the joint resolution expressing sympathy with Spain and Cuba.

A resolution of thanks to Hon. B. F. Wade, for the ability and justice with which he has presided over the deliberations of the Senate, was passed.

After the transaction of unimportant business in the House, Speaker Colfax delivered a dignified farewell address.

Mr. Wilson of Iowa then took the chair as Speaker pro tem.

Mr. Woodward of Penn. rose and said that at the instance of his political friends, and as an expression of his own feelings, he offered the followig resolution:—

Resolved, That the retirement of the Hon. Schuyler Colfax from the Speaker's chair, after a long and faithful discharge of its duties, is an event in our current history which would cause general regret were it not that the country is to have the benefit of his mature talents and experience in the higher sphere of duty to which he has been called by the majority of his countrymen. In parting from our distinguished Speaker, the House records with becoming sensibility its high appreciation of his skill in parliamentary law, of his promptness of administering rules and facilitating the business of that body, of his urbane manners, and of the dignity and impartiality with which he has presided over the deliberations of the House. He will carry with him into his new field of duty and throughout his life the kind regards of every member of this Congress.

The resolution was put and adopted unanimously, and an engrossed copy of it, to be signed by the officers of the House, was ordered to be communicated to Mr. Colfax.

Mr. Pomeroy of N. Y. was then unanimously elected Speaker.

INAUGURATION DAY.— The bells of this city rang merrily on Thursday, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, and flags were displayed in all sections of the city. People generally seemed pleased to be relieved of the incubus which has paralyzed the business interests of the country for nearly four years.

A Presidential Salute of 21 guns was fired at the Navy Yard.

☞ The best-informed Republicans are confident of the election of their nominee in this Senatorial District by about 200 majority, of which a large portion is claimed in this city.

☞ General Schofield will probably soon take command in San Francisco in place of General Halleck.

A GOOD ONE— Grant's Inaugural.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S MESSAGE.

Citizens of the United States:—Your suffrage having elected me to the office of President of the United States, I have in conformity with the Constitution of our Country, taken the oath of office prescribed therein. I have taken this oath without mental reservation and with the determination to do to the best of my ability all that it requires of me. The responsibilities of the position I feel but accept them without fear. The office came to me unsought. I commence its duties untrammelled. I bring a conscientious desire and determination to fill it to the best of my ability and to the satisfaction of the people On all leading questions agitatitating the public mind. I will express my views to Congress and and urge them according to my judgment, and when I think it advisable will exercise the Constitutional privilege of interposing a veto to defeat the measures which I oppose; but all laws will be faithfully executed whether they meet my approval or not. I shall on all subjects have a policy to recommend, but none to enforce against the will of the people. Laws are to govern all alike, those opposed to well as those who favor them. I know no method to secure the repeal of bad or obnoxious laws so effective as their stringent execution.

The country having emerged from a great rebellion, many questions will come before it for settlement in the next four years which the preceding administration never had to deal with. In meeting these, it is desirable that they should be approached calmly, without prejudice, hate or sectional pride, remembering that the greatest good to the greatest number is the object to be attained. This requires security of person and property and free religious and political opinion in every part of our common country, without regard to local prejudice. All laws to secure these ends will receive my best efforts for their enforcement. A great debt has been contracted in securing to us and our prosperity the Union. The payment of this principal and interest as well as the return to a specie basis as soon as it can be accomplished without material detriment to the debtor class or the country at large, must be provided for. To protect the National honor, every dollar of government indebtedness should be paid in gold, unless otherwise expressly stipulated in the cohtract.

Let it be understood that no repudiator of one farthing of the public debt should be trusted in public place, and it will go far towards strengthening a credit which should be the best in the world, and will immediately enable us to replace the debt with bonds bearing less interest than we now pay.

To this should be added a faithful collection of the revenue and strict accountability to the treasury for every dollar collected, and the greatest practicable retrenchment in expenditure in every department of the government. When we compare the paying capacity of the country, now, with ten States still in poverty from the effects of the war, but soon to emerge, I trust, with greater prosperity than ever before, with its paying capacity 25 years ago, and calculate what it probably will be twenty-five years hence, who can doubt the feasibility of paying every dollar required less than now we now pay for our useless luxuries.

Why, it looks as though Providence had bestowed upon us a strong box. The precious metals are locked up in the sterile mountains of the far West, which we are now forging the key to unlock to meet the very contingency that is now upon us.

Ultimately it may be necessary to increase the facilities to reach these riches. It may be necessary also that the general government should give its aid to secure this access, but that should only be when a dollar of obligation to pay secures precisely the same sort of a dollar as is in use now, and not before. While the question of specie payment is in abeyance, the prudent business man is careful about contracting debts payable in the distant future. The nation should follow the same rule.

A prostrate commerce is to be rebuilt and industry encouraged. The young men of the country, those who from their age must be its voters twenty five years hence, have peculiar interest in maintaining the National honor. A moment's reflection as to what will be our commanding influence among the nations of the earth in their day if they are only true to themselves, should inspire them with national pride. All divisions, geographical, political and religious, can join in this common sentiment.

How far the public debt is to be paid or specie payments resumed, is not so important as that a plan should be adopted and acquiesced in. A united determination to do so is worth more than divided councils upon the method of doing.

Legislation upon this subject may not be necessary now nor even advisable, but it will be when the civil law is more fully restored in all parts of the country, and trade resumes its wonted channels.

It will be my endeavor to execute all laws in good faith, to collect all revenues as imposed and to have them properly accounted for and economically disbursed. I will to the best of my ability appoint to office only those who will carry out this design.

In regard to foreign policy, I would deal with nations as equitable law requires individuals to deal with each other, and I would protect the law-abiding citizen, whether of native or foreign birth, wherever his rights are jeopardized or the flag of our country floats.—I would respect the rigbts of all nations, demanding equal respect for our own. If others depart from this rule in dealing with us, we may be compelled to follow their precedent. The proper treatment of the original occupants of this land, the Indians, is one deserving of careful study. I will favor any course towards them which tends to their civilization, Christianization and ultimate citizenship. The question of suffrage is one which is likely to agitate the public so long as a portion of the citizens of the nation are excluded from its privileges in any State. It seems to me very desirable that this question should be settled now, and I entertain the hope and express the desire that it may be by the ratification of the 15th article of amendment to the Constitution.

In conclusion, I ask patient forbearance, one towards another throughout the land, and a determined effort on the part of every citizen to do his share towards reuniting a happy Union, and I ask the prayers of the Nation to Almighty God in behalf of this happy consummation.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the trouble will be less, for the store is in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to obtain a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to this article, during the period of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their consequences; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if prepared in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to have no prejudice against all diseases. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is realized on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch, he sells so many more watches that he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch the nearly as large profit it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use the kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those interested only to our injury, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch can be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, they may be sure of getting just what they want, that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured of any one pattern, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our product at the lowest possible profit, and to make large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy has been successfully carried out, and the result is, that today we manufacture twice as many watches as all other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services have been of importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we maintain a watchful eye, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, our being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

American Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the dearjumpy invariably decline orders at a retail character.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its rounded way, and wherever it has long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved equally adapted for the cure of the prevailing variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe. f20

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the public, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and benevolent man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f19

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes healthy blood; the blood goes to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the order in which they operate.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will loosen it, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing the obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice, to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

Dyspepsia is a season why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to check the fever, and in doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, and they will do their work in this order: the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and who weighed 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his friends all thinking promptly that he had hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally with his principal office, Southwest corner of Mulberry, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ya4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

For the Chronicle.

Mr. Burr's Lectures.

Messrs. Editors:—The fifth and concluding lecture of Mr. Burr's course was given on Sunday evening last,—subject, the Ethnology of the Bible.—The objects of the lecture were to prove that, so far from being antagonistic to the Bible, the science of Anthropology is in perfect harmony with it; that the creation of many different races of men is implied in the book of Genesis; and that the command "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature," was meant to include only the white race. In support of the first proposition Mr. Burr read verses from Genesis I, II and VI, and claimed that Tom Paine's objections to this account of the creation had never been answered (and could not be answered) by any one but an Anthropologist who holds to a plurality of creations of human races; that every scientific man who holds this belief is a Christian, and every one who does not is (so far as he knows) an infidel; and that apparent discrepancies in the Old Testament can be reconciled in no other way than by admitting more than one creation.

Mr. Burr does not regard the biblical account of the creation of Adam and Eve as a history of the creation of the human race, but as a "mythical account of the creation of the race through whom the Messiah was to come," (the Jews,) many other races existing on the earth at the time of their creation. These latter races he thinks are referred to in the passage "the sons of God (meaning of Adam) saw the daughters of men, (the other races) that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose."—[If this is the true reading, does it not seem that the races "amalgamated" at a very early period of the world's history?]

The command to "preach the gospel to every creature" (or "all nations") Mr. Burr regards as being merely a hyperbolical expression—whether of the Savior or of his biographers was not stated—similar to "and showing him all the kingdoms of the world," and "famine was over all the face of the earth"—neither of which statements can be accepted literally. He also argued that "every creature" would include oxen, snakes &c., and no one would suppose the gospel was to be preached to them. Who the gospel is to be preached to I did not learn (except from inference)—whether to the Jews only, to all the whites, or to all races but the negro. Mr. Burr is clear, however, that the negro is not included in the Christian dispensation, as he is not mentioned in the Bible, the "Ethiopian" not being a negro. Whether any or all of the "lower types of man" are to be saved, or indeed if they have souls, I did not learn, though I followed the lecturer, from first to last, as closely as any one of his hearers. Mr. Burr does not say they are soulless, however, but only maintains that Christianity has nothing to do with them. How this style of religion may seem to others I do not know, but to me it appears a little selfish.

The lecturer spoke with great effort, having a very bad cold. Had he been able to speak more at length he might possibly have cleared up all my doubts, —as it is, I do not know whether the Jews were created in order that through them a Messiah might come to save the Jews,—whether Genesis describes the creation of the Jews only or of the whole white race,—who the gospel is to be preached to,—or when or where, —all I have learned is that the negro is not to be preached to, as he is beneath the range of Christianity.

Mr. Burr quoted a Dr. Harris as authority for saying, "once admit that climate could have caused the divergence of the races, and we do not want any other God, (to create, I suppose,)—we do not need any." This seems a somewhat strong expression, whether uttered by "the very eminent orthodox divine, Dr. Harris," or by any one else. Many good Christians have believed in the one-race theory, without drifting into infidelity.

In Saturday's lecture it was stated that some startling revelations of "Voodooism" in New Haven would be made on Sunday evening, showing the negro's total unfitness for the white man's religion. On Sunday evening I heard only that some person told Mr. Burr that he (or she) paid a half-dollar to be allowed to remain in a negro prayer-meeting, and that much extravagant conduct was carried on! and even this Mr. Burr did not see. Not admissable evidence. PAKEHA.

City Council, Thursday Eve. March 4.

In Board of Aldermen, the resolution from the Common Council several weeks ago, to refer the subject of selling the State Street School House and the Lot on Middle Street, to the joint Committee on City Lands and Buildings, was concurred in.

Petition of G. W. Marston and others for State St. School House to be fitted for a Ward Room, was referred to same Committee.

Likewise a new petition from Father Murphey, numerously and respectably signed, asking the sale or lease of the same premises for his Catholic School of 250 children and 4 teachers, was similarly referred.

Com. on petition for Bridge over North Mill Pond, reported in favor of granting a hearing as soon as can be legally notified. Adopted.

Com. on South Mill pond Bridge were granted another week to report.

Bill of C. C. Cushman for three fire Extinguishers, after a warm debate, was referred back to Committee of purchase (the Mayor and Fire Dep. Com.) for approval or revision.

Petition of Wm. Bodge to be appointed to take the Census in Ward Two, accepted and laid on table.

Com. of inquiry as to demanding License fee on Velocipede Halls, reported in favor of so doing. Referred back to same Com. for further report. In the debate, it came out that Billiard Tables pay no license.

Joint Com. on Streets, on petition of Wm. Plaisted to appropriate $500 for sprinkling in front of City Buildings, (Schoolhouses, Engine Houses, &c.,) public Squares, crosswalks and the like,—reported in favor of substituting $200. Referred back to same Com. for further details.

The same Fire Police as last year were reappointed, without pay.

George E. Barsantee was re-elected Police Officer, having 6 votes to 2 for J. Sullivan Rand.

Com. on Police were requested to report on the case of officer Parks, who was reported as not on duty.

In Common Council, no business transacted.

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS of Ward Two meets this evening at the Court House at seven o'clock. All interested will take notice.

The Ward Three Caucus will be held at the same place at 7 1-2 o'clock or as soon as the Ward Two caucus adjourns.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

To the Supreme Judicial Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS. Respectfully represents the City of Portsmouth that on the eleventh day of February last past, the Selectmen of the City of Portsmouth, at their regular meeting, voted to discontinue the highway leading from Market Street, formerly Pore Street, to the Ferry Way, of the Piscataqua River, known as the "Ferry Ways," laid out by the Court of General Sessions of the Peace, on the fourteenth day of February, A. D. seventeen hundred and seventy-five.

Said highway is no longer needed for the accommodation of the Public.

Wherefore said City requests said Court to consent to the discontinuance of the same.

March 1, 1869. CITY OF PORTSMOUTH. By FRANK JONES, Mayor.

In the Supreme Judicial Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

This petition having been filed in the office of the Clerk of said Court this first day of March, A. D. 1869.

It is Ordered that said City of Portsmouth notify all persons interested in the subject matter of said petition to appear at the next Term of said Court, to be held at Exeter on the second Tuesday of April next, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order thereon to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County of Rockingham, for three successive weeks before said term.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

A true copy of the original petition, and of the original order thereon.

THE OLD MAN'S STORY.

Concluded from Yesterday.

He again wiped a tear from his eye. My father watched him with a strange intensity, and a countenance unusually pale, and excited by some strange emotion.

"I was once a fanatic, and madly followed the malign light which led me to ruin. I was a fanatic when I sacrificed my wife, children, happiness and home, to the accursed demon of the bowl. I once adored the gentle being whom I wronged so deeply.

I was a drunkard. From respectability and influence I plunged into degradation and poverty. I dragged my family down with me. For years I saw her cheek grow pale and her step weary. I left her alone amid the wreck of her home idols, and rioted at the tavern. She never complained, yet she and the children often went hungry.

One New Year's night I returned late to the hut where charity had given us a roof. She was still up, shivering over the coals. I demanded food, but she burst into tears and told me there was none. I fiercely ordered her to go and get some. She turned her eyes upon me, the tears fast rolling down her pale face.

At this moment the child in the cradle awoke and set up a famished wail, startling the despairing mother like a serpent's sting. "We have no food, James; I have had none for two days. I have nothing for the babe. My once kind husband, must we starve?"

That sad, pleading face, and those streaming eyes, and the feeble wail of the child maddened me, and I—yes, I struck her a fierce blow in the face, and she fell forward upon the hearth. The furies of hell boiled in my bosom, and with deep intensity, as I felt I had committed a wrong. I had never struck Mary before, but now some terrible impulse bore me on, and I stooped down as well as I could in my drunken state and clinched both hands in her hair.

"God of mercy," exclaimed my wife, as she looked up into my fiendish countenance, "you will not kill us, you will not harm Willie," as she sprang to the cradle and grasped him in her embrace. I caught her again by the hair, and dragged her to the door, and as I lifted the latch the wind burst in with a cloud of snow. With a wild "ha! ha!" I closed the door and turned the button, her pleading moan mingled with the blast and the sharp cry of her babe. But my work was not complete. I turned to the bed where lay my eldest son, and I snatched him from his slumbers, and against his half awakened struggles, opened the door and threw him out. In agony of fear he called me by a name I was not fit to bear, and locked his little fingers in my side pocket. I could not wrench that frenzied grasp away, and with the coolness of a devil as I was I shut the door upon his arm, and with my knife severed the wrist."

The speaker ceased a moment, and buried his face in his trembling hands, as if to shut out some fearful dream, and his deep chest heaved like a storm-swept sea. My father had arisen from his seat and was leaning forward, his countenance bloodless, and the large drops standing out upon his brow. Chills crept back to my heart, and I wished I was at home. The old man looked up, and I never since beheld such mortal agony pictured upon a human face as there was on his. He continued:

"It was morning when I awoke, and the storm had ceased, but the cold was intense. I first secured a drink of water, and then I looked in the accustomed place for Mary. As I missed her, for the first time, a shadowy sense of some horrible nightmare began to dawn upon my wandering mind. I thought I had dreamed a fearful dream, but involuntarily, opened the outside door with shuddering dread.

As the door opened, the snow burst in, followed by a fall of something across the threshold, scattering the snow, and striking the floor with a hard sharp sound. My blood shot like red hot arrows through my veins, and I rubbed my eyes to shut out the sight. It was—R—Oh, God, how horrible! it was my own injured Mary, and her babe, frozen to death!

The ever true mother had bowed herself over the child, to shield it, and had wrapped all her own clothing round it, leaving her own person stark and bare. She had placed her hair over the face of the child, and the sleet had frozen it to the white cheek. The frost was white in its half opened eyes, and upon its tiny fingers. I knew not what became of my brave boy."

Again the old man bowed his head and wept, and all that were in the house, wept with him. In tones of low, heart-broken pathos, the old man concluded:

"I was arrested, and for long months raved in delirium. I woke, was sentenced to prison for ten years, but no tortures could equal those in my own bosom. Oh, God! no! I am not a fanatic; I wish to injure no one. But while I live, let me strive to warn others not to enter the path which has been so dark and fearful a one to me. I could see my angel mother, wife and children beyond this vale of tears."

The old man sat down, but a spell as deep and strange as that wrought by some wizzard's breath rested upon the audience. Hearts could have been heard in their beating, and tears to fall. The old man then asked the people to sign the pledge. My father leaped from his seat and snatched at it eagerly. I had followed him as he hesitated a moment with his pen in the ink; a tear fell from the old man's eye upon the paper.

"Sign it, young man, sign it. Angels would sign it. I would write my name ten thousand times in blood if it would bring back my loved ones."

My father wrote his name; "Mortimer Hudson."

The old man looked, wiped his tearful eyes, and looked again, his countenance alternately flushed with red and death-like paleness.

"It is—no, it cannot be, yet how strange," muttered the old man. "Pardon me, sir, but that is the name of my brave boy."

My father trembled and held up his left arm from which the hand had been severed. They looked for a moment into each other's eyes, both reeled and exclaimed—

"My own injured boy!"

"My father!"

They fell upon each other till it seemed their souls would grow and mingle into one one. There was weeping in that church, and I turned bewildered upon the streaming eyes around me.

"Let me thank God for this great blessing, which has gladdened my guilt burdened soul," exclaimed the old man, and kneeling down, poured out his heart in one of the most melting prayers I ever heard. The spell was broken, and all eagerly signed the pledge, slowly going to their homes as loth to leave the spot. The old man is dead, but his lesson he taught the grandchild on the knee as his evening sun went down without a cloud, will never be forgotten. His fanaticism has lost none of its fire in my manhood's heart.

WILD STRAWBERRIES.—John M. Carter, a young farmer in the eastern part of Concord, brought into that city the last season and sold, 598 quarts of field hulled strawberries. They were all picked by himself and neighbors in a small part of the Suncook valley, and brought from 25 cents to 45 cents a quart. That limited section is said to be the most prolific in wild strawberries of any place in New Hampshire. Many families purchase with their berries all the groceries they use through the summer. Mr. Carter last season, from a piece of ground fifteen feet square, gathered eleven quarts of strawberries which he sold at 35 cents a quart. In this connection it may be stated that a few seasons ago William H. Currier of Millville, Concord, raised on 33 square rods of land, 400 quarts or boxes of the cultivated or English strawberries.—Some of Mr. Currier's berries measured an inch and a quarter in dimeter.—Pat.

SLEEP.

BY JOHN JAMES PLATT.

The Mist crawls over the River,
Hiding the shore on either side;
And, under the veiling mist forever,
Neither hear we nor feel we the tide.

But our skiff has the will of the River,
Though nothing is seen to be pass'd;
Though the mist may hide it forever, forever,
The current is drawing as fast.

The martins sweet from the far-off town
Fill the air with their beautiful dream;
The vespers were hushing the twilight down
When we lost our oars in the stream.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

One of the above large and splendid Steamships will leave Pier No. 42, North River, foot of Canal St. New York, at 12 o'clock, M., on the 11th, and 21st of every month, (except when those dates fall on Sunday, and then on the preceding Saturday,) for AspinWALL, connecting via Panama Railway with one of the Company's Steamships from Panama for SAN FRANCISCO, touching at ACAPULCO.

Departures on the 1st and 21st connect at Panama with Steamers for the SOUTH PACIFIC and CENTRAL AMERICA Ports. Those of May 1st touch at MANZANILLO. Departure of 11th each month connects with the new steam line from Panama to AUSTRALIA and NEW ZEALAND.

For Japan and China.—Steamer of March 11th connects closely at San Francisco with steamer GREAT REPUBLIC, leaving there April 3d, 1869, for Yokohama, Hong Kong, &c., &c.

One Hundred Pounds of Baggage allowed each adult. Responsible parties accompany baggage through, and attend to ladies and children without male protectors. Baggage received on the dock the day before sailing, from steamboats, railroads and passengers who prefer to send down early. An experienced surgeon on board. Medicine and attendance free.

For freight or Passage Tickets or further information apply at the Company's ticket office, on the Wharf, foot of CANAL ST., NORTH RIVER, NEW YORK, to F. R. BABY, Agent: or to the Agents for New England, C. L. BARTLETT & CO., 16 Broad street, BOSTON. Je20 1yd

HORTICULTURAL QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.—We take the following from Tilton's Journal of Horticulture, for February:

Which are preferable for planting—fully ripe or unripe potatoes? We should prefer those not fully ripe, of fair size. We think they would throw more vigorous sprouts than those fully or over-ripe.

What one variety of grape would you recommend, all things considered? what one variety of strawberry to plant for market purposes? what variety of currant? For the one grape, the Concord; for the one strawberry, the Wilson; for the currant, the La Versaillaise.

What dressing shall I use on my lawn?—Ashes is the best thing if you have not got very fine stable manure. There are some advantages in using a manure that does not have mixed with it more or less weed-seed. Superphosphate and guano are good, but rather expensive; though we should not advise the constant use of the latter.

Next spring, I intend to transplant some large evergreens; and I wish to have your opinion as to whether I shall do it in April, May or June. As I find there is a difference among those who profess to be wise on this subject, I am at a loss what to do. We say, transplant evergreen trees in the spring, just when you would deciduous trees, before they start much. They will live if set later; but our experience justifies us in recommending May as the best time of the year, and early in that month.

A few years ago, I set out about twenty dwarf apple trees worked on the Paradise stock, expecting to get fruit from them in a short time; but in this I have been disappointed. They have grown very vigorously, but have given little fruit. They are six to eight feet high. What shall I do with them to bring them into bearing?—They make so much growth that they cannot bear: check their growth, and they will at once show fruit. Sow the land to grass; stop manuring, or pinch in the new growth in midsummer, and so force them to make fruit buds.

RIGHT.—The Lawrence American says: Pat Casey was sentenced for one year for assaulting a police officer, and adds—Judge Lord's opinion in the case, was concluded thus: I have determined that, as far as in me lies, officers shall be protected. Prisoners shall not be taken out of their hands, nor shall they be subjected to assaults and insults. If it is to be understood that officers can be insulted with impunity, then there is no safety for them in the execution of the laws; but it is to be understood that a serious punishment awaits a man who assaults an officer in the discharge of his duty, then our officers will do it with more confidence. I look upon it as a very high offence and one where the prisoner cannot be let off with a fine or a light sentence

☞ A very curious railroad accident happened recently at Mirzapore, India. A large elephant, seeing the red light and the smoke, concluded the noisy locomotive was an enemy to be summarily demolished. He accordingly placed himself on the track, and met the strange creature head on, with trunk and tusks. The result was a dead elephant and 11 cars capsized. Only one man was killed.

—"I suppose you have a great many paper callers at this season," said a bland old gentleman, unrolling a subscription paper before Spriggins the other day, after calling that irritable individual from his dinner to the door.—"Paper collars; no sir! never had one of the blasted things in my life," said Spriggins, and, slamming the door, he left the missionary, a petrification of astonishment, in the vestibule.

—There are six hundred immense trees in the Mariposa region of California, of which the largest is one hundred and two feet in circumference. The average height of these trees is about two hundred and fifty feet, and many of them approach (but only three or four exceed) one hundred feet in circumference. Their age is calculated to be about one thousand years.

—In view of the scene attending the inauguration of a Vice-President four years ago, the country is to be congratulated that Mr. Colfax is a temperance man. * * * * What impeachment failed to do, "the whirligig of time" has accomplished. "Peace hath her victories." Let us have peace. —Boston Advertiser.

—The British Admiralty recently sold on old ship for £2,180. The purchaser took out of the hulk the copper bolts and other fixtures, and sold them back to the government for £4,221!

—The sale of horseflesh as food increases in France, but by no means so rapidly as the more earnest advocates of the movement could wish.

The Daily Telegraph, commenced at Nashua March 1st, is a neat evening paper, conducted by the same able and faithful hands that manage the weekly paper of the same name.

A SONG FROM THE SUDS.

Queen of my tub, I merrilly sing,
While the white foam rises high;
And sturdily wash, and rinse, and wring,
And fasten the clothes to dry;
Then out in the free fresh air they swing,
Under the sunny sky.

I wish we could wash from our hearts and souls
The stains of the week away,
And let water and air by their magic make Ourselves as pure as they;
Then on the earth there would be indeed
A glorious washing day!

Along the path of a useful life,
Will heart's ease ever bloom;
The busy mind has no time to think
Of sorrow, or care, or gloom;
And anxious thoughts may be swept away,
As we busily wield a broom.

I am glad a task to me is given,
To labor day by day;
For it brings me health, and strength, and hope,
And I cheerily learn to say—
'Head you may think, Heart you may feel,
But hand you shall work alway!'

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And what is to be regretted that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Yet Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of inking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken down in night sweats—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or medicines were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This was strongly recommended using at once—with a effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was the transfer of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into general use. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
Which way you are going.
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, e'en the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yes, countless millions, dead;
Dare you be one?
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs from your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't think this idle rhyme I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
The harmless on the bowel or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood "rushes to the heart's base";
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. H. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 6w

NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress.
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Features, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the sum of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

THE NEW CABINET.

E. B. Washburne, Sec. State.
A. T. Stewart, Sec. Treasury.
E. R. Hoar, Attorney General.
Gov. Cox, Ohio, Secretary Interior.
Adolphe E. Borie, Secretary of Navy.
Senator Cresswell, Maryland, P. M. Gen.

GEN. GRANT'S CABINET.—Hon. Elihu B. Washburne, of Illinois, the new Secretary of State, has been a member of the National House of Representatives for the past sixteen years, and had been re-elected to the present Congress. He has a national reputation as an honest and incorruptible man, and will be Gen. Grant's most trusted adviser.

Alexander T. Stewart, the noted millionaire, of New York, Secretary of the Treasury, is one of the most successful business men in the country. He was born in Ireland and is the oldest member of the Cabinet. Judging by his success in his own business, the country can but rejoice at the choice of such an eminent financier for such a responsible position.

Hon. John A. J. Cresswell of Maryland, Postmaster General, is a former United States Senator, whose term expired in 1867. He is a firm Republican and excellent representative of Southern loyalty.

Ex-Governor J. D. Cox of Ohio, Secretary of the Interior, was chosen Governor of that State in 1865. He is a reliable Republican.

Judge E. R. Hoar of Massachusetts, Attorney General, has been connected with the Republican party from its inception.

Adolphe E. Borie, Secretary of the Navy, is a Pennsylvanian, and has heretofore taken little if any active part in politics. He is said to be a retired shipbuilder.

Gen. Schofield remains in charge of the War Department for the present, no nomination for Secretary of War having been made by President Grant.

The Cabinet selected by the President is a strong and able one, and we know of no reason why the selections shall not satisfy the Republican party, and all loyal men who have no personal feeling in the matter. It is a cause for general congratulation that no naval officer was selected as Secretary of the Navy, and we doubt not the new incumbent of the office will prove to be a practical business man, well versed in the duties of the office. Gen. Grant has chosen his own Cabinet, and in so doing has shown an independence which will, we hope, be imitated by his successor.

GEN. GRANT on entering the White House found the following dispatch waiting for him.

BERLIN, Prussia, March 4th, 1869.
President General Grant, White House, Washington D. C.—
My cordial congratulations on this day. BISMARK.

—The Richmond Enquirer says it is a safe rule, if you don't remember anybody's name in Richmond, to call him "Colonel."

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX'S FAREWELL TO THE HOUSE. — The following neat and impressive speech of Mr. Colfax, on resigning his position as Speaker on the third of March, is worthy of perusal.

Gentlemen:—The opening of the legislature to-day, at the close of which I must enter upon another sphere of duty, requires me to tender to you the resignation of the office, which by your kindness and confidence I have held, to take effect on the election of a Speaker for the brief remainder of the session. The parting word amongst friends about to separate is always a regretful one, but the farewell which takes me from this hall, in which so many years have been spent, excites in me emotions which it would be useless to attempt to conceal.—The fourteen years during which I have been associated with my representatives of the people here, have been full of eventful legislation, of exciting issues and of grave decisions, virtually affecting the entire republic.

All these, with the accompanying scenes which so often have reproduced in this arena of debate the warmest of feeling of our antagonizing constituencies, have passed into the domain of history, and I but refer to them to express the joy which apparently is shared by the mass of our countrymen, that the storm cloud of war which so long darkened the National horizon has at last passed away, leaving our imperilled Union saved, and that by a decree of the people more powerful than Presidents, or Congresses, or armies, liberty was proclaimed throughout the land to all the inhabitants thereof.

Rejoicing over the present condition of our republic amongst the nations of the earth, with our military power and almost illimitable resources exemplified by the war that developed them, with our rapidly augmenting population and welcome at our gates to the oppressed of all other climes, with our vast and increasing agricultural, manufacturing and mineral capacities, with our advantages on the two great oceans of the globe, and our almost completed Pacific Railroad uniting these opposite shores and becoming a highway, the United States of America commands that respect among the powers of the world which insures the maintenance of all its national rights, and security of all the citizens from oppression or injustice abroad.

Nor is this all. The triumphal progress of free institutions here has had a political influence beyond the sea. The right of the people to govern, based on the sacred principles of our revolution, that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, is everywhere advancing—not with slow and measured steps, but with a rapidity that, within a few years, has been signally illustrated in Great Britain, Spain, Italy, Prussia, Hungary and other lands. May we not hope that by the moral but powerful force of our example, fetters may everywhere be broken, and that some of us may live to see that happy era when slavery and tyranny shall no more be known throughout the world? I cannot claim that in the share I have had in the deliberations and legislation of the House as a member and an officer, I have always done that which was wisest and best in word and act, for none of us are infallible; but that I have striven to perform faithfully every duty, and that, devoted, as all know, to the principles that I have deemed correct, the honor and glory of our common country have always been paramount and above all party ties, I can conscientiously assert, and that I have sought to mitigate rather than to intensify the asperities which the collisions of opposing parties so often evoked, must be left to that record to verify.

For the responsible duties of the last six years I have endeavored to administer the rules you have enacted for your guidance both in the letter and in spirit, with an impartiality uninfluenced by political associations and antagonisms, and I may be pardoned for the expression of gratification, that while no decision has been reversed there has been no appeal, sometimes taken as they are by a minority, as a protest against power under the rules of a majority, which has ever been decided by a strict party vote.

Farewell to the hall which in its excitement and restless activities so often seemed to represent the throbbings and intense feelings of the national heart. If, in the quickness with which a presiding officer here is often compelled to rule, hour after hour, on parliamentary points, and in the performance of his duty to protect all members in their rights, to advance the progress of public business and to preserve order, any word has fallen from my lips that has unjustly wounded any one, I desire to withdraw it unreservedly. I leave this hall with no feeling of unkindness to any member with whom I have been associated in all the years of the past, having earnestly tried to practice that lesson of life which commands us to write our enmities on the sand, but to engrave our friendships on the granite.

And finally, fellow-members and friends, with sincere gratitude for the generous support you have always given me in the difficult and often complex duties of the chair, and with the warmest wishes for your health, happiness and prosperity, one and all, I bid you farewell.

☞ Andrew Johnson pocketed a number of bills which he did not approve of, and they therefore did not become laws. Among the list are the following; the act reorganizing the judicial system; the act for reducing the navy and marine corps; the act for the further security of equal rights in the District of Columbia; and Mr. Schenck's bill for strengthening the public credit.

—Marshal Benedek, aged eighty, has an infant son.

HONOR TO THE 40TH CONGRESS.—The Washington special of the Boston Recorder said, a few days ago:—

The country has reason for rejoicing, because of the fact that the Fortieth Congress will expire without passing any one of the hundred extravagant "jobs" that have lain at its doors all winter. It was expected last fall, that the moment the Presidential election was over, the lobby in the corridors of the capital would be unusually grasping and successful. While the Republican Party and the Congress was on trial before the people, its conduct would be cautious. "Jobs" stood no chance then in either House, but with the elections out of the way, and thirty or forty new men in from the South, with very slight responsibility to their constituents, it was feared that the immense "rings" would succeed in robbing the Treasury of millions.

Now not one of the "jobs" has been adopted. This is a great fact, and it covers this Congress with honor. I confess that I am surprised at the result, for, generally speaking, the Democratic members have not been ready to join with the economical Republicans, and vote down doubtful appropriations. They have thrown the entire responsibility upon the Republicans, and the victory is theirs alone, in a majority of the cases.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be eluded. Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union has on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a gro cery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

Congress.

The House, after a wrangle over the credentials of some of the members, organized on Thursday by choosing Hon. James G. Blaine of Maine, Republican, as Speaker. Blaine had 136, and Michael C. Kerr of Indiana, Democrat, 57.

The names of Congressmen from Georgia were omitted from the roll-call, because their credentials do not state to what Congress the claimants were elected; those of Louisiana, because the certificates do not state that the claimants were duly elected; and in two South Carolina districts conflicting credentials were signed by the State officers. One hundred and ninety-three members answered to their names.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make, as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he still the gainer, by larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make occasional sales of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of reasoning which leads the inexperienced to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably influenced by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold over two hundred and fifty thousand watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask the owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answers. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the larger the number of articles of the same description by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, the Company has always been to sell our productions at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our production we have constantly improved the QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the revival of nearly all inventions intended to improve the watch, and have adopted all those and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, those services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, our being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a respectable profit, we commend the Waltham Watches, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health ?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and purges out the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means will desire to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Benington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, cole, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, swellings, bruises, old sores, headache, mosquito bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded.—All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

DR. TOBIAS—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attack of croup it is invaluable. I have no hesitation in commending it for all the uses it is professed to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and there is no clime in which it has been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted—for cures of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhea, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost its hold of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by the skillful and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer still continues to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the age of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulceration or Morbid State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine is recommended by the eminent physicians as the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Gravel, Gleet, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, or both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Nervous Irritation, Nervous Debility, Dimness of Sight, Universal Dullness, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life; Impurities of the Blood, &c., such as Scrofula in its advanced stages, for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6 50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They must all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the bile starts from the liver into the bowels and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

DR. SCHENCK, the inventor of these medicines, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has no pain in the side or breast.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Liver complaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and a tonic, and the alkali in the seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to stop the cough; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, but he says, cough loose and free. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Ulcerated Throat, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased; either there are abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In these cases what is to be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make good blood out of the food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to get well of their own accord, the food will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to gain in flesh, the cough will stop of itself, as the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely to all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, is consulted every day (except Sundays, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless) without charge, when he will give advice, free of the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless particular advice may be desired. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 36 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ja1

Sterling Silver Ware, and

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ County Commissioners are exceedingly prone to lay out new Roads or Bridges wherever asked for. In fact, we hardly recollect an instance of their refusal to grant a petition for a new highway. Part of the explanation of this may be, that all roads, however desirable and reasonable, are almost always opposed by somebody; so that the Board come to regard such opposition as entitled to but little consideration.

As a special instance—we presume it is known by but few of our readers, that about thirty years ago, a petition for an extension of Deer Street westerly to the foot of Ann (now Langdon) Street, along the shore of the Millpond, was petitioned for, from the Selectmen of this town. It was refused by them, but on appeal to the Courts, was granted by the County Commissioners, and ordered to be built. But as it would necessarily have been very costly, the Selectmen were shrewd enough, instead of uselessly opposing it further, to buy off the petitioners, and so the road was never built. It looks now as if such a road could have been but of little use, but who can tell what the opening of it might have done for that vicinity?

☞ Mr. C. C. Cushman, as Agent for the Fire Extinguisher Co., of Boston, has furnished this city with three of these well approved implements.—The trade was made by the Mayor, and Mr. Cushman's bill is disputed by him. Quite a warm debate between the two occurred at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, and His Honor ordered Mr. Cushman from the room and threatened to send for the City Marshal to arrest him. While we shall not pretend to say who had the better of the argument, we doubt whether the ruling of Mayor Jones was more in accordance with Cushing than with Cushman?

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.—At the Caucus held in Ward Two, Friday evening, Messrs. William P. Jones, Charles Robinson, William W. Henderson and Frank W. Miller were nominated as candidates for Representatives to General Court.

At the Ward Three Caucus Messrs. Alfred M. Hoyt and William A. Vaughan, Jr., were nominated.

Communication.

QUERIES?—Whether it is more reputable for the Democratic candidate for Senator to offer a pauper $10 to remain at the Almshouse over election, than for false reports to be circulated that the Republican nominee promised work at the Navy Yard to voters?

Whether it is true that the said Democratic candidate, who is also Mayor of the City, and a big brewer, owns the tenement house called House of Blazes, and often disorderly, in Hanover Street?

Whether, also, he owns or finds funds for, a drinking saloon on Congress Street?

Whether, further, the Republican Commissary General of the State, has opened a drinking saloon under his auspices, on Daniel Street?

And, finally, whether any so-called Republicans will aid to place such a man in any office?

STRAIGHT OUT REPUBLICAN.

THE SUBSCRIBER would gratefully acknowledge the receipt of thirty-six dollars and fifty-three cents ($36.53) by the hand of Mr. John S. Rand, as Treasurer of the City Mission, contributed by the North Parish for the benefit of the poor in this city.

Also five dollars from the Methodist Society for the same object.

N. MEDDURY, City Missionary.
Portsmouth, March 5th.

☞ Miss Nancy Harrold, whose decease we chronicle this morning at the age of 95, died very suddenly. She had been out of her house within five weeks, and ate her supper and smoked her pipe as usual Thursday evening; and on being carried to bed, referring to the Inauguration, she said, Hurrah for the Democrats!—to which party she always claimed to belong—though if she knew where it was, it is more than we do.—Her death Friday morning was easy and quiet as possible — her feeble life closing almost unnoticably.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—2 per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ Among the Auctions to-day, Mr. Hackett will dispose of several shares of desirable Vessels, all registered at this port. See his advertisement.

☞ Mr. John F. Smith, of Massachusetts, has been appointed Agent of the Kearsarge Cotton Mill in this city, to relieve Mr. Thompson, who temporarily succeeded Col. Stearns.

GOV. HARRIMAN AT THE TEMPLE.—The announcement that Gov. Walter Harriman is to address the people of Portsmouth and vicinity on political topics next Monday evening gives general satisfaction and will doubtless cause the Temple to be crowded to its utmost capacity. Gov. Harriman was ever a favorite political speaker in this vicinity, and no one could have been introduced here better calculated to stimulate Republicans to the performance of their duty.

INAUGURATION DAY.—Flags were hoisted or flung out from all our public and some of our private buildings on Thursday, and all loyal hearts exulted as for an hour at midday the church bells

Rang out the old and in the new,
Rang out the false and in the true.

There was also an inauguration ball at Congress Hall in the evening, during the night, and pretty well into the next morning.

☞ Don't forget Mr. Adams' Free Temperance Lecture, at the Temple, this (Saturday) evening.

☞ The Velocipede race for a silk hat came off at the Rink of Messrs. Deering & Gammon on Friday evening; and was won by Mr. Wm. N. Hanscom, a clerk in the Post Office, against five competitors, in 1:17. Distance,—five times round—about 900 feet.

☞ Ward One Caucus this evening.

New Hampshire Items.

A woman, professing to be a poor widow, begs for money, in Manchester, to buy a store; pretending to have a room, sometimes at one place, and sometimes at another. The City Missionary offered to lend her a Stove, but she did not take it. She wanted money, and is an imposter, as most street beggars are.

At Winchester, Mr. Alvan Holman, while at work alone upon his new shop, by the breaking of a defective round, fell from his ladder and was soon after found dead. An examination showed that his neck was broken. His wife had just called him to dinner, and he had promised to come "in a minute." Not coming as was expected, search was made. His age was seventy.

The Coos Republican says that, with six feet of snow on the ground, and the thermometer at thirty-four degrees below zero, it is hard to believe, even the almanac, that spring has come.

Sandown, last Saturday, voted 70 to 28 to take five per cent of its town valuation in stock of the Nashua and Rochester Railroad.

The gold ore recently discovered on the land of the Shakers at Enfield was tested and found to be worth $179 to the ton. Last week workmen began to blast and found the ore existed only four feet one way by three the other, and all further operations have been suspended.

Concord has had eighty-three days of uninterrupted sleighing up to last Monday. Nearly six feet has fallen there this winter.

A double house in Ashland, occupied by James M. Ames and Daniel Pierce, was burned on Tuesday last. Both buildings and contents were insured.

The First Congregational Society in Concord, have a new Choir, members of the Society, who give satisfaction, and gratify themselves in the performance of the musical part of public worship.—They are unpaid volunteers.

Mr. Rufus Ward of Candia died very suddenly, about 10 o'clock, Wednesday night. He had not complained of illness at all, but after eating a bowl of oysters, fell forward and died instantly. He was about 50 years of age, and was a soldier in the late war. He was an honest and generous hearted man.

Mr. Christy Gregg of Deering has 25 potatoes, of the Davis Seeding variety, which weigh 14 pounds. Mr. G. says he has for 56 years planted potatoes smaller than a hen's egg, two in a hill, and that he always gets satisfactory crops. Last year he raised 300 bushels.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

MONDAY, MARCH 8, 1869.

The News.

The United States Senate has confirmed the following nominations:—Lieutenant-General W. T. Sherman to be General; Major-General Philip H. Sheridan to be Lieutenant-General, vice Sherman, promoted; Brigadier-General John M. Schofield to be Major-General, vice Sheridan, promoted; Colonel C. C. Augur to be Brigadier-General, vice Schofield, promoted; Horatio Fox, Consul at Trinidad; Geo. H. Peirson, Postmaster at Salem, Mass.; Commodore Powell to be Rear-Admiral.

W. D. Todd, who has held the position of clerk to Speaker Colfax for several years past, has now been appointed secretary to the Vice-President.

A conspiracy to kill United States Attorney Courtney, of New York city, for prosecuting the whiskey ring, is reported. Two desperadoes were hired to murder him.

The government examiner appointed to examine the affairs of the Fourth National Bank of Philadelphia, which suspended on the 23d ult., reports that the whole of the capital stock ($250,000) has disappeared, but depositers will secure their money. The defaulting cashier has vanished. The charter of the bank has been purchased by a number of Philadelphia gentlemen, who have subscribed a new capital, and will attempt to reorganize the concern.

The Spanish government announces that it has prepared a proclamation of amnesty for all political offences, the promulgation of which has been delayed by the conspiracies recently discovered.

A Republican State Convention met at Atlanta, Georgia, on Friday, and passed resolutions asking Congress to reorganize the legislature, reseat the colored members, and establish a loyal government.

In the general jail delivery with which he signalized the close of his term, Andrew Johnson gave a full pardon to James D. Martin, the defaulting cashier of the Hide and Leather Bank, of Boston.

President Grant has issued an order revoking the order of February 23d, relieving Paymaster-General Brice, and restoring him to duty.

A serious quarrel has broken out between the Erie and the Northern Central Railway Companies, and in consequence the latter is cut off, at Elmira, N. Y., from all its northern connections, causing great inconvenience to the travelling public.

The Cuban government is banishing large numbers of political prisoners to the penal station of Fernando Po.

The suffrage amendment to the Constitution has been ratified by the legislatures of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Maine and Illinois, in addition to the five other States heretofore reported.

Hon. E. A. Rollins having tendered his resignation of the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue to President Grant, the latter authorized the acceptance of the same, to take effect upon the qualification of his successor, and has directed a response, in which he expresses his appreciation of the heavy responsibilities and duties which the office imposed upon Mr. Rollins, and the fidelity and integrity with which they have been discharged.

The diplomats regard the President's Message as calculated to encourage Russia to advance on Constantinople, supported by Prussia, as it is evident that Great Britain must settle the claims of the United States or fight. The complimentary dispatch of Bismark is also significant in the eyes of these professional diplomats.

In Clement's bedstead factory, at Hillsboro' Bridge, on Saturday, Enos Carter, one of the workmen, caught his left hand in a planing machine, and his whole arm was drawn through to the shoulder, mangling the limb in a terrible manner. The unfortunate man is unmarried and 23 years of age.

Congress.

The Senate, on Friday, unanimously confirmed the Cabinet appointments, in a half hour after the names were sent in by the President, the interim being occupied in complimentary speeches favoring the nominees.

Gen. Sherman was confirmed as General of the Armies, and Gen. Phil. Sheridan as Lieutenant General.

The House elected Republican officers as follows: Clerk, Edw. McPherson of Penn., 128 to 59; Sergeant-at-Arms, N. G. Ordway of N. H., 121 to 53; Doorkeeper, O. S. Buxton of N. Y., 124 to 54; Postmaster, Wm. S. King, 120 to 56. Adjourned to Tuesday.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S CABINET.—Mr. Washburne's ill health may cause his retiracy from the office of Secretary of State in a few weeks. It is doubtful also whether A. T. Stewart will accept the office of Secretary of the Treasury, for a long period. Gen. Schofield, Secretary of War pro tem may not remain in that office a month.

Messrs. Cresswell, Cox and Hoar will doubtless remain permanently.

Adolphe E. Borie, the new Secretary of the Navy, is a business man who amassed a fortune in the East India trade. He voted the whig ticket as long as there was a whig ticket to vote, but took comparatively little interest in politics before the war. When the rebellion broke out, Mr. Borie was one of those public spirited Philadelphians whose liberality gave the city such a noble name in the mouths of the volunteers of every State. He gave with profusion, and without ostentation. He aided in founding the Union League, and was one of the officers of the organization in his own city. He has been a consistent republican in the years since the war. President Grant introduces him to the country with the indorsement of his own personal acquaintance and friendship. He is a gentleman of culture, high standing and great wealth, and is now a Philadelphia banker.

President Grant informed Admiral Farragut on Friday that the appointment of Elihu B. Washburne was complimentary, and that he would soon retire from the State Department.

Saturday evening dispatches say that Mr. Stewart finds himself unable to act as Secretary of the Treasury by a provision in the act approved Sept. 2, 1789, establishing the Treasury Department. This provides that no person appointed to any office instituted under that act shall directly or indirectly be concerned or interested in carrying on the business of trade or commerce, or be owner in whole or in part of any sea-going vessel, or purchase any public lands, or any other public property.

Mr. Borie, it is said, will decline the office of Secretary of the Navy.

The Tribune dispatch says President Grant had offered the portfolio of the Treasury to Mr. Boutwell, and that gentleman had declined to accept.

THE G. A. R'S AND THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.—We find in the Boston Journal a letter from Portsmouth which explains itself, and shows conclusively that the attacks on the Grand Army of the Republic charging that it is a political organization are without foundation:

"The Manchester Union of yesterday has a communication headed "A Soldiers," and purporting to have been written by a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic urging the members thereof "to vote for Gen. Bedel" for Governor next Tuesday, basing his theory upon a set of resolutions passed by the convention of delegates of the Grand Army of the Department of New Hampshire held in January at Manchester. As a member of that convention, I will explain my idea and that of all others with whom I have conversed, the true purport of those resolutions.

The Grand Army of the Republic does not influence the vote of its members in the slightest degree, no more than the orders of Masons, Odd Fellows, or any similar organization. Its objects are charity, and the cultivation of fraternal feeling between those who served in the army or navy during the rebellion, without regard to party or sect. Its peculiar province is the welfare of disabled soldiers and sailors, and the support of the widows and orphans of their deceased comrades.

The resolutions referred to, were passed with reference to the session of the National Convention, which will occur before the next convention of the Department of New Hampshire, and the delegates to the National Convention were instructed to present them at that time. I quote from the resolutions: "Resolved, that we claim at the hands of the people a fair and reasonable fulfillment of their pledge, and such offices in the gift of the Executive of State and Nation as can be filled by soldiers, sailors and marines, be given to them, and especially to those who have been disabled by wounds or disease."

It will be observed that the above resolution expressly states that these offices referred to are those in the "gift of the Executive of State or Nation" and not elective offices. The Grand Army claim that the people of this country are pledged to provide for disabled soldiers and sailor in this way, and they ask a fulfillment of that pledge, no matter what political party is in power.

Representatives from both political parties in this State were delegates to the Convention at Manchester, which passed the resolution referred to, and no comrade is bound by any obligation to vote for the candidate of any political party.

The communication, if written or dictated by a comrade of the G. A. R., is unauthorized by the order of the Department of New Hampshire of the Rev. Mr. Kellogg of Sanbornton Bridge, is so nearly recovered from his recent accident that he preached twice on the 28th ult.

J. Baker of Newport, has a good lot of smart hens. They laid 1685 dozen of eggs during 1868, of which 1612 dozen were sold for $355.26. Value of the fowls sold, $10; expense of keeping $125; clear profit $240.26. The "hen fruit" was mostly sold in Boston. The fowls are of the White Leghorn brood; some mixed with Bolton Grays and bantams, and number about a hundred and fifty.

A singular occurrence transpired at Laconia a few Sabbaths since. The Unitarian society of the place have been engaged the past year in erecting a new house of worship, the sheeting of which, with the exception of the spire, had just been completed and painted, the staging and ladders not having been removed. On the Sabbath morning in question, as the people were assembling for worship, a well dressed stranger entered the village, coolly ascended the ladders, planted his feet upon on the very top-most point of the steeple, for a few moments surveyed the landscape and those who were watching him in terrified groups, turned a somersault, gazed about a few moments more, descended to the ground and walked out of town without uttering a word or manifesting any emotion but of calm stolidity. He is thought to have been an escaped lunatic, by those who witnessed the perilous feat.

A widow woman named Gilmore was found frozen to death between Fisherville and West Concord on Friday. She was 35 years of age, an intemperate person and an operative in the factory at West Concord.

THE KING OF BAVARIA, kindly permitted Doct. J. C. Ayer to have a copy taken of Rauch's celebrated colossal statue of Victory, which belongs to the Bavarian crown and stands at the entrance of the Royal Palace at Munich. The Doctor had it cast in bronze, and has presented it to the City of Lowell, where it stands in the Park and symbolizes the triumphs of both freedom and medicine. Her manufactures are the pride of Lowell, and foremost among them is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her people are fully remembered by the unnumbered multitude who are cured by them of afflicting and often dangerous diseases.—Boston Journal.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others near by to send for a pamphlet containing descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their equal to the best of Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full value, and above the market value, in the increase of crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used on my Tobacco and Potatoes the Poudrette and sure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever seen in this neighborhood."

Danl. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the place of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave me as much as any Guano, Phosphate, and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

—At a late fire in Morrisville, Vt., on Monday, the instruments belonging to the Morrisville Cornet Band were destroyed. It is supposed that the fire originated in a box of saw dust into which a lighted cigar had been thrown.

— A Philadelphia lady informed her country cousin that "opera bouffe" was French for "musical beef." He was afterwards heard inquiring in a store for a pair of "Gant's gloves."

— Two thousand citizens of Indianapolis signed the pledge at the beginning of the year, and eleven of them are believed to have kept it thus far.

— A new umbrella is patented. Though of gingham it is water-proof, and it is impossible for the stoutest gale to turn it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

In a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year; the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debilitating dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of the constitutive or retentive powers of the organs. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulceration or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and exciting the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Gravel, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, or both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superceding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhea, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that argument which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to the Waltham watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold more than half of all watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask the owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles produced by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as any the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL WATCHES JUST AS GOOD AS THEY DO, AND AFTERWARDS TO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our production we have not sacrificed QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve watches, and have adopted all those which, in our judgment, have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have once had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equalled in this or any other country.—In addition to this, we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, which are being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit materially more reasonable by the Company, it invariably declines orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which should apply "cleanser"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One may have recovered his own health by this means tells you how to recover health and encourage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, published at the Gazette for twenty years, at Benning'ton, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, PA., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth,—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when health had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your BRANDRETH PILLS the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the benefit they have been to me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored.

Sold by all Druggists. Dr. Brandreth's office, Brandreth House, New York. f20

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, swellings, bruises, old sores, headache, snake bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded.—All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

DR. TOBIAS—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for nearly two years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attack of croup it is invaluable, and I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for bruises, scalds, cuts, burns, sprains and all other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably adapted for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased, from the first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite returns, the digestive powers become good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient begins to cough; the disease is and gets well.—This is the only way to cure a consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for by the use of the Pills the matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has all rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, and causing a flow of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing but good results should follow; calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to stop the fever, thinking they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial tubes, adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the above medicines, and since then hundreds of many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 15 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 32 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

—Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1jas

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON,

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," with the Author's Address. It treats upon the EFFECTS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and all DISEASES of the SEXUAL and GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, young and middle aged. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters are the following: The Mysteries of Life,—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Diseases of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect.—8 pages, 32 columns,—published on the 1st of February and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

Holloway's Ointment.—Unlike the dangerous nugents that temporarily arrest pain by a deadening paralyzing process, this pure and wholesome vegetable salve promotes vital action in the sore, ulcerated or bruised flesh to which it is applied, and by this means enables nature to counteract diseased action in the part affected, and to restore its soundness. This is the philosophy of its operation. It is simple, rational, and experience, which is better than theory, proves it is true. Sold by all Druggists.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

BUT ONE MORE DAY is left to work for the election of the Republican nominees for State and other officers. The Republicans of this city owe it to their brethren in other cities and towns to redeem this city. The Ward One Republicans promise a big gain over the city election and they are an energetic set of workers. Ward Two promises to roll up a rousing majority for Stearns, Ela, Bailey and the Legislative candidates. The Ward Three Republicans will bring out every man, and calculate to reduce the majority somewhat in Sebastopol.

Everything points to a glorious victory in this Senatorial District. Portsmouth Republicans are not to be taunted hereafter by any insinuations that this city is Democratic or that Frank Jones has got a lease of it.

The city can and will be easily carried high and dry if Republicans temporarily absent will come on and help recover their lost laurels. Persistent and untiring energy will ensure a victory. Republicans of Portsmouth it is your last chance at Frank Jones. Give him a rebuff that he will remember to the last day of his political life.

GOVERNOR HARRIMAN, whose eloquence has stirred hundreds of thousands to action in many States of the Union, whose name and fame as an orator were years ago established, and who so manfully led the gallant hosts of New Hampshire Republicans to victory at the last two State elections, speaks to-night at the Temple, and will have a rousing reception. We advise all who wish to get good seats to go early. None who have heard him once will need urging to go again. The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnishes the music during the evening.

BREVETTED.—Capt. Frank E. Goodwin of this city has been brevetted Major by the President, by and with the advice of the U. S. Senate, for gallant action on the field of battle and meritorious services. Major Goodwin is of the firm of Goodwin Sweetser & Co., and is as modest and unassuming as most brave men are. He is deserving of any honors and emoluments too.

☞ Messrs. Harding & Doane of this city are having built by Augustus Stevenson at York, a fast sailing schooner of 105 tons, designed for mackerel fishing. She is to be called the Velocipede. Mr. Cyrus Burnham of Salisbury is building for the same parties a superior schooner of 103 tons, designed for the cod fishing business and to be named W. H. Y. Hackett.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS. — The Ward One Republicans nominated Messrs. William H. Y. Hackett, Edward D. Coffin, Daniel J. Vaughan and Isaiah Wilson as candidates for Representatives to the legislature, on Saturday evening, completing the nominations in this city.

APPOINTMENT.— Willard Graves of Portland, formerly Postal Clerk on the Boston and Portland train over the Eastern Railroad, has been promoted to Mail Agent vice Hoyt removed.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD COMPANY have adopted a new style of marking bundles, &c. A metal tag, with the name of the station, instead of chalk marking, is now used.

APPROPRIATE.—The last dance at the Inaugural Ball in this city, Thursday night, was styled on the engagement cards—"Good Bye, Andy."

NEWCASTLE.—Mahlon Bickford, Esq., was nominated as candidate for the legislature by the Republicans, on Friday evening.

CONFIRMATION.—Thos. L. Tullock, Jr., of this city, has been confirmed by the U. S. Senate as Paymaster in the Navy.

WHAT THEY SAY.—The New York papers of Saturday comment on the Cabinet as follows:

The Tribune says the new Cabinet emphatically means business.

The Herald says Grant has chosen his men for business and as his subordinates, and with not the remotest idea that they are to be his masters or his coequals in the administration.

The Times says that, in the very freshness of its character and in the fact that its members are business men rather than politicians, and are likely to make the practical interests of the country their first care, we see ground for believing that the Cabinet will, by its practical working, vindicate the wisdom of its selection.

The World says Grant has made such a Cabinet as no politician would have advised; such a Cabinet as no newspaper could have conjectured—a Cabinet which fills his political opponents with wonder.

Saturday morning was the coldest in Concord this season, the thermometer being twenty degrees below zero.

Personal Dialogue.

Uncle Toby.—Our mind has been very freely expressed on the subject of Temperance, from pulpit, platform and press, these forty years and more.

Manchester News.—It is a pity that the abominable practice of intemperance has still been persisted in, notwithstanding all the sound argument that must have been expended in advocacy of temperance, during the forty years the Chronicle has labored for reform. We knew the editor was sound, but did not know he was accustomed to fill the pulpit. However, this qualification will not make him less esteemed here of elsewhere.

U. T.—The Chronicle has not labored forty years, for the very obvious reason that it is not yet twenty years old.—But Uncle Toby, whose saying is quoted above, was an editor and writer for papers many years before the Chronicle was born;—and being a total abstinent long before he heard the name, he naturally wrote on the side of Temperance. So when, between thirty and forty years ago, he entered the pulpit, he deemed preaching temperance a part of his appropriate work; and to his best ability, he has labored in this line every year, as frequently as opportunities presented. On the platform he has spoken for temperance hundreds of times,—and spent for it at least ten fold more than he ever received for lectures on the subject.

News.—Who is Uncle Toby? Well, no matter, since he appears to be a sensible man and disposed to do right.—His acknowledgement that "he knows beer and money have been used very freely in several late elections, sometimes with success, and sometimes with failure," shows us that he is willing that the truth should be told in regard to this matter of purchasing votes, and that politically he is free from the imputation of such traffic himself; but his moral suasion, in our belief, will not amount to a row of pins, in stopping the use or abuse of intoxicating drinks.

Uncle T—was one of Mrs. Partington's rather numerous Carpet-Bag Family, and was the writer of old stories for that paper; the name then adopted has been worn ever since, and is as well known here as need be. He is much obliged by the above compliments; and will not say how much his moral suasion has done, or will do. But he cannot believe that Moral Suasion is useless, on this subject or any other! The use, and the abuse, of intoxicating drinks, are not entirely stopped, to be sure, and perhaps they cannot be, by Moral Suasion alone. What then?—Does it follow that it amounts to nothing? We think not.

If we should ask any minister or member of the Five Evangelical Churches, which have been holding Revival Meetings here for two months,—Have you stopped all the sin in the city, and converted all the heretics?—we think they would say No. And then, if we should add that their efforts therefore would not amount to a row of pins—they would reply, "It don't follow: we have not done all we wished, but we have done something; our labor is not in vain."

So of temperance effort of the Moral kind. Many men and women, well known here, have been reformed and saved by these means in these years; not a few of them have closed their earthly course virtuously; and a cloud of number remain, steadfast and immoveable.

THE NEW U. S. SENATORS who have been sworn in are:

Thomas H. Bayard of Delaware, Arthur J. Boreman of West Virginia, Wm. A. Buckingham of Connecticut, Matt H. Carpenter of Wisconsin, Eugene Casserly of California, Zachariah Chandler of Michigan, George F. Edmunds of Vermont, Reuben E. Fenton of New York, Abijah Gilbert of Florida, Hannibal Hamlin of Maine, D. D. Pratt of Indiana, Alexander Ramsey of Minnesota, Carl Schurz of Missouri, John Scott of Pennsylvania, Wm. Sprague of Rhode Island, Wm. M. Stewart of Nevada, John P. Stockton of New Jersey, Chas. Sumner of Massachusetts, Allan Thurman of Ohio, Thomas W. Tipton of Nebraska, William T. Hamilton of Maryland, and Wm. G. Brownlow of Tennessee.

New Publications.

The Church Union, under its new editor and proprietor, Rev. Crammond Kennedy, is greatly improved, in tone and temper. It is quite as able as before, and it has a greater variety of matter; but the acrid bitterness that formerly flavored the whole, has been extracted, and christian courtesy infused in its stead. The editorials now exhibit the same mildness and candor which we perceive in reading Mr. Kennedy's work on Communion.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs. ☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease. ☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests fall existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time. ☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

WHAT SHE SANG.

"Typ me a ballad, ladye fayre,
My ladye, a ballad typ;"
And ye man he twirled ye black mustache
That covered his upper lip.

She lays aside her 'broiderie—
For bys love she stryves to wyn—
And to a weird-like ayr the ladye fayre
Attunes her mandolyn.

"I do not care for a wild romance
Of ye days of old," says he,
"But rather I'd hear, if my ladye please,
Some touching melodie."

And ever ye ladye's music book
Ye gallant soldier leans,
While she sings with a sweet and angel voice,
"Captain Jinks of ye Horse Marynes!"

NAMES.—In no way have our ancestors shown more good sense than in retaining the beautiful, euphonious Indian names of our mountains, lakes and rivers. We seldom think, when using the words so frequently, that these names were given by the Indians, long before they were seen by white men.—For instance, our own Suncook is the old Indian name, meaning, place of wild geese; Soucook, place of wild cats; Contoocook, place of crows; Merrimac, place of swift water; Piscataquog, place of many deer; Swamscott, pleasant water place; Winnepesocee, beautiful water of the highlands; Kearsarge, the high place. Cocheco, Saco, Piscataquog, Connecticut, Pemigewasset, Ossipee, Coos, Souhegan, Pennochunk, Ashuelot, and in fact most of the other rivers in the State, retain their beautiful Indian names.

Chichester, Epsom and Barnstead, were named by the proprietors for towns in England,—no other towns in the United States have adopted these names. Gilmanton, formerly Gilmantown, so named from the large number of proprietors by the name of Gilman, who moved from Exeter to settle that place. Canterbury and London were named for two Lords in England. The four counties were named for Governor Wentworth's four intimate friends,—Earls Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsboro, and Cheshire. Penacook, after a long quarrel concerning boundary lines with the town of Bow, was called Concord. Nottingham, named for the Earl of Nottingham. A few of the settlers in the northern part of the town were set off as a township and called Northwood.

Another part of Nottingham was called Deerfield from the large number of deer found there. One huge old buck was caught, a flag fastened to his horns, driven to Portsmouth and presented to Gov. Wentworth,—he incorporated the town and called it Deerfield.

But the origin of Pittsfield is more interesting than all. When it was decided to divide the town of Chichester, in 1781, the great question was, what name to give the northern half. It was during the Revolutionary War, about the time that William Pitt, Earl of Chatham, made his famous speech in favor of the American Colonies. No speech ever sent such a thrill of joy through the United States as that. The praise of Pitt was on every tongue, and our forefathers, wishing to perpetuate the name of one who had done so much in their behalf, decided to call the town Pittfield, but their descendants forgot the interesting circumstance before fifty years had passed.—Suncook Valley Times.

A LOBSTER TAKING HIS DINNER.—A lobster is a particular fellow in his food. I have been watching one in my marine aquarium. If a portion of food be thrown to him, he immediately sets his long horns to work to ascertain the whereabouts of his dinner. If he does not like it, he at once pushes it away from him, with the attitude of an epicure, who bids the waiter take away a plate of meat he does not fancy. If the food is agreeable to him, he munches it up, moving his jaws in a peculiar way, like a weaver making a blanket. He tears his food into large pieces, leaving the actual pounding to be done by the very peculiar internal teeth, which are found in the lining of the stomach.

When the lobster goes out for a "constitutional," and is not in a particular hurry, he carries his great claws in front of him, well away from the ground. He "walks" upon the little legs, which are underneath his body, while he keeps his horns moving in front of his nose, like a blind man tapping the flags with his stick as he plods along, led by his dog; hence I conclude the lobster is shortsighted. If the least thing alarms him, he scuttles backward on his little legs, which move with the rapidity of a centipede. If he does not go fast enough in this way, he suddenly snaps his tail toward him, like a man suddenly closing his hand, and flies backward with a jerk, like an India rubber band snapped in half.

He always goes into his cave tail foremost, and he makes the most wonderful good shots at the entrance. I really think the lobster must have an eye in his tail somewhere. Our pet lobster is not willing that the secrets of her toilet should be exposed to vulgar gaze, so the first night she was in the tank she artfully collected cockle and oyster shells, and made a trench around herself, after the fashion of the Romans when they took possession of a hill top. A branch of seaweed forms a canopy over her head, and she is at this minute in a house of her own making, a regular "compound householder," with no taxes to pay.

☞ While Gen. Grant was delivering his inaugural address, little Nellie Grant was lifted over the shoulders of the intermediate spectators, and sat down by the side of her father, where she remained for some time unseen and unnoticed by him, so smiling, happy and brightly innocent, that her presence seemed to add a gleam of sunshine to the scene, and the incident was the occasion for many expressions of pleasure and admiration.

A FIRST RATE NOTICE. — The Congregationalist of March 4, says:—

The significant epitaph with which Inspiration eternized the bad Jehoram was this: "He reigned in Jerusalem eight years, and departed without being desired." The great majority of the American people would doubtless vote that epitaph to the official life which ends to-day, in the highest place of the nation.

Nominated to the Vice Presidency by a mistake; inaugurated while too drunk to talk straight; made President by an assassination to which he has of late been showing clemency by as near an approach to amnesty as was possible to those already hanged; stolidly despising perhaps the most glorious opportunity which any age ever offered to any man; playing false almost from the beginning of his real power, not only to Republicans who elevated him to office on the pledge that he was one of themselves, and would carry out the policy which they believed vital to the life of the Republic, but to loyal men of all parties.

Devoting his official years mainly to the endeavor to thwart, by all the vast and varied possibilities of the executive function, at once the endeavors of Congress and the will of the people; chiefly effective in pardoning counterfeiters and other scandalous criminals as fast as the courts could convict and incarcerate them; and notorious in private life for the worst vice which can degrade official station:

This person, conceited, obstinate, insolent, treacherous, profligate, disgusting, "departs" to his private life in Tennessee, "without being desired." That he may abide there in merited obscurity, devoting the remainder of his days to preparation for a lowering future, and repentance over a misspent past, can scarcely be other than the universal wish—though it may fail to become the general hope.

—An old lady lately applied for a pension in Indiana as the widow of a soldier of 1812, stating that her husband was lost on the Ohio River in 1847.—The department replied that the soldier was still living and receiving a pension in Tennessee, and the lady is now after the truant of twenty-two years.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were to themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

SOILING COWS.

Editors Country Gentleman:— I have practiced soiling cows for over fifteen years, and it has enabled me to more than double the value of two farms; I am now on the third, and if any one doubts the result of my labors on this one, let him call in about three years from this time and see for himself. The first farm, 40 acres of poor hard clay land, cost $845.50, and with good economy would not keep two cows and one horse. Before I left it I kept 6 cows, 6 calves, 2 yearlings and a span of horses, and had hay to sell.

I exchanged it for another slip-shod farm containing 31 acres which was valued at $1750. This place gave me only three tons of poor hay the first year. I had already become fully convinced of the utility of soiling. I put on one horse, a yoke of oxen and 7 cows—all fed in the stable most of the time: and the third year I cut over 30 tons of hay, besides raising wheat, oats, potatoes, fruit, etc., for home use. Two years ago I sold the farm for $5000. I have again relieved Mr. Slip-shod of his load—took his 25 acres and gave him $3000. Here I have three cows in the stable, working at the old trade of making manure and milk.

The horse is a noble and useful animal, but the fat, sleek, quiet, good-natured cow, that sets her right hind leg back out of the way, and then gives a pailful of clean, rich, yellow milk, provides more comforts and luxuries for a family than any other domestic animal we possess. Then why not study her comforts, and gratify her in some of her wants and wishes, in return for her favors done us?

Suppose in winter she has no clean, warm bed to lie on, or perhaps gets a drink only once in twenty-four hours, and that from a creek or pond chilled with ice and snow—who can tell how much cream is to be extracted from her milk to warm this ice water up to the temperature of her own body? What farmer thinks of subsisting for weeks or months on one article of food alone, or how would he relish his meals without a particle of salt during the week, and on Sabbath morning have a dish of salt set before him for a desert?

A SMALL FARMER.

GOOD POLICY IN ADVERTISING.—The real estate dealers in Chicago have been holding a meeting and fixing up an organization that they call a union. The main thing under discussion at the meeting, was the price of advertising in the Chicago newspapers. It is very curious that the dealers seemed to think that one newspaper was as good as another to advertise in, and that they should discriminate against those that charged high prices. The fact that an advertisement in a paper that charged twelve and one-half cents per line might be worth ten times as much to the advertiser as if it were in a paper charging four cents a line, did not seem to occur to the dealers.

And several of them were so idiotic as to talk of running up the circulation of a newspaper with cheap advertising. There is nothing that kills a newspaper as fast as cheap advertisements. They fill up the space in which the paper could be made interesting, and, being unprofitable, the whole concern sinks. The only healthy policy is to charge a good price for advertising in proportion to circulation—that is, the number of papers circulated, and the classes of persons among whom they are circulated—and thus obtain a large revenue out of a small space, and use the larger portion of the paper for reading matter of general interest, keeping up the circulation and increasing it, and with it maintaining and advancing the value of space.

The sickliest and most hopeless printed sheets, by mistake called newspapers, are those in which there are great masses of advertising, cheap and nasty, tumbled in without order, cared for by no one, and therefore worthless.—Cincinnati Commercial.

SOIL FOR THE GRAPE.—It is a curious fact that very rich and highly manured land has rarely produced a grape that would yield a high quality of wine. The grape that contains the most saccharine matter will make the best wine, and the different varieties differ widely in the proportion of sugar. In Italy and in Sicily the very finest and sweetest grapes grow on the rocky rubbish of volcanoes, and those that grow on loose rocky soils or along hillsides covered with rocks are often the best.—These facts should teach us not to select the richest soils, and not to stuff them with organic manures, for the grape.

Either a tough old lady,—or a very tough story.—We think the latter, especially that part about the three pensions.

VELOCIPEDE!

BY J. M. FLETCHER.

The shades of night were falling fast,
As through Hardscrabble village passed
A youth, in curious bob tail rig,
Upon a curious thingumajig,
Velocipede!

His eye, exultant, seemed to say,
Old fogy travelers, clear the way,
And like a new tin fish-horn rang
The accents of his nasal twang,
Vel-horse-ipede!

The way-side tavern met his gaze;
He saw the bar-room's cheerful blaze;
Above, the spectral hill-side rose,
And dreadfully he blew his nose.
Velocipede!

"Try not the height" the old man cried,
"Try not the frowning height astride
That treacherous whirligig uncouth!"
But still kept on his ride, the youth,
Veloc-high-pede!

"Oh! stay," the maiden said, "and rest
Thy softish head upon this breast!"
A tear stole sweetly down his phiz,
But closer still he hugged to his
Velocipede!

"Beware!" that rolling stock was made
For rinks and roads of lighter grade!"
This was the peasant's last good-night;
A voice replied far up the height,
Velocipede!

A cow-boy on the dark hill side
Belated, saw it; "Jinks!" he cried,
"Old Satan's loose or I'm mistaken!"
And climbed a tree to save his bacon,—
Velocipede!

At break of day as mountaineard
A pious farmer drove his herd,
A voice cried through the startled air,
And gave the man a dreadful scare,
Velocipede!

A traveller, quite deceased, was found,
Although his legs went round and round,
Still grasping in his hands of ice
The fragments of that strange device,
Velocipede!

There in the twilight cold and gray,
Amid the wreck of things he lay,
And echo, like a falling star,
The moral sounded, near and far,
Velocipede!

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children do not complain of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing—she was in a state of exhaustion and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by friends, but I had no faith in them, and until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect that astonished me. Instead of the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and strength—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.

I want to warn the living ones
Which blindly grope along;
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!

Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you walk in the dark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.

Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.

That horrid disease, nasal spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.

Your lungs and liver you will show,
Consumption has its fits;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
Till you are worn to death.

If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.

WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.

I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.

I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."

PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, then all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.

The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic pleas.

Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.

'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.

PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the sum of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1869.

Washington Gossip.

The Boston Advertiser's special says that Ex-Gov. Boutwell of Mass. was offered the position of Secretary of the Interior by President Grant, but refused the honor.

One of the last pardons signed by President Johnson was for the two Dupuy brothers of New York, convicted of whiskey frauds. President Grant has called in these pardons, and there will be a further examination before they go into effect.

There are other statutes besides that of 1789 which must be repealed or suspended before Mr. Stewart can go into the Cabinet, and it is not impossible that he may solve the difficulties of the situation by declining the appointment. The general supposition is that if he does so, Governor Boutwell will be offered a position which may or may not make a change in the attorney-generalship.

President Grant has not yet taken permanent quarters at the White House. The clerks, messengers and door-keepers of the Johnson regime have all been replaced by new men.

The order sending General Hancock to Dacotah pleases a good many people. He took it as a personal matter when he was removed from the command in New Orleans, and not long ago his friends boasted that he had not spoken to Gen. Grant since he came back from that city. He found it so distasteful to be in Washington with his superior officer that he will doubtless be glad to get as far away from him as possible.

Mr. Rollins goes out of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and Mr. Delano comes in on Wednesday or Thursday next. Mr. Binckley also goes out and Mr. Walter Smith of Ohio, who was Mr. Delano's former law partner, will be named for solicitor.

The President intends to receive visitors daily from ten to twelve o'clock merely, and during those hours he will see only such persons as have business directly with him, the object being to turn over to the heads of departments all that numerous class who want to talk about small appointments and ordinary department business, and to get rid entirely of that other numerous class who have no business but that of being bores.

Senator Grimes may decline the chairmanship of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, in which case Senator Cragin will be appointed Chairman.

A. T. Stewart declined the office of Secretary of the Treasury on Monday, and President Grant tendered it to Ex-Gov. Boutwell of Massachusetts, who accepted.

MILITARY CHANGES.—By command of the General of the Army the gallant Lieut-Gen. Phil Sheridan is assigned to the command of the Department of Louisiana, from which command he was removed by Andrew Johnson nearly two years ago. The Department of the South will be commanded by Brigadier and Brevet Major-General A. H. Terry.

Major-General George G. Meade is assigned to the command of the Military Division of the Atlantic, headquarters at Philadelphia.

Major-General W. S. Hancock is assigned to the command of the Department of Dacotah.

Brigadier and Brevet Major-General E. R. S. Canby is assigned to the command of the first Military District.

Brevet Major-General A. C. Gillem, of the 24th Infantry, will turn over the command of the Fourth District to the next senior officer and join his regiment.

Brevet Major-General J. J. Reynolds is assigned to the command of the Fifth Military District.

Brevet Major-General W. H. Emory, Colonel of the 5th Cavalry, is assigned to the department of Washington.

☞ Fast Day in Connecticut, March 26.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Saturday, Messrs. Patterson of N. H. and Sherman of Ohio introduced bills repealing the eighth section of the act to establish a Treasury Department, so as to enable Mr. A. T. Stewart to accept his appointment in the cabinet.

Objection was made by Mr. Sumner and they were laid on the table.

Afterwards a message was received from President Grant asking that A. T. Stewart be exempted by joint resolution from the operations of the act of Sept. 2, 1789.

Chester Bean, a workman in a mill at Berlin Falls, fell against a rolling saw on the evening of the 3d inst., and received a gash in his skull three inches deep.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, March 8.

At the adjourned temperance meeting on Wednesday evening an Alliance was formed, with the following officers; President, John J. Bell; Vice President, Rev. Chas. Newhall; Secretary and Treasurer, Sperry French. Interesting and instructive remarks were made by Rev. Geo. N. Bryant, of South Newmarket, who urged the importance of the cause, and the necessity of labor, especially among the rising generation. The chief end of temperance organization hitherto had been to rescue drinking men from their fallen condition. This is a laudable object, and will be one of the aims of the Alliance, but more attention will be paid to the children than formerly, to educate them as temperance children. On this point Mr. Bryant dwelt strongly, not only in regard to indulgence in intoxicating beverages, but respecting tobacco, the use of which is too often the first step towards a life of drunkenness. It is but a step from the cigar to the glass of ale or wine, and so on over the beaten track so many confirmed drunkards have trod. Temperance papers and books must be introduced into our Sabbath schools, meetings held, lectures delivered,—in short work must be done if we would see our children grow up to become useful and respected members of society.

Remarks were also made by several clergymen of this town. A startling statement was made by Rev. S. S. Fletcher; viz.—that the Christian public sentiment of this town is decidedly in favor of liquor selling; and that the nominations and elections in this town are controlled by one rum-shop in our midst! What a startling commentary on Exeter morals! and if true, how great the need of earnest and unceasing labor in this great and noble cause. Remarks were made by Mr. J. M. Head, who recounted positions of his own experience as an habitual indulger in intoxicating beverages, and the inestimable advantages he has derived from publicly signing the pledge; and advised every one to sign the pledge in the most public manner possible, which he considered worth a thousand good resolutions without public expression. Pledges were circulated and extensively signed. Gov. Harriman made a spirited address on Saturday evening, before an audience of about 1000 people. As a public speaker, Gov. H. is too favorably known to need further eulogy, and on Saturday evening he was in his happiest vein, and for upwards of an hour he held his large audience entranced by his fascinating eloquence.

Several patriotic airs were executed by the Cornet Band, and the singing of the Glee Club was warmly applauded. The meeting closed with hearty cheers for Grant, Harriman and Stearns, and the singing of America by all present, led by the Glee Club. H.

EXETER, March 8th.

Messrs. Editors:—A velocipede race took place in this place on the evening of March 5th, at the Town Hall, for a very handsome silver cup the championship of Haverhill, and, and Exeter. The participants were mostly students of Phillip's Academy and the prize was carried off by one of them.

As Mr. Cutler and Buckley had made the same time on the first heat, a second was called for in which Mr. Cutler made the marvellous time of nine times round the large hall in one minute, and twenty three seconds. Mr. Morrison came close behind him in 1.27. After the race there was an exhibition of fancy riding in which Mr. Smith carried three persons several times round the Hall on the same velocipede. The following is a list of the racers, and time made by them.

Mr. Buckley of Haverhill 1.26; Mr. Cutler 1.26; S. L. Morrison 1.27; J. C. Elliot 1.30; G. F. Nichols 1.30; H. B. Geer 1.34; August Belmont, Jr., 1.38; C. T. Stearns 1.30: Cutler 1.29, 2nd heat. COURSOR.

Mr. Rufus Ward, of Candia, died very suddenly on the night of the 3d inst. He had been to a political meeting that evening and had shown no symptoms of illness, but just after eating a bowl of oysters fell forward and instantly expired. He was about 50 years of age, an estimable citizen, and a soldier in the late war.

LIFE ASSURANCE.—It has been generally supposed that life assurance is of recent origin, and that its main design is to make money for the companies. So far is this from being the case, the system of life assurance originated with an English clergyman, the Rev. William Assboton, D. D., in 1698, and was especially designed for the benefit of the widows of clergymen. We know of no class of persons who would be more benefitted by life assurance, now, than the families of clergymen; and we hope to see the day when every minister will have presented to him, on the day of his settlement, a paid up policy of assurance upon his life.—Christian Era.

☞ We have received from Mr. John A. Riddle, Manchester, an agricultural pamphlet entitled "Sterility is Laid." Price 25 cents. It gives what appears to be some very important experiments, showing the effect of different fertilizing matters upon vegetable growth. A practical adaptation of the principles elucidated by the experiments, will enable the farmer to be his own judge as to the quality of any fertilizer, which he may be desirous of purchasing. This test may be carried on in winter, in a flower pot or box, by the kitchen fire, the seed planted and the growth of the plant watched. It also gives a recipe for a special fertilizer for the potato crop, which has been found, in practice, to largely increase the yield, and is thought by further experience and a proper management of the ground, may lead to the entire suppression of the potato disease, which has done so much damage to that crop in some localities, of late years.

☞ William L. Putnam, Esq., who has just been elected Mayor of the Republican city of Portland, by the mighty power of Rum and the humbug of Citizens' ticket, is not a rummy himself, as should always be elected in such cases to represent the free rum party, but a young gentleman of much ability and fine accomplishments, a lawyer by profession, and we presume the youngest man who was ever chosen to the position. We congratulate our old friend on his elevation—but wish he stood as the representative of a better cause, especially in the glorious temperance State of Maine and Neal Dow.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE KING OF BAVARIA, kindly permitted Doct. J. C. Ayer to have a copy taken of Rauch's celebrated colossal statue of Victory, which belongs to the Bavarian crown and stands at the entrance of the Royal Palace at Munich. The Doctor had it cast in bronze, and has presented it to the City of Lowell, where it stands in the Park and symbolizes the triumphs of both freedom and medicine. Her manufactures are the pride of Lowell, and foremost among them AYER'S MEDICINES make her name gratefully remembered by the unnumbered multitude who are cured by them of afflicting and often dangerous diseases.—Boston Journal.

PLANTATION BITTERS combine rare medicinal virtues with a delicious aroma, and a flavor grateful to the palate. It is purely vegetable, and in its composition all the requisites of science have been complied with. It is suitable for all ages and sexes. It is gentle, stimulating and soothing. All dyspeptic disorders are cured by it, and it repairs and restores nature's wasted powers. PLANTATION BITTERS are increasing daily in favor with all classes. It relieves suffering, renders life a luxury, brightens the present and throws a hopeful light on the future. 17

A YOUNG LADY writing to her mother from Europe says: Send me a dozen bottles of 'Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorer.' What I took with me is all gone, and I cannot think of spoiling my hair by using any other." The judgment of all who have used Barrett's will confirm this lady's experience. —Boston Transcript.

NO ULCER, Cancer, or fever sore but can be radically cured by the use of Wolcott's PAIN PAINT. Dr. Wolcott's ANNIHILATOR, which is unlike PAIN PAINT, cures that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Pint bottles $1. Recollect, 'tis put up in white wrappers. f27 2wsaw

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Manures. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $25 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College, State of New Jersey, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increased crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure was used) and it proved very beneficial. It worked quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Danl. D. Benedict, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into consideration. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abednego Seymour, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

☞ There are now eight Daily papers in New Hampshire, of which this Chronicle alone, we believe, is printed in the morning—though to our appreciation, a local morning issue is far more attractive than the same paper in the evening. But it is a great deal less labor and expense to print in the afternoon, so we don't blame the craft.

This Chronicle was also the first, we believe, to place Local matter on the third page, by itself, in the make-up; a plan which is now followed by many of our exchanges in all parts of the country.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be avoided. May, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits. Its sales have been increasing and increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures those complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch, he makes the aggregate of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and to which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company has made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch can be found. Let the party about to buy ask the owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the reputation of making the best watch for the money, time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have employed in our manufacture every device of department we have ever had, whose services have any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and skillful mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and as a profitall profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you how he recovered and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed." It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to relish food, the liver will actually and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to get sweetened and enough blood to heal up, such a patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely for all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, will be found at his office, Sundays, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice should be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter (to rise without irritating the delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d29

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to gain in flesh; the diseased matter ripens and is coughed, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, loosens the cough, and by easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless skilfully employed) that will purge the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food and the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much. They give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they throw the whole system into fever, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, if the lungs, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, but whether tubercles, ulcerations, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to relish food, the liver will actually and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to get sweetened and enough blood to heal up, such a patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE ISSUE.—Republicans! you are called upon to-day to vote for candidates for office, men tried and true who have been loyal to the country and the cause. The State, Congressional, County and Legislative candidates will be elected without a serious contest, and the chief interest here centres in the choice of a Senator for the first district.

Hon. John H. Bailey, the Republican candidate, needs no introduction to his fellow citizens. He is well known as an untiring worker and a true representative of the Republican party. As Mayor of this city in 1865 and 1866 he showed much executive ability and honored the office he occupied. He has held other offices of trust and never was found wanting. Noted for his liberality and public spirit, he is the true representative of the business interests of the city and has the prestige of never being beaten in political life. His friends are earnest and wide awake and promise him over 100 majority in this city. The towns outside the city gave Hon. E. A. Stevens 31 majority a year ago, and well posted Republicans estimate that the majority in the district for Bailey will be rising 200.

Hon. Frank Jones, the present Mayor, is the Democratic candidate, and is straining every nerve to win the much coveted position of State Senator, which seems so near and yet so far from his reach. His principal qualifications for the office are that he has filled the office of Mayor without doing anything particularly surprising, is popular, (beer!) is personally a good fellow (of his kind,) and has money—the latter being the chief consideration.

He receives the solid support of the party which sympathized with the rebels during the late war, magnified the reverses of the Union armies and chuckled over rebel victories. He never was accused of any Union sentiments, and is fully in accord with his associates, copperheads of the rankest kind.

No public act of Frank Jones can justify a loyal man in voting for him, and no public act of John H. Bailey can be cited, that will justify a Republican in remaining away from the polls, or voting the copperhead ticket,—or any part of it.

Frank Jones has never let slip an opportunity to benefit his own party in his present position, and has used the office for his own personal aggrandizement. No Republican ever received a favor at his hands, unless an equivalent for it was expected. He is a partizan copperhead,—nothing more, nothing less, —and is bound to get a political blow this time, that will eventually lead to a realization of his utter unworthiness, not to mention unfitness, for positions beyond his reach and capacity.

Republicans of Portsmouth, your time to strike has come!. Be early at the polls, bring out every voter, and give the most eligible candidate for all offices in the gift of his rebel constituents a crushing defeat which shall prove to be a lasting one!

BEWARE OF SPURIOUS TICKETS!—It has come to the knowledge of the Republican State Committee that ballots in imitation of the Republican ticket have been printed, and attempts will be made in close Districts, Counties and Towns to impose them upon unsuspecting Republicans. The heading of this spurious thing is a counterfeit of the patriotic design borne on the Republican Ticket, and the names of Democrats are substituted for Republicans. Examine the names on the Ticket before voting.

THEATRE.—Bidwell & Locke's theatrical company open to-night at the Temple, with the play of "Esmeralda, or the Hunchback of Notre Dame," in which the charming Dollie is cast for "Esmeralda." "ESTHER."—Messrs. Editors; I learn with pleasure that the Cantata of Esther is shortly to be given by the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society. The simple story of Esther charms us, from childhood. It seems to cluster into a small compass, almost every phase and shape of character,—most lovely, most loved, most unlovely, —jealousy, and revenge cruel as the grave,—the calm integrity of the righteous,—justice, honor and shame,—so vividly; and in all the varied scenes, the clear manifestation of an over-ruling Providence is seen.

Surely everybody will go to see and hear Esther. The music is very pleasing, and we understand the scenes are to be rendered in Drama,—the most elegant costumes of the East, and very effective scenery, having been obtained at much expense by the Society.

The Philharmonic Society have always given satisfaction in whatever they attempted. Let us sustain them in this effort, with full houses and just appreciation of their talents. MUSICUS.

A ROUSING RALLY.—Gov. Harriman had a grand reception, Monday evening, the Temple being packed by an enthusiastic audience of Republicans, who made the air ring with cheer upon cheer. It was a fitting closing of the brief campaign, whose principal interest centres in Portsmouth.

Hon. John H. Bailey, our next Senator, called the meeting to order and read the following list of officers for the evening. President, Hon. Horton D. Walker; Vice Presidents, Richard W. E. Robinson of Ward 1; Hon. William Simes of Ward 2; William A. Vaughan, Ward 3; Secretary, Lieut. Edwin A. Tilton.

☞ One of the Radical members of the Board of Selectmen in one of the Wards in Portsmouth, carried a policeman's billy to aid in revising the check list on the 2d. "Let us have peace."—Concord Patriot.

Exactly; and the billy, if carried, was meant to preserve the peace from being broken by such a crowd of roughs, led led by an unscrupulous demagogue, as infested a ward room and sought to overawe the Selectmen, a year or two ago.

☞ J. H. Robinson of this city, who injured his arm about a year since at the Navy Yard, has had it amputated. The operation was performed by Doctor Jasper York of Dover; the time occupied was one minute and a quarter.—Mr. Robinson is out on the street and looking well.

☞ See that your name is on the check list. The Selectmen meet at 7 o'clock to revise the check lists,—Ward One at the Ward room on Elm Street, Ward Two at the Council room, City Building, and Ward Three at the Ward Room on Water street.

☞ The subscriber would gratefully acknowledge the receipt of $50.26, by the hand of Hon. H. D. Walker, contributed by the Middle Street Baptist Society for the benefit of the poor of this city. N. MEDBURY, City Missionary.

☞ There will be religious Meetings in the North Church, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7 1-2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Bingham of Boston will preach. All are invited.

☞ Portsmouth gave Stevens 1173 votes for Senator, last year, and Jones 1129. Stevens' majority 44.

☞ Philharmonic Rehearsal this (Tuesday) evening, at half-past 7.

☞ Vote for John H. Bailey.

TO MY PATIENTS.

TOO GREAT DEVOTION to professional duties in the past, resulting in declining health in the present, will compel me until further notice to make the following curtailment of my Office Hours:
Forenoons, each day of the week, from 9½ to 1.
Afternoons of Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 3 to 4, or one hour only.
Nothing but the most imperative necessity on the part of my patients will induce me to alter or extend these hours. Will they therefore please bear them in mind and time their calls to them?

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

Morning Chronicle.

A MAN'S TEMPTATION.

John Osgood let down the bars for the tired oxen with which he had been plowing all day, to go through and seek on the cool hillside their night's pasturage. They turned their heads and looked at him with their great mournful eyes, as if expecting a word, for they were used to the sound of his voice, the slow, patient creatures, and liked it, as such dumb brutes always do the voice of a kind master. But to-night he had no voice for them. He put up the bars again when they had gone through, and leaned heavily against them.

A May sunset was flushing earth and sky. The new springing grass looked fresh and green. A light, feathery leafage was on the trees, and a few of them, pear and cherry trees, had put on white blossoms. The western sky was piled high with crimson clouds, with, close to the horizon, a bar of gold. A reflecting brightness flushed the east with a soft, roseate hue which spread up to the zenith. All was still as the new birth of a new world. A sense of wonderful beauty and mystery thrilled through John Osgood's uneducated perceptions. He had no words for such a scene, no clearly defined thoughts about it even; but it moistened his eyes, and quickened his pulses, and seemed to flood his life with a rush of dreams and longings.

How beautiful the world was! There were some men, he had heard, who painted such scenes as these; others who wrote poetry about them; others who set them to music like the songs of birds, or the soft wash of waves. What was his part of all this? To plow to-day—planting to-morrow? Was that all life held for him? There must be other uses, some other meaning, if he could only grasp it. If he had no part or lot in all this beauty, why did it move him so?

Just then he heard the sound of horses' feet, and looked in the direction whence it came. Angeline Walmarth was sweeping down the hill with a gay gallant beside her. How like a part of the sunset beauty she looked, with its rose upon her cheek, its radiance in her eyes and hair, her long blue habit falling low, and swinging to the motion of her cream colored horse, her white feather streaming back on the wind, her little hands, with the dainty gauntlets on them, so much youth, and grace and beauty.

And the 'city chap,' as John Osgood called him, by her side, did not mar the picture. A handsome, cavalierish looking man, there was no denying that he showed well beside Angie; but what was he there so much for?-They swept by, Angie's low, silvery laugh tinkling a response to something her companion was saying; and a little cloud of dust which the hoofs of the horses beat up behind them, filled John's eyes and choked his throat and added bitterness to his mood.

He glanced down to his hard, bony hands, his coarse, toil-stained clothes. How well he would look at Angeline Walmarth's side! And yet he had loved her in a vague sort of way, whose meaning he had just begun to find out, ever since he could remember. Life would not have much savor without her he thought. And yet she would be no fit farmer's wife, and that was just what he was, a farmer.

Then the question came again which had haunted him before. Could he be nothing else? Did fate doom him, did God ask him always to go in and out in these old ways—to plow and plant, and make hay, and reap grain all summer, and go back and forth between the homestead and woodlot all winter? If his father was getting old, if he was all they had, did that settle the matter? Same one could be hired to do as well for them, and he—he believed he had enough in him to go away and make a career which Angeline would not scorn to share.

The crimson had died out of the west, the rose hue out of the east. A low wind had arisen and blew mournfully and slow across the fields. John Osgood's mood changed with the face of the night. The exultation forsook him, and something hard, stern, sullen, alien it seemed to his generous, hearty nature, entered in and took possession of him. He went home slowly with heavy footsteps.

'Tired, Johnny?' his mother said cheerily, as he came into the kitchen.

Somehow the words vexed him. She had said them oftenough before but they had never struck him just in this way till now. Johnny! If she would only remember that he was twenty-one years old.

'Yes, I'm tired,' he answered doggedly.

'Well, draw right up to the table.—I've got a nice cup of tea all ready for ye. That will rest ye, and it will help to brighten ye up a little.'

John Osgood threw down his hat impatiently. 'Tea?' What notions of life women had. He looked at his mother as he had never before.

'Mother,' said he, with a bitterness he hated himself for years afterwards, 'I wonder if you ever had a trouble a good cup of tea wouldn't cure? Things don't go much deeper than that with some folks.'

His mother's eyes clouded, but she answered him very gently. She felt that to-night, for some reason, he was not responsible for himself.

'I have had trouble that went deep enough, John. Five children that have played around my knees, sleep yonder behind the old meeting house, and to bear and nurse, and then lose—there's none knows what it is but just them that's borne it, and God that made mothers with mothers' hearts. Yes I have had troubles that creature comfort wouldn't help much; and yet I don't despise this world's good things. You haven't any graves where you feel as if your heart were shut up in and smothered and for being tired and mopin' I do think there's virtue in a good cup of tea.'

Her patience and gentleness touched him. He drew up his chair to the table, where his father was sitting, and answered her in a softer tone.

'I'spose you're right, mother, but I am not just myself to-night.'

Then he ate his supper in silence and after it was over sat for a few moments, thinking silently. At last he took courage and opened the subject of which his mind was full.

'Father, James McCormick is wanting a place. Don't you think, with you to oversee him, he could do the work on the farm this summer?'

Mrs. Osgood did not speak, but the cup she was wiping fell to the floor with a sharp crash. For a full minute it was the only sound which broke the stillness.

At last the old man answered: 'I don't know, John, maybe he could. I never liked to have any stranger working on the old place in my time. I did it all myself till you was old enough to help me, and everything has prospered under your hands, John. Still, maybe James McCormick could; maybe he could. Did you think of leaving, John?'

'I don't feel satisfied, father, to be a farmer in this small way. I want to do something more with my life. You could hire a man to do all I do for twenty dollars a month, and I want to see what I am worth somewhere else.'

Then there was another long silence. The mother finished washing up her dishes, and came and sat down between her son and her husband: her face was very white, and her hands shaking a little.

Concluded to-morrow.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these

SUPERIOR GLASSES

is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for ever difficulty.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE, 29 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO., No. 5 Chatham Row, Boston.

JOHN E. ROBERTS, Agent for Portsmouth.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

On A Velocipede.

Messrs. Editors:—Victory has roosted upon my banner,—I have conquered the Velocipede. This glorious result has not been attained without the expenditure of much energy, and the wearing thin of my trowsers in several places,—but it has been done, and I now ride in a manner to terrify all beholders, including the velocipede-man, who trembles lest I smash the whole concern. The last time I tried it I had a goodly number of ladies to look at me, and of course surpassed all my previous exploits in locomotion. I tore around the Rink at four knots an hour, handling the machine with the ease and grace of a master, until I neared the lady spectators on my last turn, when the evil genius which always did (and always will) cause me to try to "show off" before the ladies, induced me to cut an appalling pigeon-wing when I got near them. This was managed with my usual skill, and my triumph would have been complete had I been able to attend to the business in hand; but I never could pass a woman without looking at her, in my life,—and so many of them in one place upset my resolution, and I had to look at them, partly to see how much they admired me and my performance, and more that I might admire them. That one look caused my abasement, for the velocipede didn't turn right at all, but flew out from under me, and I brought up with my head against a foot-square post,—and, incredible as it may seem, when I looked I found a hole made completely through that post. I don't know what became of the machine, not having seen it since. Well! I'm not the only man whose downfall has been occasioned by woman.

Charley W. Gardner, Esq., who weighs 216 pounds and thinks he can ride as well as I can, has challenged any man who weighs not less than 190 pounds to race him one mile or less for $10 a side, at Deering & Gammon's Rink at the foot of State street, (where any incredulous one will be shown the post I struck and the hole through it, by the proprietors,)—the challenge to be open for a week. I've got spirit enough to match him, but unluckily my flesh is too light by some forty pounds,—let Charles reduce himself to my weight (150 lbs.) or wait till I weigh 190, and I'll race him to his heart's content.

In conclusion, I would ask you to inform me, if you can, whether or no the toll-man at Portsmouth Bridge can make me pay toll for a "two-wheeled vehicle" when I go over to Kittery on a velocipede, next summer? I go over there every Sunday evening—very particular business—and would like to utilize the velocipede if I can; but, as it costs me a good deal for pea-nuts and candy after I get over, I can't afford to pay a big toll besides. PAKERA.

UNHEALTHFUL HOUSES.—This is the time of year when people are looking out for residences for the coming season, and some of them for a greater permanency. If a family moves into a house, and experiences unusual sickness as to several of its members, it is presumptive evidence that it arises from circumstances connected with the house. Sometimes only certain rooms are pestiferous, from being over a marshy spot, from being partly under ground, or so attached to another house as to have one side of it almost always damp; at other times the papering of a room has been found a cause of illness.

From Jackson to Buchanan, dangerous illness or death has come to every occupant of the Presidential mansion, Mr. Van Buren excepted. Some persons will call it a coincidence, but it is not. It was predicted by medical men in Washington, as a demonstrable result. A bridge was built in Jackson's time, violently opposed by some; the effect was to cause a damming up of water, and to produce a large amount of shallow water and marsh exposure to the sun, the universal cause of chills and fever, or fever and ague, from which Mrs. Pierce suffered greatly, and had to leave her native country, finally dying.

Persons selecting farms in the West, and those having lands and desiring to build houses on them, should act with deliberation, and avoid building on northern exposures.

Houses should not be built on spots where fogs are most prone to gather and settle. Sometimes a fog loves the valley, and sometimes the top of a hill; thus some who live in valleys are healthy, and those who live on the hilltops are sickly, and the reverse,—and common people are perplexed. It is not the hill tops or the valleys which are unhealthful in themselves; but where fog, exhalations, malaria, miasm incline to settle,—and this is determined by natural laws,—there will be disease. Let every house site be well drained.—Hall's Journal of Health.

THE LITTLE CULPRIT.

BY KATE PUTNAM OSGOOD.

From the school-house old and gray,
Under branches pink with May,
Clatter, patter, all together,
Little feet have hurried out,
Echoing, with their noise and route,
Through the brooding spring-time weather,
Poised uncertainly between
April cloud and summer sheen,
Half enamored of delay.

Only one poor little drone,
Silent sullen stays alone,
With his book unheeded lying
Near the useless, broken slate,
In the storm of rage and hate
Flung at random on the floor.
Proud, rebellious, obstinate,
For a weary while before,
He has waited, vainly trying
To repress the tears that rise
In the angry baby eyes.

Well enough it is to play
All the golden hours away;
Well enough, unlucky scorner
Of the schoolroom's common law,
Idle curve and line to draw
While the classes read and spell;
But when work is fairly done,
To be left, the only one,
In a dark and dusty corner,
Surely is not quite as well!

Naught for note of time has he
Save a neighboring apple-tree,
That a lengthened shadow swinging
Nearer, clearer, through the hour,
Tracery of leaf and flower.
Marks upon the walls so plain,
Almost seems it he can see,
On the bough the eager bee
To the shaken blossom clinging,
'Mid the breezy petal rain.

O you naughty little elf,
Punishing your silly self,
While the sun is well nigh setting!
Do you fancy Rob will wait
All the evening by the gate,
With his boat upon the shelf?
Let the ready tears have way;
Seek forgiveness while you may,
Lest you find yourself regretting
A repentance come too late.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH!

DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes arrives at a point they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be unpardonable—unpardonable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolidly unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter has been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing—she was in a low state of health until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect truly astonishing and surprising, the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blind, grope on,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear a fetter?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption's kin,
Kill hosts, yes, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh already begun;
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its ally
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And by its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same:
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic pleas.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out:
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f20 4w

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. Washington, D. C. Chartered by Special Act of Congress. APPROVED JULY 25, 1868. CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000. PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office: FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the mistakes to which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, on annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.
Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company, or to the
NEW ENGLAND GENERAL AGENCY.

Biddeford (as usual) chose a Democratic Mayor by 124 majority.

New Hampshire Items.

There is some probability that a morning daily paper will soon be started at Concord by prominent republicans of the State.

The American Fan Company at Nashua has been doing an extensive business this winter. Since the first of January it has run every working day and evening up to ten o'clock. Three thousand fans are manufactured daily, and still the demand is not supplied. Orders are on hand for all that can be made before the 1st of May. Ninety five girls are employed.

The New Hampshire Historical Society is making an effort to purchase a building at Concord for the purposes of the society and its valuable and increasing library. One thousand dollars has been raised by subscription and two thousand more are necessary to secure the building.

The new court house in Lancaster is nearly finished.

An intemperate woman named Gilmore, was found frozen to death in the Highway at the west part of Concord, Saturday morning.

One hundred and twenty-five fox skins were carried to Lebanon a few days since. The foxes were caught in Wentworth.

The old garrison house in Lee is to be repaired in such a manner as to preserve its ancient form and appearance, and a statue of King Phillip is to be raised before the main entrance. The statue will be dedicated on the 7th of August next.

THEIR AGES.—Gen. Grant's Cabinet is composed of young and old men. A. T. Stewart is 73 years of age; A. E. Borie, 55; Eben Rockwood Hoar, 53; E. B. Washburne, 52; A. J. Cresswell, 41; Jacob D. Cox, 41; J. M. Scofield, 37;

The oldest member of the Cabinet is 73 years of age and the youngest, 37.

—An editor of a paper informed his readers that the ladies always pull off the left stocking last. This, as may be supposed, created some stir among his fair readers, and while in positive terms they denied the statement, they insisted that he had no business to know it, even if such were the fact, and pronounced him no gentleman. He proves it, however, by short argument:—"When one stocking is pulled off, there is another left on; pulling off this is taking the left stocking off last.

VELOCIPEDES USEFUL FIFTY YEARS AGO.—A city correspondent of the country Gentleman states that when the postage on a letter between New York and Albany was 18¾-4 cents, (he thinks in the year 1818,) Mr. John Randall, one of the original surveyors of the Erie Canal, went from one city to the other on a velocipede to which an odometer was attached, and thus ascertained the distance to be only 145 miles, so that hereafter the rate of postage was reduced to 12 1-2 cents. If the velocipedes of the present day accomplish as much good in proportion to their numbers, they will do well.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of rigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. Say, the trouble will be less, for drug stores in every one of every town, and every respectable drug gist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for dubiety, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethe, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned, or its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or at those periods of life when the Constitution is undergoing a change of life, after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as by Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflamation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pale Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudencies in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superceding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, and as Gonorrhœa, Gleet of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our interests, we call attention to the following suggestions;

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch can be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTORY SERVICE? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and this enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the ability, improvements and inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have added to our employed force of talent a new department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present machines of designers and modelers are cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you of cures performed by the use of the pills. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 43 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, N. Y., JANUARY 14, 1865.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came to hand your pills for the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have been to me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are wonderfully restored.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sweeney, burns, bruises, swellings, bruises, old sores, headache, mosquito bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded. All that is asked is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

DR. TOBIAS—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever used. Your prompt attention to my bill is invaluable. I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, and there is no one of the globe into which it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime in which it has not been found to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, contusions, and all manner of other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, and to have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the weak, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to put on flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice which dissolves the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to stop fevers, and in doing this they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. If you are in the first stage of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs, in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to gain the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having given him up to die, speechless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands have sufficient evidence that Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

OLD PORTSMOUTH REDEEMED.—We publish elsewhere the returns of the elections, and congratulate our Republican friends on the brilliant victory they have achieved in this city and Senatorial district. The defeated candidate of the Democratic party has twice been chosen Mayor of the city, and it began to be a firm belief among his supporters that he was invincible, and could not be vanquished. He was nominated because he could be freely bled, and after a quiet though earnest contest it has been proved that Portsmouth is not an appendage to Frank Jones, his money, his beer or his associates.

He has been in training for a Congressional nomination, some time in the future, and is laid out effectually at the commencement of the game.

When Hon. John H. Bailey was made the nominee of the Republican party we knew it meant victory. Mr. Bailey always enters a political canvass to win, and has the reputation of being a hard man to kick against. He has the prestige of success, which is to him always a duty, whether he is or is not the nominee of his party. He may well be proud of laying low the boasted champion of Democracy, and the Republicans, who have stood by their posts through thick and thin, can congratulate themselves on the grand result which places old Portsmouth right side up with care.

Our brethren in other sections of the State have been doubting (as they did last year) the ability of Portsmouth Republicans to win a victory over Frank Jones. Twice have their doubts been dispelled by the energy and faithfulness of those who have battled for the right. The result of Tuesday's election will probably lead them to believe, what all Republicans here know, that Portsmouth is a Republican city and will remain so.

THE BRIDGES.—The petitioners for a Bridge across the North Millpond, are to have a hearing before the Board of Aldermen, as soon as the abuttors interested (the two Railroads) can be legally notified. There is now, we believe, no highway between Vaughan Street and Creek Street, across the tracks; and it would perhaps be necessary or desirable to open a road to the bridge, should one be built.

To be sure, the petitioners, seeing the great difficulties in the way of securing a suitable crossing over the Railways, would now be willing to accept a foot-bridge; but it would be a new thing for the city to construct such, and even this would sooner or later call for a highway reaching to it,—as otherwise the City might be liable for accidents to persons from the Railroads, if it did not provide for their protection; and on the other hand, the Roads could at any time forbid the crossing of passengers if they saw fit.—We are decidedly in favor of a carriage Bridge across this Pond, which shall allow safe crossing of the Railroads, but the difficulties in the way are great. Both for the accommodation of the public, and the increase in value of the City Farm, which will doubtless be sold ere long, does such an improvement seem desirable.

As to the South Millpond, the desirability of a Bridge is not so clear to all. One plan of the Trustees of the Park, is to construct a marginal Road along the shore of the pond, from the Universalist Church, (with entrances, it may be, at the Court House, at Rogers Street, and at Lincoln Avenue from Richards Avenue,) reaching around westerly to the Park opposite. The distance would be much less than at first appears, — probably not double the length of the Bridge, as the road would cross the head of the long narrow creek at the pond at a considerable distance from Richards Avenue. It is thought the owners of the marsh will give the land 100 feet wide or more for this purpose; and good judges are of opinion that the value of the muck as manure, will pay for clearing out the pond.

At any rate, we think there is little doubt but that the Trustees of the Park will soon decide on some definite plan of operations in regard to a public Mall here; and of course, the citizens, the City Government, and the Sons and Daughters of Portsmouth abroad, will be ready to aid the desirable object.

☞ There will be religious Meetings in the North Church, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7 1-2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Bingham of Boston will preach. All are invited.

☞ Meeting of Mercantile Library Association this (Wednesday) evening at half-past 7.

THE THEATRE.—Bidwell & Locke's company gave a good entertainment, Tuesday evening, and had a fair audience notwithstanding it was election night. To-night is positively their last appearance here for the present, and they offer a big bill to their patrons.

Our Biddeford correspondent writes us that the same entertainment given there a few weeks since was one of the best. They had a large audience (served 'em right) and the people were immensely pleased.

Dolly Bidwell improves every time she comes here, and Yankee Locke and the inimitable Wilkinson make fun enough to last a month. Go and see them, to-night.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2- per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

NAVAL.—Paymaster Charles F. Guild is ordered to duty at the Portsmouth Navy Yard vice Paymaster A. H. Gilman to be relieved on the 31st, inst.

"Frank Jones will be elected. Mark that!"—Rebel's Delight.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

A MAN'S TEMPTATION.

Concluded from Yesterday.

After a while the old man reached out and took one of the trembling hands in his own.

'We mesn't blame John, mother,' he said, trying to speak cheerfully. What he feels isn't unnatural. Other young men say the same. Very few of them are contented now-a-days to live their fathers' lives over again. Only it comes sudden. Don't think we blame you, boy. It's all fair and right—only sudden.'

John got up and went up stairs.—His mother's pale silence, his father's attempt at cheerfulness, seemed more than he could possible bear. He went away to his own room and sat down by the window.

Over across the fields a light burned steadily. He knew it was the light in Angeline Walmarth's parlor. Was she worth all this that he was making these two old people suffer? Was he sure that she would ever love him at all? And in this untried life, this great world where so many failed, how did he know that he should succeed? What was he going to do? How vague all of his purposes were—just a dream born of a soft spring night, and Angie Walmarth's fair face? And for it he was going to overturn the whole fabric of his life.

No, he would not be so mad. This summer at least should go on as before. He would take time to consider. By autumn he would know better what he could do, and whether he could bear to leave that old father and mother—five of whose treasures the church-yard held, and whose all he was—quite alone. He begun to think that this very fact that he was their all laid on him an obligation not to be evaded; that no success purchased at such a selfish expenditure would be worth having. At any rate he would wait. And so sleep came to him, and the morning brought to him strength and calmness, and seemed to give him back his old self again.

'Will you see James McCormick today?' his father asked at the breakfast table, with an anxiety he strove to conceal. John smiled cheerfully.

'Not to-day, father; not at present. My plan was sudden, as you said; too sudden to be wise. I will carry on the place a while longer.'

The old man's face cleared up, but he did not speak; only John Osgood's mother got up and kissed him. No young lips could have been more dear.

Two weeks after that news came to him of Angie Walmarth's betrothal to her cousin—the city brod young man whom he had seen riding beside her in the May twilight. This was an unexpected blow, something, which, knowing the man was her cousin, he had never feared. The news sank deep into his heart with a dull, dumb pain.—She never would have cared for him then—never had. It was well he had not gone away and left those two who did love him to mourn.

After all, perhaps, this existence of plowing and planting was all he was good for. Fate had placed him rightly—gauged his capacities better than he could have done himself. So he settled back into his old grooves with a grim resignation which was not content. He still felt himself at odds with the life which did not offer him what he wanted.

When autumn came and it was time for him, if at all, to make the change he had planned in the spring, he was surprised to find that the inclination to make it was gone. Some heeling ministry, call it of nature or of grace, God knows, had been at work in his soul, and unconsciously to himself, through the long summer days, and swift, short summer nights, he had been learning the sweetness of duty pure and simple—duty done for its own sake.

He had begun to ask himself, not what he wished but what he ought to do; and he thought that in the very fact of his being to those two who loved him their all on earth, God had called him to certain duties which he would never again feel tempted to turn his back upon. Reconciled at last to the appointment of Heaven he was at peace with his own soul, and a new light came into his eyes, a new vigor and a new manliness into his very life.

He could think of Angeline Walmarth in these days without pain. There would be in his heart the tenderness a good man feels for a woman he once loved; but whether she was his or another's he could reckon on her loss or gain among the "all things he was contented to leave with Heaven."

He had heard in the summer that she was to be married on Christmas, but he heard no more about it afterward. Her preparations were going on, he supposed, but he seldom saw her. He had never spoken with her more than a passing good day since her engagement.

One afternoon in November he brought home from the village Post Office a bundle of papers, his Boston daily among them. Sitting by the fire and turning them over, his eyes were caught by the heading, in large letters: "Another Case of Defalcation." He began to read the article with the kind of careless half interest people in the country feel in the excitements of the city which cannot touch them personally. But suddenly he started up, clutching the paper tight and straining his eyes over it as if he had doubted his own vision. The name of the defaulting bank teller was Angie Walmouth's cousin and betrothed lover.

Thank Heaven that no mean selfishness had stained his soul in that hour. He was honestly and heartily touched at the thought of Angie's sorrow. Poor girl! If there was only anything he could do to aid and comfort her. He went out with a vague purpose of offering his help, which the fall wind shattered as it blew across his brow. Of course there was nothing he could do—he could not even speak to her on the subject. Her grief would be sacred, and he, had he not been used this many a month to the idea that he was nothing to her any more?

Still he went on, in a purposeless way toward her house; went on, until he saw a slender figure coming as if to meet him, under the leafless elm boughs, over the dead and rustling leaves, which laid thick upon the wood path. He had meant to pass with just a good evening but when she put out her hand to him, and he looked into her fair, still face, the words came before he knew it to his lips.

"I have seen it all in the paper, Angie. I am so sorry."

"Yes," she said, gently; "it will ruin him, I fear."

"And you? I thought most of you. You were to have been married so soon."

"Not to him," she said hurriedly; "never to him. That was done with two months ago. I had never loved him. It was my vanity that made me consent to marry him. He was handsome and gallant, and he promised me all the good things of this life. But I found, after a while, that none of them would pay me for myself, and I told him the truth."

Something in her hurried, earnest tones, or the swift color that stained her cheeks, or the sly, half-veiled eyes, or all together, gave John Osgood courage, and he said, still holding her hand:

"It was because I had none of the good things of this life to promise you, Angie, that I dared not tell you how dearly I then loved you, and always should. You seemed too bright and fair to settle down here, just as the wife of a Ryefield farmer."

"But if I liked that best?" said she, softly; and her hand staid in his.

And thus John Osgood won his heart's desire.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

HURSELL'S

PURITY,

FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,
No. 5 Chatham Row, Boston.
JOHN E. ROBERTS, Agent for Portsmouth.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,
PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,

THE MILESTONES.

Seventy mile stones on the road,
The road on which we travel,
Sometimes through the bog and mire,
Sometimes on the gravel.

Sometimes o'er the velvet grass,
Or through the forest alleys,
Sometimes o'er the mountain tops,
Or through the pleasant valleys.

Sometimes through the garden walks,
Light of heart and cheery,
Sometimes o'er the jagged stones
With bleeding feet and weary.

Half my milestones lie behind,
More than half I reckon,
And I can see a Thing before
That seem to nod and beckon.

Let it beckon! Let it nod!
My knees are supple-jointed;
It cannot stop me if it would
Before the day appointed.

☞ A writer in the London Spectator propounds a new theory in reference to the numerous well authenticated cases in which persons at the moment of death have made their presence seen or felt by distant friends. He suggests that the brain has the power of producing waves or vibrations in an atmosphere peculiar to itself, just as a magnetic battery sends an undulation thro' the magnetic fluid contained in a telegraph wire, or a bell sets the air surrounding it in motion when it is rung.

At the moment of death, particularly of death by some violence which finds the body in full vigor, the brain, exerting itself with spasmodic intensity, causes those brains which are connected with it by affinity to feel its power, and thus to perceive the presence of the person to whom it belongs. Such oblique methods of communicating between brain and brain, if such there be, would, in the opinion of the writer, probably but rarely take effect.

The influences would be too minute and subtle to tell upon any brain already pre-occupied by action of its own, or on any but brains of extreme, perhaps morbid, susceptibility. But if, indeed, there be radiating from living brains any such streams of vibratory movements, these may well have an effect, even without speech, and be, perhaps, the modus operandi of "the little flash—the mystic hint" of the poet—of that dark and strange sphere of half-experiences which the world has never been without.

The theory, to which its propounder gives the name of "brain waves," is an ingenious one, and may yet receive scientific corroboration. That this material world has within it a host of forces not appreciable by the coarser senses, and that mind can act on mind without audible speech or visible motion, and at distances beyond the reach of sound or sight, is getting to be generally conceded. But how, or under what conditions, this power exhibits itself, is still an interesting subject of inquiry.

THE MEDICINE FOR THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, arrange to say, they are left to fight it through as they must can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of childhood and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like those of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much smaller of course that people have become stoitically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unbeliting word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treat it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of all distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Special Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PUCKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects on the commending my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken up rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—the second dose performed wonders—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PUCKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who slumbers the night through,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along;
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption's victim, dead;
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh a fixed fact;
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs are diseased, you will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Consumption quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
Bypassing inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 51 Chatham Square, N. Y. E. L. WOLCOTT, Prop. f26 4w

EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Plans, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and free from all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Congress.

The House, on Tuesday, passed a bill repealing the tenure-of-office act by a vote of 143 to 16, and adjourned until Friday.

The Senate referred it to the Judiciary Committee by a vote of 33 to 25.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.— The Democratic candidate for Councillor is chosen in the Coos district, which makes the Council the same as last year, 4 Republicans and 1 Democrat.

Mr. Mugridge, Republican, is re-elected to the Senate in the Concord district. The Republicans gain a Senator in the eleventh district, and lose one in the sixth. The Senate consists of 9 Republicans and 3 Democrats. The defeated Republican candidate for Senator in the eleventh district is said to have bought his nomination, and many Republicans voted for the Democratic candidate.

Mr. Ela has 1500 majority, for Congress, Mr. Stevens 1200 and Mr. Benton 1000.

The Councillors elect are Hon. Moses Humphrey of Concord, Hon. Charles Jones of Milton, Hon. Moses A. Hodgdon of Weare, Hon. Samuel W. Hale of Keene, and Hon. Nathan H. Weeks of Woodstock. Mr. Weeks is the Democratic member.

The Senators elect are, Hon. John H. Bailey of Portsmouth, Hon. Nathaniel Gordon of Exeter, Hon. J. F. Kennard of Manchester, Hon. John Y. Mugridge of Concord, Hon. Geo. C. Peavey of Strafford, Hon. Gilman Scripture of Nashua, Hon. Jonas Livingston of Peterboro', Hon. Ellery Albee of Winchester, Hon. Ira Colby of Claremont, Hon. Edwin D. Sanborn of Dartmouth College, Hon. John W. Barney of Lancaster, and Hon. Ezra Gould of Sandwich. The Democrats are Messrs. Livingston, Sanborn and Barney.

Mr. Mugridge is a candidate for President of the Senate.

Six of the counties are Republican and four Democratic—a Republican gain of one county over last March. The Republican counties are Rockingham, Strafford, Merrimack, Hillsboro, Cheshire and Sullivan. The Democratic counties are Belknap, Carroll, Grafton and Coos.

The Republican majority in the House of Representatives will most likely be about sixty—a slight increase over that of last year.

NASHUA.—Jotham D. Otterson, Republican, had 1015 votes for Mayor, on Tuesday, and Jas. L. Pierce, Democrat had 727. Otterson's majority 288. The Board of Aldermen consists of 7 Republicans, 3 Democrats. Common Council fifteen Republicans and five Democrats.

FARMING.—Is farming a menial service? No. It is a profession, not below either of the learned professions; and farmers, instead of degrading, should magnify their office. As farming is one of the most abstruse sciences, all farmers must become scientific, and this every young farmer may become if he will make a good use of the helps now within his reach.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

NEWCASTLE, March 10.

The Republicans of our town, indignant at the conduct of the Selectmen of the past two years, in their control of the check list, knowing that they were numerically stronger than the Copperheads, and had been for two years had they been honestly dealt by, and smarting under the rule of a petty tyrant,—resolved in their might to eject from office all such political tricksters.

This they effected March 2d, by electing men as true as steel to the cause of Equal Justice to all, and honest enough to give it; placing at their head Wm. A. Meloon, Esq., a man of no mean ability, with an experience of many years in Town affairs; active in political life, an efficient worker not underrated by our opponents, highly appreciated by all, and well qualified in the duties of his office to cope with his political adversary.

Messrs. Smart and Whitehouse, his colleagues, though the work of the office is new to them, have proved (and will prove) themselves competent for their task, as the result of yesterday's work shows,—and much credit is due all of these gentlemen for accepting such an arduous and unthankful office as that of Select men.

Yesterday the election here was carried on with energy by both parties; a great deal of good humour prevailed. It was very quiet, with two or three exceptions, when loud noises were made by the gaseous effusions of some of Frank's XX and XXX ale, with two or three attempts at double voting by the Dems, all of which the Moderator excused, receiving one ballot and kindly returning the other. By counting up the votes, we found Newcastle redeemed, as all the Republican candidates had a majority of from six to fourteen.

Newcastle sends greeting, a majority of fourteen, and a gain of twenty votes over last year,—to Hon. John H. Bailey, Senator elect for Dist. No. 1.

REUBEN.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, March 10.

The Republican Caucus, Monday evening, was one of the noisiest and most contentious that ever occurred here. Everybody seemed to be opposed to everything, and "confusion worse confounded" reigned throughout.

The Election was generally quiet, although considerable excitement was occasioned by an attempt to elect an independent candidate as Representative; but, as usual, the regular Republican nominees were elected by handsome majorities. The following is a list of the principal officers elected, and the votes:

Moderator, Chas. G. Conner;
Town Clerk, Joseph S. Parsons;
Representatives, Andrew J. Hoyt, Sebastian A. Brown, and Ebenezer Folsom;
Trustee of the Robinson Seminary, Wm. P. Moulton;
Selectmen, Jacob Carlisle, Geo. W. Fernald and John H. Kimball;
Vote for Governor, Stearns 430, Bedel 143;
R. R. Com., Quarles 444, Donohue 143;
For Congress, Ela 451, Hibbard 131;
Councillor, Humphrey 444, Bennett 133;
Senator, Nathaniel Gordon 379, William W. Cook, 164;
For County Officers, — Treasurer, Lougee, 448, Tarlton 121;
Register, Belknap, 453, Poore 127;
Commissioner, Pillsbury 438, Tenney 140.

N. B. Collins was elected collector of taxes in Exeter for the ensuing year.

A vote was passed to direct the Boston & Maine Railroad to place gates at two of the crossings in the village.

The vote authorizing the trustees of the Robinson Seminary to provide books and stationery for residents of this town attending the Seminary, was passed unanimously. H.

HAMPTON. — The Republican vote last Tuesday was 156, Democratic vote 114. Representative elected, DeWitt C. Durgin, Republican. Moderator, Morris Hobbs; Town Clerk, John J. Leavitt; Selectmen,—John C. Marston, John H. Fogg, Reuben Lamprey.

MARRIAGES.

WOULD I?

Do you think if I'd a baby,
That I'd let him pull my hair?
Do you think I'd put on collars
Just to let him soil and tear?
Do you think I'd call it pretty
When he bites his little toe?
Yet I have known some silly mothers,
With their babies do just so.

Do you think I'd set him crying
Just to see his cunning frown?
Do you think I'd let him walking
Just to see him tumble down?
Would I call my baby pretty
When he'd neither teeth nor hair?
Yet I've known some silly mothers
With their babies, think they are.

Would I buy him drums and rattles
Just to hear him make a crash?
Would I watch him most delighted
Break my mirror all to smash?
Would I smother him in flannels
Just because his voice was low?
Does him up with belladonna?
Silly mothers treat him so.

Would I think my baby destined
To become a man of men,
And go to govern and control them
By the might of sword or pen?
I dare say, these noisy babies
Play the very deuce I know,
And I've seen the wisest women,
With their babies, think just so.

DEERFIELD.—At the election on Tuesday Joseph Kilton, Dem., was chosen Moderator by 71 majority. Bedel had 228 votes, Stearns 212. Richard J. Sanborn, Repub., and Joseph Gerrish, Dem., Representatives. Jas. Robinson, J. C. Brown Dem., and Benj. Brown, Repub., Selectmen. J. Frank Prescott, Dem., Town Clerk. Some Republicans made a coalition with the Democrats, and other Republicans got up a third ticket.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

PLANTATION BITTERS combine rare medicinal virtues with a delicious and a flavor grateful to the palate. It is purely vegetable, and in its composition all the requisites of science have been complied with. It is suitable for all ages and sexes. It is gentle, stimulating and soothing. All dyspeptic disorders are cured by it, and it repairs and restores nature's wasted powers. PLANTATION BITTERS are increasing daily in favor with all classes. It relieves suffering, renders life a luxury, brightens the present and throws a hopeful light on the future. 17

A YOUNG LADY writing to her mother from Europe says: Send me a dozen bottles of 'Barnett's Vegetable Hair Restorer.' What I took with me is all gone, and I cannot think of spoiling my hair by using any other." The judgment of all who have used Barrett's will confirm this lady's experience. —Boston Transcript.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their Phosphate as the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Paul Tuck, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into consideration. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Providence, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. He says of Poudrette: "It far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette was used side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle planted two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

CURE FOR SCRATCHES.—Wash the part affected with castile soap, and when dry tub on pretty freely any soft grease—then put on a woolen bandage—an old knit sash is the best—fasten it securely—let it remain for about two days—then remove the bandage and grease it again—then put on the bandage again, and in a week your horse will be cured of scratches. I have tried all the nostrums of the day, but none of them are equal to this simple remedy. An Old Farmer.

REMEDY FOR LICE ON CATTLE.—Fry tobacco in lard, and grease cows with the mixture, the lice will die instanter; but good feeding will prevent lice and warts, which is better than all the cures. I never had cattle troubled with vermin when in good condition.—Farmer.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Balarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of disease, prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every responsible druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to this article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Diseases of the Kidneys and Dropsy, Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous deposits cease, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, Impurities of the Blood, &c., fortifying Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhea, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in this class it is unequaled, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

It became, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade thought it more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some owner of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of any article made by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, the Company have always been to sell at cost products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE THEREFORE RELY ON SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our facilities we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department, who have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we have spared no expense in not only for our own movements, but for those of other Factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 43 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, Pa., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your pills for the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have been to me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored. LUCIEN B. JONES.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not been carried, nor any part of a continent long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved the best adapted of any one part of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the lungs throw off the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be used to clean out the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, opening the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been known to compare calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give an opiate to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial inflammation, ulceration, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the last stage of Consumption. Consumptives, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the above good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, for this purpose he will be personally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is at Boston, Tremont Row, No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives no written advice, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1ad

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c., &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the ERRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and THE PROPER TREATMENT AND CURE OF GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man, woman, or child. Price 25 cts. Address as above.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. A. H. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Excessive Use Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class journal in every respect.—8 pages, 32 columns,—published on the 1st of February, March and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

ALBERT H. HAYES, M. D., Resident and Consulting Physician.

N. B.—Dr. H. may be consulted in strictest confidence on all diseases requiring skill, secrecy and experience. INVIOLABLE SECRECY AND CERTAIN RELIEF. to myd

Holloway's Ointment.—

Unlike the dangerous nunguents that temporarily arrest pain by a deadening paralyzing process, this pure and wholesome vegetable salve promotes vital action in the sore, ulcerated or bruised flesh to which it is applied, and by this means enables nature to counteract diseased action in the part affected, and to restore its soundness. This is the philosophy of its operation. It is simple, rational, and experience, which is better than theory, proves it to be true. Sold by all Druggists.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

St. John's Episcopal Chapel.

The Episcopal Chapel or Vestry, which for two months has been undergoing a thorough renovation, was opened on Wednesday evening for the first time since the improvements have been made. An extension of several feet has been added to the southern end, and the interior otherwise enlarged. It is furnished with settees with reversible backs and iron frames, painted in imitation of chestnut, and the floor is covered with carpeting of crimson and black. The walls are colored of an amber shade.

Gothic windows of stained glass, the caps ornamented with scrolls of black walnut, and each having a circular illuminated pane at the apex, representing the eight Evangelists, light the room. Above each window is an appropriate legend in colored text letters. On the east side they read as follows: "Wisdom is better than riches," "Follow peace with all men," "Follow after Charity," "Peace be within thy walls." Those on the west side are, "Unto us a child is born," "Children, obey your parent in the Lord," "One Lord, one Faith, one Baptism," "The last hold of instruction."

The crowning glory of the decorations is the illuminated window at the southern end of the house. This is six by two feet in size, representing Christ blessing little children. It is surrounded with a richly carved frame of black walnut and chestnut, and is surmounted with the inscription in illuminated English letters, "Holy, Holy, Holy." This window was presented by the Sunday School children of the Church, and cost $250.

The chancel into which the window opens has a blue ceiling, and contains two neatly-carved chairs, and an Altar of chestnut, ornamented with appropriate emblems in black walnut. On the front of the dais rises an exquisitely carved Lectern, and above, on the architrave which spans the Chancel, is the legend, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not."

At the right of the Chancel is a recess containing the ancient organ, and above is the motto, "Sing praises to our God." On the opposite side, over the door, is the inscription, "Get wisdom, get understanding." Above the vestibule, enclosed in fret-work, is a shield on which is emblazoned in gold letters a Greek monogram. New Chandeliers and bronze gas brackets ornament the walls, —making it one of the most elegantly and neatly furnished Chapels to be found in the State.

It has been fitted up for the accommodation of the Sabbath School connected with St. John's Church — under the supervision of the Wardens, Col. J. W. Pierce and C. C. Jackson Esq.—The joiner-work was done by Mr. B. F. Webster, the illuminated painting by Boston artists, and the Altar, lectorn and other ornamental carving by Mr. Charles H. Gould of this City. H.

MUSICAL. — For four seasons, the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society have provided valuable practice for themselves and entertainment for the public, by giving Concerts, always of a high order of excellence. For two seasons, selections from the Oratorios; last year the Haymakers—in many respects the greatest success of the sort ever achieved in Portsmouth; and now they are about to bring out Queen Esther in her full sheen of glory—and this favorite Cantata will we think excel even the Haymakers in some respects, and be fully as popular. Tuesday and Wednesday Evenings of next week, is the time.

BEERY.—There was very little noise on the streets after the polls were closed on Tuesday, though there were a score of drunken men swaying about like reeds in the wind. One patriot was seen propelling towards home in the evening cogitating to himself in this wise;—Jones 'feated, guess not—don't care whether Frank Bailey is Sen'tor or John H. Jones—he's good man, 'nyway—he's gen'l'man, ev'ry time. He's 'lected, sure.

☞ During the severe sickness of Lewis E. Smith, Esq., Principal of the Boys' High School, (of rheumatic fever,) Rev. H. L. Kelsey has kindly consented to assist Mr. Clarke, and we understand all goes smoothly and well. Mr. Kelsey is a good scholar and teacher, and the Committee and School are fortunate in securing his services.

☞ It is estimated by good judges in such matters, that Frank Jones' defeat for Senator, cost Democracy not less than $2000 and not more than $5000.

☞ The Board of Mayor and Aldermen have a hearing on the petition for widening Fleet Street, this (Thursday) afternoon.

☞ In our item last week, stating the price of the Gazette at 5 cts. per copy, $2 per year, the $ mark was accidentally omitted, which made it read, 5 cts. per copy—2 per year. On this our waggish Br. Walton, of the Salem Register, writes us, (sending our item and a 2-ct. piece,) that he would prefer to take the Gazette by the year, and so encloses the price as above. We are obliged to him for advance payment, and will own that we have sometimes received even less than that for our paper for a year; but we never agree to take so little, and copper stock is rather low in this vicinity just now.

☞ There has been some talk of selling the old State Street Schoolhouse—but we do not see that the city owns any too much real estate for its own uses, unless it be the City Farm. A good suggestion as to the building in State Street, it seems to us, is to convert it into a Police Station below, basement and all if need be, and a Ward Room above.

For the Chronicle.

DEMOCRATIC CONSOLATION.—On the evening of Election a man (?) judged to be a Democrat by his gait, thus made known his only source of consolation; "We've got licked; now I want to go home, and take a mug of beer that holds about a barrel, and sit down and have a quiet time." C.

DEMOCRATIC ARGUMENT.—Brian Killian went to the polls at Ward 3, on Tuesday, quietly, and voted the Republican ticket. John Sullivan came up and "smashed" him for voting as he pleased. Sullivan was to be arrested on Wednesday, and we hope Judge Odell will make an example of him.

WHO IS IT?—Rosenberger, implicated in the New York drawback frauds, on Tuesday turned state's evidence and testified that the chief operators of the frauds had not been arrested; that they extended from Portsmouth, N. H., to Washington, and that he had made over $25,000 by his transactions.

THE SENATORIAL VOTE.—In our table of votes published Tuesday the total vote for Frank Jones in this city was given as 1111, instead of 913—198 too much. The actual vote was as follows; Bailey 1967, Jones 913, Scattering 3. Bailey's majority over all 151.

☞ Hon. John H. Bailey was in receipt of numerous congratulatory telegrams on Wednesday, from various parts of the State. The President of the Manchester City Club telegraphed, "Portsmouth beats all;"

☞ We understand that J. E. Rider, Esq., of Portsmouth, N. H., has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Louisville & Memphis Railroad.—Traveller.

☞ The Velocipede Match at the Rink of Messrs. Deering & Gammon was postponed from Wednesday to Friday evening next, on account of the rain.

☞ The rebel hand organ cries baby because its master is defeated and talks of bribery. Wonder if Frank Jones got out of the contest short of $5000!

☞ We regret to learn by telegraph from San Francisco of the death of the little son of Mr. Ezra Winchester, aged about 8 months we believe.

WARD ONE was the scene of some hard fighting on Tuesday afternoon, which was squelched speedily.

☞ Our thanks to Moderator Jos. B. Adams for favors on election day.

TO MY PATIENTS.

TOO GREAT DEVOTION to professional duties in the past, resulting in declining health in the present, will compel me until further notice to make the following curtailment of my Office Hours:

Forenoons, each day of the week, from 9½ to 1. Afternoons of Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 3 to 4, or one hour only.

Nothing but the most imperative necessity on the part of my patients will induce me to alter or extend these hours. Will they therefore please bear them in mind and time their calls to them?

THE "AMERICAN PROTESTANT,"
DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE AMERICAN PROTESTANT ASSOCIATION, and Republican Principles.
THE BEST ADVERTIRING MEDIUM In America.
CIRCULATING IN EVERY STATE IN THE UNION.
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY BY THE American Protestant Publishing Co.,
No. 32 CONGRESS ST., ROOM 8, BOSTON.
This journal will contain Editorial articles on the present situation of affairs throughout the Republic, always keeping a watchful eye over "our faith and our firesides."
The time has come for Protestants to take action. The success of our cause, the triumph of Civil and Religious Liberty, is too great to jeopardize by trivial or personal differences.
Let us go forth with "Loyalty, Justice and Liberty," and be true to our firesides and our cause—and "Rebellion and Popery" will crumble in the dust. The paper is 24 by 34 inches, printed on new type, and contains the general news of the day.
We ask the support of every Republican, and promise in return to make our journal a welcome visitor to every Protestant home in America.
Terms:—$3.00, paid in Advance.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids: simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

SPEECH OF MR. JOAB WHITTLE.

IN SQUAWKBORO' TOWN MEETING.

On the subject of Building a School-house.

Mr. Moderator; I want to say a word about this 'ere new school-'us'. Most everybody has had their say, and now I'd like to hev' mine. I can't set, as I hev' got for the last few hours, and see the people's money flung away on a new school-'us' without sayin' a word agin it.

If I understan' the matter right, it is proposed to spend few thousand dollars. And what fur, Mr. Moderator? To set up a high school-'us', and teach the boys and gals of Squawkboto' a lot o' high-faluin stuff that will only make 'em imperdent and sassy! When I went to school and got my larnin', all I studied was the three R's—readin', 'rit-in', and 'rithmetic; and that is plenty enough for any boy to larn, and too much for a gal. It is easy enough for men to get up in town-meetin' and vote away few thousand dollars at a lick; but how long would it take them to arn that money themselves?

In my opinion, Mr. Moderator, there is too much money locked up in public buildings already. Look at the meetin'-uses in Squawsboro'! Four, and any one on 'em is big enough to hold all the people that goes to the hill on 'em. How can a town ever get ahead that has so much capital locked up in meetin'-uses? And every one on 'em callin' the other names! Suppose this vote passes, where are ye agoin to put your new school-'us? There'll be a puzzler for ye.

I'spose Squire Snukes will try his pootiest to have it built on his five-acre lot and somehow the people of this town think they must dew jist what the squire tells 'em, because he was sent to Gineral Court one term. But I can tell you, Mr. Moderator, that if the school-'us' is put on that lot, it will be playin' a mean thing on the children that live over by Skinner's Pond, and them that live up by Silas Doozenberry's. They can't come to school only when the sun shines.

And I don't want the thing built anywhere near my place. I know what 'tis to live near the school-'us. I don't want my apples and peaches hooked, or my fences hacked up by boys, to say nothin' about the winders broken by base balls and sich.

Mr. Moderator, we've got along all these years without this school-'us'; why can't we get along fifty years more? Why agitate this peaceful town of Squawkboro' from one end to t'other about eddicatin' a parcel of boys and gals that know a slight more than their payrents do already?

Few thousand dollars! My gracious, Mr. Moderator! just think of few thousand dollars all at wonst! Just think of the town debt now, and then picter to yourself what it will be with few thousand more piled onto it. Look forward a hundred and fifty years, and see our children's children a groanin' under the takes this 'ere school-'us' will bring upon 'em. Why, sir, I got our minister to figger up what few thousand dollars would be if divided ekally among the inhabitants of Squawkboro', and it come to three and nine-pence apiece! Yes, Mr. Moderator, three and nine-pence apiece!

Why, sir, it is only a year since the town went to the expense of two hundred and fifty dollars to build a hearse house, and not a livin' person in Squawkboro' needed it. But there it is built, and stands there unopened week after week, hardly any use for it. As I said before, I can't set still and see the hard-arned money of the people flung away on hearse-houses and school-houses without gittin' up and uterin' my voice agin it.

Mr. Moderator, I shall vote agin this appropriation, an I hope every liberal-minded, whole-souled man will do the same.

CONCRETE SIDEWALKS AND FLOORS.—The Concord Patriot says:

Concrete is in use in this city in every kind of walk, and for basement-floors, etc., and those who have it will tell you there is nothing like it. Walks that have been in use six or eight years are as perfect as when put down. I have a sidewalk that has been down over three years, and it is to day as even, and almost as smooth, as a planed board. The sidewalks on the four sides of our State-House Square, and the walks in the yard, are of the same character. My experience and observation have convinced me that this concrete is the best, neatness, and cheapest walk (either for street sidewalks or through grounds and about buildings) that is now in use. The cost is about 60 cents a square yard. It will last forever apparently. A piece of sidewalk on Main street (our chief business street) has been down about ten years, and is now perfect, and appears to have grown harder and stronger with time and use.

TIME FOR KILLING TREE-WORMS.—Another correspondent urges farmers to take this time of the year for looking in their orchards for the nests of worms; they can be found on the underside of branches, or in the forks, small and shining, often covered with a little silken tent. One brush of the hand will destroy a nest which it would take many minutes to dispose of after the foliage is out. They can be seen and reached much more easily while the trees are bare.—Hearth and Home.

— A Democratic Washington correspondent laments that the little conservative band in the Senate is reduced to ten, and now that Messrs. Buckalew, Doolittle and Hendricks are gone, they have no leader.

☞ Only 296 more days of Frank Jones!

HOW TO SWEEP CHIMNEYS.—Those chimneys communicating with stoves or fireplaces in which large quantities of soft wood are burned, should be swept clean as often as a coat of soot has accumulated in the flues sufficiently thick to be in danger of igniting, for large scales of burning soot will readily rise above the top of the chimney, fall on a shingle roof, and, in many instances, set the building on fire. In order to remove the soot expeditiously, a "chimney-sweeper's broom," with a brush on both sides of the head, may be tied to the end of a rope, with a stone or other weight beneath the broom; then let it down into the top of the flue, and draw it again to the top of the chimney. The broom will sweep when it is drawn down by the weight, as well as when the person at the top hauls it up. By standing on the windward side of the chimney, a person can sweep the flue in a few minutes, without suffering inconvenience from the soot.—Hearth and Home.

ISABELLA AND THE NUNS.—It is related that the ex-Queen of Spain recently resolved to visit all the convents in Paris, but a rebuff she received at one of them will probably lead her to abandon her design. At this one she was received without any sort of ceremony, and on leaving, no one but the Lady Superior accompanied her to the door. "Why am I not treated with more respect than this?" asked her Majesty. The Superior meekly replied that it was not the custom of the house to do extraordinary honor to visitors. "But I am a Queen!" The Superior replied that no exception was made in the rules for a Queen. "Why, in Spain," exclaimed the Queen, angrily, "the nuns kneel when I enter their convent." "Oh, madam!" was the answer, "here we only kneel to God."

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

and Rye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these

SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

Portsmouth, Jan., 1869. dawly

To the Supreme Judicial Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

Respectfully represents the City of Portsmouth that on the Ninteenth day of February last past, the City Council of the City of Portsmouth, at their regular meeting, voted to discontinue the highway leading from Market Street, formerly Fore Street, to the Channel of the Piscataqua River, known as the "Ferry Ways," laid out by the Court of General Sessions of the Peace, on the fourteenth day of February, A. D. seventeen hundred and seventy-five.

Said highway is no longer needed for the accommodation of the public.

Wherefore said City requests said Court to consent to the discontinuance of the same.

March 1, 1869. CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

By FRANK JONES, Mayor.

In the Supreme Judicial Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

This petition having been filed in the office of the Clerk of said Court this first day of March, A. D. 1869.

It is Ordered that said City of Portsmouth notify all persons interested in the subject matter of said petition to appear at the next Term of said Court, to be held at Exeter on the second Tuesday of April next, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order thereon to be published once a week in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County of Rockingham, for three successive weeks before said term.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

A true copy of the original petition, and of the original order thereon.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in cutting the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.;—HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York;—WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

HURSELL'S

PURITY,

FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,

20 State Street, Boston.

MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre (and a grateful perfume.

SIMON SHORT'S SON SAMUEL.

[The following literary curiosity was constructed for the last number of The Aspirant, the reading of which formed a part of the closing exercises of the Concord High School. The writer is Miss Ida Dennett. Alliterated stories have been written before; but we do not remember to have seen one in which the difficult letter s was carried so far.—Statesman]

Shrewd Simon Short sewed shoes. Seventeen summers, speeding storms, spreading sunshine, successively saw Simon's small, shabby shop still standing stanch, saw Simon's selfsame squeaking sign still swinging, silently specifying: "Simon Short, Smithfield's sole surviving shoe-maker. Shoes sewed, soled superfinely." Simon's spry, sedulous spouse, Sally Short, sewed shirts, stitched sheets, stuffed sofas. Simon's six stout, sturdy sons, —Seth, Samuel, Stephen, Saul, Shadrach, Silas—sold sundries. Sober Seth sold sugar, starch, spice; simple Sam sold saddles, stirrups, screws; sagacious Stephen sold silks, satins, shawls; skeptical Saul sold silver salvers; selfish Shadrach sold salves, shoe-strings, soap, saws, skates; slack Silas sold Sally Short's stuffed sofas.

Some seven summers since, Simon's second son Samuel saw Sophia Sophronia Spriggs somewhere. Sweet, sensible, smart Sophia Sophronia Spriggs. Sam soon showed strange symptoms. Sam seldom stayed, storing, selling saddles. Sam sighed sorrowfully, sought Sophia Sophronia's society, sung several serenades slyly. Simon stormed, scolded severely, said Sam seemed so silly singing such shameful senseless songs. "Strange, Sam should slight such splendid summer sales! Strutting spendthrift! shatter-brained simpleton!"

"Softly, softly see," said Sally. "Sam's smitten, Sam's spied some sweet-heart."

"Sentimental school-boy!" snarled Simon, "Smitten! Stop such stuff!" Simon sent Sally's snuff-box spinning, seized Sally's scissors, smashed Sally's spectacles, scattering several spools. "Sneaking scoundrel! Sam's shocking silliness shall surcease!!" Scowling, Simon stopped speaking, starting swiftly shopward. Sally sighed sadly. Summoning Sam, she spoke sweet sympathy. "Sam," said she, "sire seems singularly snappy; so sonny, stop strolling streets, stop smoking segars, spending specie superfluously, stop sprucing so, stop singing serenades, stop short! Sell saddles, sonny, sell saddles sensible; see Sophia Sorphronio Spriggs soon; she's sprightly, she's stable, so solicit, sue, secure Sophia speedily, Sam."

"So soon? so soon?" said Sam, standing stock still.

"'So soon,' surely," said Sally smiling; "specially since sire shows such spirits."

"So Sam, somewhat scared, sauntered slowly, shaking stupendously. Sam soliloquises: Sophia Sophronia Spriggs Spriggs — Short — Sophia Sophronia Short, Samuel Short's spouse—sounds splendid! Suppose she should say——Sho! she shant! she shant!"

Soon Sam spied Sophia starching shirts, singing softly. Seeing Sam, she stopped starching, saluted Sam smilingly. Sam stammered shockingly.

"Spl-spl-splendid summer season, Sophia."

"Somewhat sultry," suggested Sophia.

"Sar-sartin, Sophia," said Sam. (Silence seventeen seconds.)

Selling saddles still, Sam?"

"Sar-sar-sartin," said Sam starting suddenly. 'Season 's somewhat sudorific," said Sam, stealthily stanching streaming sweat, shaking sensibly.

"Sartin," said Sophia, smiling significantly. "Sip some sweet sherbet, Sam." (Silence sixty seconds.)

"Sire shot sixty sheldrakes, Saturday," said Sophia.

"Sixty? sho!" said Sam. (Silence seventy-seven seconds.)

"See sister Susan's sunflowers," said Sophia sociably scattering 'such stiff' silence.

Sophia's sprightly sauciness stimulated Sam strangely; so Sam suddenly spoke sentimentally. "Sophia, Susan's sunflowers seem saying, 'Samuel Short, Sophia Sophronia Spriggs, stroll serenely, seek some sequestered spot, some slivan shade. Sparkling springs shall sing soul-soothing strains; sweet songsters shall silence secret sighings; super-angelic sylphs shall'"——Sophia snickered; so Sam stopped.

"Sophia," said Sam solemnly.

"Sam," said Sophia.

"Sophia, stop smiling. Sam Short 's sincere. Sam's seeking some sweet spouse, Sophia?"

"Sophia stood silent.

"Speak! Sophia, speak! such suspense speculates sorrow."

"Seek sire, Sam, seek sire."

So Sam sought sire Spriggs. Sire Spriggs said "Sartin."

The New President's Wife.

A Washington letter writer give this description of Mrs. U. S. Grant:

"Mrs. Grant is not going to disgrace her country women in the highest mansion in the land. Instead, she will there represent the best type of wife, mother, and friend. She has many friends in Washington for her own sake. When she rolls past in her carriage, I don't believe the most envious cry in their hearts, 'There she goes; a vulgar, selfish woman, who would be a nobody if her husband had not lifted her into power.' They say, rather, 'How she enjoys life for herself and others. How happy and earnest; how hearty and kind she is, and whatever her lot, she would be the same. I am glad she has come to good fortune.

People like Mrs. Grant because she brings with her prosperity the same qualities which made her happy and beloved in adversity and obscurity. Few women ever bore the perilous test of sudden fame and fortune with a more hearty happiness or more unassuming grace. Is she pretty? No. She is a rolypoly of a little woman, with beautiful neck, hands and feet. Her features are well cut, but her eyes are crossed. Some of her friends wished her to have them straightened. 'No,' she said, 'Mr. Grant had loved her ever since she was a little girl with her eyes crossed. He had said that she would not be herself to him if they were straight. Crooked they should remain. If he was satisfied what mattered it to other people!'

Her morning receptions are on Saturday. 'In society' morning means after 1 P. M. To-day she wore a ruby-colored gros grain silk, trimmed with folds of satin and heavy fringe a shade lighter than the dress, costly laces, and no ornament whatever in her abundant hair. A constant throng of richly-apparelled ladies and gentleman passed before her from 1 till 4. There were men of high degree too numerous to be mentioned, and a few extremely beautiful girls.

A homelike atmosphere pervades the house of Gen. Grant. The parlors are elegant, yet full of comfort. Everything in them is handsome, but nothing is too handsome to be enjoyed. The pictures on the walls are characteristic. There are portraits of Lincoln, Sherman and Sheridan. In the back parlor there is a large bust of Lincoln, and a portrait of a splendid horse. One side of the room is covered by a family picture, which some day will be historic. It contains portraits of the entire Grant family, painted by Coggswell. It is a beautiful outdoor picture, in which the General stands in full uniform, with his wife in graceful robes sitting beside him, their four children grouped around them, all in natural attitudes, all looking what they are—a happy family."

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is accomplished that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, arrange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the fear and shock of Whooping Cough; this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's sufferings, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.
Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.
J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or panaceas were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was relief until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This was procured and immediately using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her occasional sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thenceforth no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.
For sale by Druggists. Price $1. f6 3w

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning death is ready for the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along;
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear a clog to bed,
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Commences with a cold;
Kill hosts, yea, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh advances on;
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon files;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to reach the weary friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll suffer pain again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 183 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.
Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company, or to the

FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1869.

The News.

Sugar is lower.

Commissioner Delano has entered upon his duties in the Internal Revenue Department.

Deputy Commissioner Risley of Indiana has resigned and his resignation has been accepted.

Cholera has entirely disappeared in the neighborhood of Santiago de Cuba.

The insurgents are burning plantations and scattering general destruction in the vicinity of Manzanillo and Santa Cruz.

Heavy shipments of sugar and molasses are now being made for the United States, from all the ports on the Island.

Canada had a severe snow storm on Wednesday.

An engine and a special car, with some passengers, started out on the Grand Trunk Railroad to push through the immense quantity of snow that has fallen on the line between Montreal and Vandreuil. In some places the train had to pass through drifts of snow 25 or 30 feet high. In the month of February the Grand Trunk road lost nearly half a million of dollars by the interruption to traffic caused by snow.

Senator Anthony of R. I. is to be elected vice-president pro tem. of the U. S. Senate, to preside, in the absence of Mr. Colfax.

The large number of 2411 cattle at Cambridge and Brighton markets has had the effect of depressing prices about as much as they advanced last week.

The Democrats of Texas are to run Gen. A. J. Hamilton, a loyal man for Governor on a ticket with a rebel for Lieutenant Governor. Then Hamilton is to be elected U. S. Senator and the Lieutenant Governor will take his place.

Ipswich, Mass., has a public library.

Springfield, Mass., has a woman's Suffrage convention.

The Missouri legislators in their haste to ratify the new Constitutional Amendment ratified only one section of it, and have therefore to do the whole business over again.

Nearly all the Democrats of the Indiana legislature resigned, leaving the legislature without a quorum. Their object in so doing was to prevent the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment. A new election to fill the vacancies, takes place in April. An extra session of the legislature and the new election will cost $150,000.

Binkley undertook to assault Ex-Commissioner Rollins at Washington, on Thursday, and Rollins got away from him. Binckley afterwards assaulted Deputy Commissioner Harland and knocked him down. The crowd separated them.

The President sent into the Senate on Thursday the name of Ex-Gov. Fish, of New York, for the State Department; Ex-Gov. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, for the Treasury Department; Gen. John A. Rawlins, of Illinois, to be Secretary of War; Mr. E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, to be Minister to France.

Hon. Geo. Bancroft is to remain as Minister to Prussia, Hon. John P. Hale as Minister to Spain, Hon. Geo. P. Marsh as Minister to Italy.

Changes are to be made in the Ministers to England, Russia, France and Portugal.

Secretary Cox has decided to retain W. T. Otto as Assistant Secretary of the Interior, at the request of President Grant.

THE HOUSE.—Among the Representatives elect to the Legislature we notice the names of several members of the editorial fraternity. At the head, (of the State and the craft—for public prominence and geographical position, and not improbably as Speaker of the House,) stands Col. Henry O. Kent of the Lancaster Republican; then as you come down through the State — Mr. James O. Adams of the Manchester Mirror; Mr. A. J. Hoyt, of the Exeter News Letter; Mr. George Wadleigh of Dover, late of the Inquirer; and Mr. Frank W. Miller of this Chronicle,—besides Maj. Daniel J. Vaughan, book and job printer,—of Portsmouth. There may be others, but these are all we observe.

The State Printing, which had been done in Concord almost from time immemorial, up to 1867, was then voted to Mr. Clarke of Manchester, who has done it well for two years. It is supposed he will be a candidate again this year; and the question will no doubt be whether this, or it shall go to Nashua or Portsmouth or return to Concord?

HAMPTON FALLS.—Moderator, Samuel Palmer; Town Clerk, Enoch J. Tilton; Selectmen, Warren Brown, Edwin, Prescott, Edwin Janvrin, Collector, Silas Green all Republican.

New Hampshire Items.

Stephen Hill, Esq., a prominent citizen of Chichester, caught a severe cold a fortnight since, and became insane.—He was carried to the asylum at Concord, and died a raving maniac.

Rev. Dr. Cummings of Concord has accepted an unanimous call from the Baptist church at Lebanon.

The Claremont Manufacturing Company cast its first stereotype plate for book-work last week.

Mr. E. G. McAlpine of Warner has cut a million feet of sawing timber this season. He has also delivered at the railroad two hundred tons of masts and the same quantity of spruce spars. He has cut fifteen masts, averaging ninety feet in length and six tons measure.—In addition to this he has sent away a hundred tons of bark and four hundred tons of firewood. One mast cost him $85 standing. He employs thirty-one men, and works twenty-eight oxen and ten horses.

Of the three hundred and twenty-two students at Dartmouth College, one hundred and thirty-five are church members. Thirty-four are preparing for the ministry.

There have been twenty-three snow storms and forty-six inches of snow in Pelham, this winter.

Rev. J. Fullonton of Raymond received $33 by a donation visit, and more recently, Rev. E. D. Chapman of the same place was remembered to about the same amount.

The house of Herman Nichols, in Columbia, was destroyed by fire Feb. 28. A little girl went to the cellar for potatoes with a lighted candle and ignited straw over them. Through an open partition the fire went to the garret, and in a very few minutes the whole house was in flames. Most of the furniture was saved, together with the clothing; but 300 bushels potatoes, 10 bushels beans, considerable corn, 100 bushels oats, 2 barrels pork, and other provisions were destroyed. Loss $2,000. No insurance.

Enoch Jackman of East Concord went to his barn on the 18th ult., and found a pair of four year old steers dead, the floor having given way beneath and hung them by the necks.

THE P. S. & P. RAILROAD vs. B. & M. R. R.—This was a suit brought to recover $31,578.94 upon a contract which the plaintiffs say they made with the defendants, to compromise and to forbear to sue a certain claim which the plaintiffs had against the defendants for payment to the stockholders of the plaintiff corporation of certain dividends in gold or silver coin. A contract was made between the plaintiff company on the one part and the defendant company and the Eastern Railroad Company on the other part, by which the parties of the second part were to pay the stockholders of the plaintiff company for the use of their road a certain dividend, "in gold or silver coin of the currency of the United States.

A question having arisen in 1868 whether the plaintiffs were entitled to their dividends in gold or silver the plaintiffs threatened to bring a suit against the defendants and the Eastern Company.

At a meeting of the directors of the Boston and Maine Railroad in December, 1864, a vote was passed to the effect that that company should authorize the plaintiff company to make up their semi-annual dividends, at the rate of four dollars per share, free of the U. S. tax, on half their stock, representing the interest of the Boston & Maine Railroad, provided the defendants he relieved by the plaintiffs of all liability, if any should there be under the contract, for the payment of dividends in gold and silver. This proposition was accepted by the plaintiffs, who brought suit to recover the sum alleged to be due them under this contract.

The case came on for trial in Boston at the last April term, when it was reported for the consideration of the full court. It was argued before the Supreme Court at the present March term. That court have now given judgment for the defendants. The rescript is as follows:—

"The vote of the defendant corporation passed in 1864, does not of itself import a separate promise on the part of the defendant to pay to the plaintiff one-half of the sum that would be required to make up the amount of the dividends authorized by that vote. As a modification of the original contract of 1847, it is manifestly dependent upon the concurrence of the Eastern Railroad Company and cannot take effect without such concurrence."

F. Goodwin for the plaintiffs, and C. F. Choate for defts.—Boston Advertiser.

☞ By the recent transmissions of signals over a continuous line of telegraph from the Cambridge Observatory (H. U.) to San Francisco, made for the more accurate determination of the difference of longitude, the time occupied by electricity in passing to Buffalo and back (1000 miles) is 1-10th of a second; to Chicago and back (2400 miles) 1-5th of a second; Omaha and back (3400 miles) 1-3d of a second; Salt Lake and back, 6-11ths of a second; San Francisco and back (6000 miles) 3-4ths of a second. This indicates a rate of motion in electricity of about 8000 miles in one second, which, we believe, is less than the result of former experiments.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $45 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime put up by you all 100 per cent. above their market value, in my opinion, increase of crops this year."

D. A. Huntington, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Dean D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield so much as to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found the Nitro Phosphate to be equal to any on Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Brad'y Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

—Dr. Swasey has recently brought from New York to New Bedford a piece of human flesh, taken from the body of a man who died of trichiniasis, in the New York hospital, in which the entozoic animalcules were seen in great numbers by the aid of the microscope. Eight persons ate of a ham at a boarding house, and were seized with the disease. Four of them have died, and it is thought that only one will recover.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the germs of fevers, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be avoided. Say the troublesome ill be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps a hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as the population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in the evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Gleet, Strictures, Mucous Discharges, Leucorrhea, Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Weakness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of Dissipation, Excess and imprudence in life, Impurities of the Blood, &c., superceding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Leucorrhea, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Council, Thursday, March 11.

In Board of Aldermen, at the Special Meeting, Thursday Afternoon, the petition of Joseph Parry and numerous others, for widening Fleet Street, between Congress and Hanover, was heard, pro and con. The petitioners suggested an increase of five or six feet, which would remove no good buildings now, and only the Mech. Association premises at the corner of Congress Street, when their four years leases are out. Fleet St. is 21 feet wide at Congress, but only 17 feet at Mr. Parry's—on the opposite side of Congress it is 40 feet, and the Com. on Streets reported in favor o continuing this width through to Hanover.

Mr. Parry alone spoke for the petitioners, and urged that the necessities of travel demanded the widening—that passing of teams there was difficult and dangerous, and often resulted in damage, and that although they asked but a little, they thought more would be better, and should not oppose any greater extension by the Board. He was sure the value of every lot abutting would be increased by the movement.

Messrs. John T. Dame and A. T. Joy, on the part of the Mech.'s Association, would be willing to widen five feet, leaving the corner building until their leases expire, when they will probably build over. Any greater width they would object to, as greatly damaging the property. Mr. Joy also thought, although in favor of wide streets, that the movement was uncalled for, comparatively to many other streets, and to the much greater travel through this in old stage times and when Mr. Johnson's livery stable was kept on Hanover Street—but would not object to the five feet enlargement.

Mr. A. W. Haven, for prospective owners of an estate abutting, would not object to a good and sufficient widening, which would add to the value of the street and land, but should oppose any trifling enlargement as useless.

Mr. Joy thought the expense of a 20-foot increase would be $20,000—Mr. Parry was sure $5,000 would do it, and that the increase in value would more than pay the cost.

The Board visited and examined the premises, but took no action, on account of the absence of Ald. Slater, a member of the Com. on Streets.

In the Evening, the Com. on Fire Dept. reported on the Salt Water Reservoir at the Universalist Church, that the supply pipe needed to be carried further out into the Pond—and said Com. with the Mayor added were authorized to act in the matter.

Petition of Addison Carroll and others, to widen Sagamore Road near house of Joseph Fuller—which was favorably reported on in the last Board—was referred to Com. on Streets with the Mayor added, with power to act.

Joint Com. on City Lands and Buildings, to whom was referred various petitions concerning the State St. School house, reported in favor of refitting same for a Ward Room, and to sell the Lot on Middle St., and apply this and the former appropriation of $500 to repair said house, toward the cost of the same. Referred back to same Com. for further report and estimate of cost.

Notice was received from counsel of the heirs of James Rundlett, that they had refused the award of $266 land damages for continuing Summer Street through their field; and asked the Court for a much larger amount. Referred to Com. on Streets for conference with parties.

John W. Fernald was elected to take annual Census of Births and Deaths in Wards 1 and 3; Wm. Bodge in Ward 2.

Ulysses Parks asked payment for a bill of $25.42, for lost time and medical attendance, caused by injuries received by a boy coasting on Russell St. Referred to Com on Claims.

Com. on Taxing Velocipede Rinks, asked and were granted a week further to report.

Com. onR esolution relative to building a Bridge across South Mill pond, reported in favor of laying the subject on the table—which was adopted.

In Common Council, Resolutions approving and commending Mr. Elwyn's donation of land for a City Common, and recommending the City Government and citizens to aid in the matter—and appropriating $3,000 toward it when a like sum shall be raised by private subscription to the Trustees—were referred to Com. on Bills on 2d Reading.

The Board concurred in the vote to fit up the State Street School House as a Ward Room for Ward Two.

Police Court, Odell, J., March 11.—John Sullivan was fined $10, and costs, ($19.80,) for smiting Brian Killian on election day. Served him right!

STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.—That Davis Brothers take the best photographs, tin types, and other pictures, has long been an acknowledged fact. Their series of stereoscopic views, taken in Portsmouth and vicinity, are of much interest to all sons and daughters of Portsmouth, at home and abroad.

Their latest achievement in this line is a set of beautiful views of State, Court and Fleet Streets, Glen Cottage and the residence of the late Rev. Dr. Burroughs, taken just after the late snow storm, when the trees were laden with Snow. The views are picturesque and beautiful, and are valuable additions to the fine collection which the Messrs. Davis have for sale at their rooms opposite the Post Office.

JONES BEATEN BY BAILEY.—Hon. Frank Jones, the Mayor of Portsmouth, has proved himself so nearly invincible that the Democrats believed they could carry the first Senatorial District with him as a candidate. The Republicans put into the field Hon. John H. Bailey, and up-and-up square man, high-minded and honorable, who has never yet been beaten when running as a candidate for office. He proved too many guns for Mayor Jones, though the latter was unbounded in his liberality to schools, churches, bar-rooms, fire companies and all sorts of interests. Our compliments and congratulations to Mr. Bailey, backed by that of the Republicans of the State.—Manchester Mirror.

REBEL ENTERPRISE.—Get all the favors possible from one Telegraph line, then order the President's message from another Company and not pay for it,—publish it in a mangled and jumbled manner, and then blow of tremendous exertions in a leader of more than a half column. If some people paid their honest debts, how many of their 19 copies of trash could they afford to give away? We say nothing here of habitually stealing all our Election returns, without credit.

THE VELOCIPEDE MATCH at the Rink of Messrs. Deering & Gammon, comes off this evening at half past seven o'clock. The race will be an exciting one, as the contestants think they can beat the best time heretofore made, easy. There will doubtless be a large attendance of ladies and gentleman to see the sport.

☞ The Washingtonian Temperance Meeting last Saturday night, at the Temple, was well attended and Mr. Adams interested all who heard.—Col. Pierce of Hillsboro', (brother of the ex-president,) is to speak in favor of Temperance, next Sunday evening, at the same place.

☞We had quite a heavy rain on Wednesday evening, — which wasn't good for Bidwell & Locke's Dramatic show, nor various other things; but the reign of Queen Esther at the Temple next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, is expected to be altogether enjoyable.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2, per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

For the Chronicle.

"Revolutions never go backwards," notwithstanding the fact that the Republicans of New Hampshire have put their Stearns into the Gubernational chair. RADICAL.

☞It is said that a further reduction of the force at the various navy yards has been ordered, and that the Algoma, now at this Naval Station, is to be fitted out.

☞ A number of new Advertisements we are unable to insert this morning—among them, one of C. H. Mendum & Co., of lots of new and fresh Dry Goods.

DEATHS.

In this city, March 1st, very suddenly, at the residence of his father, on LaFayette Road, Mr. GEORGE BALCH, aged 23 years. On that day he walked into the city, about 3 miles, and on his return home partook of his dinner and laid down at 3 o'clock, and could not be aroused again; and about 9 o'clock in the evening expired. He has been Assistant Light House keeper on White Island for about two years past.

In Somerville, Mass., Feb. 28, MRS. MARTHA MASON SEAWARD, aged 77, widow of John M. Seaward, Esq., formerly of Hampton, and a native of Portsmouth.

In Rye, South Road, March 11, Mr. HENRY JENNESS, aged about 80 yrs.

In Hampton, Mrs. BRIGAIL SHAW, widow of Moses Shaw, aged 87.

$100 PREMIUM FOR INDIAN CORN.
Believing that this exceedingly valuable crop can be much increased by proper cultivation and judicious selection of seed—encouraged by the great success of last year, and aided by generous friends—the subscriber offers premiums, as follows, for Corn grown in Rockingham County in 1869:
For best 100 ears of eight-rowed Corn, $25.00
2d best " " " " " 15.00
For best 100 ears of more than 8-rowed Corn, 25.00
2d best " " " " " 15.00
The Corn must be well traced, and so secured by cords as not to break, and to be forwarded free of expense, to be to reach the subscriber at Smyth's Hall, in Manchester, by noon of the last Tuesday of December next, at which time and place the premiums will be awarded.
Size, beauty and quality, both of ears and grains, are among the things to be considered in awarding the premiums. Each 100 ears must be grown upon one farm, and none of it selected from a piece of less than one acre. The four Premium Traces are to belong to subscriber, and all others to their owners. Method of cultivation to be furnished in writing.
The subscriber freely gives his time and money, and prays the Farmers to make such an exhibition as shall honor our State. The Committee to award premiums are:
Hon. Joseph B. Walker, Hon. John B. Clarke, Prof. E. Webster Dimond, Hon. S. W. Buffum, J. B. Mooney, Esq., Hon. Hiram R. Roberts, Hon. Robert Elwell, Jno. H. Johnson, Esq., Geo. W. Riddle, Esq., Warren Brown, Esq., Joseph Plumer, Esq., Hon. James H. Butler.
Vacancies to be filled by subscriber. All the splendid Corn now at the State House that is not called for by April, will be given away for seed.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years has been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Mr. Ellsworth's Dairy.

The New England Farmer gives a very interesting account of the Dairy Farming of Mr. Ellsworth in Worcester County. We copy a few extracts:

How he Manages his Pasture.—One of the most striking features in Mr. E.'s plan of feeding, is in the management of the pastures. We take all the more pleasure in recording it, because a different course from his is so common with most farmers, and so injurious to their interests. He divides his pastures so that the stock goes into a fresh lot once in each four days, remaining in the pasture through night and day. In this arrangement he is able to allow about eight days of uninterrupted growth to the grass, so that the roots are strengthened, strike deeper into the soil, and thus sustain the herbage through dry periods. The feed is consequently thick and fresh, and as many cows are put upon it as will prevent a too luxuriant growth; for he does not believe that rank feed is good for making milk.

He Plants Southern Corn.—To meet the contingencies of a dry time, he plants Southern corn, beginning about the 10th of May, and continues to plant each week until the first of July. By these frequent plantings, he is able to commence feeding it out about the first of August, and has it fresh and juicy until frosts come. Feeds sparingly at first and increases the quantity as the cows become accustomed to it. Feeds it in the stable twice each day, probably morning and night, as the cows are always milked in the barn, although they are in the pasture all night. This fodder corn is grown upon land highly manured, so as to secure a heavy growth that will be juicy when young and tender.

This being added to the usual rotation in grazing, the pastures are not reduced, and the cows have more time for rumination and rest. He thinks pure, running water of the highest importance in making milk, and has secured it in each of his pastures. When the fodder corn is exhausted, he feeds green rowen morning and evening, as much as the cows will eat, though they still go to their pastures as usual. Another object in view, in feeding the fodder corn and rowen, is, not to reduce the pastures so much that he cannot keep them in good condition by the use of plaster and wood ashes. He finds no difficulty in keeping the mowing lands in good heart, but some in keeping up a proper fertility in the pastures.

How to Avoid Swelled Udder.—Two things are habitually done by many farmers to their cows, which Mr. Ellsworth most carefully avoids doing. One of these is, to feed a cow highly for some days just before she is expected to drop her calf, and the other—which is still more injurious,—to give her meal, or other stimulating food, immediately after she calves! Neither of these should ever be done. For a period of one week before calving, he withholds all food that would tend to make milk fast, watering freely, a little at a time, immediately before and after that event takes place.

For twenty-four hours after the calf is dropped, gives nothing but a little dry hay, and no grain until the cow and udder are all right. Washes a swelled bag with warm, instead of cold water. Feeds a weak cow with oats, as they stimulate, but do not heat as corn meal does. Allow the cows to go dry nine to eleven weeks, as cow and calf demand that time of rest. Under such circumstances the cows are strong and their calves healthy.

How to Tend and Feed Cows in Winter.—When the cows are no longer allowed to go to the fields, they are regularly fed twice each twenty-four hours. The first feeding commences as soon as it is sufficiently light in the morning to attend to the work. They are fed on hay a little at a time, and the poorest quality used is given them first. In about two hours they will eat all they care for; but before they are all through, watering them is commenced by turning out as many as can drink at once, while some one stands by them to prevent quarrelling or accidents. They are then returned, and other sets follow until all have drank. The leantos are now all cleaned out, the cows are full and usually lie down and chew their cuds until half past two, P. M., when the same process is gone through with again, and they have nothing more to eat until the next morning. Thus the cow has had two good meals, has drank twice, and has plenty of leisure to convert a portion of what she has taken into the desired product—a new calf, milk or flesh. After the cows come in to milk they require a longer time in eating, and he feeds more liberally, giving a cow for some time eight quarts or sliced roots instead of six quarts.

A GOOD ONE.—A very successful prank was recently played upon Messrs. Jarrett and Palmer, the lessees of Niblo's Garden, by some friends who were on a sporting expedition in Florida. These gentlemen forwarded to the theatre from Florida a box with a letter apprising the lessees that it contained the natural products of the country. It reached the theatre when a rehearsal was going on, and there was much speculation as to what it contained. Miss Lydia Thompson thought it was oranges. Miss Weber suggested pineapples. Mr. Beckett detected the odor of raw grain whiskey. Mr. Jarrett was perfectly sure it was game. The carpenter opened the box, and out popped a gay and festive alligator, four or five feet long, with a very fine dental development, and an undulating tail of truly vigorous aspect. The scene that ensued is thus described by the New York Express:—

"High and shrill over the bassoons of the orchestra, rose the shrieks of the Forty Thieves. Before the traditional twinkling of an eye, the stage was clear; and the astonished alligator found himself doing a soliloquy in the style of Hamlet. He turned his expressive snout towards the orchestra, and opened his mouth. In vain was this pleasing indication that he was ready to sing if required given to the dismayed Sons of Harmony. There was never such a rapid orchestral movement executed as by the Niblo's band on this occasion. Mr. Alligator then took a business tour round the stage, and was apparently very much pleased with Mr. Vincent's arrangements,—an approbation which that gentleman ungratefully resented by poking at him with an iron-tipped staff.

Eventually, the master carpenter, with a noble disregard to the possible results to his boots, and cheered on by the supplicating blondes in the flies, went at master alligator and persuaded him into his box again, where he was immediately nailed down, and the rehearsal proceeded."

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, a saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which compared among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $30 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as Agents for distributing our Goods in their locality as our Warehouse Prices. We want one such Agent in every town in the Union. Traders desiring it in towns where we have not already appointed one, are invited to correspond, as above, concerning it.

We have appointed
JOHN STOKELL & CO.
Agents for Portsmouth.
JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Agent for Kittery.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED
PERFECTED SPECTACLES
and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sale of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES
is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assertion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.
$1,000,000 CAPITAL.
This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Hay, Cattle and Warehouse Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.
These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous others from Railroad Companies, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.
These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."
These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED
FOR A NEW and Intensely Interesting Book entitled
OUR NEW WEST.
By Samuel Bowles.
A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Description of the magnificent scenery of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they like Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and views. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.
Splendidly Illustrated
with Steel Portraits; full-page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. NOTHING EQUAL TO IT. Send for our descriptive Circular. Extra commissions given. Apply to, or address HAWKEST CO.,

RED JACKET AXE!
THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE
is a splendid tool, for these reasons:
First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.
Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.
Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.
Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.
Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.
The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

HURSELL'S
PURITY,
FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.
STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
apl1 eodly State Assayer for Massachusetts.
Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,
No. 5 Chatham Row, Boston.
JOHN E. ROBERTS, Agent for Portsmouth.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.
Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

MOONSHINE.

BY LUCY LARCOM.

The baby sat in the moonshine,
A silver square on the floor,
Shaped by the open window,
And its halo dim he wore.

It turned his hair to spun silver,
His robes into folds of pearl—
Yet it was but a linen night-gown,
A tangle of flaxen curl.

He was there at play while nestling,
A moment before he slept;
And he patted and kissed the moonbeams,
And, cooing, across them crept.

"Bring us the moonshine, baby!"
Quick sprang the little feet,
Scooping it up by lapfuls,
Hurried the fingers sweet,

To bring us invisible treasure:
He saw it, bright and plain
Never doubted the baby
Ours was a real gain.

Firmly we also believed it,
For, after he was asleep,
We had his moonlit picture
Always our own to keep.

It has not grown old or faded,
It will not, it never can;
We shall have it still to look at
When he is a bearded man.

If then he could win great riches,
He cannot bestow a gift
So rare as the one he brought us
Out of the moonshine's drift.

May he never lose faith in moonshine,
The one that glimmers and streams
From the mountain-clefts of beauty,
Afar in the land of dreams!

Right royally may he scatter
The wealth of the boundless skies;
The fine gold and sheeny silver
From the mines of Paradise!

A GOOD ITEM.—The Rochester Courier, of the week before election, had one of the shortest and best leading articles of the season. Here it is, verbatim.

Gen. Bedel, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was a good Soldier, and the papers of that party are asking, Why not vote for him? Well, Gen. Grant was a good Soldier too. Why didn't you vote for him? It's a poor rule that won't work both ways.

KILLING THE BORERS.—Early in spring, before planting-time arrives, peach and apple-trees should be examined for borers. A man provided with a strong half-inch gouge and a piece of No. 14 wire will eradicate this pest from an orchard in a very few days, and save the trees from total destruction. If very large wounds are made in the search for the borers, they should be covered with some substance that will protect the wood from the air or moisture. Strong tarred paper, wrapped around the base of the stem, will insure the trees against the attack of the beetle, which is the parent of these borers. In many sections of the country, too great vigilance cannot be given in preventing the attacks of these pests of the orchard.—Hearth and Home.

SOW A FEW TOMATO-SEEDS.—Those who have hot-beds will no doubt have them well filled with vegetable plants at this time. But there are thousands of our farmers who never think of trying to obtain early vegetables, but depend upon some accommodating neighbor, or go without until they are produced from seed in the open air. Now, it is but very little trouble to sow a few seeds of tomatoes, lettuce, or cabbage, in pots, or even rough boxes, and by keeping them in a window where they will receive light, and in a warm room, plants may be had that will be several weeks in advance of those grown in the open air.—Hearth and Home.

CLARKE'S CHEMICALIZED MANURE.—Joshua Clarke, of Manchester, offers to conduct some important experiments before a committee of the Club in August next. He will take a cord of manure from a pile of five cords, that has been well protected from sun and rain. This cord he will treat with certain drugs or mixtures that he buys of an apothecary. He will mark off two acres of poor mowing, where not over half a ton of hay was cut, and spread his doctored manure on one acre and have the four cords spread on the other acre. He warrants his acre to yield more than the other the following year.

FIVE RULES IN PORK-MAKING.—1. A Good Breed.—All the corn of Egypt run through a razor-back will not make him a Suffolk or a Chester White.

2. Good Housing.—A fattening pig must sleep dry and warm.

3. Early Fattening.—Half a hog eats on frozen ground goes to keep him warm.

4. Variety of Food.—Hogs will let corn lie in the bottom of the trough all day, when, if their stomachs were toned with roots, or apples, or pumpkins, they would eat all clean.

5. Regular Feed.—A fattening pig should never squeal for his meal.—Hearth and Home.

—The Boston Pilot "anticipates, with some hope, the day when every spire that is visible from the State House dome shall be crowned with the true Catholic cross."

—A grain of corn was lately removed from the ear of a boy in Kentucky.—During the four years this corn remained in the ear he was several times run through a corn sheller without effect.

A PROMPT COLLECTOR.—The Rochester Courier of March 5 said;—

William Rand, Esq., Town Collector, has collected all of the County, School and Town taxes, that were not abated, and yesterday he settled with the selectmen. The "oldest inhabitant" cannot remember the time before this, when the taxes were collected and the books squared before March meeting.

This does not look like poverty and ruin; but like thrift and good government.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR
gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be inexcusable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving way. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
This we procured and commenced using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were threatening at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. Well was it for the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, ye reader, near or far,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yes, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be next.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Rendered your breath fetid.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you shall be in earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now obey the mandate I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you shall never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause;
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our case.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head. Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstanding which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

SATURDAY, MARCH 13, 1869.

The News.

A Washington dispatch says that Judge Hoar will remain in the cabinet until a satisfactory position—probably on the Supreme bench—turns up for him, when the Attorney-Generalship will be given to a Western man.

The fourth National Bank of Philadelphia has been reopened under a new regime. The total amount embezzled does not fall short of a quarter of a million dollars.

Ex-Commissioner Rollins will soon go to Philadelphia as acting President of the National Insurance Company.

One hundred hogs have died in Buffalo of cholera.

Rhode Island has rejected woman suffrage.

The expedition from the United States for Nassau or Inagua has landed on the Cuban coast.

During the terrific snow storm in Canada on Thursday, a wooden house at Port Levi was blown to pieces and the people within, comprising a family of three, were buried in the snow.

Minister Clay has resigned the Russian Mission.

Troy, N. Y., had a $100,000 fire, Thursday.

Clifton Harris, the negro who murdered two old ladies in Auburn, Me., a year ago, was hung at Thomastown on Friday.

The snow storm in Canada was a terrible one. Eight feet of snow fell on a level in some parts. Three men were found dead in snow drifts in Quebec.—An avalanche at Point Levi crushed a house containing 15 persons. Four were killed.

Crete is quiet.

EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS.—Besides those of cabinet members the President sent to the Senate on Thursday the following nominations:—E. B. Washburne of Illinois, to be Minister to France; Frank Moore of New York, to be Assistant Secretary of Legation at Paris; C. A. Newcomb, to be United States Marshal for the State of Missouri; James Longstreet to be surveyor of customs for the port of New Orleans; James F. Casey, collector of customs at New Orleans; Sidney A. Stockdale, collector of internal revenue for first district of Louisiana; Edward V. Kingsley of New York, to be Secretary of Legation at Madrid; Alex. Sharpe to be marshal of the United States for the Dist. of Columbia; Chief Engineer James King to be chief of bureau of steam engineering. The cabinet appointments and that for the French Mission were confirmed without reference, unanimously.

Congress.

The House, on Friday, adopted a concurrent resolution for the adjournment of Congress on the last Friday in March.

During the call of States Gen. Banks introduced resolutions for the recognition of Cuba and the annexation of Hayti, which were referred to the Committee on Foreign affairs.

☞ Mr. Fish, the new Secretary of State, is 60 years of age; Mr. Boutwell, Secretary of the Treasury, is 51.

☞ The Boston Advertiser says that the nomination of Chief Engineer King to be head of the Bureau of Engineering in the Navy Department, in place of Isherwood, makes a good deal of talk. There is a report that Isherwood, Henderson, Wood, and two or three others are to be put through a court of inquiry by Secretary Borie. The friends of Isherwood will make a strong fight to save him, but can hardly do it with Mr. Borie and the President against them.

The nomination of Mr. Kingsley as Secretary of Legation at Madrid in place of Mr. Perry shows that Minister Hale has come out victorious in the long fight with his secretary.

☞ Don't forget the Temperance Lecture by Mr. Pierce, Sunday evening at the Temple.

☞ The house of John S. Brown, in Eliot, was broken open Feb. 18, in the absence of the family, and many articles stolen, value $20.

☞ John Brown, of Colchester, Ct., who died ten days since, at the age of one hundred years, had a family of fifteen children, eighty-two grand children, one hundred and four great-grand children, and an infant in the fourth generation.

—Out of forty-three children born in a Wisconsin county within three weeks, forty were boys.

—It is queer that General Grant, with his well known dislike of bores, promoted General Auger.

DOUBTFUL STATISTICS EXPLAINED.—The following letter from the Treasury Department explains all that was mysterious in some articles which we published several weeks ago, on the great amount of money paid for liquors, in the United States, and especially in New Hampshire. It will be seen that the retailers of liquor in New Hampshire, sold, in the fiscal year 1867, about twelve and a half million dollars' worth of Goods, (not all liquors,)—and in the fiscal year 1868 they sold about fourteen and a half millions.

It is probable that the sales of liquors, in these cases, were somewhere between one third and one half the whole amount, i. e., that the people of New Hampshire paid between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000 for liquor in 1867, and between five and seven millions in '68. The letter following, speaks for itself.

TREASURY DEP't, Bureau of Statistics,
WASHINGTON, March 6, 1869.

Editors of N. H. Gazette; Sirs:—Your notice of a table prepared by me and inserted in an Appendix to Commissioner Wells' Report last year, has been brought to my attention, and in explanation permit me to say, that the table referred to estimated the "Aggregate Sales of Merchandise (including liquors) by wholesale and retail dealers," &c. &c., "during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1867, as deduced from the receipts of internal revenue;" and under the caption, "Sales of merchandise by retail liquor dealers" the following figures were given: New Hampshire, $12,629,175. Aggregate in the United States, $1,483,491,865. It is scarcely necessary to state that these figures give the estimated sales of Merchandise of all kinds—groceries, cigars, tobacco, &c., including liquors, by retail liquor dealers, and not of liquors alone.

The basis of computation is as follows: The special tax or license on a retail liquor dealer is $25, under which he can sell spiritnous and malt liquors and other merchandise to the extent of $25,000 per annum. I average these sales at $12,500 each,—the tax being thus one-fifth of one per cent,—consequently, the receipts from New Hampshire in that year for special taxes on retail liquor dealers, $25,258.35, indicate the aggregate sales to be as been $12,629,175.

Owing to the persistent misrepresentation of my tables, a similar table founded on the receipts of the fiscal year 1868 was omitted in the recent Report of the Special Commissioner of the Revenue; but I may state that the receipts from New Hampshire retail liquor dealers in that year were $29,052.12, indicating sales to the amount of $14,526,060, but not of liquors alone.

Yours very truly, EDWARD YOUNG.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.—The Concord Statesman has returns from 217 towns, which gave Stearns 35,06[illegible] votes, and Bedel 31,214. Stearn's majority, 3853. The remaining 15 towns gave a Democratic majority of 29[illegible] last March. Rockingham (minus Portsport) gives Stearns 5858, Bedel 483[illegible], Scattering 10. The new House of Representatives consists of 201 Republicans and 131 Democrats. Republican majority 70. Last year, Republicans 194, Democrats 138. Republican majority 56. Republican gain this year, 14.

CONGRESSMEN.—By the vote for Governor, the majorities for Members of Congress appear to be nearly as follows:

Chronicle Correspondence.

YORK, March 9.

Messrs. Editors: Mrs. Grundy was suddenly thrown into a state of anxious inquiry on Sunday morning last at about 9.30 A. M., by observing a clergyman going into a neighboring house at that early hour. The solution to all of the old lady's questions,—"Why, where can Elder Goodwin be goin'?" and "what, for gracious sake do you s'pose he went there for so airly?" &c. &c., was soon solved thusly:—

Married, in York, on Sunday 7th inst., by Rev. O. E. Goodwin, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. AVANDER BOURNE of Wells, to Miss CLARA E. YOUNG, eldest daughter of Capt. Moses C. Young of York.

Let me add, that although Clara has changed her name, they are both young, and we hope they may be borne in happiness through life's uneven journey, until they go to that bourne from whence no traveller returns. Long may they wave, but never waver! Yours.

B. Y. STANDER.

—Babies have a commercial value in Cheyenne. A bankrupt and thirsty individual borrowed one from its mother, and obtained a dollar's worth of whiskey by putting it in pawn.

— Republicanism is going on well in New Hampshire, and although it goes On-slow, it cannot Be-del-ayed by the democracy.—Advertiser.

—A bill is before the Massachusetts Legislature which requires the constituent parts of fertilizers, with a statement of the percentage of each constituent part, shall be marked on each bag.

—It is proposed to try female suffrage in Utah and test its effect on polygamy.

CATTLE MARKET AT BRIGHTON,

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, MARCH 10.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 2345;—Sheep and Lambs 8872; Swine 500; number of Western Cattle 1961; Eastern Cattle 72; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 368.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $13 75; first quality $12 00 @ $13 50; second quality $12 50 @ $13 00; third quality $9 00 @ $11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $6 00@$10 00 lbs;—(the total weight of hides, tallowand dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 9½ @ 10c ℔ lb; Country Hides 9 @ 9½ ℔ lb.

Brighton Tallow 7½ @ 8c per lb; Country Tallow 7½ @ 8c ℔ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 50 @ $2 25 each; Sheep Skins $1 50 @ $2 25 each; Calf Skins 20 @ 22c ℔ lb.

The supply of Western Cattle is large, being some 750 more than last week—some very nice Beeves among them, which cost 12c, live weight, at Chicago. Upon the best grades, prices are about the same as last week, but in other grades prices have fallen off from ½ @ ¾c ℔ lb. There is not a large supply of Eastern Cattle, and the most of them are Working Oxen, for which there is a fair demand. Of Sheep and Lambs there is a fair supply, and the demand continues good.

Stores—Yearlings 18 to 28; two year olds 28 to 38; three year olds 38 to 48; prices according to their value for beef. There are but few Store Cattle at market at this season of the year, except Working Cattle.

Working Oxen—The trade of Working Cattle is fair and we quote prices at $165, $180, $200, $215, $220, $225, $250, and 1 pair of nice oxen at $315.

Milch Cows—Extra $90 to $115; ordinary $40 to $75; Store Cows $30 to 50, or much as to their value for Beef.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply from the West are mostly taken at a commission, and are of a good, fair quality. We quote Sheep and Lambs at Northern lots at $5.62 @ 4 ¾ head; lots average 68 lbs. each at 8½; ℔ lb; lot average 75 lbs 8½c; lot average 113 lbs 8c.

Swine—The supply is fully up to the demand. Wholesale 12½ to 13½c; retail from 13 to 15c. But few fat Hogs come at this season of the year.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

I beg to state that I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine, in family sewing, fourteen years without even the most trifling repairs, and it is in as good condition that I would not exchange it for your latest number (now upwards of 350,000). One needle served me more than a year for fine sewing.

"BARRETTE'S Vegetable Hair Restorative" is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better thing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, day and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores gray hair to its original color.—Savannah (Ga.) Rep.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune has just hit the nail on the head, for PLANTATION BITTERS are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, and the article is wrapped around and sold bottle. Don't go home without a bottle. m12

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE, equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

BONE DUST AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the increase of crops this year."

Dr. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in the vicinity."

Danl. D. Beckwith, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the device into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "It gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

E. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Bradley's Phosphate, Fish Scrap, Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's Ex."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endoce it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of disease prevalent at this season may be avoided. Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of one million persons a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are slightly stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Inflammation of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, in cases of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life, after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhea, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that amount of support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy that such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the representations of those interested in other watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some watch of Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch this question: DOES YOUR WATCH GIVES YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer, of satisfaction or to the quality of the watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the more articles of any one kind are produced by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, we have not every respectable druggist in the United States on the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our product we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve and introduce watches, and those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, who rendered services of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equalled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a reduced profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures. Have you used BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses" the blood and every organ of the body. This "purgation" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the plain printed directions. One who has recovered his own health by this means tells you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia, when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by nearly all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaints and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient expectorates the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK of Philadelphia, owes his universal success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature detaches it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter of life a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved. No mind can conceive what the liver can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless under the care of a physician) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, neutralizes the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to dry up the night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. These move the system, and will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tuberculous deposits, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fact decayed. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make good blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to eat and digest food, which will make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets well and sound. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely to all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, never has spitted a single colonia, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and his friends waiting for his death. He relies on the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where will be found a diagram of the lungs. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 per half dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of Dr. Dodge, who has shown like Dr. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c. ☞

This Institution now publishes the popular medical works of the Peabody Medical Institute, MANHOOD, WHAT TO AVOID, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," written by Dr. Hayes. It treats upon the ERRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LOSS OF MANHOOD, and all DISEASES and ABUSES of the GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a boon for every man, —young men in particular. Price only $1.00.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF MAN AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life,—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Obstacles of Life,—Twenty Objects for Marriage,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books sent by MAIL, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect,—8 pages, 48 columns,—published on the 1st of February, May, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

Holloway's Ointment.—Unlike the dangerous nuguents that temporarily arrest pain by a deadening paralyzing process, this pure and wholesome vegetable salve promotes vital action in the sore, ulcerated or bruised flesh to which it is applied, and by this means enables nature to counteract diseased action in the part affected, and to restore its soundness. This is the philosophy of its operation. It is simple, rational, and experience, which is better than theory, proves it is true. Sold by all Druggists.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Communication.

FLEET STREET, that part of it between Congress and Hanover streets, was formerly called Mason street, as it led through grounds formerly the garden of Mason, the old proprietor. It happened to be so miserably narrow as it is, because Major Gaines' paved entrance to his garden and rear buildings, was just so wide or narrow a passage between the old house now standing on the east, and the Major's mansion house, which stood where the Franklin House now is.

There was but little travel expected through it, and at first it was so; except that the great Livery Stable had a large number of horses passing in and out, part of them by that way.

Since the paving of Vaughan street, and especially since the opening of the Railroads, however, the travel of loaded teams through Fleet street has steadily and greatly increased, until, in good weather, no hours of the day, and not many minutes, are without a team in that part of the street. They go there partly to avoid the pavement in Vaughan street, and partly to keep from crowding and being crowded.

To widen it four or five feet would be an improvement; and to widen it 30 feet would be a very great improvement, not only of that street, but of all the central part of the city: of no interest to me, personally, but only for the PUBLIC GOOD.

For the Chronicle.

VELOCIPEDIANA.—The Velocipede Rink of Gammon & Deering is meeting with great success. A great rider was present Tuesday,—played circus, rode on his back and side, and standing up on both feet. The "Veloces" are all young, sound and kind, and "ain't afraid of the cars." Hanscom has become quite a rider; stands on one foot, jumps through balloons and all that sort of thing. Perry, in attempting to ride standing on his head, slipped off the horse and struck the floor, but without injuring the floor in the least.—Gardner commenced riding Friday last—brilliant success. Velocipede threw Gardner twice. Gardner threw velocipede six times—Gardner ahead four throws. Gardner intends to ride a velocipede to Concord and beat the locomotive. Good for Gardner.

A man has invented a one-wheeled velocipede (for this Rink) which is a novelty. It does away with seat, pedals, brakes and all; there is a crank attached to the axle on each side of the wheel; you sit between the spokes and turn the crank with your hands,—the rider goes around with the wheel, turning a somersault at each revolution.—The sensation is peculiar, and the ride much more exciting than on the ordinary velocipede. K.

VERY IMPORTANT—IF TRUE.—The new organ of the Democratic party in Concord, (The People) says, in speaking of the election:—

We are not aware that one dollar was paid by the Democrats in this city. * * * The Democracy of this State have run this campaign without a dollar of money.

The first statement may be true;—for Bedel got 262 votes less this year, than Sinclair got last year in Concord. These lost men did not vote the Republican ticket, for that lost 64 votes.

But the latter statement, about the democracy not spending a dollar, must be news to Hon. Frank Jones and the democracy of Portsmouth, Newcastle, and everywhere else.

☞ The production of the Cantata of Esther, as an Opera, next week, at the Temple, will be the most extensive and expensive enterprise of the sort ever attempted here. New scenery and stage decorations are being fitted for the grand occasion, and the costumes will be rich and costly, and as appropriate as can be procured.

☞ There are said to be about 3,000 Irish population in this city, or probably more than one-fourth of the whole. Of these, perhaps there are from 400 to 600 voters; and if all these had thrown for the Democratic candidate for Senator, he would have been elected. But many voted the Republican ticket, or did not not vote at all.

☞ In intruducing to the Common Council, the Resolutions favoring a Park, Mr. Marvin said that if these did not pass, he should move to erect a monument to the memory of the late City of Portsmouth! And well he might.

☞ Concerning the lectures of Mr. Burr, and the criticisms of our correspondent Pakeha thereon, it seems to be generally agreed by the best and most dispassionate judges, that Pakeha had more knowledge of the subject than the great C-C-der himself.

☞ Hon. J. H. Ela, M. C. was in town Thursday. He is looking and no doubt feeling well.

PATENT GRAPPLE.—The Trafton Brothers of this city have just patented a grapple which has so many and such important advantages over any hitherto made that it needs only to be seen by boatmen, fishermen, &c., to come at once into general use. The hooks or claws are not welded to the shank, but are held in place by a ring, and the whole is so simple that it can be taken to pieces and stowed snugly out of the way, or set up ready for use when wanted, in half a minute or less. This advantage will be appreciated not only by sailors and fishermen, but by ladies and gentlemen who go boating during the season, and have been accustomed to tear dresses on or fall over the old grapple. Much greater strength is secured from a given weight of iron; there is far less likelihood of breaking a claw than in the old style; and if one should go, there will be no need to send it to a blacksmith for repairs, as a boy can replace it in a few moments,—the makers furnishing extra hooks to purchasers if required. Five sizes only are made at present, but the patentees intend to make them as heavy as may be required,—and to manufacture them on an extensive scale. The value of the invention is beyond question, and the new grapple will no doubt be as profitable to Messrs. Trafton as it will be useful and convenient to all who have occasion to use anything of the kind.

THE VELOCIPEDE MATCH at Deering & Gammon's Rink, Friday evening, was attended by a large number of ladies and gentleman, who manifested much interest in the proceedings and were greatly amused at the efforts of the skilled riders. There were eight entries and the time made was the fastest yet shown. The following is the time made by each rider:

Hanscom, 1.10; Amazine, 1.11; Perry, 1.12; Pray, 1.14; Rowell, 1.17; Partridge, 1.25; Gardner, 1.35; Philbrook, distanced.

☞ Mr. T. P. Moses announces to open his Juvenile Singing School next week, provided 100 scholars attend.—There are five times that number of youth whose parents ought to rejoice at and improve the opportunity of securing such tuition for their children, in the most beautiful and valuable of all the arts and sciences.

☞ Messrs. M. T. Betton nnd W. Scott Stephenson have opened a nice Velocipede Rink at Mr. Ferguson's stable on Vaughan Street, formerly occupied by Renton & Whitton. They have laid a new floor and enlarged the Rink so as to take in the whole area of the stable. The machines are from the manufactory of Mr. Stephenson and are some of the easiest to ride we have yet seen.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ The Republicans of Ward Two threw just as many votes for Mr. Stearns for Governor at the late election as they did for President Grant, viz. 518.

OUR HOME ARTISTS.—It is folly to go abroad when we can have our work as well done by employing our own artists. Our attention has been called this week to a piece of fresco painting in St. John's Church in this city, where Mr. Edward D. Coffin has so completely matched the original in a part that was defaced that the junction of old and new is imperceptible, and the new work in every way equals the old.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We learn that Mr. Mark Ham was found dead in bed Friday morning at his residence on McDonough st., having ruptured a blood vessel during the night.

A Card.

THIS day, March 13th, 1869, completes my 21st year of business life in Portsmouth; and I desire now to return my sincere thanks to the citizens of this city and vicinity, for the very liberal support they have given me in times past, and respectfully to request a continuance of their patronage in the future.

Having made extensive improvements in my store this season, I shall keep in future one of the largest and best selected stocks of STOVES, FURNACES, and FURNISHING GOODS to be found in New England, and shall sell them at fair prices for Cash, or approved credit. My personal attention will be given to all work in the Furnace Range, or Gas Fixture line.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

The Sailor's Grave.

Our ship was out far, far from land,
When the fairest of our gallant band
Grew sadly pale and waned away
Like the twilight of an autumn day.

We watched him thro' long hours of pain,
But our cares were lost, our hopes were vain,
Death-struck, he gave no coward alarm,
But smiled as he died in his messmate's arms.

He had no costly winding sheet,
But we placed a round shot at his feet,
And he slept in his hammock as safe and sound
As a King in his lawn shroud, marble-bound.

We proudly decked his funeral vest
With the stars and stripes about his breast;
We gave him those as the badge of the brave,
And then he was fit for a Sailor's Grave.

Our voices broke, our hearts turned weak,
Hot tears were seen on the brownest cheek,
And a quiver played on the lips of pride
As we lowered him down the ship's dark side.

A plunge, a splash, and our task was o'er,
The billows rolled as they rolled before,
But many a rude tear hallowed the wave
That closed above the Sailor's Grave.

FRANK S. JOHNSON,

GEN. CAMERON ON THE NATIONAL CHANGE.—A Washington correspondent narrates the following inauguration incident:

"After the inauguration ceremonies I sat by Gen. Cameron's side. As we watched the procession that escorted Gen. Grant to the White House to enter upon the duties, the performance of which will doubtless lead to the final pacification of our country, and listened with the deepest interest to his utterances in relation to his early efforts to give such a direction to the war as would certainly lead to the abolition and overthrow of slavery, is it any wonder that he was gratified with such a scene as this? You would have been interested, as I was, if you could have heard him exclaim: 'This is a most interesting sight to me. Only seven years since I recommended the emancipation and employment of negroes as soldiers, and in consequence of which I left the Cabinet, being too far in advance of my associates. Now, to see a body of these soldiers joining in the inauguration ceremonies, and escorting the President to the White House, is a gratification beyond all power of expression; and as I stood beside the President on the platform, and heard him announce in bold, unmistakable terms that these people should all have the ballot, the change seemed almost too marvelous for belief. It is the most gratifying scene of my life, and it is enough to have lived to witness it.'"

STREET & SMITH.—If we were asked for a striking example of business success in this metropolis, we should cite the case of Messrs. Street & Smith, proprietors of the popular New York Weekly, known by their name. Some fifteen years ago we knew Frank Street as the faithful business manager of the late Amor J. Williamson, proprietor of the Dispatch, and Francis Smith as a writer for the columns of that well-known journal.

Mr. Williamson had started the Weekly, and run it for some time at a heavy expense, but, weary of the many business cares pressing upon him, eventually relinquished it to his old employees, Street & Smith. For a long time these young men struggled along, spending their entire income to fill the columns of their paper with stories by the most acceptable authors, and advertising their business to an extent sometimes far beyond their immediate resources.

But their foresight and enterprise paid. To-day the proprietors of the Weekly are wealthy men. Street, who is a first-rate business manager, owns a big slice of the thriving village of Greenpoint; while Smith, who a few years ago was a jour. printer, but who has since, as a touching story writer, proved a host in himself, has just bought a splendid Fifth avenue mansion for his family residence, besides dipping deeply into Boulevard lots and similar luxuries.

The success of these partners ought to be a lesson to young men generally. They began at the bottom of the ladder, worked hard, spent sparingly for personal matters, but with a prodigal hand to promote business, by securing the best talent and the most extended publicity, and their reward is already assured. They are now on the high road to rank among the millionaires. It will hardly be credited, but these very men, to whom a decade since a hundred dollars was almost a fortune, are now said to sometimes spend as much as forty thousand dollars in advertising the first number of a new story in the New York Weekly.

A NEW HAMPSHIRE CALF.—O. E. Sargent of West Chesterfield, has a two year old heifer's bull calf, dropped Sept 3. At five months old he weighed 414 pounds. His girth was four feet two inches; he measured from shoulder to rump four feet; from hip to hip thirteen inches; from hip to rump fifteen inches; through shoulders twelve and one-half inches (calliper measure). He was kept on new milk ten days; skimmed milk four months, with the addition of a handful of scalded corn and cob meal twice a day, with a few turnips and mangolds about three months, not exceeding four quarts in any one day. Breed seven-eights Durham.—N. E. Farmer.

— The Ohio Farmer of February 20, says that the sheep panic in that State is subsiding, and that sheep which could not have been sold three months ago for 75 cents each, are now in demand at $1.50 to $3.00.

MANURE AND SUPERPHOSPHATES FOR POTATOES.—I have just finished assorting my potatoes, — Harrison's Seedlings and Orino. A part of each kind was raised with Bradley's Superphosphate, and part with barn yard manure only. I have kept them separate in my cellar, and I find those raised with Phosphate are mostly sound, not half a bushel damaged in twelve hundred bushels, while those raised with barn yard manure, are at least one-sixth rotten. The potatoes were planted about the same time and had about equal chances and equal care. Those raised with phosphate yielded at least twenty per cent. more than those raised without the phosphate. Now will some of your scientific farmers tell us the reason of this, and also why so much trouble with rotten potatoes of late years? I raised potatoes before I ever saw Bradley's Phosphate, and had no trouble with their rotting. There must be a cause for this. Please state your views. Is it not because our soils are exausted of bone and thus fail to give the potato what it requires to make it healthy?—N. E. Farmer.

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLOWERY TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country, at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, to covert expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders. Address all orders and communications to the

and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these
SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,
Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

AGENTS WANTED
FOR A NEW and Intensely Interesting Book entitled
OUR NEW WEST.
By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the magnificent scenery of this new country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed to completion. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Indians—how they live, their religion, polygamy, etc., etc The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their habits, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. RED JACKET AXE!
THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE
is a splendid tool, for these reasons:
First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.
Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.
Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.
Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.
Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:
HEATON & DENCKLA, Philadelphia, Pa.;—HART MANUFACTURING CO., New York;—WELCH & GRIFFITHS, Boston, Mass.; W. H. COLE, Baltimore, Md.

HURSELL'S
PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 75 CENTS.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

STATE ASSAYER'S OFFICE,
20 State Street, Boston.
MESSRS. HURSELL, WOOD & CO.:
Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,
S. DANA HAYES,
sp11 eodly State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO.,

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Gov. Harriman deserves great credit for his effort to elect a good successor:—The following is one curious incident of the late campaign: Gov. Harriman addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting at Claremont, on Thursday evening. He had made an appointment at Londonderry on the day following, and started at three o'clock in the morning to hit the train at Bradford. After proceeding some twelve or thirteen miles, through deep snow, the road became impassable on account of the drifts, thus compelling the Governor to stop, or take the "foot train."

He preferred the latter, and after wading through deep drifts for a mile and a half, came to a farm house in the edge of Newport. The farmer was on his way to the barn, for milking. Gov. H. made himself and his wants known, when the farmer asked him to go into the house and warm himself, while he would harness his horse and try to get him through to Bradford.

He soon returned with his team, and it then occurred to him that his good wife did not know who she had been entertaining. An introduction followed, whereupon the lady straightened herself up considerably above her usual stature, and exclaimed—"Why! we are not in the habit of having Governors call here, and that too before breakfast!" The Governor neared the station at Bradford just as the train had moved off, but shook his umbrella and was seen by the conductor, who made a halt;—the Governor got on board, and fulfilled his engagement in Londonderry.

An Important Movement.—At a Convention of Southern Railways held at Atlanta, Ga., January 4th, 1860, it was decided to issue Tickets or Certificates to parties desiring to visit the South for the purpose of personal observation with a view to permanent settlement or investment. The country is said to abound in "deposits of gold; of iron equalling in fineness any in the world; of coal, copper, marble, granite, and slate; immense water powers, in many instances located in the heart of the great cotton producing belt, all of which are comparatively undeveloped; forests of almost limitless extent, embracing all the varieties of wood used in the mechanical arts; and suited to the production of cotton, rice, sugar, oranges, and in the more elevated regions, that of grain and stock."

To afford persons desirous of examining this inviting field in person, and judging for themselves whether all these great advantages are justly claimed or not; and confidently believing that the result will be advantageous to the South, as well as to those whom it is hoped will settle there, a large number of the Railways traversing that section have agreed to reduce their fare to such excursionists as propose to invest capital or settle, to Two Cents per Mile, until July 1st, 1869. A large number of the hotels have agreed to deduct one-third from their usual rates, for the same time. For actual settlers, the fare has been reduced to One Cent per mile, per head, for all ages, allowing eighty (80) pounds of baggage per head.

Northern citizens and foreign emigrants will be received with a hearty welcome, and will be treated with courtesy and hospitality by the Southern people. The territory, peopled and developed, would have a powerful influence in the commercial enterprises of the world, thereby rapidly increasing the national wealth.

Mr. J. B. Yates, Gen'l Passenger Agent, was in this city on Friday, and by reference to the advertisement in another column it will be seen that parties wishing further information can obtain it on application to any of the Agents.

☞ The second series of Prof. Lowell's "Biglow Papers" were inscribed to Judge Hoar, President Grant's Attorney General, and the worthy Hosea has written of him:

"An' I'v been rence a-visiting" the Jedge,
Whose garding whispers with the river's edge,
Where I've sot mornin's lazy as the bream,
Whose only business is to head up stream,
(We call 'em punkin'-seed,) or else in chat
Along'th the Judge, who covers with his hat
More wit an' gumption' an' shrewd Yankee sense,
Than there is mosses on an ole stone fence."

—The city government of Portland have been called upon to forbid riding the velocipede on the sidewalk. The snow is now fast disappearing in that city, and the machines are as rapidly appearing on the sidewalk, endangering the lives and limbs of timid pedestrians.

INAUGURATION.

Borne on the air the wild bells are pealing,
Bidding each true loyal heart to rejoice;
While over our spirits a sweet hope is stealing—
For the brave well remember our new leader's voice.

Ring, for the reign of the traitor is over;
Ring out the false reign and ring in the true;
Ring out the reign of the false-hearted tyrant,
Ring in the reign of the soldier in blue.

Ring, ring, ye bells, through each city and village;
True hearts rejoice when they hear the glad sound;
Raise high the banners through all our great Union,
The stars and the stripes which were thrown to the ground.

God bless our flag, and bless our great Union;
God bless our rulers with strength from on high;
God speed the right in this land of the freemen,
While our loud hallelujahs rend the blue sky.

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its intensity or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be utterly unaccountable but for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stoically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, some generation to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PICKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.
I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have only recently used for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.
The use we procured and continued using at once—with an effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine just before going to bed. The first dose administered made the impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she sound and undisturbed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PICKETT.

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning graves receive the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, and mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you bear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption hard on its rear—
Kill hosts, yes, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps you may be one.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh in the head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its victim;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
'Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
Or chest, or lungs, or liver,
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures Catarrh—the disease, not simply the name.
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain and clear,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, not never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic pleas.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT to roar rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our case.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores: also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head.—Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period, of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The News.

Gen. Sickles is to be Minister to Mexico.

The Maine Legislature adjourned on Saturday.

Dr. Mudd has been released from Tortugas.

Minister Washburne will leave for France in April.

Canada was enjoying another snow storm on Friday.

Kentucky has rejected the 15th Constitutional Amendment.

Secretaries Boutwell and Rawlins were sworn in on Friday.

An American brigantine, name unknown, has been wrecked at sea. It is supposed that the crew were all lost.

Mexican advices say that President Juarez is in a critical situation, having an insignificant army and an empty treasury.

Hon. William B. S. Moor, whose death was previously announced prematurely, died in Lynchburg, Va., on Wednesday, the 10th instant.

Congress will probably not adjourn for a month, notwithstanding the House of Representatives has passed a resolution to adjourn on the 26th of March.

Mrs. Beecher, widow of the late Lyman Beecher, D. D., died in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday, at the advanced age of 80 years. Mrs. Beecher was the third wife of Dr. Beecher.

The American residents in the West Indies complain that our naval force in those waters is much smaller than that of either France or England, and insufficient for the performance of its duties.

A New York jury has found a verdict of $10,000 in favor of Danforth N. Barney, president of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, and against Otto Bursteafender and others, for damages sustained by an explosion of nitro glycerine at San Francisco.

The first general order of the new Secretary of the Navy removes the sentence passed by Secretary Welles upon Captain Napoleon Collins for neglect of duty, in losing the steamer Sacramento off the coast of Japan, a long time ago. This order will please the naval men, most of whom thought Sec. Welles' sentence very harsh and cruel. Captain Collins gets all his back pay restored.

The sentence of a general court-martial in the case of George M. Bache, of the United States Navy, who was sentenced to be suspended from duty on retired pay of his grade for the term of one year, and to be publicly reprimanded by the Secretary of the Navy, is revoked on the ground that there is nothing in the record of the proceedings of the court martial to justify the sentence. So much of Lieutenant-Commander Bache's pay as was stopped by the sentence will be restored to him.

Congress.

On Friday the House passed Mr. Butler's resolution for the appointment of a joint select committee on the Indians.—Mr. Schenck's bill to strengthen the public credit was next taken up, amended by striking out the second section, and passed—97 to 48.

NAVAL.—First Assistant Engineer J. H. Morrison has been ordered to the steamer Powhatan.

A series of important general orders were issued from the Navy Department, on Saturday, by Secretary Borie.

They direct that before an officer takes command of a vessel she must be examined, and her deficiencies reported, by a board of three line officers. Discontinue the practice of covering birth decks with shellac, and directs a return to the old colors for painting spars and yards.

Declare the commandants of navy yards the responsible officers, and direct all orders from any bureau department to go through them hereafter, instead of to the respective bureau officers on duty at the yard.

CUBA.—The stagnation and distrust in business circles on the island are increasing. Many retail merchants in Santiago de Cuba have failed. The rebel General Juan Capote Lopez was taken prisoner and shot on the 9th inst., at Cienfuegos. Several rebel advance guards in the neighborhood of Gibara were dispatched with knives by their captors.

THE CITIES.—At the late election the five cities in New Hampshire voted as follows:

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

PORTLAND, ME., March 11.

Eds. Chronicle:—The lessons of the recent municipal contest here are peculiarly significant and important, not only locally but generally, for every city and town has similar opportunities of requiring the stern instruction of such experience. Portland is a Republican city. The Republican majority in general elections is 1000 and at municipal elections 350 to 400. The Democracy acknowledge this fact and are ever thankful for Republican family quarrels.

The causes of the recent political transmogrification are many and complex, and at the same time were uncontrollable. Without details, the main causes were, the Temperance legislation, creating a division in the Republican ranks; the revenge of the anti-Temperance faction, in return for the belt last spring of the Temperance faction the Morrill-Hamlin contest, the Republican candidate for Mayor, Hon. S. H. Drummond, being chosen Representative at the eleventh hour to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. N. A. Foster's death, and then being made Speaker, controlling the Senatorial result and consequently making enemies among Morrill's & Fessenden's friends; the Falmouth House seizures regarded by a large number as conspicuously persecutions; the composition of certain House committees at Augusta by speaker Drummond; the disaffection of the soldier element in consequence of political moves and combinations the past year; the non-recognition of the wishes of the colored citizens in its distribution of offices and patronage; and so on and so forth, including a host of petty ward feuds and conflicts coincident to every city.

The reaction after Grant's election brought to the surface all this discontent and it became epidemical and at once grew red hot.

In every town and city there is a controlling ring, usually the town or city committee. Portland has not been an exception in this respect. Numbers of Republicans voted the Democratic ticket solely to enchre this controlling power. For that particular grievance they did so, they could not specify, but they demanded a change, a new deal of the political cards. Yet after all, this very so-called ring is composed of some of the truest, best and most faithful Republicans in the city. The party is under great obligations to them for victories in the past, snatched often from the very jaws of defeat by their sagacity and perseverance. Party discipline properly instituted is necessary and ought to be encouraged, to ensure success. The Democracy understand this and profit by it, owing to the ignorance of its masses. The Republican party, has within itself so much more free thought and active intelligence, that enforcement of discipline is less effectual. Those who take no prominent part in politics and only to vote, often are the severest upon those who work the hardest and bring about the victories. Perhaps the members of the ring may be ambitious or selfish, yet they often deserve praise instead of censure for the successful results of their Herculean labors.

All in all the temporary rebuff will undoubtedly work to the ultimate advantage and strength of the party. The Democracy have drawn an elephant.—As a non-successful minority they were united and strong, at times pressing the Republicans hard. In the recent municipal election by the aid of disaffected Republicans they triumphed, and now have control of the city government. In 1860 they elected Judge Howard and reigned one year. Having fasted so long, the office seekers among them are perfectly ravenous.—The leaders find it hard to deal out the loaves and fishes so as to save a family rumpus. The Republicans will win the city back again in 1870. Even the Democracy admit this and say that it will prove a costly experiment to them. They did not want the responsibility of a majority, only aiming to rebuke Radicalism, elect their candidate for Mayor and increase their strength, still remaining a minority, so that the Republicans would continue to be responsible for the management of the city affairs. They would thus save their strength for the next Congressional contest, which is their great objective point. Now, they begin to rue their victory and wish the Republicans had kept "the muss" at home.

There are scores of applicants for each office. The Chairman of the Democratic City Committee in two days after election had some 400 "callers."—The Mayor's office has been literally beseiged for a week. There are over 200 applicants for police officers' places, the whole number of officers being only 35, including Marshal and Assistants. At the meeting of the City Council, Monday evening, a large proportion of the offices subject to the joint action of both branches were filled, and the selections in the main are very good.—The Democratic leaders have recognized the non-partisan character of the contest both in their conversation and by retaining the following worthy officials: City Treasurer Henry W. Hersey, Chief Engineer of Fire Department Franklin C. Moody, City Messenger Geo. T. Ingraham and some other minor officers. By doing so, they have raised a storm of indignation in their own party, among the rank and file, who regard the victory as their own and believe in the Jacksonian theory of spoils and offices.

One of the most serious results of the election will be the control of the checklists by the Democracy, although they have a most excellent Aldermanic representation.

The City Marshalship was a prominent bone of contention, there being a dozen applicants for it. The selection of Mr. John Swett is favorably regarded, although it is doubtful if at his age he will be as efficient as a younger man. Mr. Swett formerly was a clerk in the Post Office under Postmaster Jordan, and recently has been connected with Prince's Boston & Portland Express. Several prominent Democratic politicians who aspired to the place are of course indignant, and threaten disruption of the party. The retiring Marshal, John S. Heald Esq., is one of the best officers in New England, and was highly complimented by Mayor Putnam.

The appointment of Police and other officers on Monday next will cause still further unpleasantness. All the disappointed applicants and their friends of course will make an indignant corps for future action in the late serene and placid Democracy, weakening the party for a long time to come. "From seeming evil still deducing good," the Republicans have much to be thankful for in the present and prospective condition of the "gr-r-ate" Democracy in this city.

Notwithstanding the leaders frankly declared before election, and do now, that it was not a party triumph, yet in reality it is so, and the rank and file so regard it, and cannot think otherwise. Republican friends elsewhere, however, need not be misled by any such Will-o-the-Wisp as this present emeute. Democrats also need not lay the flattering unction of comfort to their souls, on account of the temporary reign of their friends in this municipality.

Next September Portland will give the usual Republican majority, and March, 1870, will redeem the Casco City, handsomely, for unity and order will be brought out of the present chaos. SANCHO.

"BARRETT'S Vegetable Hair Restorative" is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures Tetter, Disease of the Scalp, Dandruff, and Baldness. Now, who would prefer a better thing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, day and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores gray hair to its original color.—Savannah (Ga.) Rep.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Fertilizers, to the following descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also have superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "The Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value in the crops of this year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure had been used for years.) They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Hon. D. Beardsley, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price into account. The Nitro Phosphate is ahead of anything I have ever used in producing a crop without the aid of Stable manure."

Abram T. Peckham, Newport, R. I., says: "I used the Poudrette on corn, side by side with Super Phosphate, and in every case it came out ahead."

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "I gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lynne, Conn., says he found it superior to Super Phosphate or fish scrap, for Indian and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined has been tried here side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any, and by Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, catarrh in its mildest form, and fevers, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless return in his tracks, and take a safer road to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. May, the time will be less, for drug stores in the neighborhood of any one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the new generations and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in diseases of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Prostrate Gland, Retention of Urine, Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes to which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Diseases of the Urinary Passages, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Mild Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Eruptions of the skin, Pimples on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superceding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although they do not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, he is still the winner through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not give the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy that they make more money to be made by dealing in Watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use that kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy just such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably influenced by the representations of those unfriendly to our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 600,000 watches. In every town and village of the country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask this owner of an American Watch the question, HAS YOUR WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those wishing to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Not satisfied as to the merits of a watch, the buyer has now only to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST and with the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the larger the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell to all our customers at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches on a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that today our manufacture exceeds as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together.

WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our product we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-keeping, and have adopted the best, and these only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, where such were of any importance to the Company, and our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country. In addition to this we make gold and silver cases, not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a net profit much more reasonable than usual, we, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by many sick, and after repeated failures. Have you tried BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine with simply "pleasant" claims upon the sick and every portion of the body. This "pill" is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his own health is anxious to tell you to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other medicine had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, Pa., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your pills for the space of eleven or twelve months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have done to me. They have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored. LUCIEN B. JONES.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

Farmers, Families and others can purchase no remedy equal to Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment for dysentery, colic, croup, chronic rheumatism, sore throats, toothache, sea-sickness, cuts, burns, sudden attacks of cramp in the stomach, mosquito bites, pains in the limbs, chest, back, &c. If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded.—All that asks is a trial, and use it according to the directions.

DR. TOBIAS—Dear Sir:—I have used your Venetian Liniment in my family for a number of years, and believe it to be the best article for what it is recommended that I have ever used. For sudden attacks of cramp in the stomach, I have no hesitation in recommending it for all the uses it professes to cure. I have sold it for many years, and it gives entire satisfaction. CHAS. H. The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and no clime to which it has long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but, on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its first discovery by that excellent and honorable man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietor, Mr. Perry Davis the inventor, is ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, what we have styled it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to be raised without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives as good satisfaction.

Its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which may be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They act in three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes healthy blood; the patient begins to grow fleshy; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, the patient coughs a little at first, and the patient has the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. R. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup loosens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a little cough will take it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, regulate the digestive organs, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, and bring a free secretion from the liver relieved; the stools will show what the Pills do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel, a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use in place of these pills (which are a safe and sure cure,) that will cleanse the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and is made of the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, which enables the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to cut the cough, they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heetic fever, and by so doing they destroy the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a night sweat or a cough, but he tries to remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and the symptoms are coughs, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying, or in other words what matter do they? Not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of the food. Now this only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely for all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was asked how he was able to endure, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless the patient desires the lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all who wish can be there. Hours, 9 to 3, P. M. He also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

Peabody Medical Institute,

NO. 4 BULFINCH STREET,

(Opposite Revere House,) BOSTON.

The Trustees of this institution take pleasure in announcing that they have secured the service of the eminent and well-known DR. A. H. HAYES, late Surgeon U. S. Army, Vice President of Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c. &c.

This Institution now publishes the popular medical book entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION," price only $1.00. It treats upon the ERRORS OF YOUTH, PREMATURE DECLINE OF MANHOOD, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, and DISEASES OF THE SEXUAL AND GENERATIVE ORGANS. Thirty thousand copies sold the last year. It is indeed a book for every man,—young men in particular.

This Institute has just published the most perfect treatise of the kind ever offered the public, entitled "SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES," profusely illustrated by the very best engravings. This book is also from the pen of Dr. Hayes. Among the various chapters may be mentioned, The Mystery of Life—Beautiful Offspring,—Beauty, its Value to Woman,—Marriage,—General Hygiene of Woman,—Puberty,—Change of Life,—Diseases of the Married,—Prevention to Conception, &c. In beautiful French cloth, $2.00; Turkey Morocco, full gilt, $3.50. Either of these books are sent by mail, securely sealed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

The "PEABODY JOURNAL OF HEALTH," a first-class paper in every respect,—8 pages, 32 columns,—published on the 1st of February, and every month during the year. Subscription price per year only 50 cts. Specimen copies sent free to any address, on application to the Peabody Medical Institute.

Holloway's Ointment.—Unlike the dangerous unguents that temporarily arrest pain by a deadening paralyzing process, this pure and wholesome vegetable salve promotes vital action in the sore, ulcerated or bruised flesh to which it is applied, and by this means enables nature to counteract diseased action in the part affected, and to restore its soundness. This is the philosophy of its operation. It is simple, rational, and experience, which is better than theory, proves it to be true. Sold by all Druggists.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE DIFFERENCE.—At the Fleet Street petitioners' hearing before the Aldermen, last week, A. W. Haven, Esq., —who stated that he did not appear to favor or oppose the movement, but only to present the preferences of certain parties as to the manner of widening, if anything should be done—said that he owned a house in New York, and the City Government cut off a portion of his land to widen the street, and instead of paying him anything therefor, obliged him to pay $200 for the betterment of his estate!

And so it would be in this case, we have no doubt,—that the market and actual value of every lot on Fleet Street, even including the Mechanic Association's property, would be worth more with 20 or 30 feet cut from them than they are now. In fact, were this the laying out of a new Street at that point, (which ought to extend through to Deer St. and the Railroads,) who would ask for less than 65 feet in width—and even this we believe would pay the best now, could the property-owners and tax-payers but see it.

Another very sensible allusion was made by Mr. Haven, to the dense collection of wooden buildings in that vicinity, and the great safety a Street as wide as Congress is in case of extended conflagration.

A correspondent informs us that when Mr. Langley Boardman built the Franklin House, he resisted the most earnest and persistent entreaties to place the buildings further back from Fleet Street. The Town ought to have looked out for the public interest better than to allow a Street made only 21 feet wide, if they had any control in the matter; and if not, the Street should never have been accepted so narrow.

So respecting the extension of Summer Street, — the Rundlett property would bring from $1,000 to $3,000 more for this highway being completed;—and in any new or live city, the charge for betterments would be much more than the allowance for damages.

☞ The Portsmouth Philharmonic Society, now in the fourth year, anounce what we think will be their 12th and best Concert, for to-morrow (Tuesday) evening. The soloists include several of the best singers in the city, and the chorus will be full and good. The Cantata of Esther, which is selected for the occasion, is pronounced in Boston and other musical cities, to be the best of all the compositions of the sort. It combines the attractions of both the Opera and Oratorio, in a good degree. Much of the music is beautiful, and not a little of it grand.

The Society, under the efficient direction of Mr. Tilton, have spared no effort or expense to present to their fellow citizens a creditable representation of our home music; and no doubt will, as heretofore, be liberally encouraged by all who appreciate the worth of such things in a community. Of course all understand that the Cantata is presented in full dress and with new and appropriate scenery and stage decorations.

☞ Mr. Oscar Laighton was the recipient of a beautiful 8-months old Deer from Mr. Rhymes of Boston, on Thursday. He placed him in a barn on Pleasant Street for safe keeping, intending to carry him out to the Shoals; but the animal broke out and made his way to Marcy's ship-yard. The workmen attempted to catch him, but the frightened animal fell over some timber and broke both fore legs. He was then killed. Mr. Laighton intends to procure a pair of these animals for his grounds at Appledore.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors: That Drinking Saloon in charge of the Republican Commissary General of the State of New Hampshire, at the corner of Penhallow and Daniel Streets, is a nuisance to temperance neighbors. The frequenters of the establishment are of a disorderly kind, and their revellings are nightly heard. Our Mayor would do well to discourage further additions to the corps of rumsellers in our midst, now that Election is over.

PENHALLOW STREET.

☞ The letter from our Portland Correspondent, in another column, explains the Republican defeat there a week or more ago, and contains much that will apply to Portsmouth voters who kick in the traces and growl at everything that does not exactly suit their fastidious tastes.

BELL RINGING.—Several small boys amuse themselves evenings by ringing door bells on Chapel and Daniel Streets. Several of them are known and if found repeating their annoying practices will have an opportunity of making a visit to the Reform School at Manchester.

MORE CANDIDATES FOR THE SPEAKERSHIP.—Messrs. Wadleigh of Milford, (an experienced legislator,) Ramsdell of Nashua, and Adams of Manchester, are mentioned in addition to Messrs. Kent, Ray and Wheeler, for the Speakership; Gen. Marston of Exeter, and E. H. Rollins would probably be mentioned if they had been nominated for candidates, but the Caucuses of their localities thought differently. Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett of this city is also a member, and would fill the position with ability and honor.

☞ The Portland Press says that in consequence of the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court making all contracts payable in coin legal, Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad stock has advanced to $115 and $116 per share. This is because of a stipulation in the lease of that road to the Eastern, and Boston & Maine Railroad companies that the six per cent. which said companies are to pay on the stock shall be paid in gold.

☞ The old brick Schoolhouse on State Street, it is found on examination, will make a fine Ward Room for the Second Ward, in the lower story, at an expense of perhaps $3000. This would leave a good hall in the second story for other City use or rent; but the location is rather dark for a school.

☞ A very progressive and considerably possessive correspondent thinks Middle Street ought to be made a grand business Avenue, by extending it thro' to the Depots, across Hanover and Hill Streets.

LAW AND GOSPEL.—The Manchester News, (after a compliment to Uncle Toby, which we omit,) says:—

We believe that if he would use his influence and his pen in urging the proper authorities to enforce even the laws as they exist to-day (in absence of better laws,) much good might thus be accomplished. * * * In our opinion the law as well as the gospel must be enforced. We have a law, and why not rigidly enforce it? If it was a law to levy and collect taxes, would it not be and could it not be enforced? Then why not enforce the temperance law? or, if it is not a good law, a just law, why not repeal it and enact another?

Uncle Toby is not a judge nor juror, not a legislator nor an executive officer. He does not object to the execution of the law of this State, which is perhaps as good as any. But having tried the experiment of bringing and urging prosecutions, with little success, he is satisfied that his mission is rather to act upon the drinker's conscience and his self-love, than in any other direction.

In Massachusetts, they have a "stringent license law," which was almost to execute itself! But in Essex County, recently, there was a case before the Court, where the prisoner was certainly guilty,—but the jury would not agree to convict—why? Because the only witnesses were State Constables. The judge enquired whether they would treat all similar cases in the same way; and they said yes. Then he continued all the cases. This shows a drunken, or tippling, or partisan state of things, in the community, that must be corrected, before offenders of that class can be reached.

It is doubtful if Rockingham is better than Essex.—When public opinion favors temperance as strongly as it does tax-paying, prosecutions may go easily. At present they do not.

TO MY PATIENTS.

TOO GREAT DEVOTION to professional duties in the past, resulting in declining health in the present, will compel me until further notice to make the following curtailment of my Office Hours:
Forenoons, each day of the week, from 9½ to 1.
Afternoons of Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 3 to 4, or one hour only.
Nothing but the most imperative necessity on the part of my patients will induce me to alter or extend these hours. Will they therefore please bear them in mind and time their calls to them?

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

OLD NEWSPAPERS—Clean and whole, for sale by the hundred, at the Chronicle Office

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press says that a barn on the farm of William R. Vilas of that city, near Winooski Falls, took fire about eight o'clock on Friday evening and was entirely consumed. The barn was a very large one, and contained at the time thirteen horses and colts, thirty cows, a yoke of oxen and one hundred sheep (one hundred and forty-five animals in all) seventy-five tons of hay, one hundred bushels of wheat, besides other grain, farm tools, mowing and threshing machines, &c., &c., all of which burned. The cows were all tied in their stalls, as well as the horses; among which was a favorite mare and several of her colts. The sheep were in a shed 160 feet long, which was filled with hay above, and were all destroyed. The only live stock saved were five two-year olds, several calves and one horse, the latter so badly burned that it is not expected to live. The barn and stock were valued at $6000 and insured only for $1200.

Failure of Apple Orchards.—I have seen in the Farmer and other papers that apple trees do not bear as they used to do, and I thought I would say a few words why, in my feeble opinion, they do not, especially in this vicinity. One cause is neglect. The orchards in this vicinity are mostly old and have not had any care, not even the ground ploughed, for over thirty years, and not a shovelful of manure applied to keep up the fertility of the soil; and yet the owners complain that their orchards do not bear as formerly. If we plant any other crop we have to apply manure or none would expect it to pay. I know from experience that it pays to keep an orchard well cultivated, as the last year has proved it to my satisfaction.—While other orchards in this vicinity that promised as well in the spring as mine did, bore very few apples, mine was so loaded that I had to prop up the limbs to keep them from breaking down. Mine was cultivated; others were not. Now I think if farmers would cultivate their orchards as they do the rest of their farms, they would in most cases raise more fruit than they do now.—N. E. Farmer.

The Selection of Mr. Anthony to be President pro tempore of the Senate, independent of the fitness of having the Hon. Editor take the chair in the absence of the Hon. Printer, is an excellent choice. The presence and bearing of the Senator from Rhode Island combine dignity with grace, and his suavity is in unison with clear-headedness, promptness and firmness. As a legislator he has proved himself cool and practical, and been given more to useful diligence than useless speech-making. He belongs to the new order of workers coming into fashion, we hope, in the administration of public affairs; and the compliment paid to his abilities by his colleagues will be warmly indorsed by his constituents and hosts of friends outside of the plucky little State he has so well served as a journalist and as a member of the Upper House at the Capitol.—Boston Transcript.

Brahma Pootra Fowls.—I find these fowls superior to all others I have tried. They grow very large, are well feathered, are excellent layers, and are never troublesome like other fowls. Any enclosure with a low fence will keep them. They take good care of their broods, but are too heavy to hatch well, as they are likely to break the eggs. In hatching them it is well to have lighter hens, of other breeds, to do the hatching. The Brahma chicks are hardy, and of a good marketable size at three months old. They readily bring twice as much as other chickens of the same age. I consider them the most profitable chickens that can be raised.—Cor. Country Gentlemen.

—The Post Office Department has received information that the connection between the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads was resumed on Tuesday, after four weeks' suspension, and that the twenty tons of mail matter which had accumulated on the way had been forwarded to the Pacific coast. A despatch from Ogden, Utah, states that ten tons of California mail matter had accumulated at the end of the track, and the contractors had made arrangements to take it to the end of the Central Pacific road.

Raising Calves.—I have raised a heifer calf a year for the last three years. I teach them to drink immediately after they are dropped, and give milk from the cow for about three weeks. Then give them warm skimmed milk, and when about six weeks old I began to give a teacupful of shorts or oatmeal made into a porridge and mixed with their milk; I increase the shorts or oatmeal from time to time, until I can give them a pint-bowlful, which I continue to give until they are a year old, or until I turn out to grass the spring they are yearlings. In this way they continue to grow all the time, and when they are two years old they are as large as the average of three-year olds. In this way I gain one year's growth.—Country Gentleman.

— Donkeys are useful, and not the asses that people imagine. A donkey was put on board a ship at Gibraltar to be taken to Malta, but the ship got aground on a sand bank, and with other portions of the cargo the donkey was thrown overboard to lighten ship. Some days afterwards, on opening the gates of Gibraltar one morning, the donkey was found at the gates, and trotted directly to his old stable, having swum ashore and found his way more than two hundred miles, to his master's stable, though he had never before passed over that road.

—The New York Herald predicts a coming change in the government of that city. It says: "The Irish vote is becoming of less consequence than it used to be, the German vote growing to be a thing of such importance that politicians bid for it in no feeble terms. The Germans here are more numerous than the Irish, they have more journals than the Irish, and can poll more votes than the Irish, and knowing all this, they intend to assert themselves in unmistakable style."

—Here is a unique reason, given by a New York paper, why Mr. Beecher ought to refuse his call to Montreal:—"There is doubtless, a well-written obituary notice of the distinguished gentleman in every-regulated newspaper office in the country, and they all locate him at Plymouth Church. It's not likely that he would go back on the press in any such way as this Montreal business would indicate."

Muck Compost.—Lime, potash, saltpetre, &c.,—any of these things mixed with good muck, will give you a dressing which will soon make your fields glad. But the muck alone is manure. It is nearly all decayed vegetable matter, and if applied and worked in, will soon make a change for the better, even on granite or heavy soils. On sandy loams it will prove highly beneficial at once.—N. E. Farmer.

—The Paris Avenir National believes in the maxim "Say nothing but good of the dead." When it has to write an obituary notice it always finds something to commend. For instance, on the day after the death of the Marquis de Moustier, it announced the event in these words:—"In the Marquis de Moustier, who died last night, France loses an excellent sportsman."

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

Will Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to Fine Flavored Teas, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 8 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.

Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS!

LAZARUS & MORRIS' CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

and Eye Glasses.

The large and increasing sales of these SUPERIOR GLASSES

Is a sure proof of their superiority. We were satisfied that they would be appreciated here as elsewhere, and that the reality of the advantages offered to wearers of our beautiful lenses, viz.: the ease and comfort, the assured and readily ascertained improvement of the sight, and the brilliant assistance they give in all cases, were in themselves so apparent on trial, that the result could not be otherwise than it has, in the almost general adoption of our Celebrated Perfected Spectacles by the residents of this locality.

With a full knowledge of the value of the assortion, we claim that they are the most perfect optical aids ever manufactured. To those needing Spectacles, we afford at all times an opportunity of procuring the best and most desirable.

Mr. J. F. SHORES, Jr., Bookseller,

Has always on hand a full assortment, suitable for every difficulty.

We take occasion to notify the public that we employ no peddlers, and to caution them against those pretending to have our goods for sale.

THE SAMPSON SCALE CO.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL.

This Company manufactures Weighlock, Railroad Track, Platform, Cattle and Wagon Scales under the Sampson Patents, and every variety of smaller Scales after the most approved patterns.

These Scales are coming into general use, altho' very recently introduced to the market. Official testimonials from the Civil Engineer of the Navy Yard at Washington, State Surveyor, and Canal Commissioners of the State of New York, and numerous other Engineers, Railroad Men, Mechanics, Merchants and Corporations, as to their superiority in all the qualities of excellence claimed for them, are on file, and copies will be furnished on application.

These Scales have already taken the first premium at every New York Annual State Fair since their introduction in 1859, and a silver medal from the New England State Agricultural Society, 1868, has been awarded to the Sampson Scale Company for the "best Hay, Coal and Cattle Scales."

These Scales are constantly on hand and for sale by

AGENTS WANTED

FOR A NEW and intensely Interesting Book entitled

OUR NEW WEST.

By Samuel Bowles.

A volume of travel, experience and observation with Vice-President Colfax, among our new States and Territories, between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Describing the marvellous resources of this wonderful country—its Gold and Silver mines, farms, &c.—their conditions and prospects. The Pacific Railroad—its route, scenery—how it is pushed and built. The Mormons—their social life, religion and politics. Interviews between Brigham Young, Mr. Colfax and Mr. Bowles. The Mormon women—how they live Polygamy, etc., etc. The Chinese and Indians—what they do, how they live, their trade, religion and vices. In brief, this work is the freshest, most graphic portrayment of the country and people described, yet written or published.

Splendidly Illustrated

with Steel Portraits; full page Engravings, illustrating the Mormons, the Indians, the Pacific Railroad, Digging for Gold, etc. Now is the time for Agents. It will outsell all other Books. Nothing equal to it. Send for our descriptive Circular. Extra commissions given. Apply to, or address HAWKES' CO.,

Full particulars, directions, &c., sent free. Sample sent by mail for 10 cts. Address E. C. ALLEN, Augusta, Me.

RED JACKET AXE!

THE RED JACKET COLBURN AXE

is a splendid tool, for these reasons:

First—The Red Jacket cuts deeper than the common bit.

Second—It being round on the cut, it does not stick in the wood.

Third—Every chopper with the common axe must discover that there is as much labor and strength expended in taking the axe out of the cut as in making the blow.

Fourth—This with the Red Jacket is all avoided, and from one-third to one-half the labor is saved in cutting the same quantity.

Fifth—By putting in the same labor that is necessary with a common axe, you can easily make at least thirty-three per cent. more wood in the same time.

The great demand for this axe has compelled us to establish Eastern agencies as follows:

Heaton & Denckla, Philadelphia, Pa.;—Hart Manufacturing Co., New York;—Welch & Griffiths, Boston, Mass.; W. H. Cole, Baltimore, Md.

HURSELL'S

PURITY, FOR THE HAIR.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Price 75 Cents.

No article was ever placed before the public composed of such perfect ingredients for promoting the growth of the Hair, or for rendering it beautifully dark and glossy, causing it to curl, or remain in any desirable position. It prevents the hair having a harsh, wiry look. It prevents all irritated, itching scalp skin. It affords a beautifully rich lustre. Its effects will outlast any other.

State Assayer's Office, 20 State Street, Boston.

Messrs. Hursell, Wood & Co.:

Gentlemen—I have analyzed Hursell's Purity for the Hair, and am familiar with the formula with which it is made. This preparation contains ingredients which give to it the desirable characters of a superior hair dressing. It is free from sulphur, lead, silver, acids or alkalies, and may be used with entire safety. Respectfully yours,

S. DANA HAYES,

State Assayer for Massachusetts.

Prepared only by J. C. HURSELL & CO., No. 5 Chatham Row, Boston.

JOHN E. ROBERTS, Agent for Portsmouth.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

For the Renovation of the Hair.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

I'VE BEEN THINKING.

I've been thinking, I've been thinking,
What a glorious world were this,
Did folks mind their own business more,
And mind their neighbors' less;
For instance, you and I, my friend,
Are sadly prone to talk
Of matters that concern us not,
And others' follies mock.

I've been thinking, if we'd begin
To mind our own affairs,
That possibly our neighbors might
Contrive to manage theirs.
We've faults enough at home to mend—
It may be so with others;
It would seem strange if it were not,
Since all mankind are brothers.

Oh! would that we had charity
For every man and woman;
Forgiveness is the mark of those
Who know "to err is human."
Then let us banish jealously—
Let's life our fellow brother;
And as we journey down life's road,
Do good to one another.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Syracuse Journal gives the following in an account of a recent interview with President Grant:

"General Logan, who will be remembered as one of the strongest advocates of impeachment, remarked during the conversation on the tenure of office act, that 'I did not vote for the law; my policy was to turn Johnson out.'

To this General Grant answered, speaking slowly and thoughtfully, 'Well, a good many persons were afraid of impeachment and of the effect of it as a precedent; but,' with emphasis, 'if they had known Mr. Johnson as well as I did they would not only have favored the impeachment, but seen that it would have been just the thing that ought to have been done and made a precedent of.'"

EPITAPHS.—The following is on a tombstone in San Viego, California:

This year is sacked to the memory of William Henry Shraken, who cam to his deth being shot with Colt's revolvers—one of the old kind, brass mounted, and of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

The annexed epitaph is on a young woman who gained her livelihood by selling eggs, and from the tenor of it we judge her brother must have erected the stone to her memory:

Here lies the body of Mary M'Groyn,
Who was so very pure within,
She broke the outward shell of sin,
And hatched herself a cherubim.
N. B.—Her brother made of sterner stuff,
Adds to her business that of snuff.

—At a Sunday School concert in Massachusetts sometime since, as was the custom, all present were invited to recite some passage of Scripture. A young fellow who wished to create some merriment, responded by rising and saying, "Judas went out and hung himself." A young lady immediately rose and recited the selection, "Go thou and do likewise."

THE MEDICINE FOR
THE WHOOPING COUGH!
DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR gives agreeable and almost instant relief in the spasms of Whooping Cough. This is a complaint that all children are expected to have; and when it comes, strange to say, they are left to fight it through as they best can, little or nothing being done to break its violence or help the sufferers along. And when it is reflected that very many of the diseases of older and adult years have their origin in the tear and strain of Whooping Cough, this neglect would be seriously unconscionable for the fact that children's diseases, like many of the weaknesses of women, are considered so much a matter of course that people have become stolically unconcerned about them. Let them cough it through, as we did, seems generally to be the unfeeling word. Whooping Cough is a Nervous disease, and Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator treats it with COMPLETE SUCCESS. Mothers, TRY IT, and save your little ones the worst agony of this distressing affection. A sure and beneficent medicine.

Important Certificate.

Speedy Cure of Whooping Cough.

J. W. PECKETT, Esq., Brooklyn, N. Y.

I am not in the habit of taking advertised medicines, nor of certifying to their curative effects when they come under my observation; but I feel constrained to make an exception in favor of DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR, a medicine I have used in my family for some time past. My little daughter had been suffering from severe Whooping Cough for several weeks, and was so much broken of rest at night that—by excessive coughing and loss of sleep—her constitution and general health seemed to be giving away. Various remedies or palliatives were recommended by intimate neighbors, but nothing was tried until our attention was called by a physician not now in practice to Dodd's Nervine.

This we procured and commenced using at once with so effect immediate and surprising. As the convulsions were hardest at night, we began by giving the Nervine on her going to bed. The first dose administered made its impression; the cough became less frequent, and very much less severe—she soon got her accustomed sleep—rapidly revived in health and vigor—and in a few days was as well as ever. What was left of the Whooping Cough was thereafter of no trouble. Of course I cannot but consider Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator an invaluable remedy for this distressing malady. I may add, that I have since recommended it to several family friends, in like circumstances, and have found it in every case to be equally successful. It needs only to be known to come into universal demand. J. W. PECKETT.

For sale by Druggists. Price $1. f6 6w

I WANT to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stands upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.
I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What gentle voices throng!
Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.
Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son—
Kill hosts, yes, countless millions, dead;
Perhaps your turn is come.
That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in throat and nose
Runs down your throat instead.
Your lungs and liver soon will show
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it, too,
Till you return to earth.
If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't say you wish I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.
WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, and health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.
I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.
I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."
PAIN PAINT will cool, but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.
When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubt, unless a dunce.
The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT,
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please.
Evaporation cools the place,
As inflammation dies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.
'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause,
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.
WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT is sold at all Drug Stores; also, WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR, for the cure of CATARRH and COLDS in the head. Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. R. L. WOLCOTT, Prop.

NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
Washington, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress. APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL - - - $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
Branch Office:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA,
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.
OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMBESON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.
This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the Insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy Holder.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

The Daily Chronicle.
Portsmouth, N. H.
TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1869.

The News.

Hon. James Guthrie of Kentucky is dead.

James F. Davis, republican, has been elected the first Mayor of Ellsworth, Me. by a vote of 319 to 191 for Mr. Redman. All the city and ward offices are filled by republicans.

Senator Sumner strongly opposes the pending Alabama claims treaty. He holds that England is responsible for a good deal more than the destruction of our ships, because her action with reference to rebel privateers drove our commerce from the seas.

Cuban advices report the capture by the government troops of Mayori, which had been recently designated as the rebel headquarters in the eastern department. The assembly organized by the insurrectionists in the central department has decreed the abolition of slavery.

The Spanish Cortes has given the war minister authority to raise 25,000 men for the army by conscription, but has forbidden this system of recruiting thereafter.

The troops in Arizona are insufficient to protect the settlers from the Indians.

The excitement about mad dogs still continues at various places on Long Island.

Four and a half miles of the track of the Central Pacific Railroad were laid on the 10th of February, and it was expected five miles would be laid next day.

The representation against the United States Minister at Madrid, which recently appeared in a New York journal to the effect that the Minister does not sympathize with the republican movement in Spain, is not confirmed by official and other correspondence of Mr. Hale.

Congress.

Speaker Blaine announced the committees in the House on Monday. The chairmanships are as follows:

Elections—Paine, of Wisconsin.

Ways and Means—Schenck, of Ohio, with Hooper second on the committee.

Banking and Currency—Garfield, of Ohio.

Pacific Railroad—Wheeler, of New York.

Claims—W. B. Washburne, of Massachusetts.

Private Claims—Blair of Michigan.

Naval Affairs—Schofield, of Penn.

Foreign Affairs—Banks, of Massachusetts.

Territories—Cullom, of Illinois.

Invalid Pensions—Benjamin, of Missouri.

Roads and Canals—Ingersoll, of Illinois.

Mines and Mining—Ferris, of New York.

Freedmen's Affairs—Dockery, of North Carolina.

Education and Labor—Arnell, of Tennessee.

Reconstruction—Butler, of Massachusetts.

In the Senate the Judiciary Committee reported back the House bill repealing the Tenure-of-Office act, together with a substitute simply suspending its operations until the next session of Congress.

The caucus of Republican senators nominated for public printer, C. W. Clapp, of the Buffalo Express; for sergeant-at arms—Ex-Congressman John French, of North Carolina; for Chief-Executive Clerk, J. M. Morris, of Connecticut. All the other officers were nominated for re-election.

BRECKINRIDGE'S ARRIVAL HOME.—John C. Breckinridge met with quite an ovation on his return to Kentucky. Crowds cheered him at the railroad station, and on reaching Lexington he was received with an address of welcome. To this he replied that he accepted it as purely personal and containing no particle of political significance, adding:

"Indeed, I can and will say that the tremendous events of the last eight years have had a great tendency to deaden, if not destroy, old party feelings; and, for myself, I can truly declare that I no more feel the political excitement that marked the scenes of my former years, than if I were an extinct volcano. I will not now say more, except to express the pleasure that I feel in coming back to the people whom I so dearly loved."

A LIBEL ON BEELZEBUB.—Speaking of Andy's Farewell Address, the New York Independent says:—

The most sentimental phrase in the valedictorian's lugubrious farago is the passage in which he speaks of "retiring from the highest office in the gift of the people." The high office from which Mr. Johnson retired came to him not by gift of the people, but by gift of the Devil. And for nearly four years he diligently administered it in the interest of his master.

NAVAL.—Chief Engineer Henderson retired from the Charlestown Yard on Saturday. Only five hundred men are now employed at the yard.

New Hampshire Items.

A fine portrait of the late Col Chandler E. Potter, has been painted by J. B. Moore of Manchester. He is represented in his uniform as Colonel of the Amoskeag Veterans, and the expression and features present him true to life as he was so recently seen at all gatherings of the company.

The Presbyterian Church at Antrim has extending a call to the Rev. Mr. Cochrane, a young man who has supplied their pulpit for a year past. This is a return to a good old custom: give the young man a fair trial for a year, and then settle him, if both parties are satisfied.

One of the Concord papers called the People, boasts of the democratic gains, since last fall; and the same paper complains bitterly of the Republican management, by which Mr. Bedel was not elected Governor.

Hon. J. D. Lyman of Farmington offers $10 for the best specimens of Indian corn grown in the State the coming season—in four premiums, two of $35 and two of $15 each. Our advertisement erroneously said $95 for one.

The Rochester shoemakers are leaving in great numbers for Haverhill, Mass., where they claim that they can make more money than in Rochester.

Dr Dio Lewis' second lecture in the Dover Lyceum course, on Tuesday evening, was largely attended and gave entire satisfaction.

Mrs. Mitchell, of Sutton, who was terribly burned with kerosene oil a few weeks since, has died, after thirty-five days of great suffering. Her husband is in jail, in Concord, charged with an attempt to kill his wife.

A marriage took place at Concord, on Wednesday, in which the bride was only sixteen years of age, and a widow at that. She was married the first time when she was only thirteen years old. The bridegroom on this occasion was twenty-four years old.

The gold ore recently discovered on the land of the Shakers at Enfield was tested and found to be worth $179 to the ton. Last week workmen began to blast and found the ore existed only four feet one way by three the other, and all further operations have been suspended.

At Kingston after two day's hard work and with 13 ballotings, the Democrats succeeded in electing Charles B. Clark, Representative. They expect to get a board of Town Officers sometime during the month of March, and will probably commence to do town business the first of April, as usual.

Mr. Burlingame, at the Exeter Machine Works, has a large contract for velocipedes and is manufacturing and shipping them as fast as possible.

Hon. Gilman Marston, has been mentioned for commissioner of Patents.

The debt of Raymond is forty three thousand two hundred dollars.

A new company has begun to operate on the Chocura Silver Lead mine in Madison. It has already got out a thousand tons of the ore. From two to three tons of zinc and two tons of galena are obtained from every ten tons of gross weight. The galena yields 70 per cent. of lead and six pounds of silver to the ton.

Charles H. Greenleaf of Concord has been appointed postmaster at the Profile House, in place of Mr. Taft, resigned.

The Superintending School Committee, of Durham, publish, in their annual report, the names of the scholars who have not been absent or tardy, as a part of the reward for their punctuality.

The number of names on the Somersworth check-list is 1017.

John S. Haines, Esq., the popular Post Master of Great Falls, has been appointed Agent of the James Mills at Newburyport, but we do not understand that he accepts this situation permanently, though it is decided to keep the Mill running. Mr. H. was connected with the mills in Great Falls, for about 25 years, and is one of the most enterprising and worthy citizens.

Sandown has for the first time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, elected a Republican Representative, Board of Selectmen and Town Clerk, and given Onslow Stearns 75 votes, to 70 for John Bedel. The Republicans fought a hard fight, and won a glorious victory. Three cheers for Old Sandown!

Recently, at the Trickling Falls saw mill, run by Ezra Currier, of East Kingston, a log was sawed, the first cut of which made 1342 feet of boards, and the second cut 818 feet. The whole tree made 3,122 feet of boards. The tree was taken from the well known Betsy Farmer estate. There was another tree taken from the same wood lot, which was large that it could not be sawed at this mill; it measured 5 feet in diameter at the butt.

The Congregational Society in Candia, has raised for the American Tract Society, $17,15, the one in Chester ten dollars; Stratham $13,12.

New Publications.

Roberts Brothers, Boston, have published Part I. of Villa Eden; The Country House on The Rhine, by Auerbach. It is translated by Charles C. Shackford. The same firm have nearly ready for their "Handy Volume Series," another of Auerbach's stories, "Edelweiss," translated by Ellen Frothingham, and also a Revised Edition of "On The Heights." Thus they are giving to the public in various forms, all of them attractive, the works of the popular German novelist.

NASHUA.—At the closing meeting of the outgoing City Government, Appropriations for the ensuing municipal year were made to the amount of $89,000, as recommended by the Finance Committee. Of this, $20,000 is for Highways and Bridges, and $20,000 more for Sewers and Drains, and $2000 each for the South and North Commons — which last we think is as much for the common good as any; and $20,000 for City Debt and Interest.

Dr. L. W. Peabody of Epsom, who was removed from the post-office in that town, has been reappointed.

— Don Piatt reports the following remark by a Washington lounger on hearing of the appointment of Mr. Washburne as Secretary of State:—"He is an old cheese wax, and won't get three depatches before he'll charge Bismark with being one of the whiskey ring."

—Secchi, the eminent French savan, has communicated to the academy his discovery of aqueous vapor in the vicinity of the solar spots.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

I beg to state that I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine, in family sewing, fourteen years without even the most trifling repairs, and it is in so good condition that I would not exchange it for your latest number (now upwards of 350,000). One needle served me more than a year for fine sewing.

New-York. m13 MRS. ANNE WARNER.

"BARRETT'S Vegetable Hair Restorative" is a perfect and miraculous article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, day and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores gray hair to its original color.—Savannah (Ga.) Rep.

☞ The New York Tribune says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for PLANTATION BITTERS are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the recipe is wrapped around each bottle. MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

TO FARMERS.

The Lodi Manufacturing Co. invite Farmers and others using Manures, to send for a pamphlet descriptive of their Fertilizers. They offer their

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE,

equal to the best Super-Phosphate, at the low price of $30 per ton.

They also make superior articles of

NITRO PHOSPHATE AND PURE BONE DUST.

We ask attention to the following Testimonials:

D. B. Cook, of the New Jersey Agricultural College of New Brunswick, says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette and Nitro Phosphate of Lime paid us full 100 per cent. above their market value, in the crops we raised last year."

D. A. Haughton, North Hadley, Mass., says: "I used it on my Tobacco plants (where no other manure has been used for years). They came up quick and were pronounced the best plants ever raised in this vicinity."

Abram T. Peckham, New London, Conn., says: "The Double Refined Poudrette is the best fertilizer I have ever used in the hill, taking the price of $30 per ton.

Chas. Rowland, Weston, Conn., says: "I gave the corn an early start, ripened it early and increased the yield more than sufficient to pay all expenses."

Wm. S. Sheffield, South Lyme, Conn., says he found it superior to Peruvian guano, fish scrap. On Corn and Buckwheat it far surpassed any other manure.

Bradley Ingalls, Sheffield, Vt., says: "Your Double Refined Poudrette has been tried side by side with Coe's and Bradley's X L Super Phosphate, and one or two other kinds, and it has given as good satisfaction as any. My Uncle raised two bushels of corn from four rows with manure, three bushels from four rows with Poudrette, and only one and three quarters from Bradley's X L.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders.—Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of rigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses" is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. By this just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be eluded. Nay, the troubles will be less, for during this just about the same route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (for old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

BUCHU.

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA—BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, Debility and Atonic in the parts concerned in its evacuation.—The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in Children.

In affections peculiar to females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, or Whites.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Cancerous deposits are absorbed and Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck, of the Bladder, and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of the Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and the Diseases of Females, Delicate constitutions, of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all Diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhea, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections—In these diseases, used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Waltham Watches.

To Buyers of Watches Everywhere.

The greater part of the Jewelers of the United States keep Waltham Watches, and cordially recommend them to their customers, notwithstanding the fact that less profit is made on these watches than on any others generally sold by the trade. The reason of this is, that the reputation of the Waltham Watch renders it an easy sale, and the result is, that, although the dealer does not make as much money on each individual watch as he may on the sale of other watches, it is still the gainer through larger and livelier sales.

There are some, however, among the trade, who do not prefer the Waltham Watch that hearty support which it deserves. This portion of the trade fancy there is more money to be made by dealing in watches about which the public are ignorant, and in which there is less competition, and are content to make an occasional sale of such watches at a large profit. It is this class of dealers who, when asked about Waltham Watches, use the kind of language which leads the customer finally to buy such a watch as is the most profitable for the dealer to sell.

For the information of persons about to buy a watch, and who may be unfavorably affected by the misrepresentations of those interested in our watches, we call attention to the following suggestions:

Since the manufacture of watches was initiated at Waltham, the Company have made and sold about 400,000 watches. In every town and village of this country some wearer of a Waltham Watch may be found. Let the party about to buy ask the owner of an American Watch this question: "AS AN AMERICAN WATCH GIVEN YOU SATISFACTION? We are not afraid to advise those trying to buy a watch to guide themselves by the answer. Being satisfied as to the quality of the watch, the buyer has simply to satisfy himself that the Waltham Watches are THE CHEAPEST as well as the best. On this head we have a few words to say:

It is a well-known fact in manufacturing, that the greater the number of articles manufactured by one establishment, the smaller will be the cost of each individual article. Keeping this in view, our policy has always been to sell our products at the lowest possible price in order to secure large sales, and thus enable us to manufacture watches at a minimum cost.

WE BELIEVE IN SMALL PROFITS AND A LARGE BUSINESS. This policy we have successfully carried out, and the result is, that to-day we manufacture twice as many watches as all the other factories in the United States put together. WE CAN, THEREFORE, AFFORD TO SELL CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, AND ACTUALLY DO SELL TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER THAN THEY DO, QUALITY FOR QUALITY.

We would further remark that in increasing our products we have constantly improved its QUALITY AND ITS VARIETY. We have had the refusal of nearly all inventions intended to improve time-pieces, and have adopted all those, and those only, which have proved to be really valuable. We have retained in our employment every head of a department we have ever had, whose services were of any importance to the interest of our present corps of designers and master mechanics cannot be equaled in this or any other country.—In addition to this we make use of the best talent not only for our own movements, but for those of other factories, ours being the only establishment that turns out watches complete in every respect.

As these Watches are for sale by the trade generally throughout the United States, and at a retail profit made more reasonable by competition, the Company invariably decline orders of a retail character.

"How Shall I Recover My Health?"

This is the mental question asked by the sick, and after repeated failures, they try Dr. BRANDRETH'S PILLS? This is a medicine which simply "cleanses"—cleanses the blood and every organ of the body. This medicine is sure to restore your health, if pursued in accordance with the printed directions. One who has recovered his or her health by this means, will not to have courage and do likewise. J. J. Cook, publisher of the Banner for twenty years, at Bennington, Vt., says, "Brandreth's Pills cured me of dyspepsia when every other means had failed, and I was actually given up by my physicians and friends."

SCROFULA OF 42 YEARS STANDING CURED.

PRESTONVILLE, Pa., January 14, 1868.

Dr. Brandreth—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted with scrofula for forty-two years; but when hope had long departed, salvation unexpectedly came. I have used your pills for the last fifteen months. Language fails to convey an idea of the blessing they have conferred to me; they have cured me, and my health and strength are now perfectly restored. LUCIEN B. JONES.

The Great Medicine of the World.

Perry Davis & Son's "PAIN KILLER" may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no part of the habitable globe that it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, it is one of the few articles that do not require to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for bruises, scalds, cuts, bruises, wounds and various other injuries, as well as for dysentery, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally. It is admirably adapted for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact that, notwithstanding the long period of years that the "Pain Killer" has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from the first discovery by that excellent and honored man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue to be, when we have quitted it, the great medicine of the world, there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. f18
